> "We have your two wires—the first asking if we find it necessary to insist on maintaining our Havre rates at their present level even if all other Lines agree to advance Continental steerage rates—the second intimating that all Lines have agreed immediate advance of Continental steerage rates as proposed.

9928 Petitioner's Exhibit 939

"We regret that any difficulty should have arisen, but we think this is due to your having misunderstood our position. We never reduced the rates by our Havre service at the time when all the Continental Lines, with the possible exception of the C. G. I. made heavy reductions in their rates. The advance now proposed by the Continental Lines appears to be only a partial restoration of rates towards the level at which they were previous to reduction.

9929 "As regards all our other services except Havre, we are quite willing to make advances the same as agreed by other Lines, but as regards Havre, seeing that we did not follow the reductions, the other Lines can have no reason for calling upon us to advance until it is proposed to advance other rates to a higher level than that which existed before the reduction.

"As to the advance by our services other than Havre, our latest advice is to the effect that the Canadian Pacific Rly. Company agree to the proposed advance only as regards United States business. We do not know what reason they have for wishing to maintain low 9930 rates from Canada, but if they adhere to this position, we must of course be at liberty to quote the same rates."

With reference to the last paragraph I have to advise, that the Canadian Pacific Ry. Co. whilst first limiting the advance to their U. S. Continental business in their last telegram they agreed to the proposed advance of Continental rates without reserve.

We would point out however that this want of unanimity is of no concern to other Contract Lines and prevents 9936 these Lines from properly or satisfactorily working their business as required by clauses in Contract.

"We do not see any use in our sending to you through the Liverpool Secretary any further returns until the N. D. L. V. and the I. M. M. Co.'s arrange to table their percentage quota for each of their several Lines.

I received today the following letter from Mr. Ismay, dated April 2nd:

> "Referring to your circular letter G. No. 26 of the 30th ultimo and your previous communications regarding the I. M. M. Co.'s percentage of the Westbound and Eastbound Pools, while I am not prepared to admit that there is any obligation on the I. M. M. Co. Company to declare a percentage for each of the associated Lines, I am willing to fall in with your request, and name the following division, viz:

	Westbound		Eastbound
American, Southampton	2.96		6.77
Liverpool	3.72		1.99
Dominion	4.47		1.51

> "In doing so, however, I reserve the right to alter these figures from time to time, as I may consider necessary, and only consent to name an allotment to each company in the desire to met the views of the other Lines as far as possible."

All parties no doubt will be glad, that the difficulty that had arisen as to each Line's percentage being shown has been overcome to the extent as stated above, and I shall now ask the N. D. L. V. Lines their assent to show also their individual shares.

As to the right reserved I am awaiting to hear whether there is anything to be said against it.

From G. No. 33 Parties know that there is still a very small difference as to eastbound percentages be- 9944

I would therefore propose that I be permitted to delay the eastbound monthly statement for March which under Art. 10 has to be issued not later than April 15th a few days longer. Competition for Continental eastbound steerage business via Mediterranean Ports. Johnson & Co. 9950

On 5th inst. Hapag & Lloyd notified that they had received the following identic cables from their New York representatives:

> "Johnson, General Agent, East Asiatic, issued circulars allowing agents book 'Re d'Italia' (Lloyd Sabaudo) April 9th to Triest and Fiume $23, Oderberg. Basel $24, Krakau, Wien $25, Budapest $26, Prag $27, Agram $28, Commission three dollars, instruction draw orders on Asiatic blancs. Johnson also General Agent Scandinavian and Subagent British Lines." 9951

I passed it on to the Secretary of the British Lines adding: "Have British Lines any proposal to make?"

This morning I received the following telegram from Mr. Symth:

> "Referring your telegram re Johnson New York instructing agent book Lloyd Sabaudo Line reduced rates. Lines have no definite information from American representatives. In view circumstances consider matter should be referred immediately New York Conference for action and am wiring New York Conference terms your message."

It is evident that the action of Johnson & Co. will, if successful very seriously interfere with the interests of the Lines in the Atlantic Conference, the more so as it may induce other Italian Lines under the present circumstances to take the same course.

It would therefore be well if the British Lines could see their way, to induce Johnson & Co. to desist from booking continental passengers via Italian ports. Per-9953 haps they could further in view of their friendly relations with the Scandinavian American Line, use their influence that this Line takes similar steps. I have also tried to find out whether there is a chance that the Russian East Asiatic Co. might be willing to fall in, as they are also directly interested with their eastbound traffic via Rotterdam.

I am not informed how far clause 20 of the Byelaws of the Atlantic Conference Contract can be made applicable to the present case. But it seems to me, if under the pooling arrangement it is not possible to get a better control of the agents working for the Parties, so as to prevent them from working for outside competing Lines, then the contract will fail in the hoped 9954 for result of obtaining higher rates, for the uncontrolable agents will always find it to their interest to attract and to encourage competition.

The Allan Line write April 14th:

"We have yours of 8th inst. (G. No. 41). We think the position in regard to our Havre service should be perfectly clear from what we have already written on this subject. Since we began carrying steerage passengers by our Havre service, the rate has been 140 francs from Havre, and during all the fluctuations that occured since that time it has remained 9972 unaltered. Last summer, the rate from other Continental ports was 130 marks. This rate was reduced by rate cutting which took place before the Conference meeting in London to less than 120 marks. The latter rate has now been restored by general agreement to 130 marks. It is surely clear that as the Havre rate was never reduced, it does not require to be increased now in order to maintain the basis existing before the rate war.

"The same position applies as regards Eastbound business. Last summer the Eastbound rate by Continental Lines was 30 dollars which was reduced by rate cutting to 24 dollars and upwards, and has now been restored under agreement by the Lines to 30 dollars, while the rate in force Eastbound to Harve by our service to that port has remained throughout at 27 dollars 50 cents."

This is the circular to which my telegram of 5th inst. and circular Letter G. No. 38 referred. The Lines interested in Mediterranean business have in the mean time seen from Mr. Crespi's letter to Mr. Ballin that the Italian Lines have instructed their 9987 agents in New York to accept Greek and Austrian steerage via Naples or Genoa, in order, as he puts it to protect their interests against the American, the French and the Austro Americana Lines.

What the result has been for the Re d'Italia I do not know, as only the total number of steeragers (2050) is given and nothing special is stated about continentals. Neither did I hear, that other Italian Lines have taken similar measures or that it is going to be continued for the Lloyd Sabaudo sailings except that in a cable which Hapag received from New York on 18th inst. a "rate of twenty dollars to the Continent" is mentioned.

I beg to add what the Anchor Line answer to G. No. 38:

"We look upon the danger of this move on the part of an Italian Line with great concern. We learned here the other day it was the intention of a Line in the Adriatic to at once go into competition with the North Atlantic Companies for Eastbounders whose homes were in Eastern and South Eastern 9989 Europe. We have no objection to drastic measures being adopted against any agents in the United States, who strive to take business out of its usual channel and we expect to learn from New York that Messrs. Johnson & Co. will have to cease the action complained of in your telegram, or be totally disqualified by all British Lines. As you say we on this side might bring pressure on the Scandinavian-American Line though we fear Messrs. Johnson are more than general agents of that Line.

"We agree with the view you express in the last paragraph of your letter. Should the Contract Lines not take immediate action to 9990 remedy any inadequacy in the Contract that militates against its members being able to control agents or general agents either in Europe or in the United States?"

Compensation for fighting rates (G. No. 45 & Suppl).

9995 The Hamburg-American Line write:

"We beg to acknowledge receipt of your telegram of the 19th inst. reading:

'Canpac wires, your telegram 17th, regret cannot agree participate in compensating Lloyd steamer Seydlitz fighting against Avoca eastbound.'

"and must say that its contents surprise us and are probably to be attributed to a misunderstanding.

9996 Canpac seems to overlook the fact that Lloyd is stepping into the breach for the whole pool and must be compensated by the whole of the pool for reducing its rate for this steamer in the general interest. It will be best seen to what result such a measure leads between the Continental Lines and the British, and specially too for the Canpac, by opposing our Pretoria April 11 against "Volturno" April 11. The eastbound fare of by the Pretoria amounted to $30 and was raised subsequently to $34, to be able to take up the combat with Volturno, the pool demanded that Hapag should go down to $23 and offered to pay the difference between 23 and 30 dollars=$7 to Hapag. Owing to the Pretoria's low rate of $23 Volturno left New York with only a scanty number of passengers viz. 450, whereas Pretoria received 2374 and was obliged in addition to surrender to the Rotterdam Line about 400 who were in excess. Therefore, one may reckon that through this measure at least 2000 passengers were saved for the pool, who otherwise would have been lost to outsiders. This leads to the following result:

"For reducing Pretoria rate, the pool parties give a contribution of 2000 passengers @ $7 = $14,000—M. 56,000, of these M. 56,000 the British Lines pay:

	54.32%	=M.30419
the Continental Lines	45.68%	= M.25581
Canpac	4.49%	= M. 2514	M. 2514

In consequence of the joint action the total pool wins 2000 passengers, of which the British Lines receive 54.32% = 1186 passengers.

the Continental Lines 45.68% = 914 passengers.

the Canpac receives 4.49% = 90 passengers.

The 90 passengers of Canpac have a compensation value of £4 = M.80— M.7200.

So that by this transaction Canpac has won M.4486 equal to 186% of the M.2514 spent.

"In view of this result which is so evident, to which of course must be added the moral effect that the competition was prevented from taking 2000 passengers from the pool, we fail to understand Canpac's reply and beg the

10000 Petitioner's Exhibit 955

Canpac for information as to the grounds on which it has declined this measure, which in itself is a matter of course and provided for by the Contract (Min. 10 By-laws)."

On April 19th I wired Canpac:

"All Lines having agreed compensating Lloyd for opposing Avoca will you alone obstruct?"

In the meantime the Parties have been informed by wire on 22nd that all Lines have agreed to compen-10001 sate Lloyd five dollars per adult for opposing Avoca.

Vienna & Budapest	$23.
Prague	$24.
Basel	$21.

10008 Commission $2 per adults.

While their rates to Italian points continue:

Genoa, Naples $15, Palermo Messina $18.

there is a further reduction of $3 to the above continental points against the rates as given by A. E. Johnson & Co. the reduced rates are advertised for the following sailings:

"Ancona" (Italia) from Philadelphia April 22.

"Florida" (Lloyd Italiano) from New York April 25.

"Nord America" (La Veloce) from New York April 29.

"Principe di Piemonte" (Lloyd Sabaudo) from New York April 30.

"Campania" (Navigazione Gen. Ital.) from New York May 2.

If the move of the Italian Lines has been a success, which by this time the Lines probably will know, I think the Anchor Line was right in saying that the danger must be looked upon with great concern, by all the Lines of the Atlantic Conference and I beg to submit, whether it would not be practicable, that those of them, engaged in Mediterranean business and having sailings about the same dates as the above Italian 10010 steamers, reduce their Italian rates by $3 and that the resp. Lines are compensated by the Atlantic Conference. Of course it is true there would be no direct equivalent for the A. C. but it would be a reprisal which might make the Italian Lines feel sore and bring the present state of things sooner to an end. Cheaper and more efficient from every point of view it would be, if the A. C. Lines would promptly disqualify any of their U. S. agents who give Continental business to Italian and other outside Lines, but for such action even if all Lines were disposed, time might be too short.

The Allan Line write:

"We are must surprised to learn from memoranda circulated by the Secretary of the Liverpool Conference that some of the Continental Lines, including the Hamburg American and Red Star, propose to reduce their Eastbound steerage rates. It was only recently that we were asked, and agreed, to join in a general advance of Eastbound rates by four dollars, and we agreed to this, although it was evident at the time that we were carrying less than our proportion of passengers in the Eastbound 10020 Pool. As we understand it, the principle of the Pool is that when it is necessary to take steps to rectify the percentages actually being carried by any of the Lines, this shall be effected whenever possible by an advance of rates by the Lines which have over-carried their percentages rather than by a reduction of rates by Lines which have under-carried. We think this was clearly understood by all the Lines parties to the Pool at the recent Conference in London, and we fail to see how on any other basis the Pool can work to the general advantage of all the Lines concerned. Acting on this principle, we have hitherto maintained our Eastbound steerage rate, although very considerably below our Pool percentage, in the belief that other Lines which have over-carried would presently take steps to put matters right by advancing their rates. We have now to suggest that instead of any of the Lines making reductions, all the Lines which have over-carried to any considerable extent should be called upon to advance their rates."

What the Allan Line say is certainly quite correct, but it has to be considered that it is due to the present competition in eastbound traffic, if the intentions of the pool cannot be fully realized. It would be preposterous to enforce rules when it would only serve to facilitate the position of the competing Lines and to increase the sacrifices which all the Parties have thought necessary in order to oppose them.

The I. M. M. Co. Lines, probably considering that, though they are short, it should not be opportune to ask the Continental Lines for an advance, have reduced their Continental rate to $28 of which I informed the Parties by passing on to them the following telegram from

Ismay 25. 4. 2.50 P. M.

"We advance continental westbound rates all ports 150 Marks excepting the Cherbourg rate American White Star Southampton 140 Marks also reducing eastbound continental rate basis 28 dollars Hamburg, White Star, Dominion, American Philadelphia service."

I further confirm the following telegram from

10024 Petitioner's Exhibit 1272

Cunard 26. 4. 12.1 P. M.;

"Have advanced all continental prepaid rates via Liverpool to dollars thirty-six and a half."

Both these telegrams show that under ordinary circumstances the Pool will have the desired effect.

I beg to mention on this occasion that whatever change is made in cash rates, the prepaid rates must be changed simultaneously.

By bookpost registered I beg to send 3 copies each of revised Proofs of Agreements Y., A. A. & Z. with Appendices and bye-laws, the following alterations having been made:

Provisional Agreement Y Agreement Z with Appendicies A & B & Appendicies A to Agreement AA and Bye-laws wherever the words "General Pool" occur they have been substituted by "Atlantic Conference."

Petitioner's Exhibit 1272 10027

Clause 11 in Agreement Z has been made the same as the first paragraph of Art. 27 in Agreement AA., so that in both Agreements the clause of notice to be given is the same.

In Agreement AA the amendments as proposed in circular letter G No. 14 have been entered as well as the note by which Canpac joined the Agreement as per circular G. No. 3.

The percentages entered under Art. 3 are still to be revised in accordance with the final statistics of the Secretary of the Newyork Conference.

As to Art. 27 I beg to submit for consideration the following addition to the second paragraph of this Article after the words "all obligations" viz: 10028

> "except from the obligation to pay the compensation amounts incurred under this contract."

I shall be glad to hear whether this is agreeable and also whether the aforesaid alterations are accepted, so that the agreements made be printed definitely as soon as the percentages are settled.

If not objected to I shall have the Agreements Y, Z & A. A. with appendixes bound in one.

Dear Sir:

We beg to acknowledge receipt of your circular letter of the 28th ulto., reference No. G 58 and also copies of the revised proofs of Agreement Y, AA & Z with appendices and bye-laws, for which we thank you.

The suggested addition to article 27 of the words: "except from the obligation to pay the compensation amounts incurred under this contract" would appear advisable, and with which we agree.

In connection with the paragraph referred to in your G No. 14 and inserted at the foot of page 4 of agreement AA reading:

> "The Cunard S. S. Co.'s Adriatic Service, the Allan Line's Canadian Services, and the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. (Atlantic Steamship Lines), are not covered by this contract as far as westbound business is concerned."

the reference to Cunard S. S. Co.'s Adriatic Service being exempted from the contract so far as westbound business is concerned is liable to lead to some misconception, as appendix "A" to agreement "AA" directly covers this Service, and we therefore suggest that a clause be inserted immediately after the paragraph above referred to reading:

> "Except for the conditions attached to the Cunard S. S. Co.'s Adriatic Service provided for in Appendix 'A.'"

Petitioner's Exhibit 961 10033

As regards clause 2 of Agreement "Z" we would refer you to our letter of the 1st instant wherein we pointed out that the Cunard Line carryings require to be excepted from the traffic on which the Canadian Lines' percentage is based.

We return you herewith copies of the Agreements referred to in which we have corrected several Printer's errors, and also inserted the clause referring to the Cunard S. S. Co.'s Adriatic Service, and with which we trust the other Lines will be in accord.

Yours faithfully,

For Ismay, Imrie & Co.,

The Hamburg American Line write me a letter of which the following is a translation:

"When lately the fight in Italian business began the Continental Lines issued a Circular to the New York Conference Agents to the effect that they must not book eastbound third-class passengers to Continental points via Italian ports. This circular has been met by the six Italian Lines by the following publication:

10038 'Special Notice. New York, April 14th, 1907. Dear Sirs. All agents are hereby notified that they may book (via Genoa or Naples) third-class passengers destined to Continental Points, no matter whether they are Austrians, Croatians, Dalmatians, Galicians, Germans, Hungarians, Russians or Slavonians. Yours truly, (Signature of the six Italian Lines.)'

"The Newyork Conference agents thereby are in a peculiar situation; for what on the one hand they are prohibited, they are on the other hand invited to."

Petitioner's Exhibit 1273 10039

The circular of the Continental Lines referred to above is dated April 9th, the same day when the circulars (G. No. 54) of the Italian Lines were issued.

I am not aware if the N. A. P. C. Lines have issued a similar circular. If they have, it would have been more impressive if the circulars had been a joint one. If such circulars were enforced, promptly, in a few cases only other agents doing Continental business would hardly risk to lose the facility of booking their Continental passengers by 14 Lines, each of which offers more convenience and, under normal circumstances, cheaper rates than the Italian Lines. It would not even be necessary to disqualify an agent 10040 but simply a notice to him by each line, that Continental business will not be accepted from him.

Since there is a pool all the members of it are likewise interested that no part of the business that comes under the pool is diverted to outside Lines and no Line can afford to stand aloof, arms crossed, or to pursue purely individual interest in opposition to the interests of the pool or it will experience that in the long run it has acted against its own interests.

In this connection I would say that justified though it was that the British Lines advanced their rates from the Continent for the purpose of adjustment, still it would have been preferable if they had made 10041 no change in their Libau rate. Business from those parts of Russia gravitating to Libau will now be lost to the Russian Lines.

"While we find ourselves compelled to meet these reductions in this way, we still hold that the adjustment of percentages in the Pool

Monthly Account

10049 The Allan Line write:

"Referring to the monthly statement for March which we have received, please note that the 'Sardinian' sailing on 5th March from London carried 105 Hirsch passengers. You have entered only 100 of these as to be dealt with under the special arrangement regarding Hirsch passengers, evidently under the impression that the numbers by any steamer should be limited to 100. Our understanding of this arrangement was that the total number in the season should not exceed an average of 100 per sailing—not that the arrangement should 10050 be strictly limited to the number of 100 by any steamer. As we had none of these Hirsch passengers by the "Pomeranian" leaving London on 26th March, we have not exceeded 100 per sailing, and we submit that we should, therefore, have received credit for the whole 105 as Hirsch passengers within the terms of the arrangement. Please let us hear from you as to the interpretation of this clause in the agreement as it may be of some importance to us in regulating the number of Hirsch passengers to be allowed to sail in any particular steamer."

8) Cunard: 2/5. 2.40 p. m.

"Replying telegram 29 April Avoca competition presume Seydlitz arrangement is cancelled if so and all Lines approve we agree Ryndam proposition, is not however compensation proposed somewhat excessive?"

Several Lines not having agreed to Americanos proposal, others only conditionally and others not having replied at all, there will be no opposition against Avoca 5th May.

Referring to telegram 2 from the Anchor Line I have to mention that the Anchor Line wrote April 24th:

> "We beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter G. No. 47 and note that the 'Avoca' has arrived at Halifax with machinery damaged. We assume that the 'Seydlitz' will not now require to reduce rate seeing she will have no opposition and that we will not require to enter further into the question of compensating to the extent of $5 p. adult."

to which Lloyd replied:

> (Translation)
> "* * * it goes without saying that we must insist on being compensated with $5 per 1/1 for the passengers booked at the $24 rate for SS 'Seydlitz.' All Lines have agreed to the compensation and as it is not our fault that the 'Avoca' could not leave on her appointed day, no Line can be serious in disputing our claim on compensation as fixed—for the rest it is not excluded that similar cases will repeat f. i. the Continental Line might postpone a sailing for several days in order to thwart the measures of the joint Lines."

I beg to add that the Allan write in confirming their telegram 3:

> "With regard to your telegram of date proposing to compensate the Holland Line to the extent of 11 dollars for opposing their 'Ryndam' to the 'Avoca,' we have to point out that as the result of the existing circumstances mentioned in your circular letter of 27th inst., the Eastbound Continental rate has now been fixed at 28 dollars by a number of the lines, including our own. The proposal to compensate to the extent of 11 dollars is evidently based upon the nominal rate of 34 dollars as compared with the rate to be put in force by the 'Ryndam,' which we assume is 23 dollars. In view of the actual circumstances of most of the Lines, we think it would be fair that the compensation be limited to the difference between the actual lowest current rate, viz., 28 dollars, and the fighting rate of 28 dollars, giving a 10061 compensation rate of 5 dollars. We are, therefore, wiring you today, 'if other Lines agree, we agree compensate 'Ryndam' five dollars, based on current Eastbound rate of 28 dollars, which we hope will be clear to you."

It is a mistake that the rate of Americano of $34 be nominal. It is on the contrary the actual rate charged by them when not specially authorized otherwise. One cannot be so much surprised therefore that they claim a compensation to the full amount of the difference if they are wanted to reduce their rate in the interest of the community, whilst they, having only a small share, and being a party considerably in ex-10062 cess, would have to pay heavy compensation. They themselves say in a telegram received last night about the following:

"It is a pity that Lines cannot agree on compensating us for quoting a fighting rate against Avoca May 5th. It is this way that the bed is made for our competitors. We being a party greatly exceeding our share are not only quite justified to claim the full difference in the rate but even then would carry the passengers at a loss as we have to pay compensation twice."

> "As regards Westbound distressed U. S. citizens and Canadians, assisted by arrangement with the American Society in London and the High Commissioner for Canada, referred to in your circular letter G. No. 39 of April 9th, the rates for these passengers are only nominal, and the British Lines are agreed that they also should not be included in the Westbound pool. 10065

I beg to refer to G. No. 39.

Which passengers have to be pooled is fixed by Art. 1 and Commentar to Art. 2, Section 2.

The only exemptions allowed are stated in Byelaws 3, 6, & 11, a & b.

I can therefore not but request, that all charity or assisted passengers be reported as passengers which are to be accounted for.

The Continental Lines likewise as the British Lines carry also charity passengers at least Eastbound without ever having deducted them. The number may possibly be greater than with British Lines. But quite 10067 apart from that I do not think it justifiable that passengers which were included in the numbers when the percentages were computed should be excluded now in the accounts.

The number of Continental steeragers by other Lines not being known to me yet I cannot exactly give the proportion of Eastbound Continental steerage traffic, which went by the Italian Lines. At any rate the above figures show that the danger is serious if even with two steamers opposing at a $24 rate the Italians could obtain that result.

On May 1st I sent the Parties the following message:

1) "Hapag have cable: Italian Lines issued joint sailing list for May quoting Eastbound 10073 steerage rates Triest, Fiume, Laibach twenty-three, Basel twenty-four, other points correspondingly low, Commission four dollars."

This is an advance of the gross rates by $3 and an increase in commission by $2.

In consequence of this new move of the Italian Lines I asked the direct Mediterranean Lines if they would not consider advisable to increase the Commission for Italian business also to four dollars. The replies so far were:

2) ANCHOR: 1/5. 4.9 P. M.

"Have cabled New York giving discretion

3) LLOYD: 3/5. 12.10 P. M. (Translation)

"New York representatives not in favor increase commission owing demoralizing effect. We recommend conference Lines reduce Eastbound rate for direct Italian service to ten dollars against compensation five dollars by Pool Lines, and if necessary to increase cheap sailing to northern ports."

4) CUNARD: 3/5. 5.4 P. M.

"* * * Consider it would be better reduce rates, than increase commissions."

Petitioner's Exhibit 965 10075

This moment I receive the following cable from:

5) HAPAG: 4/5. 9.55 A. M.

> "Italian Lines reduced Eastbound steerage rates Fiume Triest to seventeen dollars, other points correspondingly low, commission four dollars and extra commissions from one to two dollars."

which I passed on the Parties and which was followed immediately by my following telegram:

4/5. 11.30 A. M. 10076

> "In view of Italian move just wired and several parties not being in favor of increased commission I submit Lloyd's proposal that Conference Lines reduce the rate for their direct Italian service to ten dollars and be compensated five dollars by Pool Lines. I await reply."
> Secretair.

Considering that by the reduction of the Italian rate 80% of the Italian Lines business would be seriously affected and that with their present continental rates of $17, less $4 commission and transportation from Genoa to Triest which costs about $5 hardly 10077 a carrying rate is left it may be fairly expected that it would have some effect on them.

As this reduction, if made, is in the interest of all the Atlantic Conference Lines it seems but just that they contribute their share in form of a compensation to the extent of the reduction. Questioned it might be whether it is necessary, that the reduction applies to all sailings or whether it can be restricted to certain opposition steamers.

It is to be wished that the Lines will be unanimous in acknowledging the necessity of prompt action.

10078 Petitioner's Exhibit 965

Perhaps one might be of opinion that a compensation for the reduction was only necessary if the Italian Lines follow as otherwise they would find compensation in increased numbers of passengers, or that it need not be to the full amount of the reduction, as it is in the respective Lines' Italian Service special interest also that the war should be shortened.

I beg to add the remarks of the

6) HOLLAND-AMERICAN LINE:

"G. No. 54. With regard to your circular 10079 letter re Eastbound continental passengers by Italian Lines at reduced rates, it seems to us that the invasion made by these Lines into continental eastbound business is the result of differences between them and some of the Continental and British Lines engaged in the Italian trade. From the correspondence between Messrs. Continental Passengers by Italian Lines. (G. 66) 10088

For the information of the Continental Lines and in order to keep together what has passed with reference to this matter, I take here the following Memo. from the Secretary of the N. A. P. C. of April 28th:

American Agents acting for Atlantic Conference, booking Continental business by Italian and other outside Lines.

"In reference to the last clause of Secretary Peter's circular letter No. 54 of 25th April, reading: 10089

"Cheaper and more efficient from every point of view it would be, if the Atlantic Conference Lines would promptly disqualify any of their U. S. agents who give Continental business to Italian and other outside Lines but for such action, even if all Lines were disposed, time might be too short."

"It is suggested that Secretary Peters be placed in a position, so far as the British Lines are concerned, to cable Secretary Sandford, New York, that such agents as are referred to

"Will the Line please express their views hereon with the least possible delay?"

Allan: "Yes, we are quite agreeable."
American, L'pool: "Agree."
Dominion, L'pool: "Agree."

ANCHOR:

10091 "Hope all British Lines will join in a cable to Secretary Sandford, New York urging that these agents be disqualified if they do not give up acting for Italian Lines in way complained of."

CAN. PACIFIC:

"I would mention that our agents in Canada and United States are entirely under the control of our Montreal people.

"I have therefore cabled to our friends there advising them of the proposal to deal with agents giving Continental traffic to the Italian and other outside Lines and suggesting that 10092 they take whatever concerted action is decided upon through the medium of the New York Conference."

CUNARD:

"Any agent of a British Line who held an outside agency prior to London agreements was to be protected we quite agree that no agent should be allowed to take any outside agency subsequently."

Petitioner's Exhibit 1276 10093

DONALDSON LINE:

"Agreeable that Secretary Peters should cable Secretary Sandford to disqualify any agent acting for other than Conference Lines."

WHITE STAR:

"Quite agree with Cunard so far as Agencies then held are concerned, but the arrangement made does not permit Agents representing outside Lines taking up additional Agencies for other Co.'s outside Conference and does not permit any Agent to commit a breach of Conference rules in booking Continental passengers East by Italian ports." 10094

AMERICAN Southampton:

"No full reply yet."

To Lloyd's proposal (G. No. 66, telegr, 3), the following replies have been received up till now:

1) STAR: 4/5. 12.50 P. M. (Translation)

"Lloyd's proposal will miss its aim. Italian Lines would leave Italians to Nonitalian Lines and take passengers to Austria, etc., at twenty dollars. However, it certainly would Italian Lines make uncomfortable as returning Italians are more numerous." 10095

2) HAPAG: 4/5. 2.36 P. M. (Translation)

"Agree Lloyd's proposal subject week's notice."

3) ALLANS: 4/5. 3.40 P. M.

"Regret cannot agree compensate Lloyd's Italian service as proposed."

10096 Petitioner's Exhibit 1276

4) ANCHOR: 4/5. 4.37 P. M.

"Have already given New York full discretion re meeting Italian Lines. Is the 10 dollars to Naples rate to be nett? fear the contract lines not in the Italian direct service will not agree compensation you mention."

Seeing from these replies that there was not much hope of Lloyd's proposal being agreed to by all parties, and seeing on the other hand from the above Memo. that the majority of the British Lines were disposed 10097 to disqualify such agents as turn continental business over to Italian Lines, I submitted this to the Continental Lines asking what their views were, and received the following replies from:

5) STAR: 4/5. 4.45 P. M. (Translation)

"We are in favor of proposed disqualification. It would be a good thing if Lines would at last bring home to agents that they are the masters and not the agents."

6) AMERICANO: 4/5. 6.12 P. M. (Translation)

"Agree disqualification American agents giving continental business to Italians."

7) AUSTRO: 5/5. 8.40 A. M. (Translation)

"Agree in principle with your proposal. Measure can only be successful if all Atlantic Conference Lines agree."

8) HAPAG: 5/5. 10.30 A. M. (Translation)

"Agree disqualification."

9) TRANSAT: 5/5. 11.10 A. M. (Translation)

"Agree proposed disqualification American agents if continental conference New York is unanimous."

In the meantime, I received the following telegram from:

10) LLOYD: 5/5. 10.2 A. M. (Translation)

"Since situation requires prompt and energetic action we have without awaiting decision of parties reduced eastbound Italian rate to ten dollars commencing sailing May sixteenth with reservation to revert later to question of compensation."

which I passed on to the parties.

10103 With reference to Lloyds telegram (G. No. 68, No. 10) I received further the following letter from

1) Lloyd, May 5th

> "As the situation regarding the Italian Lines requires absolutely prompt action and the ques- of compensation, judging from experience made hitherto, cannot be expected to be settled quick, we have today sent instruction to New York to reduce our eastbound steerage rate to $10. As experience has shown that such re- ductions influence strongly the Italian east- bound business, we hope not only to ruin the > 10104 business for the Italian Lines but at the same time to increase the number of returning Italians to such an extent that little room will be left to the direct Lines for continental steer- agers. Of course we reserve the right to re- vert later to the question of compensation."

To Lloyds telegram mentioned above I received the following reply from

2) Ismay, 5/5. 4. 8 p. m.

> "Note Lloyds reduction eastbound Italian rate to ten dollars but as we do not agree this policy cannot consider question of compensation."

of which I informed Lloyd immediately upon receipt by urgent telegram.

I beg to repeat the following cable received last night from Sandford:

"Campania Navigazione 510 Continental 25 percent total."

The following is a cable from New York referring to disqualification of agents received by

3) Lloyd:

10106

"Proposal already met and agents violating rules by booking continental business Mediterranean lines being disqualified. Refer to Continental Conference rules minutes."

This reference to Continental Conference rules makes suppose the N. A. P. C. did not join. If this were so, the action taken by the Continental Lines would rather be worse than better, for it would only impress upon the agents, that the Lines are still very far from manifesting by facts that they have common interests.

I have asked Secretary Sandford for information. 10107

Lloyd writes May 6th:

"We are in receipt of circular letter G. No. 66 and note what the Holland-Amerika-Line has to say with regard to the proposed reduction of the Eastbound Italian rate to $10.—

"The invasion by the Italian Lines into the Continental steerage business is certainly a most deplorable affair but we are sure that no Conference Line will in earnest attempt to make any other Conference Line responsible for this new competition. The facts are that this competition exists and the question is how it can be met. 10119

"That the reduction of our eastbound Italian rate to $15.— was perfectly sufficient to protect our own interests in the Italian traffic is sufficiently proven by the fact that our S. S. 'König Albert' May 2nd from New York, was almost completely sold out at this rate, having embarked 1473 steeragers for Italian ports.

"In proposing a further reduction of $5.— our sole object was to protect the Conference Lines' interests against their Italian competitors, and we think it is only fair to expect that all Conference Lines will take their share in this fight by compensating the direct Italian services of the Conference Lines for the additional losses they may sustain.—We hope the Lines will consider our proposal from this point of view. We should very much regret if by their refusal to compensate we and the other Conference Lines, having direct Mediterranean services, should be compelled to withdraw a measure which more than any other might 10121 prove of value in bringing the Italian Companies to terms.

10120 Petitioner's Exhibit 971

"We note the proposal of the Holland-Amerika-Line to meet the competition of the Italian Lines on the Continent by establishing a westbound rate of £2.— or less for Italian passengers via northern ports, to which we shall revert shortly."

Monthly Statement Atlantic Conference & Canadian Lines for March 1908. (G. No. 63.)

Hirsch passengers: 10124

The following views on the point raised by the Allan Line in G. No. 63 have been expressed by:

Red Star Line:

> "Our recollection is that the average was asked but not agreed & that the number of 100 applies for each sailing i. e. separately. If it had been understood otherwise, the word average would have been inserted; the omission is not due to an oversight since the question has been discussed."

Holland American Line: 10125

> "With regard to the 105 Hirsch-passengers carried on the 'Sardinian,' sailed March 5th from London, of which only 100 have been entered in the Monthly Account to be dealt with under the special arrangement regarding Hirsch-passengers, we beg to say that the clause in Appendix A to Agreement Z, referring to these passengers and reading:
> "'* * * not exceeding one hundred (100) passengers per sailing during the year 1908 * * *.'

10126 Petitioner's Exhibit 1277

"is in our opinion to be understood in that way:

" 'that the number of Hirsch-passengers carried on any particular steamer during 1908 should be strictly limited to 100.'

"there being nothing in the appendix A to second the Allan Line's interpretation of the clause

" 'that the average per sailing for 1908 shall not exceed 100.' "

Lloyd:

"Appendix A to Agreement Z is in our opin. perfectly clear. The intention of the parties was that the Allan Line should be allowed to carry a maximum and not an average of 100 Hirsch-passengers per sailing from London."

With further reference to the Hirsch-passengers I received the following note from Anchor Line:

"We agree with the views of Messrs. Allan that they were not to ship more than 100 passengers on account of the Hirsch contract for each of their sailings, but we did not understand that they were limited to 100 for any one sailing. The aggregate for the year ending 1908 was not to exceed an average of 100 passengers for each sailing."

Donaldson Line:

"The arrangement agreed to was not that the numbers were to be limited to an average of 100 per sailing during the year 1908. The clause reads 'not exceeding 100 per sailing,' and it was not understood that the numbers were to be averaged."

Petitioner's Exhibit 1277

Lloyd:

"Of the 100 Baron Hirsch passengers you charge the Allan Line only 97. In our opinion the Allan Line has to compensate the U. S. Lines @ £2. for the full number of 100 passengers."

Canadian Agreement & Cunard Line.

Lloyd (Translation):

"In dividing the payments of the Canadian Lines you have expressly exempted the Cunard Line. We think there is no reason for this because according to Article 1, Agreement Z, belongs to the Parties of the Agreement. The reason for the Cunard Line's continental carryings not being included when the Canadian Lines' share was computed is, that the statistics of the I. M. M. Co. were exclusive of the Cunard Lines and the exact figures of the Cunard Line's continental carryings could not be procured. We are of opinion that the Cunard Line has to participate as well in payments to be made as to be received."

On this point the same view is expressed by the White Star Line:

"Referring to your monthly statement for March showing the settlement under provisional agreement Y and Agreement Z, including appendixes A and B thereto, we think it is an error to omit the Cunard Line in the statement at the foot showing the division of the compensation due from the Allan Line.

"While it is quite true that in accordance with appendix B the carryings of the Cunard Line are not to be considered in arriving at the number of Continental passengers the Allan Line & Donaldson Line are entitled to carry, it does not, in our opinion, result that the Cunard Line are not to participate pro rata with the other Pool Lines in the monthly settlement with the Allan Line and Donaldson Line. We should like to have your view on this point, and also the views of the Continental Lines.

"We may say that none of the British Lines, so far as we are aware, have raised this question as yet. In this connection, we would point 10133 out that Clause 2 of Agreement Z needs amendment, as the Cunard Line is a party to this agreement, and the word 'except the Cunard Line' should be inserted after the words 'parties to this agreement' on the ninth line of this clause as provided for in appendix B."

If the Cunard Line's continental carryings in the past were not taken in consideration when the percentages of the Canadian Lines were computed and if their present carryings are not included in the account with the Canadian Lines I fail to see by which arguments it can be justified, that the Cunard Line should participate in payments pro and contra under Agree-10134 ment Z. The mere fact of the Cunard Line being mentioned as a member to Agreement Z does in my opinion constitute neither rights nor obligations in view of Agreement Y, Clause 1, and Appendix B to Agreement Z, Clause 2.

Will the other parties please let me have their views on the above 3 points; or if agreeable reserve their decision for the next meeting as the questions are not of such vital importance.

Continental passengers by Italian Lines. (G. No. 73) 10160

I beg to lay before the Parties the following correspondence:

1) Allans: May 4th

"We have received your two telegrams of this date G. No. 66 Teleg. 3 & 5 in regard to a reduction of Eastbound steerage rates by the Italian Lines. The proposal to compensate Lloyds' direct Italian service appears to us to be one of quite a different character from other compensation proposals which have recently received the assent of the Conference 10161 Lines. As the Italian services are not in the Pool, we presume we are right in thinking that none of the passengers carried by the steamers which it is proposed to compensate would be accounted for to the Pool. It seems to us, therefore, that Lines which, like ourselves, are only very indirectly interested in Italian business could not reasonably be expected to share in the action proposed. While we recognize that the proposed reduction of rate by Lloyds' direct service may be the most effective reply possible to the action of the Italian Lines, we think the General Pool is only interested in business for Fiume and Trieste, and should only compensate for reductions to these ports, at all events, as at present advised, we cannot agree to join in compensation to a service entirely outside the Pool."

2) Anchor: May 4th (referring to Lloyds' proposal (G. No. 66, Teleg. 3)

"We understand it is not the intention of Contract Italian Lines to book any Continental 10163 business via Italy, as doing so would entail their pooling such bookings.

"The idea being to oppose Italian Companies for their Italian business only.

"The proposed compensation of 5 dollars per soul to be paid by pool lines, who are not in the direct Italian business.

"We fear that the Contract Lines not in the Italian direct business will not all agree to this compensation basis.

"There can be nothing but a loss to the Italian Lines taking business on a $17.00 Fiume Trieste basis & paying $4.00 to $6.00 10164 commission & we think they will very soon tire of it would it not be as well to give them rope enough for a little?"

3) Anchor: May 6th

"Your G. No. 66.

"Continental passengers by Italian Lines. "We have noted the large number of Continental passengers being conveyed via Genoa to Trieste Fiume &c. and we have no doubt that along with Lloyd our New York Office is meeting the competition of Italian Lines for Italian business. We do not think that the Italian Lines will continue long their present cut rates for the reason you mention that they are not getting even a carrying rate.

"We should like very much to learn what the Contract Lines not in the Italian direct business have to say to the Lloyd proposal of $5.00 compensation as conveyed in your telegram of 4th May. It is up to them now to show what they will do to assist in getting the Continental Eastbound business back into the proper channel for which result the Contract Lines 10166 in the Italian direct business are working."

4) Cunard: May 6th

"Mediterranean Eastbound situation remains unaltered. We are advertising Italia to sail 9 May Rate gross $13 to Naples and $16.00 to 10167

6) White Star: May 8th

"Referring to your telegrams of 1st and 5th instant regarding the action of the Italian Lines booking Continental passengers via Italy, we have been in cable communication with our New York office with a view to increasing commission for Italian Eastbound business, which increase of commission the Italian Lines would undoubtedly have followed, and with lower rates would, we think, have filled their steamers with Italians, to the exclusion of Continentals & at a net rate that would leave a loss.

"We have advice from New York, however, that an increase of commission is not favoured by the Pool Lines who are interested in the trade, which we see is confirmed by your G. No. 66, and we are therefore not pressing the suggestion.

"We still feel, however, that a reduction in rate to $10.00, as announced by the North 10169 German Lloyd, will attract a large proportion of the Italian business to them, and will continue to leave the Italian Lines with ample room in their steamers, and so encourage them to try and fill up with Continental business.

"The Italian Companies are now quoting, we understand $17.00 to Trieste and correspondingly low rates to other ports, and we do not think that they will feel disposed to continue this business for very long, but if the Pool Lines interested in the Mediterranean trade would take such steps as to divert Italian traffic at unremunerative rates to the Italian 10170 Lines, it would in our opinion be the least expensive and the most effective way of dealing with the situation."

7) Anchor: May 8th

"Your G. 69. We have already noted the views of Lloyds and also advised you as to what rate we were quoting at Newyork this week and consider we are doing our share to compete with Italian Lines in their own sphere. We observe White Star Co. inform you that they do not agree with the policy being pursued, and cannot consider question of compensation. If Messrs. Ismay Imrie & Co. inform you what policy they would pursue we shall be glad to be advised of it.

"As to compensation question as we are in the direct Italian business and competing with Italian Lines for it we had hoped that the White Star Co. for its North Atlantic services would have viewed the question of compensating us differently."

8) Cunard: May 7th

"Understand from Newyork that our Trieste 10172 Fiume eastbound rates should be reduced to meet competition of italian lines we are not adverse to meeting this competition but as we have largely overcarried in pool we would require compensation for difference between our present rates and reduced rates."

to which I sent the following reply:

"Lloyd reply your yesterdays telegram: If Cunard fill their steamers with Continentals they would no longer be competitors in Italian eastbound business which would suit Italians well. If Cunard will do something extra they 10173 might reduce Italian rate, which would serve general pool interests better.

A proposal of the Austro Americano to reduce their rate to Trieste has also been declined by Continental Lines. Austro has a few days ago reduced their eastbound Italian rate to $10.—

10175 Regulating Steerage Rates for Adjustment Purposes. (G. No. 61)

With reference to the complaint of the Allan Line (G. No. 61) that rates were not advanced by over-carried lines, as required by Art. 11 but reduced instead by others so far only the following Lines have expressed their views:

(1) Lloyd, May 5th:

10176 "The first paragraph of the Commentary to Art. 11 says that 'whenever practicable' i. e. under normal conditions, the adjustment shall be effected by raising the rates of the Lines in excess and in the following paragraph it is added that no Line can be compelled to fix its rate at more than £8. The highest eastbound steerage rate is at present $37: that is only $3 below the maximum, and the Allan Line certainly cannot claim that the present conditions of eastbound business are normal ones. However, if the Allan Line demand, the Lines will have to decide by majority what course is to be adopted. In our opinion a general advance of the eastbound rates is at present not practicable in view of the competition of the Italian

Lines besides that of the Russian Companies and the New York Continental Line, and because it would make the solution of the question of compensation for fighting rates still more complicate."

(2) White Star, May 6th:

" ..... we are very much in sympathy with the communication from the Allan Line, as it is undoubtedly the object of the Pool to maintain rates at a remunerative level.

"Unfortunately, the outside competition that 10178 has at present to be considered, makes it, we suggest, desirable to avoid any increase in rates for the time being, but if the reductions in competition with these outside Lines has the desired effect, it should not be very long before the Eastbound rates can be restored again."

(3) Nasm (Netherlands Line), May 6th:

".....we beg to say that under ordinary circumstances it is beyond doubt a sound principle, we may say the principle, under a pooling agreement that the adjustment of percentages has to be effected, whenever possible, by an ad- 10179 vance in rates by the party or parties who are in excess, rather than by a reduction of rates by the Lines which are short.

"However sound a principle may be, yet it would not be wise to carry it through under all circumstances. And especially under the present situation it should not be overlooked by the Allan Line that the Hamburg-American Line and the North German Lloyd have reduced their steerage rates in order to meet the present competition in eastbound traffic and that by so doing a good number of passengers have been saved for the Pool, i. e. for the benefit of all the Lines."

(4) Anchor, May 4th:

"..... we note what Messrs. Allan write to you and agree with their views that the adjustment of percentages ought always to be brought about by the Lines that are overcarried advancing their rates, and not the Lines undercarried reducing. We think, however, that Messrs. Allan have not given weight to 10181 the fact that the reductions made in Eastbound rates have been brought about by the Contract Lines requiring to meet outside competition, a provision that is also covered by the General Contract."

I beg to confirm my following telegrams:

Disqualification of American Agents. (G. No. 69) 10184

This question originally was started by A. E. Johnson & Co. inviting bookings of continental passengers for an Italian steamer. The Continental Lines not being informed yet what action has been taken in this case I give here an extract from a Memo of Mr. Smyth's dated May 5th to the British Lines. It contains a letter from Secretary Sandford of April 27th in reply to a letter from Secretary Smyth reading:

> "..... Your cable on receipt was immediately submitted to the New York Lines. It was ascertained that Continental Conference Lines had withdrawn their booking agencies 10185 > from A. E. Johnson & Co., at the time they assumed the General Passenger Agency for the Russian East Asiatic S. S. Co.
> "On being called to account for the 'Re d'Italia' incident, A. E. Johnson & Co. said they would at once withdraw their offer, and did so by a prompt circular addressed to those who had received the original offer. It appears that some if not all of the N. Y. Lines members of the North Atlantic Passenger Conference considered that this action by A. E. Johnson & Co. closed the incident."

10186 Petitioner's Exhibit 977

The following letters refer to the same matter:

Anchor: May 4th

"We thank you for sending us copy of the Hamburg American Line letter, and note the Passenger Agents in New York, &c. have received circulars from both Continental and Italian Lines in reference to booking to South Eastern Europe via Italy. As stated, the Agents in the Continental Lines' Circular are warned not to do this, and by the Italian Lines 10187 the same Agents are permitted.

"We have not seen any circular on this question that has been issued by the General Agents of the N. A. P. C. Lines. The Circular might have been a joint one, we expect, if the General Agents of the N. A. P. C had been asked to co-operate with the N. D. L. V. Lines. We agree with you that this step would have had more effect, but we cannot see that you can attach any blame to the N. A. P. C. Lines not co-operating if they were not asked.

"We agree with your remarks that all parties in the Contract should be not only willing 10188 but anxious to meet circumstances that arise wherein Contract Line interests are attacked, even if the attack is directed only at a few of the Contract Lines."

Anchor: May 8th

"Your G. No. 68 .... and note the opinion of the various Lines in the Contract as to the question of disqualifying the agents in the United States. We observe that some of the Lines make a reference to agents who may have held the British Line appointment prior to the London agreement. In this connection we would point out that both in United States and in this country agents on their being appointed were made aware that they could not act for Lines outside of the Conference Companies. Further, that their appointment hinged on their conforming at all times to Conference rules and regulations. We do not think therefore that the London agreement in any way put these agents in a different position to that hitherto held by them. For these reasons we cannot see that there should be anything to prevent all Contract Lines giving you the 10190 power to cable to New York instructions that unless all agents for Contract Lines cease booking via Italy passengers classed as Continentals, that they be disqualified. The Contract Lines should not suffer agents appointed by them to quote for traffic outside their own service."

On May 6th I cabled Secretary Sandford:

"Has North Atlantic Conference same rules as Continental disqualify agents booking Continentals Mediterranean Lines? Is it enforced?" 10191 and received on May 8th his reply:

"Disqualification rule now adopted. Cooperation Northatlantic Lines assured."

It now remains to be seen whether the rule can and will be made efficacious and what the effect will be.

Respectfully,

By a Memo from Secretary Smyth to the N. A. P. C. Lines the following letter is submitted from:

10193 White Star Line: May 6th

"Referring to Secretary Peters' circular letter of the 30th ult., we note his remarks regarding the effect on the Russian Lines of the advance in the westbound Libau rate recently announced by the British Conference Lines.

"There is no doubt a great deal in Secretary Peters' remark that this advance must have been very welcome to the Russian Lines, and if they can only get their rates increased without coming to an agreement they will be more 10194 difficult to negotiate with in future.

"In view of the fact that the British Lines are all in the plus in the westbound pool, we would suggest you ask Secretary Peters if the Continental Lines cannot break the rate from Libau by quoting a low figure from that port via Hamburg, Bremen &c. Even if they do not get the business, it would probably result in the outside Lines having to again reduce their rates."

I am awaiting to learn what the Parties think about this suggestion.

Secretary Smyth sent me a Memo to the Lines of the N. A. P. C. containing the following letter to him from the White Star Line of May 8th: 10196

> "Referring to the competition that has been carried on by the Pool Lines with the New York and Continental Line steamers Eastbound, as we are minus parties in the Eastbound Pool, it would be better, and tend adjust the Pool, if one or two White Star Line steamers were availed of in competition with the New York and Continental Line's sailings to quote reduced rates for Continental business.
> "The North German Lloyd and Holland-America Line, both of whom have competing steamers at low rates compensated by the Pool, are plus parties. 10197
> "We have the 'Adriatic' sailing May 20th which would compete with the 'Jelunga' May 19th, and our present rate being $28 to Hamburg, we would be prepared to quote a Continental rate of $23 with $5 compensation.
>
> "We shall be glad to have the views of the Lines hereon.

10198 Petitioner's Exhibit 980

P. S. "We see from Secretary Peters' letter No. 3407, May 1st, that the 'Jelunga' is referred to as sailing May 9th, not 19th, but if the principle suggested in our letter is accepted, we will cable New York to arrange to compete with the next of these outside sailings and to cable us that we may advise the Pool Lines for which steamer we quote a $23 Continental rate."

Will the Parties please let me have their views.

It is true it is rumored that a big steamer is being built in England for the company for the Libau-Newyork line, but it will take some time before she will be ready; so it is to be expected that for a certain period the sailings between encing any difficulty at the German Control Stations, we report to you the case of two passengers, Woiciech Scia & Antoni Kopeinski, whom we forward to night via Grimsby to your care. These passengers having sent us by post from Galicia the usual deposits for third class tickets, were booked by us for your Company on the 20th ult. and were sent the enclosed interim tickets which were used always before, and the text of which was stipulated by the German Lines with your consent. The shortest route to Rotterdam was for these passengers via the Control Station at Myslovitz, and would have cost each of them £1.10 straight from their place of abode. The passengers however on their arrival on the 2nd inst. at Myslovitz were refused passing, were told there by the Agent of the German Lines that the tickets were false because they were not of any of the German Lines, and consequently they were transported back to the Galician frontier at Szezakowa. This fact you can observe also from the enclosed interim tickets of the passengers as on each of them in the left upper corner the Agent at Myslovitz wrote down 'Szez,' which means, to be returned to Szezakowa. 10238 10239

"The passengers were therefore obliged to take a very long round about way to Rotterdam via Vienna & Basle, the traverse of which lasted one whole week, and costed each of them £3—thus each of them £1.10.00 more than it would have costed via Myslovitz.

"Besides the passengers having been longer on their way to Rotterdam have more expenses for food etc. Whilst the journey via Myslovitz would have lasted only two days. The passengers have to sail by the 'Arabic' 14th inst., from L'pool so you can examine the passengers themselves as to the truthfulness of our statements.

"Thus you see your passengers are not allowed the same facilities of the shortest routes to Rotterdam via the German Control Stations as other passengers on the Continental Lines, viz., Holland American Line or Canadian Pacific. Your passengers must take long roundabout way, have therefore each at least £1.-10/—more expenses and in spite of this you 10241 advised us to charge presently for third class tickets the rate of 150 marks, whilst Holland America Line, whose passengers may take the shortest way to Rotterdam, maintains lower rate. How can you expect from us any business? Is this not self explanatory, that you ought to have lower rate, because your passengers must pay much more for railway journey to Rotterdam."

Opportunity no doubt will offer to discuss the case at the Meeting on 25th inst. The interim ticket I shall bring along.

Respectfully,

10242 H. PETERS.

Compensation for fighting rates. (G. No. 95.)

Secretary Smyth sent me a Memo to the Lines of the N. A. P. C. containing the following letters:

1) Anchor Line: May 15th: 10268

"In reference to your letter C. B. No. 9 (G. No. 85) sending us copy of a letter from the White Star Line dated 8th May. We understood that a copy had been sent to Mr. Peters, and in view of the fact that the sailing date from Newyork of the S. S. 'Jelunga' cannot be before the first week in June, we are waiting to learn Continental Lines' views. Speaking generally on the subject we consider that the suggestion of the White Star Company is a very good one indeed and competition by their steamers might have a very salutory effect. On the point of principle, 10269 however, we consider that Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co. might very well reduce their rate to compete with the Continental Lines without asking for any compensation for so doing. As they themselves point out that they are minus in Eastbound Pool, we can see no better plan for them to adopt to come up to their proper quota percentage than by reducing rates. The special compensation accorded to any one Line should not in our view be accepted as a principle, but only be agreed to for a specific steamer, and specific date."

2) Allan Line: May 15th:

"Circular C. B. No. 9 (G. No. 85). We do not regard favorably the proposal of the White Star Line, but we will be glad to have the views of the others. We too are in the same position, so far as Eastbound carryings are concerned, that it to say, we are short of our percentage."

10271 Besides Secretary Smyth gives the opinions of the other lines on the same subject:

3) American
Dominion

"Agreed."

4) Canadian Pacific:

"Agree provided all Lines join."

5) Cunard:

"Would be disposed acquiesce if all Lines agree."

10272 The Red Star Line write: (Translation)

"G. No. 85. We consider it useless to try to come to an understanding in regard to further competing steamers so long as no general understanding in regard to the question of compensation is arrived at."

The question of compensation for fighting the New-york Continental Line has been put on the order of the day of Monday next.

Disqualification of Agents. (G. No. 115.)

This morning I received the following cable from Mr. Sandford:

> "Newyork Conference Lines except Cunard consulted counsel who advise arbitration Cunard. Case here must involve entire Atlantic Conference agreement of February 5th which might lead to public discussion of its provisions as to division of traffic showing it to be violation of Sherman Law. Under these circumstances and as Atlantic Conference agreement of February 5th clearly valid under laws of England and Germany Conference Lines interested are strongly of opinion arbitration 10335 > absolutely necessary and should be held in Europe under Atlantic Conference agreement for violation by Cunard of articles 16 and 18. The situation here very serious. Control agents entirely illusory unless prompt and decisive action taken as Cunards present attitude encourages agents in booking for outside lines thus diverting business from Atlantic Conference Lines. Answer."

10336 Petitioner's Exhibit 1013

to which I added:

"Await instruction if any of the Parties wish to take action according to cable."

Article 23 of the Contract says: "The execution and control of the fulfillment of the stipulations of the present contract are confided firstly to the Secretary * * *" but the tenor of the arbitration clause does not allow me to refer a matter in dispute to arbitration. This can only be done by any of the Parties and therefore I ask for instructions.

10337 What the Contract stipulates: "It shall be the duty of the Secretary to use every exertion to settle difficulties amicably." I have done by writing a letter to the Cunard Line on May 30th, but to which I have not received a reply up till now.

On the last London Meeting the opinion was prevalent that it would be bad policy under present circumstances to advance the eastbound rates by the direct Mediterranean services of the Conference Lines as this would give the Italian Companies a welcome chance to raise their rates to a profitable basis and would tend to prolong the present struggle indefinitely. While we fully share these views we do not consider it quite fair that it should be left to the Lines, keeping their rates on an entirely unprofitable basis in the interest of all, to take all the losses upon their own shoulders. From April 1st till June 6th, we 10389 have had 7 steamers at a rate of $15 (less $2 commission) and one steamer for which we charged only $10. Bookings for most all of these steamers had to be closed considerable time before the departure, which proves that we could have filled them at much higher rates. By these steamers over 11500 steerage passengers were carried eastbound, and we estimate that the sacrifice we have brought so far in the common interest amounts to at least $50,000. While we do not wish to open the question of a compensation for the passengers carried so far at reduced rates, we will, under the circumstances, have to seriously consider an increase of our rate by say $5, if the other Lines interested cannot see their way to at least partly compensate us in future for the losses we shall have to sustain. We think that $20 would be a fair basis for a compensation for our steamers.

I shall be obliged for getting the views of the other Parties on the point.

Compensation for fighting rates

Re the question of compensation for passengers overbooked for S. S. Pretorio and Barborossa I beg to advise that I submitted the attached statement of the case to Mr. J. Bruce Ismay requesting his decision, which I shall communicate, as soon as it is received.

Respectfully,
H. PETERS.
p. Rep.

(Stamped): Ismay, Imrie & Co. Passenger Dept. Recd. 19 Jun. 1908 Ansd.

At the London Meeting, May 20th, 1908 it was agreed:

> "The question of compensation to the White Star Line for the passengers overbooked for the 'Pretoria,' April 14th and transferred to the 'Baltic,' and to the Holland America Line for the passengers also overbooked for the 'Pretoria' and 'Barborossa' and transferred to the 'Potsdam' and 'Noordam' to be referred to Mr. Ismay for decision."

Statement of the Cases:

(1) On March 18th the Secretary wired to the Parties:

> "Red Star wires: to meet eastbound rate 23 dollars 'Volturno' 11th April propose reduce rate Hapag. Red Star steamers sailing same date 23 dollars. Difference between 23 dollars and regular rate of said steamers to be supported by all Atlantic Conference Lines pro rata eastbound percentages."

Lloyd thought it sufficient if Hapag alone reduced 10424 to $23—and agreed to a compensation of $7—per adult, the Hapag rate at that time being $30. This proposal was agreed to by all the A. C. Parties as confirmed by the Secretary's circular letter G. No. 23. Consequently the Hamburg American Line was only compensated at the rate of $7 per adult, although at the time the "Pretoria" sailed their rate had been advanced by $4 to $34.

The Hapag steamer sailing April 11th was the "Pretoria" which carried 2374 steeragers. 448 passengers were booked in excess of her capacity, of which 435 were transferred to the steamer "Noordam," of the Holland America Line, sailing April 10425 15th, and 13 to the steamer 'Baltic' of the White Star Line, April 16th. The eastbound rate of the Holland America Line and the White Star Line on March 18th was $30.—, when the "Noordam" and "Baltic" sailed their rate had been increased to $34.

With reference to these latter 13 passengers the White Star Line wrote to the Secretary on April 28th as follows:

> "Dear Sir:
>
> "The following is extract from letter dated 18th inst to hand from our New York office:

10426 Petitioner's Exhibit 1028

"'S. S. "Baltic." There are 13 Continental passengers on this steamer transferred to us from the S. S. "Pretoria" at the $23 rate (net $21) to Hamburg. The Hamburg Line, we understand, transferred over 400 of their overbooked passengers to the Holland American Line steamer on the same terms. We are advised by the Hamburg Line that an agreement exists whereby they and the N. G. L. are to cut their rates Eastbound to meet the competition of the two Russian Lines when the latter have steamers sailing and the loss involved 10427 is to be borne equally by all the members of the Pool. As our net rate is $32.—, the difference involved is $11.— on each passenger. It was on these conditions that we agreed to take the passengers.'"

"We take it there is no question as to our being compensated for the difference in rate referred to, and shall be glad to have your confirmation."

On May 6th the Holland America Line handed in a bill to the Secretary of the A. C. for the above mentioned 435 steeragers ex "Pretoria" as per annex 1, requesting him to collect the amount of $5061.76 from 10428 the Parties. A compensation having only been agreed to for the "Pretoria" and only to the amount of $7.— per adult, the Secretary did not see on which title he could have asked the Parties to settle the claims and left the matter pending for a discussion, which resulted in all Parties agreeing to Mr. J. Bruce Ismay being asked to decide the points in question which maybe are:

(a) Are the Steamers "Noordam" and "Baltic" entitled to a compensation?

(b) To what amount are they entitled to compensation?

(c) Who has to pay the compensation, and in which proportion?

(2) The Holland America Line by their steamer "Potsdam," sailed from New York April 8th, took 325 steeragers, overbooked for Lloyd steamer "Barbarossa," which sailed from New York on April 9th with 2286 steeragers.

On April 4th the Hamburg American Line had received the following cable from New York:

"North German Lloyd stopped booking Barbarossa ninth April. This will drive business to Petersburg eight April, Voluturno eleventh April, therefore suggested to North German Lloyd to continue booking Barbarossa transferring overflow to Amerika ninth April at twenty four dollar rate for account of Atlantic Pool. Do you agree? Expect Pretoria eleventh April will be overbooked. Shall we continue booking and transfer overflow to following steamers also for account of Pool? Cable instructions."

10431

In communicating this cable Hapag strongly advised to agree to the proposal and asked the Secretary to get the votes of the Parties by urgent telegrams. April 4th being Saturday it would have been to no purpose to send telegrams to the British Lines that day. In the meantime the Holland America Line proposed the overflow should be sent by their "Potsdam" April 8th instead of by the "Amerika" April 9th, this being cheaper for the Pool, since "Potsdam" rate was $34—against "Amerika" $38—They were prepared to take the passengers ex "Barbarossa" at the $24.—rate at which they were booked, if they were paid the difference against their regular rate by the Pool. Whilst there was no objection of the Continental Lines to the excess ex "Barbarossa" being shipped by the "Potsdam," they disagreed on the question of compensation, and the Secretary being unable to make the British Lines a definite proposal, omitted to wire them the more so as he could hardly expect to get their replies in time.

On April 17th the Holland America Line wrote to the Secretary: (Translation):

> "As there was no time left to settle the ques-> 10433 tion of compensation for taking Lloyd's excess passengers ex "Barborossa," booked at the opposition rate, before the sailing of our steamer 'Potsdam' we have, without awaiting the result of the respective negotiations, today instructed our New York office to accept such overflow from steamer at the reduced rate if space is left. We did so taking it for granted that the Parties would admit that this measure was right and proper, and that having regard to our being a party considerably in excess in the Pool they would compensate us for the difference between our regular rate > 10434 and the special rate."

The bill of the Holland America Line is in annex 2.

This case differs from the first ones in that respect that the "Pretoria," from which the passengers per "Baltic" and "Noordam" came, in compensation for having made an opposition rate got $7.— per adult, whilst the "Barbarossa" from which the passengers per "Potsdam" came, got no compensation, in consequence of a special arrangement between the Continental Lines.

Award.

In its natural meaning the expression "Off Cherbourg" is not synonymous with "From Cherbourg."
10451 The steamer would be "Off Cherbourg" whether she had approached it from the eastward or from the westward and whether she was arriving or sailing.

The meaning submitted on the part of the White Star and American Lines, by reference to the Imperial Dictionary, is a meaning attached to the adverb Off not to the preposition Off.

But the word has assumed a technical meaning in Passenger Agreements it was adopted to indicate a rate appertaining to a place other than a terminal of the Ocean Steamer carrying the passengers or a rate which might form only a portion of a through rate and the word has generally if not exclusively had this 10452 meaning in previous Passenger Agreements.

The Word has been used as applying to eastbound as well as to westbound business and to passengers coming to as well as departing from the place Off which the rate is quoted, see e. g.: Clause 3 in Agreement on Second Cabin business dated Liverpool 15th June 1898, Clause near the bottom of Page 2 of Agreement concerning Second Cabin business dated 5th. September 1902 and the corresponding Clause in the Agreement concerning Second-Class business dated London, March 1905.

The parties to this Arbitration differ as to the arrangement come to in February last and which is embodied in the last paragraph on page one of Agreement W. dated London, 5th. February 1908. Agreement W. is an Agreement for "Minimum Ocean rates for Second-Class passengers Eastbound and Westbound" and having regard to the natural meaning of the words "Off Cherbourg" or to the technical use of the word Off in previous Passenger Agreements I do not consider that the words "Off Cherbourg" in the paragraph now in difference are sufficient to show that the rate following them was intended to apply only to Westbound business and decide that this rate 10454 applies both Eastbound and Westbound.

Mediterranean Business.

The following replies have been received upon Lloyds proposal re to compensation in the Italian eastbound trade:

1) Holland American Line:

"For the reasons already stated in G. No. 66 we are of opinion that the Lines interested in the direct Mediterranean business should not apply for compensation to the Atlantic Conference Lines. The fight that is being fought at present by the Italian Companies could very likely have been avoided if Mr. Ballin's original proposal had been accepted. Moreover it must not be overlooked that the Italian Companies have attacked the Continental Eastbound Business, not in order to fight the Continental Lines, but to fight the non-Italian Lines interested in Italian business. It is clearly a fight for Italian business, and it is exceedingly hard on the Continental and British Lines not interested in the Italian business that on account of questions which solely regard Italian business they are made to suffer. This is bad enough as it is. All the Atlantic Conference Lines in proportion to their percentages bear already their share in the losses that are inflicted upon them by the Italian Companies and we do not think that the Lines not interested in the Italian business should be requested to participate any further in the expense connected with any measures that the Lines in the Mediterranean business may find necessary to take against the Italian Companies in order to protect their trade.

"We would further mention that the Lines not interested in the Italian business, so far as they are parties to Agreement L, would, if they agreed to Lloyd's proposal, have to compensate the Lines in the Mediterranean trade for the very same passengers who, if they had not had the opportunity of booking at the reduced rate, would to a certain extent have travelled by the French Line which has now to be compensated for not being able to get its share of that very same business on account of the reduced rates being practised by the Lines running direct to Italy."

"For the various reasons mentioned we do not agree to Lloyd's proposal."

10473

2) Red Star Line endorses the letter of the Holland America which has been published on the same subject in G. No. 66.

3) Transat write:

"Puisque les bas prix n' empechent pas les bateaux italians de se remplir et puisque le Lloyd refuse du monde, nous ne voyons pas du tout pourquoi il est necessaire de maintenir un prix de $15. Il serait preferable, a notre avis, que cette Compagnie monte a $20 comme

10474 Petitioner's Exhibit 1038

elle en manifeste l'intention. Le "Romanic" de La White Star applique le prix de $20 au depart de Boston (circulaire du 20 Mai)

"Nous devons ajouter que si le Lloyd prend $20 nous le suivrons immediatement."

4) Anchor Line:

"We have perused Lloyds letter to you on this subject, and agree generally with the views expressed as to fairness of Continental Lines not in the direct Italian service showing the Lines that are in this business, some consideration for the loss the latter have been called on to bear by fighting Italian Lines at war rates.

"Our position is similar in every way to the Lloyds. By our steamers to Naples we have had a rate of $13 less $2 commission for 3 sailings, and a rate of $15.00 less $2 commission for two sailings and our rate for current sailings is still at $15.00.

"We cannot be expected to continue to aid North Atlantic Lines to save their Continental Eastbound bookings by fighting Italian owned Lines, at rates that leave a loss so we may be forced to advance rates to Italy which will just mean the Establishment for good of Italian owned Lines in the through booking of Continental Eastbound passengers via Genoa."

The other parties have not yet given their views.

Respectfully,

Petitioner's Exhibit 1038

10477

The reply of the White Star Line is just received reading:

"Mediterranean Eastbound business.

"Referring to your G. No. 142 we note Lloyd's remarks and think the question of compensation for the Mediterranean Services of the Conference Lines engaged in the fight with the Italian Lines should be brought up for consideration in the event of the forthcoming meeting between Mr. Ballin and Mr. Crespi not resulting in an early settlement of 10478 the present differences.

"Since the 1st. of April we have had six sailings with nearly 8,000 passengers at rates from $15 to $20 as against our usual rate of $35. and the 'Cretic' is advertised from New York June 20th. followed by the 'Canopic' from Boston June 27th. both at the $15 rate. We hope however, that an early settlement will follow the negotiations now on foot and so obviate the necessity of this question of compensation being further considered.

"Failing an agreement with the Italian Lines it is undoubtedly in the interest of the Atlantic 10479 Conference that steps should be taken to prevent the Italian Lines restoring their Eastbound rates to a remunerative level, so long as they continue to attack the Eastbound Continental business."

In reply to G. No. 132 I receive the following information from the Secretary of the B. L.:

> "Head Tax.—Replying to the remarks of the Holland-Amerika Line in your circular letter G. 132. I am desired to say that there is no change in the British Board of Trade law affecting the importation of foreign matter into contract tickets, but from information they have received the Lines do not anticipate any difficulty arising with the Board of Trade herein. Nevertheless this contingency is being kept in mind, hence the reason for confining the arrangements regarding head tax to British third class business as a beginning."

10494 "The very minute deliberations have finally led to the result that a conference has been contemplated for July 20th in Lucerne.

"Director General Mr. Ballin only agreed to this proposition after the positive declaration on the part of Mr. Crespi that the Italian Lines would drop every claim as to participation in the Continental passenger business. The firm Ruijs & Co. have already been the agents of the East Asiatic until January last when they were replaced by Landy who opened an office under the name of the "Atlantic Express Co." The firm Ruijs & Co. lost their agency at that time by the East Asiatic because, so far as I am informed, Karlsberg, Spiro & Co. were pressing in this direction. Jena, June 27th, 1908.

The Shipping Gazette in their edition of June 25th publish the following notes from their Newyork correspondent dated Newyork June 13th:

The Mediterranean Rate War.

10529 C. B. Richard and Co., passenger agents for the Prince Line of steamships, have given notice that, pending a return of normal conditions, the line has decided to discontinue its service between New York, Naples and Patras. Two vessels with a steerage capacity of 1,200 each—the Sicilian Prince and the Neapolitan Prince—have been used in maintaining his service, and both will be placed out of commission at Naples. The reason given by the Prince Line for its action is that with a net rate of $8 per passenger from the United States and little westbound traffic at any price, it would not be profitable to operate the ships. After announcing the suspension of the Mediterranean service of the Prince Line, Mr.

10530 Richard said that the last sailing of the Russian Volunteer Fleet service would be by the steamship Kherson on June 17. "We have no criticism to make of the Prince Line for cutting off the service," said Mr. Oscar L. Richard yesterday. The Mediterranean steerage business is unprofitable to all concerned just now. The Italian lines are all reducing the number of their sailings, and I am informed that the White Star and other lines with Mediterranean services are doing likewise.

Asked as to the present status of the dispute between the five exclusively Italian lines and the other lines having Mediterranean services, which resulted in a practical disruption of the Atlantic Steamship Conference some months ago and the precipitation of a ratecutting war, Mr. Richard said: "About all the American agents of the Italian lines know is that they have been instructed to attend no more meetings of the Atlantic Steamship Conference. Our principals abroad firmly believe that their lines should be allowed to handle Continental business to Austro-Hungarian ports on the same basis that the Cunard, Austro-Americana, French and other lines handle Mediterranean business. They propose to continue 10532 the fight."

Discussing the rumors to the effect that a new service to Adriatic ports under the Italian flag would be started soon, Mr. Richard said: "A tentative proposition has been made by interests in Italy and Hungary to establish such a service, and the opinion of agents here asked. The reply in each case was that the vessels of such a line could be filled. So far as I know, no definite steps towards organising a new company have been taken." Under the agreement of the Atlantic Steamship Conference a commission of $2 on each ticket sold was allowed to emi- 10533 grant ticket agents. Since the withdrawal of Italian lines the commission rate has been largely advanced, as much as $5 being offered in many instances. Some of the agents declare that the lines remaining in the conference have called in tickets and discharged agents who continue to sell tickets of the lines outside the conference. One emigrants' ticket agent, with a number of branch offices, in a typewritten statement issued yesterday, claims that the action of various lines in discharging him as agent constitutes an illegal boycott. He further declares it likely that a test case will be filed in the United States Court."

We know that the Commissioner of Imigration wants the headtax to be generally levied separately for the reason that U. S. Citizens shall not be obliged to pay it. If the Lines are disposed to dispense U. S. Citizens from the headtax this can also be done in some other way, f. i., by telling them 10536 that U. S. Citizens will be refunded the headtax on the other side if within a certain time they furnish official proof that at the time when they travelled they were U. S. Citizens.

"We regret that the N. D. L. V. Lines at that time have engaged themselves to partially quote the headtax separately for the effect of this measure has been nothing else but confusion."

"This confirms what Transat writes (G. No. 167) that the passengers wait for the cut-rate steamers to the prejudice of the steamers with regular rates. We don't want to blame anybody but it seems that the representatives in Newyork have not handled the matter in the right way, and not very judiciously. It seems 10539 to us that it was a blunder to fix the fighting steamers a whole month in advance. The agents evidently got information of it somehow and the passengers are now booked for the steamers with reduced rates. We are of opinion that the fighting steamers ought to have been fixed one by one and on shortest possible notice. As matter now stands the measure is hardly of any value.

> "This subvention seem to us very high as it amounts to nearly M 1,200,000 (£60,000) p. a. which is much more than is necessary for maintaining the comparatively small lines mentioned under 1 & 2 of the annex. "Seven Millions Roubles subvention of the 10560 Russian Government to the Volunteer Fleet."

(Preliminary Report)

On Saturday June 14/27 the Imperial Russian Duma discussed a motion of the Minister for Commerce and Industry on subventions for the Russian Volunteer Fleet.

The bill was pleaded by the Minister for Commerce Mr. Schipaw himself and was carried with 113 against 111 votes after passionate debating in which nearly all the parties were engaged and of which particularly the parties of the left opposed the subvention.

The main contents of the bill are:

The Russian Government grants the Russian Volunteer Fleet for the term of 11 years beginning with June 15th 1908 a subvention of 6,900,000 Roubles in toto viz:

for	the	year	1908	Rbl.	283.333

"	"	"	1919	"	340.067

In consideration of these amounts the R. V. F. is bound to maintain the following services:

1) a Line between Wladiwostock and Tsuruga twice a week.

2) a weekly Line from Wladiwostock to Shanghai calling at Fusan and Nagasaki.

3) The Lines of the Russian Volunteer Fleet must be under the Russian flag.

4) The steamers employed in these services must not be slower than 14 knots and need not steam more than 16 knots.

5) The Russian Volunteer Fleet has the right to build the 4 new steamers requisite for the new Lines on foreign shipyards.

10564 Defendant's Exhibit 44

A "Reuter" Telegram of 26th on this subject reads:

"The Duma today discussed the report of the Finance Committee on the Bill of the Minister of Commerce for the grant of a subsidy for the establishment of a temporary shipping service to be conducted by the Volunteer Fleet between Vladivostock and China or Korea and Japan.

"M. Shipoff, in a long speech, pointed out the great importance of uniting the mainland with the sea as the centre and the focus of 10565 world policy, 'Unless we establish a line of steamers,' the Minister said, 'trade on the coast will be interrupted. Not in the interests of an aggresive policy, but in sheer self-defence, direct communciation is necessary, not only with the Chinese ports as far as Shanghai, as the Budget Committee desires, but also as far as Tsuruga and on to Yokohama, because all places to the north of this line depend on Vladivostock.' After urging the necessity of establishing both shipping lines, M. Shipoff concluded: 'When I was in the Far East a short time ago I hoped that our grave posi-

Mediterranean business; proposed Meeting 10574
(G. No. 181)

From G. No. 165 the Parties know that the Italian Lines wished that the Prince Line be not invited to attend the proposed meeting. The White Star Line however considered it desirable that they should be represented for the following reason:

> "Although it is quite true they have no license from the Italian Government for the westbound business, and their service is temporarily suspended, they can be a very disturbing factor Eastbound, and that is the business the meeting has primarily to consider." 10575

I wrote Mr. Crespi to that effect and received yesterday his wire:

> "If other Lines wish intervention Prince Line we have not difficulty. Stop. I beg you wire me if Conference shall be 20 July and where because I have to set engagements with other Conferences."

So far the following Lines have agreed to attend the meeting:

10576 Petitioner's Exhibit 1052

Hamburg-American Line
Holland American Line
Norddeutscher Lloyd
Red Star Line
Cie. Gen. Transatlantique
Austro-Americana
Anchor Line
Cunard Line

which latter I have asked if they will also represent the American & Dominion Lines.

10577 Allan Line did not think their attendance necessary as they are only very indirectly interested in the Italian business, and Canadian Pacific did not see the necessity of their being represented. To both of them I have written, that very likely other points but Italian business will spring up at the meeting, and I hope they will consider it as their non-presence might block decisions.

From the Fabre Line I received to day the following reply to a special letter I had written them:

10578 "Nous avons eu l'honneur de recevoir votre lettre du 26 Juin, par laquelle vous nous demandez si nous pourrions assister à un meeting à Lucerne le 20 Juillet.

"Nous regrettons de vous informer, que nous ne saurions nous rendre à un meeting à cette date, ayant déjà disposé du mois de Juillet pour des congés qui ne peuvent plus étre modifiés. Si vous combiniez une réunion du 10 au 15 Aout, nous pourrions arranger nos mouvements de manière à y assister.

"Nous devons néanmoins vous exprimer notre défaut absolu de confiance dans les résultats d'un meeting en ce moment. Après la brusque rupture des accords à New-York, tant par les Compagnies Italiennes que par les Compagnies Allemandes, à un moment où il était tout indiqué de rester d'accord et de patienter, nous ne pouvons croire à une reprise des pourparlers qu'après que chacun sera las de jeter son argent à pleines mains dans l'Oceans et pour espèrer une entente, il ne faudrait pas voir Mr. Crespi refuser toute hausse provisoire dans les taux de retour, ni la White Star s'attribuer le monopole de Boston, ni les Compagnies Allemandes s'arroger celui des Continentaux.—Il nous parait superflu de se déranger pour se réunir, si dés les premiéres paroles échangées, tout doit étre rompu sans espoir, et si l'on doit se séparer avec plus d'aigreur qu'on n'en avait auparavant. 10579 10580

"Nous restons d'ailleurs toujours convaincus, qu'une poule équitable sera impossible au dèpart d'Europe, avec tant de Compagnies et de services différents; c'est chose du reste inutile, du moment que les prix sont fixés par le Gouvernement Italien. Quant aux Eastbounds et aux Prepaids, nos agences de New-York sont mieux placées que nous, pour en discuter et pour s'entendre." 10581

Not being aware of what importance the presence of the Fabre Line at a meeting on Mediterranean business is, I wired to-day to the Parties directly interested that Fabre Line was prevented from attending, absolutely no confidence in results and if they consider their presence necessary.

As to Mr. Sandford's coming over there are up till now only the following telegrams:

Yesterday the Holland American Line wired that since the last westbound sailing of the Newyork & Continental Line on May 30th there had arrived at Rotterdam 135 passengers appointed to sail by "Volturno" June 27th. This steamer however, is still under repairs in Hamburg whilst "Avoca" is still under embargo at Rotterdam. It being possible that the Newyork & Continental Line might try to dispose of their passengers via England Nasm asked me to inform the Parties, so as to prevent that conference agents book these passengers for a conference line, which I did.

I may mention that the Newyork & Continental Line occasionally also gets passengers from England. The "Jelunga" May 30th got 19 and the same steamer on April 10th the same number. The passengers were Hebrews. Maybe they were booked in London by somebody who is under no control.

I informed the Lines specially interested in Mediterranean business that the Fabre Line was prevented from attending the proposed meeting to which the majority and Mr. Crespi replied, that under these circumstances they considered the meeting to no purpose. I then asked them to reconsider the position taken in their letter (G. No. 186) to which I got their reply:

> "..... Nous vous remercions de votre communication et tâcherons de nous y rendre" .....

10596 Mr. Tattet had also communicated with them and received a letter saying that they p r o b a b l y will attend. Neither of their replies being positive and thinking Lines might not care to go to Lucerene unless they are sure that the Fabre Line will be represented I have once more wired them and will communicate their answer as soon as received.

The presence of Mr. Sandford at the meeting being considered useful by several of the Lines I shall cable him as soon as definite.

The Canadian Pacific & the Allan Line have not yet positively said that they will attend, but make it dependent on the agenda, which I therefore enclose herewith, at the same time asking the parties, to inform me, of any other matters they may wish to have added to it. 10597

Hapag write me, if any Party should be prevented from attending they might authorize Mr. Ballin or some other member to vote for them. It would be absolutely necessary that the meeting be effective and conclusive and that the Parties be represented in such a way as to avoid any Party having to wire to the home office for instructions. The last meeting in London in this respect had not been what it ought to have been. Hapag therefore want to know, by which gentlemen, each Line will be represented at the meeting, and I shall be pleased if the Lines will inform me. For the I. M. M. Co. "S. S. 'Russia' itself left with a total of 900 steerage passengers, of which 200 were accommodated at a $4 higher rate in the so-called improved steerage or third class. We are convinced that if our S. S. 'Noordam' should not have had a competitive rate, the number of 10608 passengers on the 'Russia' would have been nearly doubled, as extraordinary attention was given by the firm of A. E. Johnson & Co., through advertisements, extra commission, etc. to have a good showing for the first departure from here.

"The new steamer 'Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm' left yesterday with 1729 third class passengers, also against S. S. 'Russia.'"

I am sorry to say there is nothing definite yet. The meeting was dependent on the Fabre Line attending. On 8th, morning I received their telegram saying: 10622

> "Nothing inforeseen happening reckon to be Lucerne twentieth."

I passed this on to the Parties and also to Mr. Crespi asking if this was satisfactory. Mr. Crespi's reply was:

> "Thanking for your communication about Fabre reply I regret to inform you that owing to their uncertain presence some of Italian Lines had to settle other engagements, so that date meeting shall very probably be deferred."

I then wired him: 10623

> "Deferring meeting now would, I believe, seriously endanger the chances of bringing it together in near time."

and got his reply of 8th:

> "Am doing my best to avoid deferring meeting. Will wire as soon as possible."

This is the last I have, up till now, heard from him. It is to no purpose to invite Mr. Sandford to come over whilst the meeting itself is still uncertain.

10624 Petitioner's Exhibit 1059

As to the attendance of the Trasatlantica the Anchor Line consider necessary to invite them as they are members of the Newyork Italian Conference. Hapag have understood that Mr. Crespi would invite them and I shall make sure if he has done so.

On the part of the Norddeutscher Lloyd there will be present at the meeting the following gentlemen:

Director General Dr. Wiegand,
Director Heineken,
Prok. v. Plettenberg,
Mr. Seyde,
10625 Mr. Gustav H. Schwab of Newyork.

I am waiting for the names of the representatives of the other Lines.

The Canadian Pacific have informed me that they will be represented, and I hope the Allan Line will find the meeting of sufficient importance to make it worth their while to be present too. At any rate, as one can not foresee which turn the proceedings may take, it will be necessary that they authorize some other party to vote for them and the same applies also to the Donaldson Line.

If after all I get news from Mr. Crespi that the meeting has been agreed to by the Italian Lines I shall 10626 at once wire. In the meantime, I am looking out for a suitable Hotel, which I shall state. As soon as everything is fixed, I would advise the gentlemen, who will attend the meeting, to secure their rooms, as it is now the height of the season.

250 steeragers which she disembarked. On July 3d the steamer also discharged her cargo destined for Hamburg.

The 135 passengers on which the Holland Line reported in G. No. 187 were in the meantime increased by 165 passengers thus making a total of 300 passengers, of which 123 are in destination for Halifax and the rest for New York. They were forwarded by the "Jelunga" on 4th inst. (which had arrived two days previous from New York) after she had shipped the cargo which the agents of the New York & Continental Line had gathered in the last months. When leaving she was arrested on account of unpaid steve- 10629

Article 3 of Agreement AA provides that the figures of the percentages have to be checked. This was considered necessary because the statistics on which the percentages in Art. 3 are based were then still subject to amendment for 1907. In the meantime the Lines will have received Mr. Sandfords corrected Annual Report for 1907 and the percentages can now be settled definitely. I shall add this to the agenda.

With reference to the Agents reported by the Lines as receiving more than 5% commission on first class business the opinion is expressed that several of them 10632 are to be considered as tourist offices or bankers who must not get more than 5%. As such are mentioned f. i. Pitt & Scott, American Exchange Co. Rome, French Lemon & Co., Florence, Schenker, Schottenfels, Riesels, etc. Lloyd wants me to inform the lines, in order to prevent misconceptions that most of the agents in his statement get 7 1/2% on bookings through subagent only to whom the General Agent has to pay commission. Except this the maximum commission generally is 5% and the number of agents getting more that 5% to themselves is comparatively small.

This commission question I shall note also for discussion at the meeting.

Jena, July 16th, 1908.

To the Parties:

Proposed Meeting (G. No. 199).

On Tuesday 14th 9 p. m. I received the following "urgent" telegram from Mr. Crespi from Genoa:

10646

> "Lloyd Sabaudo disengaged. Will participate conference. Beg wire me Rome where conference will take place London or Lucerne."

which I transmitted to the Cunard Line forthwith asking them if this could change their mind.

It strikes me that Mr. Crespi asks where the meeting is to take place, as to my knowledge there has never been a mention of London in connection with this meeting.

On Wednesday 15th the Cunard Line wired:

> "Replying telegram giving copy communication from Crespi too late now alter our arrangements and regret cannot attend meeting." 10647 thus confirming what they had already declared on Monday and Tuesday.

Simultaneously with this telegram I received another one from the White Star Line:

> "As Cunard unable attend see no object having meeting Lucerne twentieth and we do not propose to be present."

Yesterday night I received the following telegram from Mr. Smyth:

10648 Petitioner's Exhibit 1064

"Allans advise Mr. Henry Allan away sorry will not be represented Lucerne meeting. They must not be committed to resolutions."

In the meantime I had telegraphed to the Cunard Line if they could attend a meeting in London on July 20th I would try to arrange it and at the same time ask Mr. Crespi & Fabre if July 20th, London would suit them.

From the Cunard Line I received this morning the following wire:

10649 "Replying further telegram regret could not attend meeting in London 20th as we have made arrangements which we cannot alter now but would be prepared to attend meeting in London on Wednesday 22nd after one p. m."

Mr. Crespi replies:

"Would attend meeting London twentieth or later within July."

I have now to find out if the other parties are agreeable to a meeting in London on 22nd but I think it impossible to get through with the negotiations in an afternoon's time and so I take it that the representatives of the Lines would be prepared to stay in London longer, than 22nd only.

As to the Spanish Line the Anchor Line and the French Line consider their presence necessary whilst others think that if necessary it can be dispensed with Mr. Crespi to whom I had applied wires:

"No advance made with Spanish Line whose intervention conference although could not be assured I consider will not compromise meeting Lucerne."

which means probably that he does not consider their presence indispensable.

Respectfully,

I informed all the Lines of the following telegram from Lloyd Bremen:

> "Consider Lucerne meeting definitely dropped. We on our part could not attend a meeting at London."

to which I added the question if any of the Lines had to make a proposal. If the matter is not taken up again by some party or the other I consider a meeting for the next time abandoned.

ATLANTIC CONFERENCE.

Secretary's Office
Telegraph Address:
"Secretair," Jena.

Jena, July 17th, 1908.

To the Parties:

How much or little hope the Lines may have had that at the proposed meeting an arrangement would be arrived at between the Lines interested in Mediterranean business and thereby an end of the interference 10655 of Italian Lines with continental eastbound business, still I believe most of them will be sorry that the meeting has been frustrated. Blame for that, it seems to me, has to be attached to the Lloyd Sabaudo, who before entering engagements that might possibly prevent them from attending the meeting ought to have asked for a definite reply from the Fabre Line.

However that be, there being no meeting in view for the present, I have to take several pending matters, reserved for a meeting, in hand again by correspondence.

(1) Rate of exchange for compensation for fighting rates.

10656 I write to-day to Mr. Smyth.

(2) Promissory Notes.

There is still the question of the stamp duty on the notes, to what amount it is required in order to make the note legally valid. Most of the notes have a mere nominal stamp; British Lines 1 penny; Norddeutscher Lloyd 6d etc., whilst, Anchor Line, Holland America Line, Red Star Line have paid much higher duty. I think it would be in the interest of each line to get satisfaction, that the notes issued by the other Lines are what they are intended to be, a security for the faithful performance of the conditions of the Agreement (Art. 17).

As to the contents of the notes it is the same wording in all of them except that the German Lines have translated it in German (to which I suppose there is no objection), and the Red Star Line has written by mistake my name "Heinrich" instead of "Hinrich" which they think makes no difference. The amounts of all the notes are correct.

The Canadian Pacific wrote me through Mr. Baker:

> "I duly advised Montreal of the Conference requirements in this connection and am in receipt of a letter from our Third Vice-President in which he states that it is contrary to our rules to sign a Promissory note in the manner suggested, but asks me to say to you that the Company would be willing in place of this to give a guarantee signed by the Bank of Montreal, London, for the amount of our engagement."

Article 17 not providing that the note must be signed by the Lines themselves I think, a note of the same contents, as agreed upon, signed by the Bank of Montreal, would just as well answer the purpose.

As to the question if security should be given under agreement Z the Parties are not unanimous. The majority being of the opinion that Agreement Z not containing anything in this respect the deposit is only applicable to obligations arising out of Agreement A. A. and has therefore to be limited to the extent of a Line's participation in this Agreement. I shall act accordingly.

In a Hamburg paper of 16th inst there is the following advertisement:

wants representation for Germany, Russia and Eastern Europe.

Offers only of existing firms & shipbrokers will be contemplated.

Offers under W. 198 to the office of the paper.

An Italian paper reported several days ago, that the representatives of the great Italian S. S. Lines have unanimously decided to start special Lines between Italian and North European ports in order to meet the competition of foreign Steamship Lines in Italy. This 10665 is not very clear. Perhaps it refers to a former report that the Italian Lines intended to start a competition Line between Continental and U. S. ports, and that they were going to ask for a license to carry emigrants on this route.

Whatever may be at the bottom of these news I think it may be taken for granted, that none of the Parties to the Agreement A. A. would allow their agents, representatives etc. to take any interest in an Italian Line from the Continent to U. S. ports if it should be contemplated.

During the same period the Continental Lines carried 44235 eastbound steeragers. The Italian Lines thus carried 18% of the eastbound continental steerage traffic, leaving outside the Continental eastbound steeragers by British Lines which I estimate at something near 8000. Considering that of the 44235 steeragers by Continental Lines about 15000 were carried at fighting rates one may be disposed to ask if it would not have been more profitable to have made the fight sharper or since the past is gone if it would not be good policy to do so still now.

10673 "We received your telegram informing us that the meeting at Lucerne will not take place.

"We have no proposal to make and don't think that another meeting should emanate from the Continental Lines. You probably know that the Italian Lines are in disfavour with the Government because they have jointly refused to partake in the adjudication (prendre part a l'adjudication) of the subsidized Lines It seems they have managed to get introduced into the contracts (cahier descharges) very onerous conditions so that they may say, if they decline to effectuate the services, this is on account of the imposed charges.

10674 "Enclosed we send you an article from the Italian paper 'Il Messagero' showing the warlike ideas of the Italian Companies and their intentions to go to the Northern ports and which speaks about the crisis, the British and German Lines are suffering from. at their disposal in the fight, but that they are handicapped in the North American trade. by the greater distance which causes their trips to be two days longer than those of the French, British and German Lines. Nevertheless the great Companies in the last four years have built in Italy and to a small part bought in foreign countries, 35 big steamers which, though not of the great tonnage of some of the German and British Lines, are of the most modern type with regard to safety, health and comfort of emigrants. It is then said, that these 35 steamers of about 240,000 Tons are a valuable addition to the Italian navy as transports, able to carry 70,000 men or as auxiliary cruisers, 10676 that Italian shipowners have invested in the last four years about 140 Millions Lire in the American Lines and that no other industry has shown so much vitality and so much zeal as navigation.

Then the article proceeds to the crisis which on the other hand the British and German S. S. Co.'s are in, in consequence of the diminished emigration and also of cargo to such extent that the White Star Line had to withdraw from their Newyork Line 5 great steamers, that the Dominion Line had to drop the greater part of their services, and that all the other Lines were in similar positions.

Drawing to the close the article serves the rumors, 10677 spread in a good many papers about the German Lines wanting money and being on the lookout for state aid in the form of capital at a cheap rate of interest, same as in England.

To the Parties:

10685 On July 18th I received the following telegram from Mr. Smyth:

> "White Star advanced third class rate eastbound British Scandinavian two dollars, Continental four dollars for Newyork Liverpool service only."

to which I replied the same day:

> "White Star being short what is the object in advancing rates?"

Mr. Smyth answered:

> "White Star say as apparently impracticable adjust westbound pool are checking numbers 10686 eastbound to balance."

The measure taken by the White Star Line is, I think, not in keeping with the contract, Article 9 stipulates:

> " 'Each Line undertakes to arrange its services in such a manner that the number of steeragers which it actually carries corresponds as nearly as possible with the number allotted to it by this contract.' "

Now there is not one number allotted to each line but two numbers have been allotted to most of the lines. The one results from their participation in the westbound pool, and the other in the eastbound pool. Both pools differ in the total of passengers carried and in the percental participation of each line in it. The contract refers to two pools and to either of them refers Art. 9. If it was otherwise and if a shortage in one of them could be balanced by an excess in the other that would wholly upset the fundamental principles of the pool, make a satisfactory working impossible and frustrate its object Needless to give examples.

If the measure of the White Star Line and the reasons given for it, is admitted as correct in principle, the consequence is, that similar measures can not only be adopted voluntarily by a Line, but that they eventually can or must be made compulsory.

Apart from this it must be considered, that the Lines being members to only one of the pools would not be in the same position as the rest of them.

Article 23 says that the execution and the control of the fulfilment of the stipulations of the contract is confided firstly to the Secretary, and under the same article it is my duty, "to control the steerage prices in accordance with article 11" and it is for these reasons that I have taken the matter up in this form.

Now, any action of a Line, however contrary it may be to letter or spirit of the Contract, can be sanctioned subsequently by unanimous consent of the Lines and I therefore beg to ask the Parties:

1) if they in this present particular case will agree to the measure adopted by the White Star Line or

2) If they will agree to the principle being adopted generally that each Line may balance its position in both pools.

10690 Petitioner's Exhibit 1074

I take this opportunity to refer to article 11:

> "but before putting such measures (calculated to bring about a correct adjustment) into operation the Line is bound to inform the Secretary of the measures proposed to be adopted."

and to article 12:

> "No line has the right to alter its steerage * * * rates without having previously informed the Secretary."

It will occasionally save trouble if this is attended 10691 to by all Parties.

Balancing Pools against each other. (G. No. 211.)

With reference to this point so far the following Lines have expressed their views:

1) Allan Line:

"We have your letter of 22nd inst., and in reply to your request for an expression of our views, we have to say that while you are obviously correct in stating that the Westbound and Eastbound Pools are separate, and should be separately dealt with, it is equally obvious that the state of affairs which has resulted from the first four months' working of the 10704 pooling agreements is so extraordinary that we think none of the parties could have had such results in contemplation at the time of entering into the agreements. If it is recognized that the present position is quite abnormal as regards both the Eastbound and Westbound Pool, and that percentages carried during the continuance of such abnormal conditions are not to be made the basis of any claims for alteration of the agreed percentages in the event of a future re-adjustment of percentages in connection with a new pooling agreement, we fail to see that any disadvantage is entailed by allowing any Line to balance a shortage in one Pool by an excess in the other. In the present particular case, we certainly have no objection to the White Star Line's action in raising its Eastbound rates, and we have no objection to the principle being adopted that any Line may balance its position by an increase of rate,— We think the interests of other Lines can only be detrimentally affected by a reduction in rate, and the limit of general freedom should be maintained in regard to the latter.

"With reference to what you say as to Article 23, we have to ask you whether you have taken any action as regards the very large excess of 6,900 accumulated by the Cunard Line in the Westbound Pool as at 30th June, and the same Company's excess of 5,140 in the Eastbound Pool at the same date, or as regards the equally large shortage of the Norddeutscher Lloyd of 6,984 in the Westbound Pool at the same date. If not, we shall be glad to know on what grounds you consider that no action on your part is called for."

2) Canadian Pacific Ry. Co.

"Referring to your letter of July 22nd regarding the White Star method of adjusting their differences in the pool, both eastbound and westbound. I consider this is a matter which should come before the Meeting on August 7th and you will please therefore place it on the Agenda.

"In our opinion there is nothing in the Agreement which gives the White Star liberty to adjust their differences by placing a surplus against a shortage or vice versa, and to those

Lines who are only directly interested in one of the Pools it inflicts a hardship. Our position in the Eastbound Pool at the present time shows a minus and to enable us to make up that shortage we have to reduce our eastbound rate. If the plan such as the White Star have adopted is followed by all Lines, members of both Pools, we may find ourselves in the position of never being able to make up our shortage in so far that the present action of the White Star Line may be reversed by them or some other Line at any future time 10709 and put us in the position of having to face a situation making it impossible for us to adjust our differences seeing that we are only able to do so on the Eastbound pool, not being parties to the Westbound Pool. We consider that each pool should stand on its own legs, and we as members of the Eastbound Pool are not agreeable that differences should be adjusted by having one pool set against the other.

3) Donaldson Line:

"We are this morning in receipt of your circular letter G. No. 211, and certainly support 10710 your contention that the White Star Line are not entitled, under the contract, to make the *East*bound carryings balance the *West*bound carryings, or vice versa."

4) Hamburg America Line:

"In reply to circular letter 211 there can be in our opinion no doubt, that we have a westbound pool and an eastbound pool, which are quite independent of each other. In either pool, irrespective of the other, an attempt must be made to bring about a balance by means of the pool regulations. If therefore the White Star Line have advanced their third class eastbound rate solely in consideration of their westbound poolings, they can only have done so owing to a mistaken view of the state of affairs. We therefore ask you to cause the White Star Line to withdraw the action they have taken. The White Star Line as a 'short' Party cannot advance, unless such advance takes place in the interests of all and/or by unanimous consent."

Petitioner's Exhibit 1296 10711

5) Holland America Line: 10712

"G. No. 211. White Star's eastbound advance, in order to adjust their westbound position, is not compatible with either the spirit or the letter of the agreement, so that we cannot agree thereto.

"This refers to this particular case, as well as to the adoption of the principle in general."

6) Norddeutscher Lloyd:

"We cannot approve the mode of the White Star Line to balance one pool against the other and must object to it."

10713

The Allan Line's letter calls for a reply on my part. They ask if I have taken any action as regards the very large excess of the Cunard Line in the westbound and eastbound pool on June 30th. To this I can reply yes. I wrote them as early as April 9th, pointing to their westbound plus of 1700 in one month if they had not better advance their westbound rates, to which they replied that the subject was receiving attention. I recapitulate the various measures the Cunard Line have taken:

10714 Petitioner's Exhibit 1296

1) April 7th:

"Advance in third class eastbound Continental rates 'Lusitania' and 'Mauretania' by 10 shillings."

2) April 26th:

"Advance of all Continental prepaid rates via Liverpool from $25 1/2 and $27 1/2 to $32 1/2."

3) May 23rd:

10715 "Advance in westbound British third class rates five shillings and advance in all eastbound third class rates 'Lusitania' & 'Mauretania' two dollars, other Liverpool steamers one dollar."

4) June 1st:

"Advance in third class rates as follows: westbound British all steamers except 'Umbria' and 'Etruria' 5 shillings; westbound Scandinavian 'Caronia,' 'Carmania,' 'Ivernia,' 'Saxonia,' 5 Kroner, Finnish 7 Marks; eastbound all Liverpool steamers British Scandinavian, Finnish, Continental, one dollar."

10716 5) June 16th:

"Advance in westbound British & Scandinavian cash & prepaid rates 'Lusitania,' 'Mauretania,' by 5 shilling which makes these rates the maximum of £8.— advance in eastbound British & Scandinavian rates 'Lusitania' 'Mauretania' to $40—"

In view of these repeated measures I have nevertheless by letter of 23rd inst. asked the Cunard Line to advance their continental westbound rate to M. 150.— to which I await their reply.

The Allan Line further ask me, if I have taken action as regards the large shortage of the Norddeutscher Lloyd in the westbound Pool. I have to reply by no, and the Allan Line want to know on what grounds I consider that no action on my part is called for.

The ground is in Commentar to Art. 11, clause a, by which the adjustment, whenever practicable, is to be affected not by reducing the rates of one Line, but by raising the rates of one or several of the Lines. I could therefore not properly request the Lloyd to reduce but might have requested:

The White Star Line which on 15th exceeded their 10718 share by 63%

The Cunard Line which on 15th exceeded their share by 65%

The Dominion Line which on 15th exceeded their share by 72%

The Allan's Canadian Lines which on 15th exceeded their share by 233% to advance their rates.

The Allan Line on July 15th had a plus under Agreement Z. of 1980; they had carried 2851 Continental passengers, quite as much as any other British Line, and they might have contributed their share to lessen the shortage of the Continental Lines generally 10719 and of the Lloyd specially, never mind how much or how little, by raising their continental rates, which they have done only partially and to an extent not in proportion to their great excess. Nothing was there to prevent them to take this course, on the contrary clause 5 c of Agreement Z. makes it binding upon them, as a Line in excess, to advance their rates.

Another ground why I did not consider action on my part, as regards the shortage of the Lloyd, called for, is that Lloyd's rate for the Russian emigrants is already the lowest (M. 120 off Controlstations, G.

No. 113.) Any further reduction could not change the situation but could only lead to lower the level of the rates for Continental business generally.

As third ground why I did not ask the British plus Lines to advance their rates is one on which views may differ. I am of the opinion that ere long the present abnormal state of emigration will commence to approach a more normal state again and then it will be better a time to take actions with the view of adjustment, which will answer their purpose better than is possible at present without being detrimental to the common interest.

10721 The Allan Line say "the state of affairs which has resulted from the first four months working of the pooling agreements is so extraordinary that none of the parties could have had such results in contemplation." To this is to be replied that four months operation is under all circumstances a rather short time to enquire into the merits of these agreements and so much the more so where they have to meet quite exceptional circumstances in more than one respect. But so much I may say without fearing to be contradicted the main cause of the unsatisfactory state is clause 13 of Agreement Z.

The White Star Line will have noted that the Ham-10722 burg American Line wish me to cause them to withdraw their advance eastbound and I beg to ask them what they intend to do.

I note the matter for the agenda of the meeting in case the Parties might wish to discuss it further.

Respectfully,

H. PETERS.

Jena, July 29th, 1908.

To the Parties:

Advance in eastbound Scandinavian rates.

Since the beginning of the pool the Scandinavian eastbound rates of British Lines have undergone the following changes:

Lusitania, Mauretania, Campania, Lucania	from	$35.50	to	$43.75
Caronia, Carmania	"	$35.00	"	$37.50
Ivernia, Saxonia	"	$33.75	"	$35.75
Umbria, Etruria	"	$32.50	"	$34.50
Oceanic, Baltic, Cedric, Celtic	"	$35.50	"	$37.50
Arabic	"	$33.75	"	$35.75
Allan Line, Boston	"	$30.—	"	$33.—
Canadian Pacific steamer (not Empress)	"	$30.—	"	$31.—

The Scandinavian American Line's rate of $34.— and for the "C. F. Tietgen" of $32.50 has remained unchanged and if rates influence the traffic, as is generally acted upon, it is to be supposed that a greater part of the Scandinavian eastbound traffic than heretofore will go to the Scandinavian American Line and thus be lost to the Pool. This is so much the more to be feared as the Cunard and White Star Lines carry to my knowledge the bulk of the Scandinavian 10727 to get better rates.

This leads me to another thing. It is pity enough that owing to the existing competition of the Russian Line & the New York & Continental Line it is for the present impossible to advance rates on the continent, but why the British Lines should not dare to advance their British rate is impossible for me to understand. I presume it is for the Canadian Lines not being members to the pool. For the working of the pool this is bad enough, but why could not nevertheless an advance "all around" in Great Britain, say by 10 shillings be agreed upon? I ask this question because I wish that all the members to the 10728 Pool derive from it all the benefits, which it can give, if judiciously treated.

Annex to G. No. 228 13/8 08.

Westbound.

The westbound percentages being agreed upon the basis of the years 1899/1903 & 1906, it only remains to revise the percentage of the Allan Lines' Boston service, which is based upon the figures of the years 1906 and 1907 as follows:

	1906.		1907.		Total.	Mean.
Allan Canadian Lines	44870 =	7.20%	59537 =	8.20%
Allan Boston Line	4091 =	0.65%	4960 =	0.70%	1.35%	0.68%
Anchor Line	23635)		26509)
I. M. M. Co.	141291) =	92.15%	154051) =	91.10%
N. D. L. V.	409632)		465262)
Total:	623519 =	100.00	710319 =	100.00

10778

The alterations in the figures do not affect the percentage of the Allan Line. The westbound percentages remain therefore unchanged as follows:

Allan Line Boston service	0.62%
Anchor Line	3.40%
I. M. M. Co.	19.75%
N. D. L. V.	62.48%
Cunard Line	13.75%
	100.00

10779

Eastbound percentages.

The Eastbound percentages originally agreed upon were:

10780 Petitioner's Exhibit 1299

Allan Line	5.88%
Anchor Line	4.89%
Immco	32.23%
N. D. L. V.	57.00%
	100.00

The Cunard Line, exclusive of their Fiume Service was then allotted 13.75%, by which the above percentages were altered as follows:

10781

Allan Line	5.07%
Anchor Line	4.22%
Immco	27.80%
N. D. L. V.	49.16%
Cunard Line	13.75%
	100.00

The C. P. R. was subsequently allowed a percentage of 4.60% which is 0.23% more than their share by the mean of the percentage of their carryings during the years 1906 and 1907 as follows:

10782

	1906. No. of P/gers.		1907. No. of P/gers.		Total.	Mean.
Allan Line			15249
Anchor Line			12278
I. M. M. Co.	188906 =	96.03%	60432	= 95.23%
Cunard Line			37892
N. D. L. V.			165290
			291141
C. P. R.	7807 =	3.97%	14595 =	4.77%	8.74%	4.37%
	196713 =	100.00	305736 =	100.00

Petitioner's Exhibit 1299 10783

Allotted	4.60%
Mean	4.37%
Difference	0.23%

By the 4.60% of the C. P. R. the following alteration in the percentages was brought about:

Allan Line	4.84%
Anchor Line	4.02%
Immco Lines	26.52%
N. D. L. V. Lines	46.90%
Cunard Line	13.12%
	95.40%
C. P. R.	4.60%
	100.00%

A like addition as the C. P. R. had to be made on the part of the Immco Lines to the Allan Line; this resulted in the following percentages:

Allan Line	4.84% + 0.23%	= 5.07%
Anchor Line	4.02%	= 4.02%
Immco Lines	26.52% — 0.23%	= 26.29%
N. D. L. V. Lines	46.90%	= 46.90%
Cunard Co.	13.12%	= 13.12%
C. P. R.	4.60%	= 4.60%
		100.00

10785

The percentages being so far fixed, the Cunard Line's Fiume service joined on the basis of their carryings of Continental passengers during 1906 and 1907 as follows:

	Total carryings of Atlantic. Conf. Lines incl. C. P. R. 1906.	1907.	Total.
	196713	305736	502449
Cunard Fiume	2865	9208	12073	=2.35%
	199578	314944	514522

10787 The final eastbound percentages remain therefore unaltered:

Allan Line	=	4.95%
Anchor Line	=	3.93%
Immco Lines	=	25.67%
N. D. L. V. Lines	=	45.80%
C. P. R.	=	4.49%
Cunard L. L'Pool	=	12.81%
Fiume Service	=	2.35%
		100.00%

Italien rates of Cie Gen. Translantique.

I received the following letter from the Cie Gen. Transatlantique:

"Nous avons bien recu votre depêche nous disant que les lignes anglaises estimaient que nous devions reprendre la prix de $20 au lieu de celui de $17 que nous avons fixé pour "Chicago," "Gascogne" et "Floride." 10302

"Nous avons recu à ce sujet des dépêches de la Cie Hambourgeoise et du Lloyd et nous acceptions volontiers, pour éviter des complications, de relever nos prix sur "Chicago" et "Gascogne." Nous attendons de nouveaux renseignements au sujet de "Floride" pour laquelle aucun prix n'avait été publié jusqu' à ce jour et dont la vitesse réduite légitime facilement une différence de $3 entre elle et nos autres navires. 10303

"La baisse que nous avons faite a amené la protestation de M. Crespi auprès de M. Ballin. Cette protestation prouve que les lignes italiennes craignent beaucoup une baisse nouvelle, même faite sur des navires inférieurs aux leurs, et qu'elles sont arrivées aux prix les plus bas qu'elles peuvent pratiquer. Enfin, la démarche de M. Crespi prouve qu'il espére renouer des négociations et qu'il a besoin d'une entente.

10804 Petitioner's Exhibit 1095

"Nous désirons maintenir le prix de $17 sur la "Floride" parce que nous n'accepterons jamais, comme le voudraient les lignes italiennes, que nos navires de ce type soient cotés à un prix sensiblement égal à celui que nous pratiquons sur nos paquebots rapides."

10805 Italian Rates of the French Line.

I received the following letter from the French Line:

"We duly received your telegram, saying that the British Lines expect us to quote the old rate of $20 in lieu of $17, we have fixed for the "Chicago," "Gascogne" and "Florida."

"We have received on this subject telegrams from Hapag and Lloyds, and in order to avoid any complications, we are quite willing to increase our rates for the "Chicago" and "Gascogne." We are waiting for new instructions 10806 regarding the "Floride," for which up to the very day, no rate has been published, and which lower speed perfectly justifies a difference of $3 between her and our other steamers.

"The reduction made by us led to a protest by Mr. Crespi to Mr. Ballin. This protest proves that the Italian Lines are very much afraid of a new reduction, even for steamers being inferior to theirs, and that they have arrived at their lowest possible rate. In conclusion, Mr. Crespi's application prove that he is in hopes to resume negotiations, and that he is in need of an understanding.

Dear Sirs:

Our attention has just been attracted to a paragraph in an Athenian paper the "Acropolis" announcing that rumors were persistently circulated in Syra, that the 10826
Ship-Owner "Moraiti" was to be declared insolvent—liabilities several millions. Syra interested to the extent of two millions, Andros for still more.

Mr. Moraiti himself is we understand in England but we have no information if he has arranged for the payment of the 3rd Installment of value of the "Athenia." We understand that his claims re Hellos & Cyclados will be disputed by the Insce Cos.

Yours truly,

Rumours of the Insolvency of the firm of "Moraitis."

Special telegram to "Acropolis."—Syra, 18:31 July, 1908.

"It is rumoured with insistence that the ship-owning firm of Moraitis will be declared in a state of insolvency, with liabilities of several millions.

"Syra is interested to the extent of two millions: Andros for more."

10828 Defendants' Exhibit 54

Patras, August 6th, 1908.

Re Moraitis. We beg to confirm our last respects of the 1st instant regarding the financial affairs of this gentleman. Since then we have sent you a telegram stating that the rumour that he had failed is contradicted. We have, however, to-day, to moderate this statement.

As a matter of fact it appears that, although Mr. Moraitis has not in actual fact been declared bankrupt, still a large amount of bills have been returned from England unpaid.

10829 A newspaper correspondent states that, having interviewed Mr. Moraitis' representative, he was informed that Mr. Moraitis is at present in England, looking after the encashment of the insurance monies of S/SS "Hellas" and "Cyclados," when all bills will be paid, and the third and last instalment of S/S "Athenia" will also be paid, and the star of Moraitis will be again in the ascendant.

From Government Official sources, however, we hear that the official report made by the Greek Naval officers, who were sent down by the Minister of Marine to where the wreck took place is most damaging to Mr. Moraitis, and we doubt very much it he will get paid his insurance money.

10830 We must also explain to you that his position is a very difficult one, as the present Minister of Marine, Mr. Embericos, also a shipowner, and also from the island of Andros, and who in former years used to work in joint account with Mr. Moraitis, is now his deadly enemy, not only in business, but also in politics.

Generally, everyone looks upon Mr. Moraitis as a ruined man.

Of course a great deal depends upon what action the insurance companies take,—should they pay him up, he might perhaps be able to pull round, but the great blow his credit has sustained will make this very difficult.

Defendants' Exhibit 54 10831

(Signatures)

Patras, August 8th, 1908.

The report about Mr. Moraitis has been to-day verified—he has stopped payment, and up to now £40,000 in Bills have been returned unpaid.

The Greek Transatlantic Steamship Co. of which 10832
Mr. Moraitis is manager, and which owns S/S "Moraitis" is a limited liability concern, and it is not yet known to what extent the Company will be interested in the above failure.

Mr. Moraitis left Greece three weeks ago for England, and we are of opinion that with the disorder and the great want of money he had, it will be very difficult to know what belongs to Mr. Moraitis and what to the Company.

We will keep you aware of how things develop. The second emigrant steamer S/S "Athena" has been launched since May, but we doubt very much if they will be able to take delivery of her. 10833

(Signatures)

P. S. Since writing above we hear of a telegram which has been sent by Mr. Moraitis' Bill Broker to the New York Agent of the Greek Transatlantic Co. as follows "Position hopeless."

10834 Defendants' Exhibit 54

Patras, August 14th, 1908.

Following what we wrote you a few days ago about Mr. Moraitis' difficulties, we now beg to inform you that the position is getting daily more acute. It seems that this gentleman has left England for America, and his present whereabouts are unknown. Big sums are due at Piraeus, Syra and in the Island of Andros.

We understand that an effort is being made by the shareholders to reconstruct the transatlantic company under the management of Mr. Athanasiou Vagliano. This gentleman is very wealthy, but has no experience 10835 whatever about steamers or business, but can only just sign his name, and is not considered as a clever man. We hardly believe that this will take place unless some other proposal is laid before the shareholders.

We may mention that a new company, called The Greek National Steamship Company, with Frs. 10.000.000 capital, has just been floated, with Messrs. Embericos as managers. One of the members of this firm is now the Greek Minister of Marine, and they are now building a twin-screw steamer with many first and second-class berths, and also emigrant accommodation, which they will try to run to the States. They have, or better, they intend ordering other steamers, but they have not yet decided if they will run them 10836 to the United States, or if they will start a line between Roumania, Greece, Italy and France, and Roumania, Greece and Egypt.

The boat they intend for the emigrants will not exceed 6.000 tons or 7.000 tons, and in case they do not succeed in making her pay in the transatlantic traffic, they will employ her on the lines above mentioned.

You will no doubt know that Messrs. Embericos are old shipowners, but they are considered rather conservative people, and we think they will not go in for the rash business, over which Mr. Moraitis, for glory's sake, lost his and his friends' money.

We shall not fail to keep you well posted in anything further that may transpire.

(Signatures)

Postscript. Since writing the foregoing, we have seen the Government Gazette with the Articles of Association. From this it appears that it is only proposed to issue at present shares to the value of Frs. 2,000.000 promoters' shares. Authority is reserved to issue a further Frs. 2.000.000 within a year, for the purpose of paying for the second boat, and the General Meeting in 1910 will decide as to the question of further emissions.

10838

From this it looks as if at present the promoters' ideas are only to experiment with one steamer.

"On several occasions it has happened that steeragers forwarded by us at regular rates have claimed the amount of the Head-tax from us after their arrival in America. Upon our objection that we had not charged the Head-tax, but that all fees whatever were included in the fare, our opponents claimed that the United States law prescribed a Head-tax for aliens and consequently the fare for aliens ought to be higher than the fare for persons being non-aliens. We may mention that it is 10848 not at all certain that the claimants were, in fact, American citizens, they only pretended to be it. In order to avoid the expenses of a law-suit which even in case of success would be very high, we have upon our American lawyers advice always voluntarily refunded the amount claimed. The number of such claims lately, however, increased so considerably that we have resolved today to quote for the beginning for such steeragers as travel with our steamers via New York to Canada a fare which is Marks 16.—, i. e. the amount of the Head-tax, lower than the fare to New York. For the next conference we reserve the right to put again the motion to collect the Head-tax separately and to issue an extra receipt for it. As it will very likely interest the parties, what our New York house reports to us in this matter we herewith beg to hand you copy of a letter we have recently received."

The copy referred to reads:

"Referring to your letter of the 17th inst. regarding the Head-tax, we take the liberty of 10850 pointing out that your view does not quite correspond with the position of affairs here. The immigration law requires that a head-tax be levied on all aliens. It follows therefore of itself that citizens must cross the ocean more cheaply than foreigners. But, as we charge in Europe the same fares for both, citizens consider themselves entitled to a refund and when, as often happens, they claim accordingly from the Immigration authorities, they are referred to us and receive at the same time special confirmation that they are entitled to receive such refund. If, therefore, we were to 10851 refuse to allow a refund to these people, after they are aware that no tax has been paid for them, we should have to expect numerous lawsuits, all of which we should probably lose. In such cases, therefore, we cannot avoid meeting the demand. In other cases, when claims are addressed direct to us, we endeavor to avoid making a refund, by pointing out that the regular fare was paid and that the head-tax, if payable, will be defrayed by us, but are not always successful. In our opinion, whenever a justified claim is put forward, we ought always to make a refund immediately and thereby avoid offending the local Government to the notice of which cases, where we have refused a refund are, sooner or later, sure to be brought by the complainants. To make matters easier, we have frequently proposed to you that the tax should be collected in Europe just as separately as is done here in the case of prepaids."

Russian Eastasiatic S.S. Co.

Yesterday Mr. v. Benislavski was here, but before I could see him he had received news of an accident in his family calling him home all on a sudden.

I had however some conversation with two gentlemen of his staff, who informed me that the understanding with the Holland America Line concerning freight matters, provided for in clause 6 of the Memorandum of August 26th, had been reached. This has been confirmed by the Holland America Line, and I shall now draft the Agreement with the Russian Eastasiatic S. S. Co. which is to replace the Memorandum as per clause 9.

Amongst the topics of the conversation there was one requiring some attention. The Russian Volunteer Fleet have still on stock about 3000 prepaids from Libau and about 150 from Rotterdam. They have applied to the Russian Eastasiatic to take charge of them, but this Co. could not think of it, since they are in the pool, as the average net rate might not come up to $20 and considering the large number of children on these prepaids.—On the other hand it is to be presumed that none of the other parties would care to carry the passengers at the R. V. F.'s rates. 10887

Under these circumstances the R. E. Co. pointed to the possibility or probability that the R. V. F., in order to meet their engagements might send out their unemployed steamer "Moskva" for several sailings and thus become again a disturbing element, at least temporarily in the westbound and eastbound traffic, against which I of course have pointed to clause 4 of the Memorandum. I have promised to submit the matter to the A. C. Lines.

As mentioned it is to be assumed that no Line will be ready to take the R. V. F's prepaids from Libau at the net rate at which they are sold. The situation 10889 in my opinion will be this: The buyers of these prepaids will hold the agents of the R. V. F., Messrs. C. B. Richards & Co. responsible, and the R. V. F. will be aware, that they on their part are responsible to their agents.

Suppose the 3150 prepaids mentioned above, to be souls and not adults or tickets for families and the number of adults to be say 2500. If the net rate has been $20 and the R. E. A. Co. was willing to take charge of them at their present net rate of $32, this would mean a loss to the R. V. F. of 2500 .12 or $30,000. It is evident that three trips of the "Moskva," even if they secured a full steerage out and home, 10890 would mean a greater loss but still, the ways of the R. V. F. are incalculable and therefore rather than incur any risk of fresh disturbance I would propose, to enable the R. E. Co. to secure those prepaids in the following way. They try to get from the R. V. F. as high a rate as possible. From this net rate a carrying rate (including headtax) of say $8, to be deducted, and in the proportion of the then remaining amount to their own present net rate, less $8, carrying rate the R. E. A. Co. accounts for these passengers in the pool, f. i. The R. E. Co. get from the R. V. F. $27 net: their present prepaid net rate be $32. Deducting from both rates a carrying rate of $8 gives a proportion of 19:24 which means that if the R. E. Co. carries 24 souls of the R. V. F.'s prepaids, they would account in the pool only for 19.

I shall be obliged for the views of the Parties upon receipt of which I shall communicate with the R. E. Co.

> should be included, which would make the percentages for 1906 and 1907 6.95% and 6.69% respectively."

I should like to know how the other Parties think about it. By the Memorandum of an Agreement between the Russian "Eastasiatic Co." I did not understand that this Company is to be considered as a party to the Pool but I took it, that it was to be a separate Agreement between the Russasiatic and the A. C. Lines on the same Lines as the Agreement between the Atlantic Conference Lines (Clause 9 of the Memo).

If this is not what was intended, then the White Star Line are right in what they say, although prac- 10923 tically it makes no difference, if a smaller percentage is taken of a proportionately larger number. But at any rate the figures for the Russasiatic of 1906 in which they had only 5 sailings cannot be taken as part of a basis for arriving at correct percentages.

10925 I have asked the R. E. SS. Co. for the exact figures of the Russian Volunteer Fleet's prepaids and they reply that they will report as soon as possible but they expect, that it will take some time in view of the slow and clumsy working with the Volunteer Fleet

With respect to clause 4 of the Memorandum the R. E. S. S. Co. are of opinion, that it would apply only to the case that the Volunteer Fleet should definitely take up again the Service to New York, but not if they only temporarily made a few trips in order to liquidate their business.

The R. E. S. S. Co. don't think, that the Volunteer Fleet will take the course of sending out the "Moskwa" as it would be too expensive; but should they still do so, they don't consider clause 4 applicable.

10926 The Red Star Line write referring to G. No. 252:

"The percentage which the Russian Eastasiatic Co. got at London is more than that Company is entitled to according to the statistics based on their carryings and the reason for this is mainly that they claimed and received credit, to a certain extent, for the carryings of the Russian Volunteer Fleet, which had gone out of existence; it would then seem to us that the Russian Eastasiatic Co. might take care of the outstanding prepaids of the Russian Volunteer Fleet since in their percentage a portion of the Russian Volunteer Fleet's carryings is included. If however the Russian Eastasiatic Co. decline to do so it would then seem to us that it is entirely a matter for the Russian Volunteer Fleet to find out whether it is cheaper for them to dispatch special steamers to carry their outstanding prepaids or to make arrangements with the Russian Eastasiatic Co. or any other Company for the forwarding of all their prepaids at a reasonable price. We suppose that no Line being short in the Pool would decline to carry these prepaids at their nett tariff rate."

The Holland America Line will undertake to forward these prepaids provided the parties refund them the difference between the rate they get from the Russasiatic and their regular rate. Will the Lines inclusive Transat and Austro please let me know what they think about it. If agreed the amount of the compensation to the Holland America Line would have to be paid by the Lines pro rata of their interests in westbound steerage business i. e. the percentages would be modified by the participation of Transat and Austro.

Commentary

To the Provisional Agreement regarding steerage business between Italian and North American Ports as discussed at Berlin, September 16th, 1908.

The discussions Director General Ballin and myself had at Berlin with the Commendatore Crespi and Dr. Paratore, representatives of the Italian Lines, between the 14th and 16th September, have been tedious and difficult and several times were on the verge of being broken up owing to the extraordinary demands of the 10937 Italian Lines, notwithstanding the fact that their claims from the beginning of the interview were considerably more moderate than they had been at the first meeting.

Enclosing the results of the interview to the parties interested, I beg to state that Mr. Ballin as well as myself are convinced of the fact, that this is only a compromise which will be satisfactory to none of the Lines. It must, however, be left to further definite settlement, to what extent the paragraphs can be improved upon.

I beg to add the following in way of explanation:

In order to find a way for proper discussion of all the questions, involving various points of interest, 10938 we have been discriminating between the direct and indirect Lines interested in the Italian trade, and the Lines which call at Italian harbours only in the way of intermediate ports. Endeavoring to bring about an understanding between the Lines interested in the direct Italian business, we have based our discussions on the Florence propositions already dealt with in Paris which as known aim at a distribution of all steeragers in proportion to the number of berths, this being the fairest form of division. Having in the beginning principally agreed to this, the Italian Lines later on while we were fixing the number of sailings, claimed 8

sailings for each of the steamers belonging to the new Steam Ship Lines (Italia, Lloyd Italiano, Lloyd Sabaudo, Sicula Americana) this making a total of 166 sailings even if we would have declined the proposition of the Italian Lines to increase the sailings of the Navigazione and Veloce, while the other Lines except the Trasatlantica Espanola, in accordance with the Maximum number of sailings of the last three years, would have been entitled to only 152 sailings. Finally the Italian Lines agreed to fix the Maximum number of their sailings to 150, if the rest of the Lines would confine themselves to the equal number.

10940

While going over the number of berths of each steamer, we found out that the Italian Lines would enter the Pool with a much higher number of berths than the other Lines, which can be seen by the fact that the number of berths of the Italian steamers in question is about 50.000, while the steamers of the other Lines own only about 40.000 berths. This would result in a considerably higher percentage than 50% for the Italian Lines if the Agreement was worked on the aforementioned basis. Here, however, has to be added that at a time of decreasing business, we could duly reckon with a greater reduction of sailings on the part of the Italian Lines, than this would prove necessary with the other Lines, these latter owing to their cabin business, being to a higher degree prevented from reducing their sailings.

On the other hand, however, it had to be taken into consideration that the Italian Lines would earnestly strive to complete their sailings in order to participate a share as high as possible of the steerage traffic; consequently we deemed it more advisable to waive the idea of a Pool worked out on the number of berths and reach an understanding with the Italian Lines on the percentage basis.

10942 Petitioner's Exhibit 1:13

According to the number figured out to the present, an allotment of 50% for each of the two groups seemed fair to us. The Italian Lines, however, repeatedly put forward their claim of a minimum share of 55%, adding that they would yield to a share of 50% only under the conditions that a pool should be fixed for a term not exceeding one year, they not being authorized to sign a contract for a longer period.

Now a share of 50% of the Lines interested in the Italian direct traffic viz. the English and German Lines, and the Fabre Line, would involve a loss of 21.50% figured on the average traffic of the years 1905, 1906
10943 and 1907, westbound, and a loss of 30% on the average of the same years eastbound. But it must not be overlooked that there have been not less than four new Italian Lines coming into competition, which, no doubt in the course of next year would have gained their share, so that an allotment of 50% nearly corresponds with what the Italian Lines would have gained if we had not come to an understanding. In any case, this share seemed to us more favorable than a berths division as per the Florence propositions, for what we are losing, we shall probably gain westbound, by paying lower commissions, eastbound, by quoting higher rates; besides with the help of the Italian Lines we 10944 might be able to raise our westbound rates.

With regard to the indirect Lines and the Lines calling at Italian harbours only in the way of intermediate ports, Mr. Ballin and myself were of the opinion that each Line should be granted a share corresponding with the three years average of 1905, 1906 and 1907, to which the Italian Lines strongly objected claiming with a certain right, that the indirect Line should bear the same reduction of their allotment as the direct Lines.

In order to bring about a provisional Agreement it was necessary for us to fall in with the views taken by the Italian Lines, it being left to further discussions to find out whether the afore mentioned measure might turn out to be disadvantageous for some Lines, and how to avoid any unfairness; for instance, the Cunard and the Austro Americana Steam Ship Cos. started their services only in 1905 and consequently did very small business this year, so that on three years average to a certain extent an unfairness is evident. So that at the next Conference Meeting will have to be shown to what extent the shares can be improved; at any rate, at the last interview, we did not fail to point out to the Italians that this question had to be taken up again.

The third question dealt with the stipulation that the Italian Lines should keep away from Continental business, the other Lines to give up Italian business. Considering that also the Lines so far not represented in the Italian trade must wish to have their continental business safeguarded against invasion of the Italian Lines, they should feel obliged to bring about by their consent the desired Agreement. As mentioned before the contract has been closed for only one year, or to be more correct, until the 31st December 1909, a special stipulation to be made for the remaining three months of the current year, as for this short period a reasonable working of the Pool could not be expected.

In order to avoid unjust payment we have stipulated that none of the parties should pay an amount of money higher than the value of the berths carried vacant.

It has no doubt, been one of the most important questions, dealt with at our interview to resolve how to act in regard to the disqualification of agents; for the Italian Lines, claiming that this disqualification should be cancelled, could hardly be refused, as there was no single Line but a big combine of several Lines, uniting in this demand, which combine, we are to make a contract with, and which surely, will protect the agents which have stood by them.

The contract I dare say, cannot be definitely signed, without the Non-Italian Lines interested in the Italian trade (Anchor Line, Fabre Line, Hamburg-Amerika Linie, Norddeutscher Lloyd, White Star Line) making amongst themselves an Agreement as to the division of their share of the traffic. For good and all it seemed to be advisable to go back to the Florence propositions which represent the most just division.

Also the fixing of the numbers of sailings for this group I daresay is absolutely necessary if we do not 10949 want to run the risk that the considerable enfeebling of the Italian business caused by the invasion of the Italian Lines will be carried further by the Italian Lines increasing their sailings. On the other hand, it would not be advisable for any of the interested Lines to make an Agreement with the Italian Lines without such a clause.

The draft of an Agreement in the aforementioned sense, I shall mail to the parties within a few days. Also the interested parties will in the course of this week be in receipt of a draft of the Agreement that has to be made with the Italian Lines by the single groups.

10950 Finally I have to remark that the Italian Lines consider it extremely important that the conclusion of the whole Agreement should not become public, but kept secret for the reason that according to Italian law Pool Agreements are forbidden.

(Sigd.) WIEGAND.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1114.

10951

Between the Undersigned

Director General A. Ballin and Director General Dr. H. Wiegand, on behalf of the Continental and British Lines, and Commendatore A. Crespi and Dr. Paratore, on behalf of the Italian Lines, the following basis for a contract regulating the Italian steerage business has been agreed upon.

The contracting parties to endeavor to obtain the consent of the other Lines interested, and to have the final agreement signed before the 29th September.

Art. 1.

Traffic covered by this Contract.

The traffic covered by this contract comprises:

a) All emigrants (third class) embarking at Italian and subsequent ports of call for the United States and /or Canadian ports, irrespective of their nationality.

b) All third class passengers (immigrants) embarking at ports of the United States and /or Canada for Italian ports or previous ports of call, irrespective of their final destination.

c) All Italian or Oriental emigrants embarking at Cherbourg or Havre for ports of the United States and /or Canada.

d) All third class passengers landed at Cherbourg or Havre, who proceed to Italy or the Orient or who are booked through to such destination.

Under the term "Orient" is understood Greece, Asia and Africa.

Art. 2.

Parties to this Contract.

The following parties are interested in the traffic:

A) The Italian Companies (Navigazione Generale Italiana, La Veloce, Lloyd Italiano, Italia, Lloyd Sabaudo, Sicula Americana).

10954 Petitioner's Exhibit 1114

B) The direct non-Italian Lines (Hamburg American Line, North German Lloyd, White Star Line, Anchor Line, Fabre Line).

C) The indirect non-Italian Lines (Cie. Gle. Transatlantique, American Line, White Star Line).

D) Non-Italian Lines calling at Italian ports as intermediate ports (Cunard Line Austro Americana).

E) The Compania Trasatlantica Espanola.

Art. 3.

General Conditions.

10955 The Contract to be agreed upon (Italian Pool Contract) shall be concluded between Group A and B. The traffic of groups C and D shall be regulated by separate Contracts, providing certain Pool shares. The question of the relation of the contracting parties to the Cie. Trasatlantica Espanola is left open.

The following conditions respecting duration, mode of accounts, compensation, regulation of rates, delivery of statistics etc., shall also apply to the supplementary contracts.

Art. 4.

Contract with Group C.

10956 The share of the indirect non-Italian Lines in the Italian steerage traffic shall be fixed in the percentages of the whole traffic as per Art. 1, including only such passengers of the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique, the American Line and the White Star Line, as described by Art. 1, C and D.

The shares of the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique, westbound and eastbound, and of the American Line and White Star Line, as a whole, eastbound, shall be fixed as follows:

It shall be determined by which proportion the shares of the Lines named under Art. 2 B in the Italian traffic have been reduced under this contract in favour of the Italian Companies, as compared with the share the said Lines had in the same traffic during the last three years. The share of the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique as well as that of the American Line and White Star Line, shall represent their average share of business during the last three years reduced in the same proportion as that of the Lines named under Art. 2B.

These percentages will be approximately as follows:
For the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique Westbound 10.05%
For the Cie. Gel. Transatlantique Eastbound 8.35%
For the American Line and White Star Line
(Channel Services) combined, Eastbound 4.53%

10958

Art. 5.

Relation of the Parties of the Main Contract to Group D.

The percentages to be agreed upon shall be based on the total Italian Immigration traffic, as described in Art. 1 B and D.

The percentages for the Cunard S.S. Co. and the Austro Americana shall be fixed as follows:

It shall be determined by which proportion the share of the Lines named under Art. 2 B in the Italian traffic has been reduced under this Contract in favour of the Italian Companies, as compared with the share the said Lines had in the same traffic during the last three years. The shares of the Cunard S. S. Co. and of the Austro Americana shall represent their average share of business during the last three years reduced in the same proportion as that of the Lines named under Art. 2 B.

These percentages will be approximately as follows:
For the Cunard S. S. Co. Eastbound 4.41%
For the Austro Americana Eastbound 2.53%

These percentages are understood for a minimum of 26 sailings per calendar year for each Line. For each departure less than 26 the share of the respective Line will be reduced by 1/26th only such sailings to be counted which include steerage passengers landed at Italian ports.

Art. 6.

Main Contract.

The Main Contract shall regulate the relations between the Italian Lines (Navigazione Generale Italiana, La Veloce, Lloyd Italiano, Italio Lloyd Sabaudo, Sicula Americana) and the direct non-Italian Lines 10961 (Hamburg American Line, North German Lloyd, White Star Line, Anchor Line, and Fabre Line) so that both parties participate in equal parts in the total traffic covered by this contract which remains after deduction of the shares accruing to groups C and D, as well as of the traffic of the Compania Transatlantica Espanola. The above parties shall also participate in equal parts in all payments to be made to the groups C and D, or to be received from same.

The share of 50%, eastbound and westbound, for each group is based upon a minimum number of 120 sailings by each group during a calendar year in each direction. If the number of sailings of a group is 10962 less than 120 a year the share of such group, eastbound or westbound, as the case may be, will be reduced in favour of the other group by 1/120th, for each sailing below this number.

All statistics and accounts to be based upon the number of souls.

Eastbound and westbound accounts to be kept separately. Each calendar year to form a period in itself. The Secretary is, however, to render regular monthly accounts giving the transportation of the Lines and showing the position of the groups versus each other. The groups shall send to the Secretary weekly the statistics of the passengers carried by them.

The first period shall comprise the time from October 1st to December 31st 08. For this period, a party can only claim to receive compensation for a number of passengers corresponding to the number of their vacant berths.

F. e. if group B has to compensate group A under this Contract for an excess of 5000 passengers, whilst group A had altogether not more than 500 vacant berths, compensation shall only be paid on 500 passengers.

Each group is held to carry, as nearly as possible, the share alloted to it. For this purpose, the group having exceeded their share is bound to bring about an adjustment so far as practicable. The measures to be adopted are left to the discretion of the respective group.

The group in excess, shall pay to the group being short a sum of 110 Lires for each passenger (soul) carried in excess of their share.

In case of differences of opinion between the two groups, each group has to name an arbitrator of theirs. Both arbitrators will appoint one of the following gentlemen as Umpire:

Dr. jur. Hansen
Mr. Henry Wilding
Commendatore Weil.

10965

If the arbitrators cannot agree among themselves as to the selection of one of these gentlemen, the Umpire will be selected by lot.

Art. 7.

It is proposed to approach the Compania Trasatlantica Espanola with a view to come to an agreement with that Line respecting rates and commissions, at the same time limiting them to their present number of sailings.

10966 Petitioner's Exhibit 1114

Art. 8.

The minimum second class rate from and to Italian ports shall be 325 Lires (or $65) including a commission not exceeding 25 Lires. Passengers booked at less than these rates shall be accounted for under the Pool.

Art. 9.

Commission to sub-agents on westbound steerage business shall not exceed 15 Lires per adult. Apart from this, the stipulations of article 20 of the Florentine draft of Agreement shall be applied (5 Lires extra commission to general agents.)

10967

Art. 10.

The prepaid rate shall be equivalent to the highest cash rate of the issuing Company at the time being.

The Lines bind themselves not to issue Blank Prepaids nor to honour prepaid tickets on which the name of the passenger has been substituted by another one.

Art. 11.

The Lines having direct services from Italy bind themselves not to attempt to book Continental passengers, neither eastbound nor westbound, and more particularly not to quote any special rates and/or commissions for such business. On the other hand, the indirect Continental and British Lines parties to this Agreement undertake not to endeavor to book Italian steerage passengers eastbound or westbound, nor to quote special rates and/or commissions for such business, except as otherwise agreed upon in this Contract. (Art. 4)

10968

The other parties to the Atlantic Conference will assume a similar obligation.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1114 10969

Art. 12.

Upon the enforcement of the proposed Contract the agents disqualified on account of the previously existing difference between the two groups shall be reinstated.

Art. 13.

It is proposed to appoint Mr. Bonnemann as Secretary.

Art. 14.

As a guarantee for the fulfilment of the obligations 10970 arising under this Contract, each Line shall give a Bank Security to the amount of 125,000 Lires.

Art. 15.

The Conference which shall decide upon the acceptance of the above propositions shall be held on September 29th. In the meanwhile rates for eastbound Italian business will be advanced to $25 with $2 Commission, and the Continental eastbound rate of the Italian Lines to $28 less $2 Commission, basis Fiume/Triest.

Art. 16.

The Contract shall be concluded for the period from 10971
October 1st 1908 to the 31st of December 1909, and shall continue thereafter from year to year unless three months previous notice be given by either party.

With reference to the question of a compensation for the Holland-America Line if they take charge of the Russian Eastasiatic's prepaids from Rotterdam several of the Parties have declared that they would not agree to such compensation, this being a matter to be arranged by those two Lines between themselves so much the more so, as the Holland-America Line would have a chance to clear off some of their shortage.

The French Line write:

10980 "Il est certain que c'est la Holland Amerika qui retire le plus d'advantage de l'accord fait avec l'Est Asiatique, puisque cet accord éloigne de Rotterdam un concurrent qui, non seulement faisait baisser le prix des passages en 3ème classe, mais encore celui des passagers de cabine et les frets Il semble donc naturel que la NASM s'entende avec l'Est Asiatique pour lui reprendre ses prepaids sans avoir à demander une compensation."

To the Parties:

10985 Cabin passengers in the steerage P[illegible].

There seems to be a difference of opinion as to under which circumstances cabin passengers have to be accounted for in the steerage pool.

One opinion is, that all cabin passengers which have not paid the lowest cabin fare are to be considered as steeragers.

The other opinion is that only such cabin passengers must be pooled which have not paid at least £2.— more than the highest normal third class rate of the respective steamer.

It is a matter of course, that the carrying of cabin passengers at lower than the lowest cabin agreement 10986 rates is a breach of these agreements and has to be dealt with accordingly. Neither is there a question about passengers carried under Agreement W. clause 1 f.

The differing views refer only to clause b of the Commentary to Art. 2, reading:

> "Intermediate or even cabin passengers are steeragers unless they pay at least the lowest cabin fare as defined in Art. 13."

Art. 13 establishes the lowest cabin fare in two different ways, viz:

Petitioner's Exhibit 1120 10987

1) by a second class rate agreement or

2) if there is no second class agreement by determining that the lowest second cabin rates must be at least £2.— resp. $10.— higher than the highest normal third class rates of the respective steamer.

The second alternative is not applicable, because there is a second class agreement. The lowest cabin fare as defined in Art. 13 is therefore the rate fixed by this agreement and unless passengers pay at least this lowest cabin fare they are steeragers.

If that is not intended it will be necessary to give an authoritative interpretation and I therefore ad this question to the Agenda of the next meeting. 10988

"We enclose a further paragraph published in the Finanical Chronicle of Athens, on the 19th inst., re The Hellenic Transoceanic Co., demonstrating the spirit in which the late transactions are considered.

"Since this publication a meeting of shareholders has been held in which it was decided to transfer the seat of the company from Andros to Athens.

"Some resolutions were passed suspending several members of previous Directorate, amongst others the defaulting Managing Director, and a new Directorate appointed:

John Eutaxia, Vice-Governor National Bank.
Theod. Retsina, Merchant.
P. Zaimi.
Zaf. Matsa, Managing Director Athens Bank.
Nic. Pappou, Merchant.
Othon Stathato, Shipowner.
Othon Tetenes, Rentier.

"It was reported that the New Directorate would propose raising funds to the extent of Drs. 5,000,000.— to be in a position to pay for steamer now building, but it was not stated by loan or by issue of New shares.

11026 Defendants' Exhibit 59

"From other sources we hear that the holders of the shares fraudulently issued, propose taking energetic measures to recover the moneys by them invested or represented by the bogus excess shares. Of these deluded investors we hear of one in Zante who has invested £5000.— another at Corfu £15,000.— and there are a good many in very much the same position."

The article mentioned above in the beginning reads:

"Efforts deserving of all sympathy and encouragement, are being made by the victimized 11027 shareholders for the reconstruction of the Company, since Mr. D. G. Moraiti has been declared a bankrupt, the qualifying degree being in the competence of the court of Justice, Mr. D. G. Moraiti being absent from his place of business, and since the astounding disclosures of the abuses committed by him, as managing Director of the 'Transoceanic Hellenic s/s Co.,' with the connivance if not the complicity of his co-directors in the management of the Co.

"Mr. John Eutaxia, with others equally interested, is working sincerely for saving 'Trans-11028 oceanic' from the annihilation that threatens its existance, the part taken by the Vice-Governor of the National Bank in the saving of the wreck, affords the safest guarantee that the efforts being made will be crowned with success, and that from the disastrous wreck will be saved all that is possible to be saved, and the Company newly organized on entirely new basis, and with a new personnel, will as another 'Phoenix' emerge from the ashes of the Transoceanic & flourish a new Company, having nothing in common with the old Company, and forgetting the guilty episode.

Defendants' Exhibit 59

"For the success of this desideratum and that the work of the new Company prosper and regain the lost confidence and reputation, it will be necessary to remove all who were in any way connected with the sinister past. The meeting which comes together in the next few days should thank the Directors for their valuable services to the Co., and request them to repose or transfer their acumen and sagacity to the promotion of other interests.

"There are some exceptions in the circle of the Transoceanic, individuals who enjoy the general esteem for their well known rectitude and acknowledged capacity. Amongst these could be selected those who would conscientiously take part as directors. But the late agents, Captains, the pursers, Stewards, Caterers, must all be replaced, as being tainted with the foul atmosphere of the previous regime, which as a decaying body exhales dangerous effluvia, and from a long distance. The clearing out must be complete, and the disinfection thorough.

"By Royal warrant published in the 'Gazette' the first steamer of the 'Transoceanic' the 'Moraiti' has been renamed 'Themistocles.' "

With reference to G. No. 257 the Red Star Line write:

> "As to the point raised by you whether the Russian Eastasiatic Co. is to be considered as a party to the Pool, our opinion is for the affirmative and I believe this is expressed in clause 9 of the Agreement. Of course an agreement is needed for the admittance of the Russian Eastasiatic Co. because it is too late for them to sign the agreement A. A. From this it would follow that it is not necessary to > 11084 keep separate accounts with the Eastasiatic Co. but that they can be included in the statements of the A. C. Lines."

As to the keeping of separate accounts with the Russian Eastasiatic Co. I think it can hardly be dispensed with for the current year, on account of the different periods for which they are running.

Whether the Russasiatic is a party to Agreement A. A. direct or indirect (by separate agreement) is, it seems to me, more a matter of convenience and I incline more for the latter for same reasons.

First I am afraid of the increased difficulty of bringing meetings together and of agreeing on alterations & additions to the AA. agreement, which may be desirable or necessary (Art. 22).

Further, Art. 5 is not applicable to the Russasiatic. They have to make not less than 18 sailings, no difference in what intervals.

Bye-law 10 and clause 4 of the Memo of an Agreement with the Russasiatic may collide.

Generally, if no special advantage is in admitting the Russasiatic as a direct member to the Pool I would consider it preferable to have a separate agreement with them in view of the necessity of the several special clauses for the Russasiatic.

It is from this point of view, that I have drafted the enclosed Agreement, and at the impending meeting the Lines may decide. If their views are different I do not see, what much has to be added to the memo of the Agreement.

"As the Lines know, there exist several associations and institutions, mostly Jewish, who under religious and philanthropic pretexts endeavor to obtain a certain control over the Russian and especially Jewish emigration. These associations, besides their philanthropic feelings, use to have a very keen eye for business. Their policy is to ply out one Line against the other in order to obtain the most favorable conditions and, once in possession of the necessary influence, they will be able to dictate to the Lines the rates they are willing to pay. This would bring the Companies in a position equally disadvantagous and humiliating, and in order to avert the danger we would recommend that a resolution be added to the Atlantic Conference Bye-laws, reading about as follows:

'The Lines bind themselves not to support any persons or associations endeavoring to monopolize the Russian Emigration business

Lloyd: 4.10:

> "Have very reluctantly followed White Star granting 7½% commission special Mediterranean cruise, are quite willing reduce commission to five per cent if other lines do likewise but must strongly protest against Cunard allowing more than five per cent on regular business. The commission of 7½ per cent being granted only on excursion tickets covering the whole tour it cannot in any way affect regular business."

Hapag: 5.10:

"By our granting seven and half per cent commission on Moltke's orient cruise regular cabin business is not affected in the slightest degree. On fares from New York to Italy or from New York to Alexandria we only allow five per cent. Cunards Caronia trips cannot be considered cruises. We therefore strongly protest against Cunards allowing more than five per cent commission."

It is on this occasion, that Transat write:

"Nous avons bien recu votre dépêche au sujet des commissions allouées sur les passages de cabine.

Il avait été décidé qu'une révision des agents pouvant recevoir plus de 5% serait faite, et la commission, suivant l'article 58 du protocole de la Conference de Paris, n'a pas pu aboutir.

Nous protestons vivement contre l'allocation de 7½% à une quantité énorme d'agents avec lesquels les lignes anglaises, et en particulier la Cunard, sont en relations. Dans la liste qui 11061 a été fournie par cette dernière compagnie figurent des banques ou agences de touristes avec lesquelles les autres compagnies sont aussi en relations et auxquelles, se renfermant dans les termes de l'agreement, elles n'accordent que 5%. Nous vous donnons comme exemple M.M. Lemont & Cie à Rome- avec- lesquels nous faisons des affaires depuis plus de 15 ans et auxquels nous n'avons jamais alloué plus de 5% commission.

11062 Petitioner's Exhibit 1135

Si les Parties ne peuvent pas se mettre d'accord, nous réclamons le droit de donned 7½% à tous les agents avec lesquels nous faisons des affaires et qui sont portés sur les listes des lignes anglaises, ainsi qu'à ceux que nous désignerons par la suite."

Perhaps there will be an opportunity at the next meeting for the committee, appointed as per Minute 58, to consider the question of commissions and I shall put it on the Agenda.

> "desires Lines take note we claim compensation any loss sustained owing adherence uniform rate eastbound Italy so much longer than ever contemplated originally."

In a subsequent letter to Secretary Smyth they say:

> "When we originally agreed to this uniform rate it was never contemplated that the meeting would be so long delayed, and if blame for these delays can be attributed to anyone, it certainly cannot to us.
> "It must be obvious that the fast steamers are deriving the entire benefit from the advance in rate, and the slower steamers experience a 11079 > serious loss which it would be unfair to ask or expect them alone to bear in the general interests."

Today I received the following letter from the Cunard Line:

> "We have received from Secretary Smyth copy of communication from the Anchor Line, dated Glasgow 6th inst. in which they intimate their intention to claim compensation for any loss sustained owing to the maintenance of the uniform rate of $25 from Newyork to Italy over the prolonged period due to the repeated postponement of the proposed meeting of the various Lines. When we agreed to the adoption of the rate in question, we suggested that any agreement come to, should be retrospective and of course we had in mind in making this suggestion the reason which is now advanced by the Anchor Line. We therefore entirely associate ourselves with the position taken up by the Anchor Line."

11081 With reference to the claim of the Anchor Line the only Line having expressed their views so far are Hapag:

"Regret cannot assent Anchors proposal to grant them pool compensation on account their adhering uniform rate. The delay is indeed partly caused by Anchor themselves being the only party declaring it would not attend conference without Fabre."

I have been asked to enter the claim of the Anchor Line on the agenda of the meeting on 21st inst. and further

I had informed the Russasiatic that the Holland-America Line had declined to take their Rotterdam prepaids at less than their own regular rate, and that the Pool lines were not disposed to allow a compensation. To this the Russasiatic reply: (Translation.)

Highest normal third class rate. (Article 13.)

On October 26th I received the following letter from Mr. Smyth:

> "I am advised by the White Star Line that circumstances having arisen necessitating the withdrawal of the American Line steamer "Noordland" scheduled to sail from Liverpool October 29th, for Philadelphia, they are arranging to transfer some of the passengers actually booked to the 'Arabic' October 30th to New York."

This caused me to address the following letter to 11130 the White Star Line:

> "Mr. Smyth informs me that on account of the withdrawal of the 'Noordland' October 29th you are arranging to transfer some of her II Class passengers to the 'Arabic' October 30th.
>
> "The 2nd class rate for the 'Noordland' being $8.10 and the steerage rate for the 'Arabic' $7 there is only a difference between the two rates of 30sh and I therefore beg to call your attention to Art. 13 of Agreement A. A. and Clause 2 of Agreement W."

Petitioner's Exhibit 1307 11131

to which the White Star Line replied on 29th October:

> "We are in receipt of your letter of the 26th inst. and note your remarks in connection with the transfer of Second Class passengers from the 'Noordland' Oct. 29th to our S. S. 'Arabic' Oct. 30th. The reference you make to there being a difference of but 30/—between the 'Noordland's' Second class rate of $8.10/— and the third class rate for the 'Arabic' is hardly correct as you will find on reference to Art. 13, Agreement A. A., which you cite, 11132 > that the normal Third class rate is to be taken as a basis. In the present instance the normal Third class rate for the 'Arabic' is £6.10/— which is shown on the schedule of Third class rates agreed to in London last February, and it will therefore be seen that the required differential of £2 as between the Second and Third class rates is maintained."

to which I replied:

> "I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of 29th instant and note your remarks. Your application of the term 'normal third class rate' in clause 13 is not, I think, what is 11133 > intended and I shall therefore have to get an authorative interpretation of it by the Lines."

The present case is exceptional. The "Noordland" as I learn having been sold, but similar cases may occur in the regular course. It does not concern me if the cabin agreements are complied with but it is my duty to look at Article 2 of Agreement A. A. being acted upon and it is therefore that I ask the parties for their interpretation of the term "highest normal third class rate" in Article 13. It needs so much the more a clear definition as it is to some extent complicated by the circumstances that the head-tax partially is included in the steerage rates, partially is charged extra and that no separate charge is made for cabin passengers.

If no objection I shall put the question on the agenda of the next meeting.

Mediterranean Prepaid Business and Rate of Commission.

The White Star Line write:

"We attach herewith extract from letter dated 10th instant respecting the situation as regards commission on Mediterranean prepaid business.

"We may say that this matter we had intended to bring forward at the next general Conference meeting, but, as the matter stands, it seems desirable to take the views of the Lines before the next meeting takes place—the date of which is under discussion—by which time some arrangements may be in view."

The letter reads:

Extract from letter dated 10th November, 1908, from White Star Line, New York to Ismay, Imrie & Co., Passenger Dept., Liverpool.

"We might say that several agents have written asking what commission we will allow in view of the fact that they are receiving from $3 to $4 more than the regular commission of

$2. It is needless for us to repeat what we have written before on this matter. As you know we wrote you several times as to the high commissions paid by a large number, if not the majority, of the Mediterranean Lines on prepaids. In replying you advised us that the matter of payment of extra commission would be discussed at the Paris meeting, but we judge from the particulars you have given us that you were unable to bring up this subject. It seems to us therefore that unless this business can be brought under control, as is the eastbound, it will be necessary for us, in order 11144 to secure a share of the prepaid business, to follow the action of our competitors. From reliable information the commissions at present paid on prepaids are as follows:

"Lloyd Sabaudo $6, Lloyd Italiano $6, Hamburg $6, Navigazione $6, La Veloce $6, Lloyd Italia $6, Fabre Line $5.

"It is rumoured the Anchor Line are also paying extra but this they denied, this leaves practically only the Lloyd and Anchor and ourselves that are maintaining $2 commission."

I shall be glad to have the views of the parties on 11145 the subject.

I received today the following letter from the Cunard Line:

11159 "We beg to draw your attention to the fact that reports have recently appeared in the Press drawing attention to the payments which the Cunard Company have been making to the Pool in connection with the Atlantic Conference. We are sure that it will be recognized that it is extremely undesirable that statements of this character, or in any other way connected with the Pool arrangements between the Lines should be made known to the Press. From the fact that the Cunard Company's payment mentioned in the enclosed paragraph is approximately correct, it would seem that the information could only have been made known by someone having access to the Atlantic Conference returns. We do not for one moment suggest that the information has been given by any member of the Atlantic Conference, but think that the publication of the information points to the necessity of the returns, which are absolutely confidential, being regarded as such by all through whose hands they may have to pass."

The report mentioned above has appeared in the Journal of Commerce on November 4th and reads:

11161

THE ATLANTIC PASSENGER POOL.

REPORTED LARGE PAYMENT BY CUNARD COMPANY

Our London correspondent telegraphs:

In the course of an interview with a gentleman holding a big financial position in shipping, I was informed that the Cunard Company, as a result of their agreement with the Atlantic Conference Lines will be called upon to pay £60,000 or £70,000 to the pool out of their profits for the year to make up the percentage of the German Lines. He also is of opin- 11162 ion that before the year is concluded the amount will be up to £80,000. The Cunard have had a good year, whereas, especially in the steerage, the Germans have met up with a slump.

It is of course, only fair to explain that even if this interesting rumor be authentic, it only emphasises the fact that the Cunard Company have had a much better year than the German Lines, the "pool" arrangement meaning that the greater the amount to be paid over by an individual company, the greater the financial success of the Line in question. Having this in view it would seem that each company has an interest in hoping that the sum it must eventually pay into the "pool" shall be as large as possible. 11163

It needs no mention that all reports about Pool and what is in connection therewith may in view of the U. S. laws turn very much to the detriment of all the Parties and is therefore necessary that bye-law 15 should be strictly observed by all concerned in its widest sense.

"Will you kindly put on the Agenda for the next Atlantic Conference Meeting 'First Class Rates Intermediate Season.'

"In connection with this subject we would point out that in the past when the Agreement minimums were lower in the winter than in the summer, it was the practice of the majority of the Lines to advertise the winter schedule during the period the winter minimum was in 11166 force, viz West and East 1st November to 31st March, an intermediate schedule being effective when the higher Summer minimums were charged, westbound from 1st May to approximately 31st July and 15th to 31st October, also Eastbound 1st to 30th April and 15th July to 31st October, the high Summer schedule being in force, Westbound 1st August to 15th October. Eastbound 1st May to 15th July.

"By doing away with the intermediate season in rates and advertising the winter schedule all the year round excepting during the high rate summer season, the Lines are losing considerable revenue, and we propose the Lines agree to advertise as follows for next year:

"The Highest Summer Season.

"Westbound: 1st August to 15th October.

"Eastbound: 1st May to 15th July.

"The intermediate schedule.

"Westbound: 1st April to 31st July, and 16th October to 31st October.

The old dodge of stacking up "dummies" at the cheap rates after the advance was announced has been largely resorted to by the Passenger Agents and connived at by the Lines. Separate collection of head-tax.

The Hamburg-American Line write:

"The opinion having been expressed that the Belgian Law placed obstacles in the way of a separate collection of the head-tax, the Norddeutscher Lloyd and the Hamburg-Amerika Linie made representations on the subject to the Belgian Government. There was indeed an old rule in existence which appeared to be opposed to this. Full details of the present case having been put before the Belgian Government, it has been so extremely obliging, as to withdraw the old rule in question and to declare its consent to a collection of the American head-tax, apart from the fare. His Excellency the Belgian Minister for Foreign Affairs Mr. Davignon caused the following letter to be addressed to our General Agents Messrs Eiffe & Co of Antwerp:

11187

" 'In pursuance of my letter of the 13th of October I beg to inform you that I authorize the Hamburg-Amerika Linie, in future, to deliver under their responsibility to emigrants embarking at Belgian ports, special receipts certifying that the tax, prescribed in the United States under the term "head money," was duly paid. This receipt must be handed to the emigrants together with that which entitles to transportation, food and everything as required by the Law of December 14th 1876 and the decree of December 2nd 1905 regarding the carriage of emigrants.'

"In addition to the advantages pointed out by all the New York representatives, the separate collection of the headtax has also the further advantage that the M 16. are levied not only for every adult, but also for every child and every infant. By including the head-tax in the fare, however, M 8 for every passenger paying half-fare are lost. It is easy to prove by calculation that, even when carryings are small as during the present year, the General Pool would lose for children paying half-fare M 345,216 in a single year; in these circumstances, we would put it to our British friends to consider whether it would be worth while to make in the same way as has been done in Belgium representations to the British Government regarding the separate collection of the head-tax. Perhaps after having obtained knowledge of the position of affairs, the British Government might be disposed to make the same concession as the Belgian Government."

To
The North Atlantic Conference Lines,
c/Secretary Peters Esq.
Jena

Gentlemen:

The Signatories to the Prospectus of "Den norske Amerikalinje" (The Norwegian America Line) herewith respectfully apply through the Working Committee as representing this Line, that our Company, when fully constituted, may be admitted as a member of The North Atlantic Conference Lines, it being our sincere wish to respect and to work in agreement with all established interests. 11211

The name of Signatories to our Prospectus will prove, that the plan of "Den norske Amerikalinje" is the expression of a strong and legitimate wish among Norwegian representative men and Corporations.

The plan of "Den norske Amerikalinje" embraces a fortnightly route Bergen-New York to be increased to weekly sailings, when the growth of traffic should justify this. It is the opinion of the Working Committee that the route must be Trondhjem-Bergen-New York.

"Den norske Amerikalinje" pretends to deserve the designation of and be established as The National Line, that is to say: It will employ in its service steamers of a speed of up to 18 knots, and so constructed as to be capable of utilization as auxiliary cruisers and to receive from the Norwegian State both Mailsubsidies and Admiraltycontributions, all as explained in Prospectus submitted.

11213 In this connection is attached an English translation of letters to the Working Committee for "Den norske Amerikalinje" from the Norwegian Postmaster General and from the Admiral in Command with their opinions.

It will be seen, that the Norwegian Authorities view the matter favorably.

Further is added Opinions in English translation, expressed by all Norwegian Exchanges and Chambers of Commerce, in which unconditional support is extended to "Den norske Amerikalinje" as a Line of great National importance.

Referring to these interests and to the legitimate claims which Norway possesses to participate to a 11214 reasonable extent in the advantages and control of its North-American traffic, we give expression to our hope that the present application must be favorably considered.

We take the liberty of attaching a more detailed communication in respect of "Den norske Amerikalinje" as the National Line of Norway, as against the division of "Det Forenede Dampskibsselskab" (The United Steamship Co.) of Copenhagen, which was present at the Paris Conference.

To
The North Atlantic Conference Lines.
c/o Secretary Peters Esq.
Jena.

Gentlemen:

In connection with the respectful application of even date the Working Committee of "Den norske Amerikalinje" (The Norwegian America Line) beg to submit the following further communication respecting "Den norske Amerikalinje" as the Norwegian National Line as against the division of "Det Forenede Dampskibsselskab" (The United Steamship Co.) of Copenhagen, present at the Paris Conference. 11217

It will be borne in mind, that negotiations with a view to cooperation with Conference Lines in the American trade were opened in September 1908 with Mr. H. Allan and Lord Pirrie, to both of whom were submitted the Norwegian Prospectus Plan of "Den norske Amerikalinje" together with a printed English translation,—our representative drawing special attention to this Prospectus Plan and its chapter re Mail-subsidies and Admiralty contributions, which characterized our line as a National Line.

Before these negotiations by our representative were commenced, the Conference in London had already refused the above mentioned division of "Det Forende Dampskibsselskab" to be admitted into the "pool."

The Paris Conference followed shortly afterwards, end of October, but as generally understood this Con-11219 ference only had for its aim the discussion and settlement of various questions relating to Mediterranean Lines.

The division of Det Forenede Dampskibsselskab referred to having been refused admittance just previously at the London Conference, it appeared still more unlikely, that the question should be treated at the Paris Conference.

For these reasons "Den norske Amerikalinje" remained directly unrepresented at the Paris Conference.

In this connection attention is specially drawn to the fact, that the Line, which was preliminarily or conditionally admitted at the Paris Conference, was 11220 admitted expressly as a National Line, as far as the circumstances are known, that is: as a line similar to the one described in the plan of "Den norske Amerikalinje," whilst the division mentioned of Det Forenede Dampskibsselskab is a pure commerical line.

Neither is it well conceivable that the same North Atlantic Line, whose application for admittance was refused,—that this very same line should be admitted into the alliance of the Conference Lines at the Paris Conference held immediately afterward.

The above-mentioned division of Det Forende Dampskibsselskab lacks utterly the qualifications necessary to become a National Line, or a line qualified to receive mailsubventions and Admiralty contributions from the Norwegian State, as those for this Line intended steamers, for instance S/S "Hellig Olav," now belonging to Det Forenede Dampskibsselskab, will be incapable for maintaining any mail route. Further must every idea of Admiralty-contributions be abandoned in connection with these vessels, as it is well known, that it is the high speed which tells in this connection.

Mailsubventions or Admiralty-contribution is therefore entirely out of the question for this Line, which therefore neither is nor can be a National Line, but remains to be the very Line, whose admittance was refused at the London Conference medio October.

The Working Committee of "Den norske Amerikalinje" must under these circumstances on behalf of the subscribers to its Prospectus protest against the description of the competing Line as a National Line for Norway in any meaning of the word, and this (a National Line) we understand was the condition at the Paris Conference.

Copy of letter from the Admiral in Command to the Working Committee for the formation of the Share Company "Den norske Amerikalinje."

"Referring to the letter of 9th inst. from the honoured Committee, it is hereby stated, that the Admiral in Command to-day has addressed a letter to the War Department of which copy is attached. From this copy it will presumably 11225 appear, what position the Admiral in Command takes towards the question raised by the Committee at present stage of the matter."

Copy of letter from the Admiral in Command to the War Department, Naval:

"From the Working Committee for the formation of the Share Company "Den norske Amerikalinje" the Admiral in Command has received attached letter of 9th inst. asking if, how far and subject to that conditions the War Department will be able to employ as 11226 auxilary cruisers the ships which it is contemplated to build for the Line.

"The Admiral in Command considers it beyond doubt, that ships of this kind, with suitable guns and mountings will enter as a very useful link in Naval defence. One of the more important tasks of our Marine in case of war is to seek to hold upon the most important lines of Communications by sea & if possible to act in a disturbing manner on those of the enemy.

For the solution of this task our present material is rather unsuitable & unsufficient. For the purpose it is preferable to possess vessels of great seaworthiness & high speed, which may be calculated to be maintained also under unfavorable conditions of weather & simultaneously capable of carrying a sufficient armament of artillery. The main claim remains, that such ships shall have sufficient speed to avoid a superior opponent, & sufficient armament to accept battle with an opponent of same or greater speed."

of a communicating from the Norwegian Postmaster General to the Working Committee for the formation of the Share Company "Den norske Amerikalinje" dated 29th of October 1908

"Referring to the letter of 9th inst. from the honoured Committee, I beg to state, that I consider it likely, that a new weekly or fortnightly Norwegian Steamship Line, regularly maintained between Norway & The United States of the mails in this manner arrive equally speedily as by other means of carriage & the route otherwise is arranged in a manner suitable for the Post Office. The amount of the remuneration would eventually have to be specially arranged."

The undersigned Committee of Exchanges and Chambers of Merchants have with interest studied the accompanying proposition with the prospectus for the formation of the Share Company "Den norske Amerikalinje," and we hope, that the above share invitation will meet with general sympathy not only in Norway, but also among Norwegians in America.

The foundation of such a line will be of great national importance.

Arbitration on Pooling of Cabin Passengers

According to Minute 91 of the Cologne Meeting it was agreed by all Lines except the C. P. R. that under Commentary to Art. 2 paragraph b all passengers paying a rate less than the agreement second cabin rate 11246 of the carrying steamer must be accounted for as steeragers. The dissent is to be referred to arbitration.

The arbitration proceedings hitherto have taken place in England; hence if not otherwise agreed upon, the present case would have to be arbitrated in Germany (Art. 24a) As the matter is such a very simple one I think there may for the sake of convenience be no objection on the part of the Continental Lines nor of the British Lines to have it settled in England and I take this unless notified to the contrary.

I beg to ask the C. P. R. to nominate their arbitrator 11247 and will then ask the other Parties if they agree to him as sole arbitrator or if they prefer to appoint an arbitrator of their own. In the mean time the C. P. R. will please also prepare their statement and send it to me and I shall then send copies to the other parties.

Statistics.

From several letters which I have of late received I get the impression, that the Lines would be glad to get the weekly statistics sooner than they do now. But I am sorry I cannot help it. The English mail comes here to hand in the afternoon.

The Statements of the British Lines

Week	Arrived here	Statistics mailed
1- 7 November	12th November	13th November
8-15 "	20th "	21st "
16-23 "	28th " (Saturday)	30th "
24-30 "	5th Decbr. "	7th December
1- 7 December	12th " "	14th "

If one looks at the 3 statistics, considering what work they involve everybody must admit that what is done here is all that can be expected, I dare perhaps say a little more, for it would not be possible unless very late office hours were made.

I think matters could be expedited if each of the British Lines would make out their reports (in accordance with Art. 10) in duplo and send one of them to me direct and the other one to Secretary Smyth, as f. i. the C. P. R. always do. That might make a difference of 3-4 days.

The Allan Line would like me to telegraph to Secretary Smyth each week the total number of Continental Lines' eastbound & westbound carryings which would enable them to know their position in the Pool from five to six days earlier than at present and would frequently be of value to the British Lines.

I think the proposal of the Allan Line will meet the case to a good extent and as the Continental Lines no doubt are just as desirous to know their position as soon as possible I shall wire to Secretary Smyth the total number of westbound & eastbound carryings by the Continental Lines immediately upon receipt of his respective telegram.

"At a meeting held at Cannes on the 12th inst. the Italian Lines made the proposal, as soon as the Lines receive the confirmation that the new American Law, regulating the steerage capacity of the various steamers, will be put into effect, to approach the Italian Commissioner of Emigration, demanding that the Italian westbound cash rates for all steamers be increased by from 40 to 50 Lire i. e. in correspondence with the loss of space they sustain by the application of the new law. The Italian Lines promise to act in the same way, and they 11256 are hopeful that, if all Lines act unanimously, the result will be a favorable one, so that perhaps the rates will be increased by 25 to 30 Lires. All Lines should instruct their representatives at Genoa & Naples to act accordingly."

The Hamburg American Line desire me to promulgate their following letter:

(Translated) "In looking over the printed matters issued by the various Conference Lines we find that several of them do not duly regard Art. 24 of the N. D. L. V. Contract and Art. 16 of the A. A. Agreement, which reads:

"'No circulars or publications shall be issued by any Line reflecting upon or instituting comparisons with any Conference Line unfavorable to the latter, etc.'

"Notwithstanding, however, the Austro Americana, the White Star Line and the Cunard Line employ superlatives continually. 11271

"But if a Party asserts that it has the fastest steamers or the largest vessels, f. i. Austro Americana says:

"'the Martha Washington, the fastest liner regularly employed in the Mediterranean and Adriatic trade.'

11272 Petitioner's Exhibit 1156

"The White Star Line:

" 'Cedric, the largest vessel in the Mediterranean trade Olympic. Titanic, the largest steamer in the world building, Adriatic, the largest British twin screw steamer.'

"The Cunard Line:

" 'Lusitania and Mauretania, the largest, fastest and magnificient steamships in the world.'

"this implies, that the qualities on which stress is laid are with other parties in a less degree.

11273 "Other parties might just as well speak of the finest, best, largest, most comfortable vessels off their ports.

"But would such a proceeding be to any purpose? We hardly believe that a Party by doing so could attract a single passenger more in the course of a whole year.

"We therefore propose that in time table, handbills, etc. of the A. C. Lines and their agents superlatives should no longer be employed."

The Hamburg American Line send me a circular to their agents on this point issued in 1905, of which 11274 the enclosure is a translation.

Enclosure to G. No. 317.

Hamburg, October 30th, 1905.

To our Agents:

In order to avoid displeasing polemics the steamship Companies since years have established the rule to omit unfavorable comparisons in their publications. It is sufficient if each Company points out the advantages which may make them attractive in the eyes of the public, this however can be done without simultaneously degrading the arrangements of other companies which certainly have preeminences of their own. For this reason all superlatives as "fastest steamer," "biggest, cheapest Line," "greatest comfort," must be avoided; the exaggerated employment of superlatives always shows a bad style. Advantages may just as well and more efficiently and less obtrusively be pointed to without superlatives.

The above rule regarding publications is hereby recalled to the mind of our agents and particularly to those of them, who advertise, issue handbills, circulars and other publications of their own. In case of unfavorable comparisons, superlatives or other publications of an unfriendly character being known or coming to their knowledge we request them to inform us so that we may ask the respective Lines for redress.

Austro Americana's participation in compensation for fighting rates.

11279 Austro Americana's share in the eastbound business of the N. D. L. V. Lines and Austro-Americana itself has been fixed at 4%. This percentage in relation to the percentages of the A. C. Lines and of Transat affects the percentages over which so far the compensation moneys have been distributed in the way that the new percentages after including Austro are changed as follows:

Allan Line	4.42%
Anchor Line	3.51%
Cunard Line	13.50%
Hapag	11.03%
Nasm	5.45%
11280 Lloyd	16.77%
Red Star Line	7.64%
White Star Line	13.83%

Canpac	4.01%
Transat	9.02%
Austro	1.70%
	100.00

Petitioner's Exhibit 1158 11281

Austro Americana's share of participation under byelaw 22e hence is 1.70%. In applying the above percentages to the summary of the payments as per circular letters G. No. 117, 249, 267, 288, viz: $101,-108.76 and M 62607.30 it results that Austro Americana owes the following amounts to:

I have requested Austro Americana to remit said amounts to the respective parties.

11285 According to Minute 53 the salary of the A. C. Secretary is £2000 to be paid by all the Conference Lines on the basis provided for in Art. 23 of Agreement AA, which says: "* * * the salary of the Secretary shall be paid by the Lines in equal parts." When I computed the salary for the time March 1st to June 30th I had no information yet of Minute 53 and made the computation differently. The Red Star Line justly say that the way I did it was wrong and insist that it should be rectified. So I have to do it.

The salary for the 4 months March 1st to June 30th amounts to £666.13.4 and the Lines participating in it in equal parts are:

	Allan Line	£ 60.12. 1
11286	American Line	" 60.12. 1
	Anchor Line	" 60.12. 1
	Canadian Pacific Ry. Co.	" 60.12. 2

For July/August the salary amounts to £333.6.8 which have to be raised by the above 11 Lines.

From September 1st to December 31st the Russian East Asiatic S. S. Co. have to contribute too and hence the amount of £666.13.4 has to be raised by 12 Parties. This works out with £85.17.2 for each of the A. C. Lines and £55.11.1 for the Russian East Asiatic S. S. Co.

1) Austro Americana:

"Assuming all lines will increase in correspondence their rates for Greek and Oriental passengers agree fourth point your telegram thirteenth have instructed Italian representatives according G. No. 313."

4) Anchor Line: 11300

"Agree limit brokerage fifteen Lire from first February if all other lines conform our Naples agents advise conjunction other agents have forwarded demand Rome increase cash rate fifty Lire."

5) Hamburg American Line:

"Telegram received. We agree commission on westbound Mediterranean steerage business not to exceed fifteen Lire for all sailings on and after February first, we agree further to approach Italian government regarding advance rates as proposed in circular letter G. No. 313. Wire whether other lines also agreed above two questions." 11301

6) Cunard Line:

"Replying telegram wired you on 22nd instant regarding commission are not taking any action relative G. No. 313."

(Wire of 22nd reads: "Have no objection Italian commission if all other Lines agree.")

11302 Petitioner's Exhibit 1314

7) Atlantica:

"Replying your wire twenty-eight regarding decision fourth point your telegram thirteenth: we are favourable to same provided our colleagues are. Stop. Regarding circular letter mentioned in yours we have instructed agents Genoa and Naples accordingly and written you."

(The letter referred to reads: "In reply to your esteemed letter of the 16th inst., we now beg to inform you, that, as suggested in this letter to us, we 11303 have advised our Agents at Genoa & Naples in accordance with your instructions.")

8) Fabre Line:

"Nous recevons votre dépêche d'hier (10 h. 20 du soir), relative à la réduction des commissions sur les Westbound cash, à partir du 1 er Février.

"Nous sommes tout disposés à suivre le Lloyd Allemand et les lignes italiennes, dès qu'elles pratiqueront des réductions. Nous n'avons jamais bien compris d'ailleurs, comment les lignes italiennes ont pu prétendre 11304 qu'elles étaient engagées pour tout le mois de Janvier: la Navigazione à 25 lires, et les autres Compagnies à 35 lires. Les Compagnies ne prennent pas d'engagement de cette nature vis-à-vis de leurs représentants. Ces Compagnies avaient peut-être publié ces commissions; mais rien ne les empêchait de les modifier: si elles ne l'ont pas fait, c'est qu'elles croyaient de leur intérêt de maintenir des commissions élevées. En ce qui nous concerne, nous n'avons aucun engagement, et nous n'en prenons jamais de cette nature; nous serons donc toujours prêts à suivre les bons exemples qu i nous seront donnés pas les Compagnies Italiennes.

"La seconde partie de votre dépêche nous demandé, si nous nous sommes conformés à la proposition que faisait votre lettre-circulaire G. N. 313 du 16 Décembre: il s'agissait de demander au Gouvernement Italien une augmentation de prix, en vue de la réduction de portée des navires, par application de la nouvelle loi américaine. Nous nous sommes conformés à ce qu'ont fait les Italiens et les autres compagnies étrangères, en demandant 50 lires d'augmentation." 11306

9) The White Star Line further write on the subject:

"* * * It would seem desirable, if the reduction is agreed upon, for the Lines also to agree upon a date upon which the reduction be simultaneously advised to their agents. We consider such an understanding essential."

I beg to mention that the fourth point of my telegram of December 13th was: "Commission on westbound Mediterranean business not to exceed fifteen Lire for all sailings on and after February first, which is different from introducing the reduced commission on February first, as it clearly means that for pasengers which f. i. are booked today for a sailing on February first a commission of not more than fifteen Lire must be paid. 11307

Since the objection which the Hamburg American Line raised against the reduction of the commission on prepaid steerage tickets has thus been removed I have asked them for confirmation that they will now agree to a commission of $2 for subagents & $3 for General Agents, beginning February 1st and I shall inform the Lines of their reply as soon as received.

11308 Petitioner's Exhibit 1314

If the Lines will send me their views on the proposal of the White Star Line I shall submit them.

Respectfully,

10) Hamburg American Line:

"(Translation) After commission on cash business has been reduced to fifteen Lire commencing first February we no longer object to commission on prepaids being fixed from 11309 same date to two dollars, headagents one dollar extra. Please inform us if all parties agree, so we may instruct New York."

As all Lines except the Hamburg American Line had already before agreed to a reduction of commission on prepaids becoming operative January first it is not to be anticipated that any one should now object. If however, it should be the case will such Line please wire me, not later than 5th instant here.

The Lines no doubt will all be convinced that it will be well done if on their part the word "pool" is absolutely avoided in correspondence as well as in negotiations, agreements etc. This might also apply to the negotiations on Mediterranean business and it would certainly be advisable to eliminate the word "pool" and substitute "arrangement" or some other synonimous word.

Copy of Letter

1) London 9th January 1909.

"In view of the interesting position which the attempted revival of the New York & Continental Line has occasioned I have of course been trying to ascertain definitely what has been done. Up to yesterday afternoon the "Volturno" was not definitely chartered as Petersen had not succeeded up to then in convincing the Owners that it was safe for them to embark the steamer in the Line again. There was however 11327 to have been a meeting late last night to further consider the matter.

The proposal before the Owners on behalf of Petersen is I understand as follows:

To charter the boat on a net basis for 2 years at £600 per month Charterers paying everything, upkeep, insurance, wages, provisions, as well as all other requirements as per time charter and with option of purchase at any time during the 2 years for £45,000, which I regard as a very high price but the boat cost £85,000 and of course it is merely an option to the Time Charterer.

With regard to the prospects of the boat if she 11328 runs I understand that Passenger Agents here have accumulated some 100 passengers and that on the Continent there are also a considerable number to come forward. As regards cargo I suppose there is likely to be little or nothing.

Robertson Shankland and the East Asiatic Co., who I suppose are the real Owners of the "Avoca," are very anxious to get rid of her. Shankland has no love for Petersen and would be glad to sell the boat past him if he could and the Owners of the "Volturno" who of course have still a large unpaid claim cannot be animated by any feelings of gratitude. So far as the "Volturno" is concerned however they are of course endeavoring to collect some of their past loss as well as provide for business for the future.

Since writing above I have had a long conversation with one of the Owners of the "Volturno." I commenced by congratulating him on having been able to recharter his steamer (which is laid up) but he at once told me that I was in error in supposing that the ship was finally fixed: "she is in a good way to be fixed," he added, "but before we send her to sea again we require not only adequate guarantee for the future but a payment to some extent for our past loss" and it is this latter stipulation which is apparently hindering the completion of the negotiations. I asked him who he supposed was the man behind Petersen and he at once replied that so far as he knew it was Mackenzie and that the money was being taken from the Canadian Northern Loan just floated. This latter statement may of course be incorrect. I do not think that the negotiations (which probably involve cables to the other side) will be perfected for a day or two. It is interesting to note however that so far as the Owners of the "Volturno" are concerned, although sceptical a few days back, they are now disposed to believe that Petersen is in a fair way to accomplish his task and get the necessary money, while Petersen is stated to be again booking passengers." 11330 11331

"With further reference to what we wrote on Saturday it would appear that the agents at Rotterdam are now to be Messrs. Hudig & Veder and it is now suggested that Mr. Mackenzie has been all the while behind Mr. Petersen's operations from August last when you will remember he separated from Robertson Shankland & Co. and left these gentlemen in the cart. It is reported (we give this information with all reserve) that during this period he has drawn for absolutely necessary purposes some £7-8000 of Mr. Mackenzie's money and that the latter has put up a credit for £20,000 in the favor of the new Co. with a London Bank. The new company (which is known as the North West Shipping Co.) has taken over the 11333 'assets' of the American and European Company formed by the London Board for the control of the New York and Continental Line which was registered somewhere in America (we believe New Jersey). They have not taken over the liabilities and have paid for these so-called assets by a certain number of shares in the North West Shipping Co. We are endeavoring to ascertain the name of Petersen's Bankers which however was not divulged at the Board Meeting and until we get this and actually know that the money is there or guaranteed we shall not be disposed altogether to believe the latest statements which are however brought to us individually from three 11334 different quarters in the most positive manner."

I received the following letter from the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique:

"Nous vous remettons ci-après la copie d'une 11336
lettre que nous recevons de notre agence de New York au sujet de passagers retournés par les autorités américaines.

" 'Nous venons de recevoir du service de l'Immigration duex lettres nous réclamant la remise des documents qui ont accompagné le renvoi de deux passagers retournes par "La-Lorraine" le 17 Septembre et "La Provence" le 29 Octobre de cette année, et qui ne lui ont pas été renvoyés.

" 'En raison des difficultés que vous éprouvez à remplir les formalités exigées par ces règlements et des dépenses qu'elles occasion- 11337 nent, nous avions essayé depuis quelque temps de les éviter, en répondant au Commissaire de l'Immigration qu'à leur arrivée au Havre ces passagers étaient remis aux autorités locales qui en prenaient soin, selon les prescriptions de la loi francaise.

" 'Malheureusement nos explications n'ont pas été acceptées et on nous a fait comprendre que si nous ne nous conformions pas aux dispositions établies, le service de l'Immigration se verrait dans l'obligation d'appliquer rigou-reusement les exigences reglementaires et de faire accompagner à nos frais chaque passager jusqu'à sa destination finale par un de ses délégués, que nous serions tenus de ramener ensuite ici.

" 'Vous savez, en effet, que c'est à la suite des violantes protestations des lignes transatlantique que les autorités américaines ont consenti à cesser d'exiger, comme la loi les y autorisait, à ce que certains passagers retournés, qu'ils jugent incapables de se conduire eux-mêmes, soient accompagnés par un assistant 11339 chargé d'en prendre soin jusqu'à retour au point d'où ils sont partis.

" 'Il est donc de toute nécessité que cet adoucissement aux rigueurs des règlements nous soit continué, et dans ce but nous vous prions de faire remplir aussi exactment que possible les imprimés qui sont remis aux bords, lorsque ces passagers leur sont confiés, et de nous les retourner aussitôt que possible afin que nous les transmettions au Commissaire de l'Immigration à Ellis Island.' "

"Comme nous l'avons dit dans l'une des con-férences, nous ne pouvons pas comprendre que 11340 le gouvernement des Etats-Unis qui refuse de recevoir des passagers exige encore certaines formalités. Il nous semble que tout ce qu'un gouvernement peut faire, c'est refuser des passagers et qu'il n'a pas à s'inquiéter de ce qu'ils peuvent devenir.

"Nous vous prions de nous dire si les autres compagnies ont recu comme nous des réclamations de la part du Commissariat et quelle a été leur ligne de conduite."

The matter being one of general interest it might be well to be informed what the experiences of the other Lines are.

Respectfully,

Returned Emigrants.

I received from the French Line the following letter:

"We herewith attach copy of letter from our New-York Office regarding passengers returned by the United States Authorities.

"'We received from the Immigration De- 11342 partment two letters asking us to furnish them with the papers in connection with the return of two passengers by the "LORRAINE" on the 17th September and "PROVENCE" on the 29th October of this year, and which they have not received.

"In view of the difficulties experienced by you to comply with the formalities enacted by these by-laws and the expenses incurred in connection therewith, we had endeavoured for a time to avoid same, in stating to the Commissioner of Immigration that these passengers on their arrival at Havre, were turned 11343 over to the local Authorities who take charge of them in accordance with the French Law.

"'Our statements, however were not accepted and it was intimated to us that, if we did not comply with the rules and regulations in force, the Immigration Department would find themselves placed under the necessity of rigorously applying the law and to arrange that each returned passenger is accompanied at our expenses to his final destination by one of their representatives whom we have to send back at once.

11344 Defendants' Exhibit 81

"'You are, no doubt aware that, owing to the strong representations by the transatlantic Lines, the United States Authorities have consented to discontinue to exact, as provided for by the Law that certain passengers returned whom they consider incapable of guiding themselves, are accompanied by assistants who take charge of them till that point from which passengers have started.

"'It is therefore of great importance that this modification of the Law should remain in force, and to this end, we request you to 11345 have the printed matter which is handed to those passengers on board, most carefully made out, and to return same to us as soon as possible to enable us to furnish same to the Commissioner of Immigration at Ellis Island.'

"As mentioned by us at one of the Conferences, we fail to understand why the United States Government who refuse passengers to land, enforce also certain formalities. It appears to us that all that a Government can do, is to refuse passengers, and they do not need to be uneasy about that which may be-11346 come of them."

"Kindly let us know whether the other Companies have received similar letters from the Commissioner, and how they will deal with the matter."

The matter being one of general interest, it might be well to be informed what the experiences of the other Lines are.

Southampton, 14 January, 1909.

Allowance of More than 5% Commission to Agents in America on First-Class Business.

7½% has been allowed to agents other than General Agents in America on the fares of passengers travelling by steamers engaged in so-called cruises to the Mediterranean.

Mediterranean First-Class business is governed by Agreement "X" which provides that the regulations and conditions as per Agreement "V" applying to the North Atlantic trade also apply to the Mediterranean business.

One of these regulations provides for the payment of 5% commission with certain named minimums and that this commission is not to be exceeded except to certain general agents whose names are to be scheduled and the final clause of this regulation provides that under no circumstances is more than 5% to be given to tourist agents.

There is nothing in the Agreement "X" or "V" excluding from the regulations and conditions of these Agreements passengers carried by the steamers of the several Lines, parties to the Agreement, when engaged in cruises, and in the absence of such exclusion by Agreement I consider the regulations and conditions apply to such passengers when the cruises are within the geographical area to which the Agreements apply.

The Norddeutscher Lloyd, Hamburg Packet Co. and Cunard Lines say they were compelled to pay 7½% commission by Mr. Clark who was advertising a cruise by the White Star Liner "Arabic" and had made contracts with agents to allow 7%, from which contracts they tried to get him to withdraw but found he was unable to do so.

Mr. Clark has an absolute charter of the "Arabic," has entire charge of the booking of his passengers and pays the 7% commission himself, no part of it is paid by the White Star Line and under these circumstances the White Star Line claim that the "Arabic" cruise does not come under the conditions of the First-Class Agreement but that bookings by the Lines themselves to the Mediterranean ports, whether for single or round trip tickets, do come under the con-11357 ditions of the Agreement.

If the White Star Line was entirely unconnected with the "Arabic's" cruise a very difficult question would arise but I am not called upon to decide this very difficult point because, according to Mr. Clark's advertisement, the White Star Line is not unconnected with the "Arabic" Cruise.

In the advertisement of the "Arabic's" cruise, sent me by the Cunard Line:

(1) The "Arabic" is advertised as a White Star Steamer.

(2) Intending passengers are referred for further 11358 particulars to the White Star Line, New York.

(3) It is stated that safety is a paramount consideration with the owners of the White Star Line.

(4) It says neither we nor the owners of the White Star Line approve of over-crowding.

(5) It announces that the tickets for the cruise are good to stay over in Europe and sail later from Liverpool or Queenstown by the White Star steamers "Baltic" "Celtic" "Cedric" also by the White Star service from Naples, Genoa and from Liverpool to Boston.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1316

These tickets on which excessive commission has been allowed thus becoming available on White Star Line regular services. 11359

I assume this close identification with the White Star Line and the material advantages offered to the "Arabic's" passengers in connection with the White Star Line's regular services are advertised by Clark with the consent of the White Star Line and if so they constitute a partnership, no doubt strictly limited, but sufficient to make it obligatory on the White Star Line to see that their partner does not do what they themselves and the Lines with which they are working in agreement, are prohibited from doing. 11360

It follows from the foregoing and my Award is that the Norddeutscher Lloyd, the Hamburg Packet Co., the Cunard Line and the White Star Line are all in default in not fulfilling the obligations imposed upon them by Agreement "X."

Enclosure to G. No. 331 16/1 1909.

Southampton, 14th January, 1909.

I am asked to settle the First and Second-class rates to be charged by the "George Washington," the "Berlin" the "Cleveland" and "Cincinnati."

The basis to be applied is stated in the last section of Rule 1, Agreement V, 5th February, 1908, and Clause C of Rule 1 of Agreement W of same date, which provide that the rating is to be on a similar basis to that applied in Agreements V and W to then existing steamers. 11366

I have tried but without success to arrive at a common factor on which these rates were based, they appear to have been fixed empirically and not to have any uniform basis.

The only information given for my guidance in fixing rates for the four above named new steamers is their estimated tonnage and speed, but other qualities and circumstances entered into the determination of the rates for existing steamers and should therefore enter into the determination of Rates for the New Steamers.

For example the character and attractiveness of the accommodation and arrangements of the new steamers 11367 whether or not they are comfortable sea boats, whether they fall short of or exceed their estimated speeds, are elements that enter into the appreciation of the steamer by travellers and consequently enter into the consideration of their classification for rate purposes and until these and other things concerning new steamers are ascertained, their definite classification is not possible.

The most equitable arangement appears to be to fix provisional rates to be charged for these steamers during the year 1909, and to decide that the rates to be charged subsequently be determined by agreement or arbitration in December next and I award that the rates for 1909 be:

To or from Continent.

"George Washington"	£22:10:0	First Class
"Berlin"	£19:10:0	" "
"Cleveland"	£19: 0:0	" "
"Cincinnati"	£19: 0:0	" "
"George Washington"	£12: 0:0	Second Class
"Berlin"	£11:10:0	" "
"Cleveland"	£11 : 0:0	" "
11369 "Cincinnati"	£11: 0:0	" "

To or from England.

"George Washington"	£11: 0:0	Second Class
"Berlin"	£10:10:0	" "
"Cleveland"	£10 :10:0	" "
"Cincinnati"	£10:10:0	" "

I am further asked to fix rates to be charged for the "Berlin" under Agreement X.

Having fixed the rates she is to charge in the North Atlantic trade I am bound by the following clause in Agreement X: "The steamers not mentioned above when entering or engaging in the Mediterranean trade 11370 to be rated the same as in the North Atlantic trade," to decide that her First-class rate under that Agreement be the same, viz: £19:10:0. Agreement X does not apply to Second-class business but provides that Second-class rates are to be arranged by New York Conference, so I fix no Second-class rates for "Berlin" in Mediterranean trade.

In pursuance of G. No. 327, I beg to confirm my telegram of last night by which I informed the Lines that according to a Red Star Telegram it was rumored 11372 in Antwerp that S. S. "Jelunga" was to sail on January 30th.

The Holland America Line sent news that likewise in Rotterdam it was reported, that Petersen's New York Continental Line would have the first sailing January 30th, but the reports were not positive yet and further that it was still uncertain if the shipbrokers Hudig & Veder would take the agency.

Further on this point I have received the following letter from Mr. Ballin of January 15th:

> (Translation) "In pursuance of the two letters from a London confidence man which I have already sent you I now send you copy of 11373 > a letter which I received from a Mr. E. J. Heinz. It seems it can hardly be doubted that in spring we shall have to deal again with the competition of the reorganized New York and Continental Line which however trifling it may be will nevertheless impose upon us heavy sacrifices. As no doubt Mr. Petersen will chiefly rely upon Rotterdam I beg to ask the Directors of the Holland America Line that they take it in hand to obtain further information in this matter eventually to enter into connexion with this Mr. Heinz and at any rate to do their best possible to avert from the Atlantic Conference this gross injury."

The letter from Mr. Heinz referred to above reads:

Private.

London, 13/1, 1909.

"Dear Sir:

I presume you are aware that the joint managers of the New York and Continental Line
11375 have dissolved partnership and that Mr. Petersen has registered another company, The North West Shipping Co. Ltd., to carry on the business of the New York and Continental Line and is now making arrangements to take over the steamers that were running in this line, in which (steamers) Messrs. Robertson Shankland are still interested. Mr. Petersen is now in close negotiation for the S. S. 'Volturno' 'Avoca' and 'Jelunga' and it is necessary for his starting the Line again, that he should get these steamers. Mr. Petersen made arrangements with the Atlantic Express to book passengers, about three weeks ago and intends 11376 sailing his first steamer S. S. 'Volturno' at the end of the present month. I have been informed privately that the North West Shipping Coy have taken over all the assets and shares of the N. Y. & C. Line and also protected Mr. Mackenzie's interests in same.

"I formerly held the position of passenger-manager and superintended the general arrangements of fitting out the steamers in the N. Y. & C. Line previous to which I held a similar position in the Canadian Lines Ltd.,

Defendants' Exhibit 84. 11377

which was also managed as you are aware by Mr. Petersen. I have however now severed my connection with Mr. Petersen, but can still influence all the passenger agents on which he is depending for supply of passengers for his new Line. I feel sure that Mr. Shankland would lend me every assistance and as you can see I could be of great assistance to you, should you desire to take any steps to cripple this new venture of Mr. Petersen. I can also assure you of the support of Messrs. Shankland should you wish to place any obstacles in the way of Mr. Petersen securing the steamers 11378 mentioned.

"Should you desire any further information I will be pleased to let you have full statement of affairs private or personal interview with yourself or any of your representatives."

Yours faithfully,

Sgd. E. J. HEINZ.

Compensation for fighting rates. (G. No. 288.) 11384

The N. D. Lloyd submit for distribution amongst the parties bill for 1133 adults, 150 children and 95 infants carried at fighting rates by S. S. Barbarossa August 6th 1908.

The carrying rate has been $23.— against an ordinary rate of $28.— the difference to be compensated is therefore $5.— per adult =$6040.—

The steamer has been appointed in competition against the Russia of which the parties had been advised by circular letters G. No. 220 and G. No. 225. Subject to my verifying the bill as to the number of passengers carried, the distribution of the amount in accordance with the percentages as per G. No. 318 is 11385 as follows:

		To pay-To receive
Allan Line	4.42%	$266.97
Anchor Line	3.51%	212.00
Cunard Line	13.50%	815.40

Returned Emigrants. (G. No. 328.)

The Anchor Line write:

11393 "* * * The situation as described in the letter is not a new one. We have had passengers returned as insane, accompanied by attendants, and we were under the expense of forwarding both passengers and attendants to whatever port in Europe the passengers sailed from. This was an enormously expensive operation and to save this, as we understand it, the authorities at Newyork agreed to drop sending attendants, so long as the Ocean Lines agreed to become responsible to land the rejected passengers back in their own countries. Documents were prepared at Newyork handed to Commanders of Steamers. These documents had to be signed by the different officials handling the rejected passengers, and the final paper and to be signed by the authorities of the nation of the port the rejected passenger had first sailed from. This was taken as conclusive proof that the emigrant had been returned to his own land and was accepted as sufficient by the U. S. authorities, to whom all the documents had to be returned.

"We are still working this rejected business as described, and we do not see that any action

The Hamburg America Line wish me to promulgate with regard to the Newyork & Continental Line the 11399 following communications:

1) Letter of Mr. Heinz addressed to Director General Mr. Ballin.

Private.

"London E. C.

"Herr Ballin,
"Dear Sir,

"Re. my favor of the 13th inst. I again beg to draw your attention to the fact that Mr. Petersen has signed the charter party for the 'Volturno' and she is leaving London on the 11400 31st inst. for Rotterdam sailing from there on the 6th February. Mr. Petersen left here on the 13th inst. for Copenhagen to arrange for the 'Burma' and another two funnel steamer twin screw and is expected back here tonight. I have seen the charter party of the S. S. 'Volturno' and note that she can be sold at the end of any voyage, so she can be bought away from him at any time. I might mention that the Atlantic Express have booked up to Saturday last 200 Emigrants for the 6th February and another Agent here, a friend of mine, has now 150 to offer which no doubt Mr. Petersen will close on on his arrival, but my friend is open to wait a day or two to hear from me before signing any agreement—so if you have anything to suggest—and will wire me at once I will hold him over for a while subject to your approval. Mr. Shankland still holds the 'Avoca' and 'Jelunga' which Mr. Petersen is trying to take over and unless some other firm comes forward he will be successful in getting both vessels within the next two weeks as he intends taking over the liabilities 11402 of the steamers. Mr. Peterson has £30.000 cash here in the British Linen Bank for Working Capital. I shall be pleased to give you further particulars if I could see your representative personally here any time. My telegraphic address is Heinz c./o Inciting—London.

"Yours faithfully,

A Notice of "The Daily Telegraph" reads:

"Petersen & Co. (Ltd.) managers of the North-West Shipping Co. (Ltd.) announce that they have completed arrangements to commence a regular fast steamship service under the title of the North-West Transport Line, to trade between Hamburg, Rotterdam and New York and vice versa, calling at Halifax (outwards only) to land passengers. It is proposed to despatch the twin screw steamer 'Volturno' from Rotterdam to New York, via Halifax, on February 6th, to be followed by regular fortnightly sailings."

Defendants' Exhibit 89 11407

On the same subject the Holland America Line write:

"G. No. 332.

"With regard to the reorganised New York & Continental Line which according to rumors will again be started next month, we beg to observe that same will probably rely chiefly on 11408
Hamburg for westbound and eastbound cargoes, same as last year, whereas as far as westbound passengers are concerned they will have no share of the Dutch emigration but they will receive their westbound passengers partly from London and partly through the well-known Swiss agents stationed at Basle, which passengers have to pass through Germany and Belgium before they reach Rotterdam. Once in Rotterdam, these passengers cannot be prevented from embarking on the steamers of the New York & Continental Line, provided the steamers meet the requirements.

"It may be well to recall the results obtained 11409 by the New York & Continental Line last year Westbound:

			Halifax	New York	Total
"Volturno	March	21st	10	9	19
"Avoca	April	4th	10	14	24
"Jelunga	April	18th	19	6	25
"Volturno	May	16th	45	55	100
"Jelunga	May	31st	47	43	90
"Jelunga	July	4th	123	177	300
"Volturno	July	28th	104	66	170

11410 Defendants' Exhibit 89

"Eastbound, however, the results have been better for the New York and Continental Line:

"Volturno	from New York	April 12th	472
"Avoca	from New York	May 5th	745
"Jelunga	from New York	May 10th	721
"Volturno	from New York	June 6th	321
"Jelunga	from New York	June 20th	259
"Jelunga	from New York	July 28th	300
"Volturno	from New York	Aug. 22nd	302

"Of course the greater facility of getting into touch with agents in the U. S. as compared 11411 with those in Europe, as well as the heavy eastbound movement of last summer generally must have contributed largely towards these comparatively high figures.

"With regard to the letter written by a certain Mr. E. J. Heinz to Mr. Ballin, it will be of interest to the Lines to know that upon investigation we have learned that this Mr. Heinz is a former steward of Elder Dempster's Beaver Line. Since that Line was taken over by the C. P. R. he has not been in the employ of the latter, but seems to have drifted into the passenger business, and indeed has managed 11412 the New York & Continental Line's passenger business last year. In this capacity, all Mr. Heinz has done and had to do was to give exceedingly low rates and high commissions to the uncontroled and undisciplined passenger agencies which flourish in Switzerland, and the business that has been done came practicably entirely from them, besides a certain number which came from London to Rotterdam. We all know too much of this kind of business to believe that Mr. Heinz should be able to influence these agents at Basle, especially now that Mr. Petersen has severed his connections with him. Of course, we do not know for what reason Mr. Peterson has not kept this man Mr. Heinz, but according to information received from people who have come into contact with Mr. Heinz, the same seems to be of the kind with whom it is not advisable to enter into relation. We for our part, feel no inclination to have anything to do with him and we believe it would be advisable to leave his letter unanswered.

"With reference to the New York & Continental Line may add, that Mr. Petersen has great difficulty in finding a shipbroker in Rotterdam willing to take care of his interests. His former agents, Messrs. Otten & Son, have lost considerably in this venture and are still quite an amount of money out of pocket. Messrs Hudig & Veder who this time have been asked to act as agents, have just definitely declined to accept the agency. Under the present circumstances there is no likelihood that Mr. Petersen will find any one of good standing willing to take the agency; of course, this does not mean that he will not eventually find some second class firm." 11414 11415

It will be necessary to discuss the matter on the next meeting, for which it has been reserved.

Respectfully,

Mr. Ballin sends me for promulgation the following letter addressed on 29th January:

"Dear Sir,

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your wire enquiring the period for which the 'Volturno' had been chartered and whether Owners would entertain a charter on expiry of same. The 'Volturno' has apparently been fixed on what may be called the hire-purchase system for a period of two years but I understand that Owners have on this occasion inserted a pro- 11445 viso in the Charter Party that should they have an offer of purchase at their price of £55.000 they can withdraw the boat, on certain terms, leaving Mr. Petersen to find other tonnage to carry on his Line. The price of £600 per month is of course very high and we presume could not be entertained for such a boat as the 'Volturno' (which we think is of too weak power to be a profitable boat in the Atlantic trade) unless the payments made were to be hereafter taken into account in price.

"I have not heard anything further with regard to the 'Avoca,' and 'Jelunga' but it is generally credited here that Mr. Petersen will be able to straighten out the various difficulties and get these boats or the 'Birma.' Possibly the 'Jelunga' will be left out and the 'Birma' substituted.

"So far as I can tell the 'Volturno' will take passengers from the Hook of Holland only. For every succeeding steamer the programme I believe is to load at Hamburg and Rotterdam taking passengers who will be brought 11447 down by sea from the Russian Baltic ports at Hamburg and the rail passengers at the Hook. There are also schemes with regard to Hull and London; I do not think however that the latter Line will be started at present. Probably however they will endeavor to intercept some passengers at Hull and Grimsby and send them across to Rotterdam.

I am, Dear Sir,
Yours faithfully,"

Respectfully,

Allan Line's Notice. (G. No. 348) 11474

On this subject the following Lines have put forward their views:

Hapag:

"We herewith formally protest against the notice of withdrawal of the Allan Line from the Atlantic Conference Agreement as communicated in circular-letter G. No. 348. It is for the arbitrator to decide whether the establishment of a Canadian Service by the White Star Line, or correctly speaking, the continuation of the Dominion Line Canadian Service by the White Star Line, both Lines being incorporated in the International Mercantile Marine Company, is against the wording or spirit of the A. C. Agreement, as the Allan Line claims. In case of the Arbitrator endorsing the view expressed by the great majority of Conference Members that the White Star Canadian Service cannot be considered a new competition in the sense and meaning of Byelaw 10 Agreement A.A. provided of course the steeragers carried are accounted for to the Pool, the complaint of the Allan Line falls to the ground. Giving the notice for this contingency is equivalent to an expression of non-submission to an unfavorable award and, if acted upon, would, in our opinion, constitute a violation of the Atlantic Conference Agreement."

11476 Petitioner's Exhibit 1319

Lloyd:

"With reference to circular letter G. No. 348 we must take exception to the Allan Line claiming the right to withdraw from Agreement A.A. owing to the Dominion Line transferring 11477 part of their Canadian Service to the White Star Line, and consequently cannot accept their notice of withdrawal from said Agreement. The term 'new direct competitive Line' as it appears in Byelaw 10 to Agreement A.A. in our opinion only refers to Lines not forming part of said agreement and interfering with the interests of the Lines in general. Besides there can be no question of a new competing Line in the sense of Agreement A.A. as the I. M. M. C. who signed the agreement as such and not on behalf of the individual Lines forming part of it, have always maintained a serv-
11478 ice between Liverpool and Montreal."

I am asked to settle the First and Second-Class Rates to be charged for the S. S. "Lapland" by the Red Star Line.

For the reasons stated in my Award of the 14th January, concerning "George Washington," "Berlin," 11483 "Cleveland" and "Cincinnati," I do not fix definite rates for the "Lapland" but only the rates to be charged for that steamer during 1909 and having regard to the statements submitted by the parties and to her being run in the Red Star Line Service I award that the rates to be charged by the Red Star Line for the "Lapland" during 1909 be:

First-Class—£19.
Second-Class—Continent—£11.
Second-Class—Great Britain—£10:10:0.

"	12th	17/1, 1/2
"	13th	22/1, 4/2
"	14th	21/1
"	15th	24/1
		119/1, 5/2

11490 All of which were booked by the Universal Reisebureau Müller & Co., Vienna for the Atlantic Express.

Besides there arrived at Antwerp on February 9th 26 passengers of the Reisebureau "Vaterland" Rotterdam for "Union Ticket Office" in destination for the Anchor Line. It is conjectured that these 26 passengers arrived too late for the "Volturno" and were turned over to the Anchor Line through the Union ticket office in order to save the expenses for board & lodging.

If the North West Transport Line are making headway as above they have good chance that their next steamer will be filled thanks a good deal to the want of unanimity on the part of the A. C. Lines in dealing energetically with unreliable agents. 11491

I asked Secretary Sandford on 12th inst. if the Conference agents are allowed to work for non-Conference Lines to which he replied: "Continental, Northatlantic circular reissuing prohibiting agents work non-conference Lines."

The Canadian Pacific write with reference to G. No. 351:

> "We are at one with the Norddeutscher Lloyd in thinking that the Northwest Transport Line are not likely to do much harm after a normal state of things has been restored, and we are not in favor of putting any fighting steamers on the berth to meet this opposition." 11492

The Hamburg-American Line send me for promulgation annexed copy of a letter which they have received and they write:

11495 "We beg to remark that we do not think it advisable to consider the proposal made therein viz. to meet the North West Shipping Co.'s competition by inducing their agents to give up the agency of that company or to try to take passengers away from them by underquoting rates. To secure passengers at such low rates as mentioned in the annexed letter would of course be very easy but it would not do any harm to the North West Shipping Co. and simply benefit agents. In our opinion the only forcible means to meet the competition of the North West Shipping Co. would be to put an opposition 11496 steamer on the berth against their steamers in conformity with Atlantic Conference Byelaw 22."

With reference to the latter part of this letter Lloyd say that if the B. L. concur with the view of the other Continental Lines that byelaw 22 should be made operative again, they will not oppose, although they don't expect a favorable effect.

I await to hear what the position of the British Lines in this respect is.

57 Leadenhall Street,
London, February 9th, 1909.

Gentlemen:

I have had an interview with one of Mr. Petersen's passenger agents (and at the same time my friend). He, the agent, is quite willing to transfer 95% of his traffic to me provided I can give him as low a rate as the North West Shipping Co., i. e. £4—nett off Grimsby or London, for Canadian passengers and £4. 5— nett U. S. A. passengers off Grimsby or London.

To do this you would require to put me in a position to book passengers by one of your steamers leaving about the same date as North West Shipping Co. steamer. I have up to date here 100 passengers which I could transfer at once and probably by the 20th inst. will have a further 100 which in event of your not putting me in a position to accept them they will go to the North West Shipping Co. In addition to this I could secure the greater portion of the "Atlantic Express" passengers but I would in this case require to be in Rotterdam and have an office there and to be put in a similar position as here. I could of course get a much better rate from Rotterdam—Petersen's rate at present is £5.17.6. nett from that port.

Should my suggestions meet with your approval I will be pleased to go further into details with you at once or on the other hand I will be pleased to act on any suggestions you may put forward in this matter—if you desire me to secure the present passengers it will be necessary for me to act promptly—Mr. Petersen has a steamer for his second sailing (20th or 27th inst.) which is fitted for 700 passengers—up to the present, however, I have not been able to ascertain her name.

We have been advised that the pending arbitration between ourselves and the White Star Line cannot possibly deal with the question of our right to retire from the Conference in accordance with Byelaw No. 10, as that would be a question not between ourselves and the White Star Line, but between ourselves and the whole of the Conference Lines. Our notice reserving this right is, therefore, not an expression of non-submission to an unfavorable award. We have given the notice because we have ascertained that the award by the Arbitrator in the present case 11517 cannot deal with the matter in question. If the other Conference Lines were willing that the question of our right to retire under Byelaw 10 should be submitted as an additional question to the Arbitrator appointed to decide between ourselves and the White Star Line, and decided by him, we would of course be willing to accept his decision. The Red Star Line now write with reference to G. No. 357:

"Accepting passengers from agents working for the North Western Line at the same rates as quoted by the North Western would strengthen these agents and weaken our own. We think that any agent interested in passengers for the North Western should be disqualified and such disqualification should be 11525 strictly enforced so that such disqualified agents would have no chance to get off the passengers who do not catch the scarce & irregular sailings of the North Western. We have seen that recently the Anchor Line accepted such passengers through their Antwerp agents, which should not be. We, therefore, propose for disqualification.

"also any other agent, who shall be found to have procured passengers for the North Western.

11526 "For Eastbound business the situation is different & we continue to believe that Byelaw 22 is the best measure the Lines can adopt."

As far as the Universal-Reisebureau (Onciul) Vienna is concerned the Continental Lines agree that it has to be disqualified, provided the British Lines will join. It has also been moved to disqualify the agent Zürcher of Chiasso and several of the Continental Lines have already agreed. I await to hear if the British Lines concur.

Mr. Ballin cables me from New York that it would be a great convenience to him, if the next Atlantic Conference Meeting which has to take place at London on March 25th could be arranged to be held on the Continent. I therefore beg to ask if the Parties can see their way to oblige Mr. Ballin, in which case I would propose Brussels as a convenient place if Paris is not preferred. 11528

I take it for granted if the next meeting is held on the Continent, there will be no objection to the two following meetings being held in London.

The Hamburg American Line reported on 20th inst. that the "Libauische Zeitung" of 16th inst. contained the following article:

"Resumption of the trips of the Volunteer Fleet between Libau & Newyork."

"The Port authorities here received today an official telegram from the inspector of the Volunteer Fleet in Petersburg, by which the rumour that the Line Libau-Newyork of the Volunteer Fleet will be resumed in the second 11532 half of the year is fully corroborated."

Hapag asked me to ascertain what truth there is in the report and I wrote to the Russian Eastasiatic. Before my letter reached them they write:

"Privately we are informed that Mr. Samuel Freydberg of the Firm Karlsberg, Spiro & Co. and Robert Falck of the Firm Knie, Falck & Co. are presently in Petersburg where they are conferring with the Volunteer Fleet on an eventual resumption of the sailings to America. The two firms are to take the agency against guarantee of a certain number of passengers p. sailing. We have instituted enquiries and if the rumour should be confirmed we shall revert to the matter."

Perhaps I shall also hear from other quarters to which I have applied on the subject.

"NEW YORK STAAT'S ZEITUNG FEB. 9, 1909.

"Mediterranean-American traffic on equal basis as from other ports of Europe.

"Paris, February 8th. After meetings lasting several months, the representatives of the French, German, Italian, English and Spanish Transatlantic S. S. Companies have arrived at 11537 an agreement covering all points which were effected by the rate war in the traffic between the Mediterranean ports and America. The conditions have not yet been made public, but the basis for the agreement covering the steerage and second cabin traffic, one of the chief points in dispute, is the same as was used for the carryings between other European ports and North America. In the course of the last three years the reduction of the rates by the Italian and the other Lines had brought only loss to all parties."

("As advised in yesterday's Berlin's special

"We have the following news on the measures taken by the new Company of Mr. Wm. 11558 Petersen. The Company has chartered the S. S. 'St. Domingo,' said steamer being originally owned by the Union Castle Line under the name of 'Raglan Castle' passed into the hands of the Danish Eastasiatic Co. who about a year ago returned her to the builders, a Glasgow shipyard. From them Petersen engaged the steamer on time charter. The steamer which has been renamed 'Raglan Castle' had been ordered to Hamburg for the purpose of loading here a quantity of cargo which Petersen's brokers Menzell & Co. had engaged. Upon arrival at Cuxhaven on 28th February how- 11559 ever she had been ordered to Rotterdam instead of Hamburg. As the parties are aware a number of steeragers are waiting here for her and like her predecessor the 'Volturno' she will probably sail for New York with steeragers but without cargo. To carry the Hamburg cargo, Menzell & Co. have chartered the British steamer 'Aldgate' for a trip to New York; this steamer has arrived here in order to load on the 1st of March."

In fact the proposition appeared to us so absurd and so entirely out of question that we have never considered it for a single moment. Dear Sirs: 11595

Your favors of 2nd and 5th inst. are duly to hand and we note that we are now in accord to appoint Sir Robert Finlay K. C. as sole arbitrator.

We have now had an opportunity of further considering the points discussed in our letter of the 26th ultimo and your reply of the 2nd instant, and we see no reason for departing from the position we have taken up.

We have however no wish to be Judges in our own cause and we are quite content to leave Sir Robert Finlay to decide between us the questions raised in our letter of the 26th ultimo. In saying this we must make it clear that such reference to Sir Robert Finlay will, in our opinion be in no sense a reference to arbitration under the Agreements upon which you are making your claims, as the question of whether we are parties to the Agreement A. A. is a preliminary point to be disposed of before your claims can be investigated.

As you have sent copies of our past correspondence to Secretary Peters we are not doing so but will send him for circulation a copy of this and our future letters on this matter and if you will do the same the Conference Lines will be kept posted.

Dear Sirs:

In reply to your letter of the tenth instant we are not preparing any preliminary statement in reply to yours until we know whether there is to be an arbitration between us under the terms of Agreement A. A. 11611

The reference to Sir Robert Finlay to which we agreed in our letter of the 9th instant is a reference quite outside of the provisions of the Agreement A. A., and until the preliminary point we have raised has been disposed of we do not think any useful purpose would be served by our preparing an answer to your Statement of your claims under that Agreement. We say this as if our view as to the position is correct then it is clear that you will have to redraft your preliminary statement in the event of your claiming arbitration as against the I. M. M. Co. 11612

Yours faithfully,

26.

Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co.,

Dear Sirs:

11613

We have your letter of yesterday, and we must say that we regard your positoin as quite unjustifiable.

In your letter of 24th December last, you proposed Sir Robert Finlay as sole arbitrator—not merely on any special point, but on the whole questions between the Allan Line, and the White Star and Dominion Lines which it was agreed at the Conference Meeting at Cologne should be referred to arbitration. You also suggested that we should prepare a written statement of our case to which you would reply. We have agreed to the arbitrator proposed, and to the procedure generally, reserving our right to answer your reply in detail. We have sent you the preliminary statement of our case, and it lies now with you to send us your answer. The point you raise that, as you say, the White Star and Dominion Lines are not parties to, nor bound by Agreement "A. A." may be part of your answer, but it is only a part, and you may be found to be wrong in your contention. At all events, it is unheard of that a defence should state only a preliminary point, and not deal with the merits as well. It is not for us to raise your point, and we adhere to the statement of claim we have sent you, as 11615 the substance of our claim is not affected by your contention, and we can easily deal with the points raised in our reply to your answer. In any case, the arbitrator could not decide the question you raise without going into the facts detailed in our statement.

11614 Petitioner's Exhibit 1325

We must therefore, ask you, without further delay, to prepare and send us your answer.

Yours truly,

(Sgd.) JAS. & ALEX. ALLAN.

11621 The reports that the Russian Volunteer Fleet are contemplating to resume their service and further that the North West Transport Line are treating with them on the carryings of the Prepaids of the Russian Volunteer fleet is corroborated by the following notice in the Shipping Gazette of 13th instant:

"North West Transport Line."

"The Kölnische Zeitung learns that this line, 'an English undertaking in which, also, a Hamburg firm of shipowners is interested,' intends shortly to run a weekly service from Hamburg and Rotterdam to Canadian ports. The undertaking is completely independent of the North Atlantic Conference. It is noteworthy, 11622 it is remarked, that heretofore the vessels of the Line have only taken cargo at Hamburg, but the managers now contemplate the carriage of emigrants. By its agreement with the Russian Volunteer Fleet, which is also outside the pool, the North-West Transport Line will be able to carry Russian emigrants by way of Rotterdam to Canada."

Mediterranean Westbound Business & Continental Lines. 11624

I received a letter from Mr. Cosulich, that in the course of a recent conversation with Mr. Crespi this gentleman had complained that Northern Lines quoted special rates for Italians through agents in Switzerland, whilst Italian Lines did not make special rates for Continental business.

If Mr. Crespi's allegations should be founded I would have to draw the attention of the A. C. Lines to Minute 18. "No special rates may be made either in Europe or in America without previous assent of all Lines," and of the Canadian Lines to clause 5b, c. & 6a of Agreement Z. 11625

I have written to Mr. Crespi with reference to his grievance, that I had no knowledge of special rates for Italians on the part of Conference Lines, but that I would submit the matter to the Lines.

I have further told him, that his complaints most likely referred to the North West Transport Line, which on their last sailing had taken 61 Italians, that the Conference Lines were fighting this line with all means that might answer the purpose, that the New York agents of this Line were C. B. Richard & Co.

11626 Petitioner's Exhibit 1205

who are also Agents of the Lloyd Italiano and that it was a curious state that they should allow C. B. Richard & Co. to give their assistance to a line which was injuring the interests of the Italian Lines and probably would do so still more in future if the efforts to advance the Italian rates were successful. I have submitted to Mr. Crespi to put Mr. Richard before the alternative of either giving up the agency of the Lloyd Italiano or of the North West Transport Line and told him, that if C. B. Richard & Co. should prefer the latter agency he would likely be disqualified by all the other S. S. Lines in the North Atlantic trade.

Dear Sirs,

11634 We are in receipt of your letter of the 12th instant. We regret that you should regard the position we have taken up as unjustifiable but we must adhere to it.

We are and always have been content to Sir Robert Finlay acting as sole arbitrator on any claims you may bring forward under the agreement A. A., but so far you have not in our opinion made any claims under that Agreement.

We appreciate that you do not agree with us on this point and we are therefore content to leave Sir Robert Finlay to decide between us the questions raised in our letter of the 26th ultimo., but these are, in our opinion preliminary questions which must be disposed of before we can deal with your statement of claim. 11635

We would suggest that you should obtain an appointment before Sir Robert Finlay and ask for his directions as to the procedure to be adopted. As the preliminary questions are purely legal ones we should propose to be represented at the appointment by counsel.

Dear Sir:

Re Passengers per S. S. "Volturno" Rotterdam-Halifax.

Your L. P. 1452 of 15th ult.

Chicago, Ill.	10
Western U. S.	28

11644 Petitioner's Exhibit 1327

Montreal	9
Canadian Northwest	4
Toronto	2

	102 Souls

The Grand Trunk secured one ticket to Belleville, but the balance were routed over the Canadian Pacific under instructions from the New York Office of the North West Transport Co., Messrs. Piciford and 11645 Black, assuming that this was done through arrangements with the Canadian Pacific for payment of commission.

In view of the fact that we did not get any of this business last season, I am at a loss to understand why Mr. Peterson should have issued instructions for such routing, unless he had been promised commission either directly or indirectly, and I am afraid this is one case at least where the Canadian Pacific are hoodwinking us.

You will also recollect that the line of steamers which the conference lines put on jointly to destroy the traffic of the Peterson line, also turned over all of its business to the Canadian Pacific; in fact their agent 11646 at Halifax was a Canadian Pacific Travelling Passenger Agent at that point, so that we are apparently being sacrificed by our friends and the enemy alike.

Under the circumstances I cannot see any reason why we should further refrain from making an arrangement, providing the financial end of it is safe, towards having this business sent over our route, or having an agreement made with the competing conference lines that we should receive in addition to a share of their traffic, sufficient business to make up for the loss sustained from the Northwest Transport Co.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1327 11647

If the Canadian Pacific is honest in its protestations that no commission will be paid to the Northwest Transport Co., they should be quite willing to have our line receive a fair share of that traffic, even to the extent of paying for it, if they have no other means of controlling it for us.

I shall be glad if you will take what action you see fit towards securing proper recognition on this traffic.

Dear Sir,

Certain questions have arisen between the Allan Line Steamship Co. Ltd., the White Star Line and the Dominion Line under four Agreements relating to the North Atlantic Passenger Conference, known as Agreements "A. A.," "V." "W" and "Z," of which 11667 we enclose copies, and it has been agreed to refer these questions to Sir Robert B. Finlay as sole arbitrator. The Allan Line whom we represent, had prepared and sent to the other parties a Statement of their Claim, but the White Star and Dominion Lines wish to have a preliminary question as to the effect of the Agreement "A. A.," determined first, and have asked our Clients to communicate with Sir R. B. Finlay with the view to obtaining an appointment to arrange procedure. While not acknowledging that the course suggested by the White Star Line is the proper

Dear Sirs,

I am obliged by your letter of yesterday with reference to the arbitration in the above matter.

I have spoken to Sir Robert Finlay with regard to his acceptance of the appointment as Arbitrator, but 11670 before accepting he desires me to ascertain approximately how many sittings would be required, as his engagements at the Courts will prevent him undertaking any arbitration of a protracted nature, and any appointments except after 4 o'clock would be subject to his Court engagements and there is usually some difficulty in arranging meetings convenient to all parties engaged.

Under these circumstances I shall be glad if you would favour me with your views as to the length of time and number of sittings that will be necessary and whether any witnesses will be called, and I will

Dear Sir,

We have received your letter of yesterday. As the parties have come to a practical Agreement that the Pleadings should be in the form of written Statements on either side, answered and adjusted, it is not at all likely there will be many sittings in the Arbitration, and so far as we can foresee, as the main facts are admitted, it will not be necessary to call evidence 11673

Cunard Line's Fiume Service. 11678

The Cunard Line write under date March 20th as follows:

"With reference to the provisional arrangement come to between the Cunard Line and the Conference Lines at Paris on the 22nd October last, vide Minute 76, for the inclusion of the Cunard Line's Westbound Fiume Service in the Atlantic Conference, we beg to refer to our letter of the 28th December, 1908, intimating in reply to your enquiry that negotiations up to that time had not resulted in our obtaining the approval of the Hungarian Government, and further, that applications made by this Company for permission to vary rates in order to regulate the traffic in the manner provided by Agreement A. A. had been declined, thus making it impossible for our Westbound Fiume Service to come under that Agreement, as from the 1st November, 1908. We now beg to mention that further negotiations have since taken place, with a view to obtaining the necessary approval of the Hungarian Government, but the Government will not give their 11679 sanction as certain arrangements between themselves and the Continental Lines have not been settled. Under these circumstances, we have no alternative but to give formal notice that as we have been unable to obtain the approval of the Hungarian Government as contemplated by Minute 76 above referred to, the inclusion of the Westbound Fiume Service in the Pool cannot be carried out. If, as a result of subsequent negotiations, we should be able to obtain the consent of the Hungarian Government to such an arrangement, we should be quite willing for the matter to be brought up afresh for consideration by the Atlantic Conference. Until then, the Cunard Company's Fiume Service will continue to be worked as already provided for under Appendix III of Agreement A. A.

11680

Kindly place this letter on Agenda for the next meeting of the Atlantic Conference."

The matter is placed on the Agenda.

Respectfully,

104. Revival Byelaw 22. The Lines, Allan excepted, agree to revive Byelaw 22 to meet the competition of the North West Transport Line. The Allan Line's share of participation to be borne by the other Lines in proportion to their shares.

105. Reisebureau Vaterland. At the request of the Anchor Line the disqualification of the Reisebureau "Vaterland" is to be reconsidered by the British Lines.

106. Infants rates. Agreed to fix the infant rates

11699

	I. class	II. class	III. class
Westbound:	M 40.—	M. 30.—	[M. 10.—	plus headtax for aliens

Eastbound:	" 40.—	" 30.—	" 10.—

except for Italian third Class business. The question of commission to be decided by the Liverpool Conference. These rates to come into operation on July 1st.

107. Cabin rates Mauretania, Lusitania, Caronia, Carmania, Oceanic, Adriatic. All Lines, except as mentioned below, agree to reduce the present agreement first class rates of Mauretania and Lusitania, and the second class rates of Caronia, Carmania, Oceanic, Adriatic by 10/—or its equivalent in each case, eastbound and westbound. In view of Allan Line's objection to both classes, and Cie. Gle. Transatlantique to the second class the proposed alterations to be referred to Mr. Wilding for arbitration.

108. First class Commission in New York. The question of reducing 1st class commission in New York to 2% was deferred to further consideration.

109. Places of meetings. The next two meetings to be held in London. Places of subsequent meetings to be arranged later.

110. Dr. Barnardo's charity children. The proposition of the Dominion Line for charity children of Dr. Barnardo being excluded from the Pool is deferred to next meeting, the Allan Line recording their objection to the proposal.

111. Passengers to St. Pierre, New Foundland. It is confirmed that passengers by direct steamers to St. Pierre New Foundland do not come under the Agreements Z and AA.

112. Arbitration of notice of withdrawal of the Allan Line from Agreement AA. The result of the pending arbitration between Allan Line and White Star Line to be waited before taking action as regards the notice of withdrawal of the Allan Line from Agreement AA. In the meantime the other Lines protest against the action of the Allan Line and will in due course take same to arbitration. Mr. Ballin undertaking to prepare the case for the Conference Lines, other than the Allan Line.

113. Extension of Byelaw 78. Agreed, except by Allan Line, that Minute 78 as far as it refers to prepaids of the Russian Volunteer Fleet, forwarded by the Russian East Asiatic Steam Ship Co., shall apply also to those prepaids forwarded before the date of the respective arrangement viz: October 22.

11703

114. Commission of Grand Trunk Railway to North West Transport Line. Letter from Grand Trunk Railway submitted, the C. P. R. representative advises they only allowed commission to the North West Transport Line on inland business, because they had been unable to induce the Grand Trunk Railway to agree not to do so and after they had found that the Inter Colonial Grand Trunk connection at Halifax were paying commission.

11704 Petitioner's Exhibit 1329

Mr. Sanderson was requested to approach the Grand Trunk Railway with a view to facilitating an agreement between the two Canadian railways (including Inter Colonial Railway) to allow no commission to the North West Transport Line.

115. Proposed pool for second class business. The proposed general advance of westbound 2nd class rates was not agreed to, but an alternative suggestion to form a pool for second class business was made. The matter to be brought up at the next meeting. In the meantime the Secretary to circulate statistics for con-11705 sideration.

116. Cunard's Fiume service westbound. The letter from the Cunard Line in regard to the Fiume westbound service, cancelling Minute No. 76 viz:

Liverpool March 20, 1909.

"With reference to the provisional arrangement come to between the Cunard Line and the Conference Lines at Paris on the 22nd October last, vide Minute 76, for the inclusion of the Cunard Line's Westbound Fiume Service in the Atlantic Conference, we beg to refer to our 11706 letter of the 28th December, 1908, intimating in reply to your enquiry that negotiations up to that time had not resulted in our obtaining the approval of the Hungarian Government, and further, that applications made by this Company for permission to vary rates in order to regulate the traffic in the manner provided by Agreement AA had been declined, thus making it impossible for our Westbound Fiume Service to come under that Agreement, as from the 1st November 1908. We now beg to mention that further negotiations have since taken place, with a view to obtaining the necessary approval of the Hungarian Government, but the Government will not give their sanction, as certain arrangements between themselves and the Continental Lines have not been settled. Under these circumstances, we have no alternative but to give formal notice that as we have been unable to obtain the approval of the Hungarian Government, as contemplated by Minute 76 above referred to, the inclusion of the Westbound Fiume Service in the Pool cannot be carried out if as a result of subsequent negotiations we should be able to obtain the consent of the Hungarian Government to such an arrangement, we should be quite willing for the matter to be brought up afresh for consideration by the Atlantic Conference. Until then, the Cunard Company's Fiume Service will continue to be worked as already provided for under Appendix III of Agreement AA."

was read, and the notification accepted.

117. First class intermediate season schedules. It was agreed by all the Lines interested that the 1st class intermediate schedules as per Minute 96 are to be in the hands of all Agents not later than 3rd April next, after being first circulated through the Conference Secretary.

118. Control stations. The question of the Control Stations was mentioned and the German Lines promised to pursue the matter further with the view to according facilities to passengers for the British Lines passing through the Control Stations en route to Rotterdam and Antwerp.

119. Agreement BB. Agreement BB with the Russian East Asiatic Co. was duly signed by all the A. C. Lines.

11710 Petitioner's Exhibit 1329

120. Negotiations Scandinavian American Line. The N. D. L. V. Lines agreed to the British Lines taking up negotiations with the Scandinavian American Line with the view to bringing them into the General Pool, the Scandinavian American Line not having been able to carry out the agreement made in Paris in October last which required them to establish Norwegian, Swedish and Danish services with five ships. The N. D. L. V. Lines leave the British Lines full discretion with regard to percentages, sailings, etc., but do not agree to the Scandinavian American Line being permitted to carry Continental passengers.

121. Jewish Hilfsvereine. The question of disqualifying the Reisebureau Jewish Hilfsverein was not adopted.

122. Proposed advance in II cabin rates. The British Lines agree to advance their second class rates of Continental ports by 10 sh. provided the Continental Lines agree amongst themselves to make a similar advance.—Allan Line's Havre service excepted but subject to negotiations between the Allan Line and the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique.

123. C. P. R. Employees. The question of C. P. Ry. carrying their Railroad employees 1st and 2nd class at reduced rates without accounting for them to the Pool was referred to, and it was agreed that the C. P. Ry. be accorded this privilege. The Allan, Dominion and Donaldson Lines reserving the same right.—The number of passengers so carried to be exchanged between the Canadian Lines.

With the above exception all passengers paying less than Agreement 2nd cabin rate by the carrying steamer are to be pooled.

124. Exchange of Ppd Statistics of C. P. R. and Allan Line. The C. P. R. and Allan Lines agree to exchange their prepaid statistics with other Lines.

Advance in Continental eastbound steerage rates.

The Parties are aware that at the Paris Meeting the Cunard Line agreed to an advance of Mediterranean steerage rates by $3 and that therefore there seemed to be no longer an obstacle to the general advance which had been recommended by cable to Mr. Sandford of February 7th. A corresponding cable was sent to Mr. Sandford on March 26th.

11728 Petitioner's Exhibit 1216

I now however learn by a cable which Lloyd has received, that this proposed advance has not gone into effect, because the Fabre Line demand for their S.S. "Roma" a differential rate which other lines (which ones is not stated) are not willing to concede.

The Holland America Line, presuming that the Italian eastbound rates had been advanced by $3 proposed that also the continental steerage rates should be increased by the same amount.

I am in communication with the Fabre Line and with the Italian Lines trying if the obstacle to the advance cannot be removed. If there should be no re-11729 sult there are two questions.

1) Can the eastbound continental steerage rates be advanced without risk to lose too many passengers to the Italian Lines, or

2) would the A. C. Lines agree to ask the Fabre Line how many % in excess of the number of steeragers which they actually get on the next sailings of the "Roma" they estimate they would have got if the differential which they claim had been granted and how much they estimate the net profit from each such passenger. And would the A. C. Lines agree to compensate the Fabre Line the amount of their thus estimated 11730 loss in the proportion of their eastbound continental carryings from the date of the advance in continental rates up to May 31st.

The "Roma" sailed from New York February 27th and I think they could not possibly make more than one sailing before June 1st. So the compensation which the Fabre Line could claim would not amount to much, whilst $3 increase on all continental steeragers would mean quite a lot of money.

Pooling Passengers to & from Newfoundland. 11762

I beg to submit the following correspondence :

1) The Allan Line to the Secretary, March 30th:

"Referring to the Minutes of the meeting held at Paris on 25th inst., it appears from paragraph 8 that it is now agreed that Newfoundland passengers are not poolable under agreements, 'Z' and 'A.A.' We find that under a misapprehension as to this point we have pooled in 1908 one hundred and fifty-three Eastbound passengers from Newfoundland, and we have, therefore, overstated our carrying to this extent. We, therefore, claim a return of £612 to correct the above over-statement. 11763

"We expect to have a further claim regarding Continental passengers carried Westbound to Newfoundland, and shall communicate with you when we have the figures before us."

2) The Secretary to the Allan Line, April 3rd:

"Minute 8 does not say that New Foundland passengers are not poolable but, that passengers by direct steamers to St. Pierre, New

11764 Petitioner's Exhibit 1223

Foundland do not come under the Agreements Z. & A.A. If this is applicable to your case please let me have details."

3) The Allan Line to the Secretary, April 6th:

"We have your letter of 3rd inst. We are quite aware of the wording of the Minute of 25th March, 09, paragraph 8, but we have to point out that this wording clearly implies that Newfoundland passengers are not poolable.

"We have never had any direct steamers to St. Pierre, Newfoundland, but we have always 11765 had a regular service of direct steamers to and from St. John's, Newfoundland, and, as already advised, we have included by mistake in last year's returns a number of Newfoundland passengers. Apart from the Minute above referred to, we think it is clear from the wording of the agreements themselves that Newfoundland passengers are not poolable, and should not have been included in our returns. Newfoundland is an Island Colony, with separate Government, not included in the Dominion of Canada, and as the scope of Agreements 'A.A.' and 'Z' is expressly limited by the first Article 11766 in each agreement to passengers 'to and via the United States of America and Canada' and 'vice versa,' we think it is obvious that Newfoundland business does not come under these agreements, and therefore is not poolable.

"In 1908 the Eastbound numbers from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Glasgow were 153. The number of Westbound Continental passengers was only 2, so that the total number wrongly included for which we claim a return from the Pool is 155. For the present season and in future, we propose to exclude all Newfoundland business from our Pool returns."

I leave it to the Atlantic Conference to deal with the arguments of the Allan Line at the next meeting. But as the Allan Line have always had a regular service to and from "St. John's, Newfoundland" and as the figures of their carryings are consequently included in those figures on which their percentage is based, I think it obvious that the passengers have to be pooled.

Respectfully,

White Star £ 5 Greek rate. 11774

By G. 409 the Parties are informed that the White Star Line made a rate of £ 5 off Cherbourg for Greek and Oriental passengers. When they advised me of this rate I asked how they considered this consistent with Byelaw 18 and upon receipt of their reply that it was for adjustment purposes I wired them, that adjustment measures were also subject to Byelaw 18. The White Star Line then wrote me the following letter:

> "We are in receipt of your favour of the 3rd instant confirming telegrams passed with regard to the recent reduction made in our third class 11775 > rate off Cherbourg for Greek and Oriental business, and, in reply thereto, can only repeat the information given in our telegram of the 3rd instant, that the change in rate has been made with the view of adjusting our pool position in accordance with Article 11 of Agreement AA. it being incumbent upon the Lines to adopt measures calculated to bring about a correct adjustment.
>
> "The British Lines' third class rates for British, Scandinavian and Continental business

11776 Petitioner's Exhibit 1225

are not on a uniform basis and it has, as you are of course aware, been the practice to apply rate alterations to the different traffic and ports according to circumstances.

"We have for some time been quoting the following rates for Continental business:

"Riga, Libau, 200 Marks gross.

"Hamburg, Bremen, Rotterdam, Antwerp, 180 Marks gross.

"Havre, 160 Marks gross or 181.25 fcs. nett.

"Cherbourg, 150 Marks gross or 168.75 fcs.

11777 nett.

"We therefore fail to see how it can be assumed we are adopting a special rate for Cherbourg business when our action is only continuing a long established policy."

It is this letter to which the following letter from the Hamburg American Line refers:

"We do not agree with the standpoint taken up by the White Star Line in regard to their quoting special rates for Greek and Oriental passengers off Cherbourg without having previously obtained the consent of the other par-11778 ties.

"It is quite true that the British Lines' third class rates for British, Scandinavian and Continental business are not on a uniform basis, but to the best of our knowledge the rates within each class of business are, so that for instance there are not two or more rates (i. e. ocean rates) at the same time in force for British passengers embarking on the same steamer for the United States, or two or more rates for Scandinavian passengers embarking on the same steamer at Liverpool for the United States or Canada. This is at least the established principle governing the rates for Continental business.

"The Agreement AA. in its main body does not make any difference as to British, Scandinavian and/or Continental passengers; it is only said in Appendix 1, under 2), that for British and Scandinavian business present rules and regulations are to apply. Nor does Agreement A.A. exclude the Continental Lines from carrying British or Scandinavian business. This obligation is, however, contained in Clause 13 of Agreement Z of even date, which forms a complement to Agreement A.A. It is to Agreement Z we must look for the definition of a Continental passenger, which is given in Clause 3 as follows:

"A Continental passenger is (a) every passenger carried by the Lines parties to this agreement coming from or via ports between Cronstadt and Bordeaux inclusive."

"The distinction which the White Star Line seeks to import into Agreement A.A. between Continental and Greek and Oriental passengers is arbitrary and in contradiction with the rules established by contract. It is a distinction which is contained in another Agreement on Mediterranean business, which has nothing to do with the Agreements A.A and Z. A Greek or Oriental passenger embarking at Cherbourg or coming via Cherbourg is a Continental passenger in the sense of Agreement A.A. or Agreement Z. as well as any German, French or Swiss, etc. passenger embarking at or coming via Cherbourg. Quoting for the latter a regular rate of M 150 gross=Fcs. 168.75 net, and for the former £5 net=Fcs. 125 net.

means quoting a special rate for a part of the Continental business, and, without having obtained the previous consent as prescribed by Byelaw 18, is against the contract.

"If the White Star Line say in their letter of 7th inst. that they are only continuing a long established practice, then we must own that we were not aware thereof for the time the Agreement A.A. is in existence, otherwise, we would have protested forthwith.

"Looking at the position of the White Star 11783 Line in the General Pool we quite appreciate that they are adopting measures to adjust the pool-position. However, introducing special rates for a part of the Continental business is not only against the rules, but in our opinion an insufficient measure, and we therefore move that the White Star Line reduced their Continental rate allround and withdraw their special rate for part of Continental business."

Will the White Star Line and also the other A. C. Lines please let me know their position with regard to the motion of the Hamburg American Line.

Another very serious case of this nature has recently come to our notice. We have been informed on very good authority that the Italian Commissariate are not only informed of the existence of the "Atlantic Conference" but know all the rules and regulations governing it, in fact this authority is said to be so well informed of all the conditions of the said contract that they appear to be in possession of a copy of same. As the Italian Lines, so far as we know, have never

"We have perused the letters sent to you by the Allan Line on this question and we also note the remarks you make on these letters. In our view we can only say that we entirely agree with your contention. At the Paris Meeting held on the 25th March, the question of pooling passengers that had been carried by the French Line to St. Pierre was not meant 11814 to cover traffic to Newfoundland. The traffic concerned was solely that of Fishermen going out direct to the port of St. Pierre and or by special steamers. The question of carryings to and from St. Johns Newfoundland or other port under the ordinary tariff was not thought of at Conference."

11825 "We have to say that we feel strongly that the minimum second cabin rates at present in force for our Havre service are fixed too high, and we cannot entertain any advance. On the contrary, we have to propose a reduction. Our difficulty could not be removed by negotiation with the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique as the competing rates by some of the British Lines are even more unfavorable to our service than any rates in force by the Cie. Gle. Trans. As one instance of this we would mention the following rates made from Paris by the Liverpool steamers of the White Star & Dominion Line:

By 'Laurentic' and 'Megantic'	280 francs.
'Canada' and 'Ottava'	265 francs.
'Dominion' and 'Vancouver'	250 francs.

ATLANTIC CONFERENCE.

Secretary's Office
Telegraph Address:
"Secretair," Jena.

Jena, April 30th, 1909.

To the Parties:

Arbitration clause 107.

I beg to promulgate the following statement of the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique re the proposed reduction in I and II class rates of Mauretania, Lusitania, 11831 Caronia, Carmania, Oceanic and Adriatic:

"Under Agreement W the steamers:
'Adriatic'
'Carmania'
'Caronia'
'Oceanic'

are to quote the minimum rate of £12 off Continental ports for second class business.

"On the 25th of March in a meeting held in Paris the Cunard Co. & White Star Line seeked to obtain a lower minimum rate for the above named steamers, and they asked that the min-11832 imum rate stipulated in agreement W should be reduced by ten shillings. This reduction was granted to them by the members of the Atlantic Conference with the exception however of the Allan Line and the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique.

"The Cie. Gie. Transatlantique cannot possibly accept such a reduction, for it would upset the classification adopted in London on February 5th, 1908 which seemed to every one concerned to be just and fair. Were the Cu-

Petitioner's Exhibit 1238 11833

nard Co. & White Star allowed to quote £11. 10.0 off Continental ports for their steamers 'Adriatic,' 'Caronia,' Carmania,' 'Oceanic' it would mean that these steamers which are of recent built (at least the first three ones) and whose tonnage is 24500 & 19500 respectively are entitled to the same rate as 'La Savoie' & 'La Lorraine' steamers of 11,000 tons which have already been running 9 years in the New York service. Such a result would be an anomaly and it is evident that there must be a differential of at least 10 shillings between 11834
'Adriatic,' 'Carmania,' 'Caronia' & 'Oceanic' on one side and 'La Savoie' & 'La Lorraine' on the other.

"Besides, the Strassers' statistics do not show that the year 1908 (the first year of the Agreement W) was not favorable to the White Star & the Cunard Line as far as second class business is concerned.

"According to the said statistics there was a large decrease in the number of second class passengers carried by all the lines in 1908 compared with the same carryings in 1907. This decrease amounts to 27.4% West and 3.5% East. 11835

"In spite of this the White Star Line & the Cunard Co. have not only fully maintained their position in the general traffic but, as it will be seen from the following figures, they have strengthened it. The Cie. Gle. Transatlantique on the other hand has been loosing ground.

11836 Petitioner's Exhibit 1238

1. Cunard S. S. Co.

	1907	1908	Gain	Loss
West	7.68	10.61	2.93
East	10.37	12.91	2.54

2. White Star.

West	8.22	9.55	1.33
East	9.38	10.51	1.13

3. Transat.

West	4.79	4.90	0.11
11837 East	5.54	5.37		0.17

"Looking thro' Mr. Peters' statistics one finds that from the 1st of March till the 31st of December, 1908 the following number of second class passengers were carried by each of the following boats:

	Minimum	Passengers	Trips	Average
Amerika	£ 13	2480 (2423)	10	248 (242).
Aug. Vic.	£ 13	2178 (2182)	9	242 (242).
Cecilie	£ 13	2122 (2173)	10	212 (217).
Adriatic	£ 12	2251 (2241)	11	204 (204).
Kaiser W. II. ..	£ 13	1962	10	196
11838 Provence	£ 12	1889	10	189
Deutschland ...	£ 13	1260 (1244)	7	188 (178).
Kaiser W. d. G.	£ 13	1774 (1842)	10	177 (184).
Caronia	£ 12	1313	8	164
Carmania	£ 12	1154	7	164 (165).
Savoie	£ 12	1137	7	162
Lorraine	£ 13	1447	10	144
Oceanic	£ 13	1307 (1298)	11	118 (118).

"It follows that the 'Adriatic' has practically had the same average of passengers than the "Kronprinzessin Cecilie" and has carried more than the Lloyds Kaisers steamers & 'Deutschland.' One cannot say therefore that the 'Adriatic' has any reason to complain. As to 'Caronia,' 'Carmania' they do not seem to have been fully employed; they have done better however than 'Savoie' & 'Lorraine' and especially than the latter. 'Oceanic' evidently has sustained a set back.

"The Cie. Gle. Transatlantique do not think therefore that there is any special reason for allowing a reduction of 10/—to the steamers 'Adriatic,' 'Carmania,' 'Caronia' & 'Oceanic.' They ask the arbitrator to declare that no change is to be made in the present schedule of agreement W or if a reduction is granted to the White Star & the Cunard Co., that the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique is also entitled to take ten shillings off their minimum rates under agreement W and to quote for their steamers for second class business the following minimum rates.

'Provence	£ . 11	.10	.0
'Savoie,' 'Lorraine'	£ . 11	.0	.0
'Touraine'	£ . 10	.10	.0
'Bretagne,' 'Chicago,' 'Gascogne'	£ . 9	.10	.0

CIE. GLE. TRANSATLANTIQUE."

As to the figures drawn by Transat from the weekly statistics I beg to say that upon investigation I found some small divergencies which I took the liberty to note in brackets.

I would request the Cunard and White Star Lines to give their replies to the above statement in two copies one for Mr. Wilding and one for me to Mr. Smyth.

Respectfully,

11842 Petitioner's Exhibit 1239.

May 10th, 1909.

The Secretary,
North Atlantic Passenger Conference,
James Street,
Liverpool.

Dear Sir:

Revision of Second class rates.

Referring to Secretary Peters' letter of the 30th ultimo, G. No. 432, with regard to Minute No. 107 of the Paris meeting of March 25th, 1909, we beg to submit the following for the consideration of the 11843 Arbitrator.

In the first instance we wish to draw the arbitrator's attention to the minute in question, which reads as follows:

> "All Lines, except as mentioned below agree to reduce the present agreement First class rates of 'Mauretania' and 'Lusitania' and the Second class rates of 'Caronia' 'Carmania' 'Oceanic' and 'Adriatic' by 10/—or its equivalent in each case, eastbound and westbound.
>
> "In view of Allan Line's objection to both classes, and Cie. Gle. Transatlantique to the Second class the proposed alterations to be > 11844 referred to Mr. Wilding for arbitration."

It has since transpired however, that only Transat object to the proposed reduction of 10/—in the Second class rates of the "Adriatic" and "Oceanic."

Dealing with the case submitted by the French Line against this reduction, we wish to point out that the first set of figures quoted by them giving percentages are misleading, as they are based on total carryings which include a number of Lines not parties to Agreement 'W.' We would further submit that Agreement 'W' is in no sense a pooling agreement, and that the individual steamers are rated on certain broad lines, and such rating has no relation to the total carryings by any one Company. For instance, a Company bringing out a number of new steamers in one year would naturally considerably increase its carryings, but under this Agreement the other Lines could not on that account demand that the rates for its various steamers should be advanced.

Our argument is, (and we believe this will not be disputed) that each steamer has to be rated on its own merits and not in relation to the total carryings by the Company.

To deal with each steamer separately, we will first 11846 mention the

"Oceanic." Under the Second class Agreement of March, 1905, this steamer was rated at (off Continental port).....£11. 0. 0. She thus enjoyed a differential of 10/—against the steamers "Amerika," "Kaiserin Auguste Victoria" and the twin-screw steamers of the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique, which were rated at....£11. 10. 0.

Under the Agreement "W" the "Oceanic" is rated at £12. 0. 0..... (off Continental port)—an advance of £1. 0. 0.

The rate for the twin screw steamers "Lorraine" and "Savoie" was undisturbed, they remaining at... 11847 £11. 10. 0. This meant that the differential of ten shillings which was formerly accorded to the "Oceanic" was reversed in favor of the former steamers, although of more recent construction than the "Oceanic" and of about equal speed.

The rate for the "Amerika" and "Kaiserin Auguste Victoria" although of more recent build than "Oceanic" was only advanced by 10/—, as against an advance of £1 made for the "Oceanic."

These changes have undoubtedly had an adverse effect on the "Oceanic's" bookings as the figures appended will show:

11848 Petitioner's Exhibit 1239

WESTBOUND.

Average number of passengers per sailing.

	1905.	1906.	1907.	1908. 1st March-31st December.
"Oceanic."	167.	176.	209.	99.

(These figures are the average number of passengers carried during the years named but exclude the numbers carried in August and September.)

EASTBOUND.

Average number of passengers per sailing.

	1905.	1906.	1907.	1908. 1st March-31st December.
"Oceanic."	126.	145.	131.	86.

"Adriatic." In the case of the "Adriatic," this steamer is rated under the present agreement in the same class as the "Provence," "Amerika" and "Kaiserin Auguste Victoria," whereas the steamers "Lorraine" and "Savoie" are rated at 10/—less, and it is apparent, in view of the figures we beg to submit, that the "Adriatic" has been excessively rated.

11850 In conclusion, we give the following comparative statistics of steamers sailing with the "Adriatic" and "Oceanic" to and from Channel ports, which under the present agreement quote level rates. In the case of the "Lorraine" and "Savoie" the rate for these steamers is £11. 10s.

These figures speak for themselves and clearly show the loss the "Adriatic" and "Oceanic" have sustained. August and September are excluded in the Westbound statistics, as during these months the steamers are all full Second class, passengers being shut out for most sailings; hence the rate agreement has then no practical bearing.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1239 11851

WESTBOUND.

"Savoie"	105.	98.	7.
"Lorraine"	92.	98.
			(increase) 6.

11853

We therefore formally request the Arbitrator to reduce the rates of the "Adriatic" and "Oceanic," for Continental business to.....£11. 10. 0.

for British business to.....£10. 10. 0.

Yours faithfully,

North West Transport Line.

The Red Star Line wired me that yesterday 120 Italians passed Antwerp for N. W. T. L., the majority of which on being interrogated declared having booked with Corecco & Brivio.

It seems that several of the A. C. Lines are in direct or indirect connection with this firm and if this be so, Byelaw 20 no doubt would apply. It is true that Corecco & Brivio are also agents of the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique who are not under obligation to disqualify that firm but if they find that a strong warning should have no effect perhaps they might be disposed to join, if they could be made sure, that then 11856 Corecco & Brivio would be limited to the N. W. T. L.

The comparative high number of 100 steeragers by the "Uranium" last Saturday from Newyork is no doubt due to the recent advance in Continental steerage rates and it must be expected that the following sailings will show similar results. I do not see, why recourse can not be taken to Byelaw 20 with regard to Messrs. C. B. Richard & Co. or why not the A. C. Lines could put before the alternative either for us or for N. W. T. L. but not for both.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1331

If the lines were unanimous in this respect they would also back the Lloyd Italiano in their position against C. B. Richard & Co.

The Russamerika inform me, that their agent in Minsk has received an offer of Roubles 52 off Rotterdam from Kahan, London.

Gradually the N. W. T. L. will get ground more and more unless more serious steps are taken to meet it than hitherto.

Action of the "small committee" in Newyork might have some effect on their eastbound traffic but with the present continental rates it would be rather expensive. If the Russamerika could arrange their eastbound sailings to meet those of the N. W. T. L. they might be a good opposer, as considering their big shortage they could reduce their rate to make it up.

A report just received from the Red Star Line shows that from April 18th to 27th 120/1, 5/2 passed Antwerp, all booked by the Universal Reisebureau and besides on 27th, 4 passengers from Zürcher, Chiasso.

I am waiting if any of the Parties wish to make proposals.

Respectfully

P. S. Besides the passengers mentioned above there passed Antwerp yesterday 51 passengers from Universal Reisebureau, to-day 31 and 12 from Zürcher making 343 in all. The last steamer of the N. W. T. L. on April 19th got 274, whilst the "Volturno" which is to sail from Rotterdam may easily come up to 400.

The Holland America Line sent me an advertisement in a Dutch paper in which the Allan Line is advertised as "the best and fastest connection between Holland and Canada;" upon representation to the 11864
Allan Line the latter answer that they make their withdrawal of the advertisement dependent upon the White Star Line's withdrawing their handbills regarding the Laurentic in which this steamer is declared to be the largest and most modern steamer in the Canadian trade.

The White Star with whom I communicated answer:

> "When this matter was discussed in Paris, it was understood that no objection could be taken to superlative references provided they are confined to statements of fact and are not merely matters of opinion, and we therefore 11865 > consider ourselves justified in making the statement that the "Laurentic" is the largest and most modern steamer in the Canadian trade.

> "The superlative adjective 'best' implies an expression of opinion, and not necessarily of fact, and it is therefore open to question whether any Line or steamer can justifiably put forward this claim, and we for our part consider that it is a phrase which should be barred."

I received the following information of April 27th from Mr. Sandford on the working of the small Committee:

"First steamer under consideration was 'Uranium,' sailed hence April 24th. 'Small Committee' considered the competition and reported informally and in large measure verbally that although the net rate was supposed to be $23, it seemed desirable not to put on an opposition rate—taking this somewhat as an experiment justified by the small numbers carried by the previous sailing of the Northwest Transport Line.

"For your information, we cabled, April 26; 'Uranium 95.' The other steamers sailing on April 24, with their third class figures, are as follows:

New York,	141	Floride (French)	6
Furnessia,	90	K. A. Victoria	616
Carmania,	266	Lapland	325

11879 The Allan Line write:

"Referring to your circular G. No. 435, we must protest against your gross misrepresentation in that circular of our letter to you. In our letter we clearly stated that we had no objection to altering the wording of the Dutch advertisement referred to, but before doing so we wished to understand whether or not it was generally agreed that the use of superlatives was barred by Article 16. We mentioned the advertisements of the White Star Line only as instances of the continued use 11880 of superlatives by other Lines, and our letter gave you no ground for saying that we made our withdrawal of the Dutch advertisements dependent upon the White Star Line withdrawing their handbill. As you did not circulate our original letter, we must ask you to circulate this correction of your present circular.

"As to the letter from the White Star Line, we have only to say that it is evident from this that there is no agreement as to the effect of Article 16. We are directing our agents to alter the Dutch advertisement complained of by the Holland-America Line, as we are anxious to avoid including in our advertisements anything offensive to the other Lines in Conference. At the same time, in view of the attitude adopted by the White Star Line, we have to say that we shall not feel in any way bound to make similar alterations in future."

I am sorry to say that I mistook the letter referred to by the Allan Line, which reads:

"We have your letter of 20th inst., enclosing copy of letter from the Holland-America Line with regard to the advertisements of our 11882

"We were not aware of the wording of these advertisements, and would be quite willing to take steps to have any objectionable words removed. Before doing so, however, we wish to know whether all Lines agree that the use of superlatives in advertisements is excluded by the terms of Article 16 of Agreement 'A. A.' For our own part we are quite willing to agree to this interpretation of Article 16, but we think it is obvious that if this interpretation is to be binding on any Line, it must be accepted by all Lines. At present this does not seem 11883 to be the case, and we beg to call your attention to the enclosed circular of the White Star-Dominion Canadian service which is only one instance of the frequent use by Lines parties to Agreement 'A. 11903 The Holland American Line write that the S. S. "Uranium" which left New York on April 24th with 100 steeragers arrived before Hoek of Holland on the 7th inst. at night; after debarkation of her passengers on the morning of the 8th inst. in a tug, she proceeded directly for Hamburg. The passengers were brought by the tug to the Rotterdam station whence they proceeded the same morning.

The "Raglan Castle" which left New York on the 12th instead of the 8th inst., has got 3 cabin passengers and 127 steeragers.

11904 With reference to G. No. 433 I am today unofficially informed that C. B. Richard & Co. so far General-agents of the N. W. T. L. in Newyork have resigned and that the agency has been transferred to Mr. Vessily formerly manager of Zotti.

The next departures of the N. W. T. L. from Rotterdam are advertised as follows:

S. S. Uranium	May 15th
S. S. Raglan Castle	" 29th
S. S. Volturno	June 12th
S. S. Uranium	" 26th

I am still without reply as to Corecco & Brivio (G. No. 433) who as shown by the reports promulgated are working for the N. W. T. L. Will the B. L. please inform me whether they are willing to join in an eventual disqualification.

"Vous verrez que Buchel se sert toujours de fiches tricolores; il est vrai qu'elles re présentent les couleurs francaises à l'envers et qu'il peut prétendre qu'il ne vise pas du tout une concurrence contre nous. "Nous demandons de nouveau la disqualification de H. Buchel, et nous insistons pour qu'elle soit prononcée non seulement par les lignes continentales, mais egalement par les lignes anglaises."

who want to go to America.

The Agent and banker Frank Zotti of Newyork defrauded 2 Million Kronen bloodily earned money of Croation labourers.

Zotti now opens at Buchs, Switzerland three Agencies, one under the name of "Victor Klaus," as manager, a second one under the name of "Zwilchenbart" and the third under the name of "Im Obersteg & Co."

Travelers Croations!

11919 Beware of Zotti's Agency under the name of "Victor Klaus," under the name of "Zwilchenbart" and under the name of "Im Obersteg & Co." at Buchs, for all three of them are from Zotti. These blood suckers would yet like to rob the Croation travellers, for it is yet too little for them to have defrauded 2 Millions Kronen. If you are friends to yourselves fly from these bankrupts who especially pillage the Croation people.

Agent Büchel in Buchs (Switzerland).

The French Line write:

"We herewith enclose some circulars and papers taken from a passenger forwarded by agent Buchel at Buchs to whom we referred at the last Conference.

"You notice that Buchel always uses tricoloured cards, it is true, they represent the 11921 French colours inside out, and he may pretend that he does not aim at all at competing with us. But the Companies will admit—we think so at least—that this mode of procedure is absolutely contrary to all rules and regulations that govern us.

"Moreover, there is a circular amongst those papers which violently attacks agents Klaus, Zwilchenbart and Imobersteg. The two first referred to are our agents and the latter particularly represents the American Line and White Star Line.

"We request again the disqualification of 11922 Mr. Buchel, and insist upon announcing same not only for the Continental, but also for the British Lines."

A transaction of the circular referred to is attached, besides Transat sent two cards in the French colours with the address of Ivan Buchel, Buchs, Switzerland, one of them advising the route Buchs-Paris-Havre and Southampton Cherbourg to America.

The Allan Line write:

"Referring to your circular G. No. 440 and previous circulars on the same subject, we now 11924 beg to advise you that we have made some enquiry as to the Dutch advertisement which has given the Holland-America Lines so much anxiety.

"We regret very much that our familiarity with the Dutch language is too slight to enable us to read this advertisement for ourselves, but we are informed that it is an advertisement issued by Messrs. Ruys & Co., who have represented us as freight agents in Rotterdam for many years, but who do not take anything to do with the passenger business, and that the advertisement is concerned with freight busi- 11925 ness and that only. We presume that the Holland-America Line had no difficulty in reading the advertisement, and therefore must have been aware of this from the first, and we suggest that it is highly improper for any Line to import into the Atlantic Conference matters which have nothing whatever to do with passenger business."

The arrivals for the Atlantic Express were on

May	9th	from Universal-Reisebureau	20	passengers

Together with the 134 passengers reported in G. No. 441 the total of passengers traced is 377. The 11928 79 passengers of May 11th had cards of Charles Staehli at Basle, who as the Red Star Line say also works for the Donaldson Line through the medium of Mr. Schyns. Perhaps the Donaldson Line is in the position to bear some influence on their agents as not to advance the interests of any one in connection with the N. T. W. L.

I beg to confirm my Saturday's telegram according to which the "Estonia" of the Russian Eastasiatic will sail in competition against the "Volturno" on the 22nd inst. from Newyork. Besides the Russian Eastasiatic inform me, that they reduced their eastbound rates by $3.

"With reference to circular No. 435 we beg to state that in our opinion the use of superlatives in advertisements and propaganda-literature ought to be generally abstained from. Superlative references can be made to every object and every steamer of each Line probably has a special character, that could be expressed by a superlative adjective; one could eventually even speak of the largest steamer of a certain country or of the largest company of a country. We cannot, however, see any material value in such way of expressing and we feel no inclination to believe, that by publishing superlatives such as 'the largest and best ships' the number of passengers carried by the publishing line would be increased by a single passenger. Most of the parties are of our opinion in this question and we would be pleased to see the others join our opinion, so that the use of superlatives could be altogether done away with. 11931

Arbitration under Minute 107. (G. No. 445.)

I received several communications giving the same opinion as expressed by the Nordd. Lloyd in G. No. 445, viz: that the arbitration can solely refer to the 11984 question whether the reduction of 10 sh. asked for by the Cunard and White Star Lines is to be granted or not. It therefore results that if the question of a reduction is to be admitted to any of the other Lines outside the Cunard and White Star, this privilege must apply to all lines equally.

It looks rather suspicious that a former employee of Richards, subsequently of Zotti, should have become the general agent for the N. W. T. L., the more so as their office has been opened in Greenwich street, this city, the rent of same to be paid by C. B. Richard & Co., and also provided with the necessary furniture by them.

> "In addition, another employee of Richards has become the assistant of Mr. Vessily. 11973

> "We presume that Richard simply uses Vessily as a blank, in case this Line should again be compelled to discontinue its service, that he (Richards) cannot be held for possible outstanding prepaids."

Annex to G. No. 468. 28/5, 1909.

From I. I. & Co., L'pool dated March 29th, 1909. to Mr. F. C. Salter, Grand Trunk Railway.

Referring to your letter to me of the 13th instant, which we brought up at the recent Conference meeting, the following is an extract from the Minutes,—No. 11.

"Letter from Grand Trunk Railway submitted, the C. P. R. representative advises they only allowed commission to the North West Transport Line on inland business, because 11981 they had been unable to induce the Grand Trunk Railway to agree not to do so, and after they had found that the inter-Colonial Grand Trunk connection at Halifax were paying commission. Mr. Sanderson was requested to approach the Grand Trunk Railway with a view to facilitating an agreement between the two Canadian railways (including Inter-Colonial Railway) to allow no commission to the North West Transport Line."

Perhaps if you are in Liverpool you will look in some time when you are passing and give us an opportunity of clearing up the position.

From Mr. Cuthbertson, Grand Trunk Railway. to I. I. & Co.

dated L'pool 30/3, 1909.

Your letter of the 29th instant addressed to Mr. Salter regarding Canadian Pacific rail business ex steamers of the North West Transport Co. is duly received.

Mr. Salter is at present on the Continent, but I am forwarding your letter on to him.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1335 11983

From Mr. Salter, Grand Trunk Ry. to I. I. & Co.
dated Nice, April 9th 1909.

North West Transport Coy.

In reply to your letter of 29th March regarding Canadian Pacific Railway report, as to their action towards the North West Transport Coy.

I wish to state that neither the Grand Trunk Rly. nor the Intercolonial Rly. have in any way approached the North West Transport Coy directly or indirectly to influence their traffic to our respective Lines, or by offering commission in any shape or manner whatsoever. I make this statement regardless of any remarks made to the contrary by the Canadian Pacific Rly. 11984

Further, the Canadian Pacific Rly. have in no manner whatsoever, approached me to find out the accuracy of their charge before taking the step they have, and I can only assume they have again acted this year, as last, in handling the traffic of the New York and Continental Lines.

I speak with full knowledge and responsibility for the European organization of this Coy.

Should the Intercolonial Rly. have made an arrangement with the North West Transport Coy., such an arrangement would have applied by both Canadian Pacific Rly., and the Grand Trunk and would have been unnecessary for the Canadian Pacific Rly. to duplicate, further had the Intercolonial Rly. such an arrangement, I know at least half of the traffic would have gone by the Grand Trunk, but as there was no such arrangement, the entire traffic went Canadian Pacific Rly. 11985

The Intercolonial Rly. is the only Line reaching Halifax.

11986 Petitioner's Exhibit 1335

I have sent your letter to our Montreal management and await their further instructions.

I am sorry my previous letter was not supported.

From I. I. & Co. to Mr. Salter, Grand Trunk R'way, dated April 14th, 1909.

North West Transport Co.

I am in receipt of your favor of 9th instant with regard to the question of paying commission on Rail Fares for bookings to the above named Company, and 11987 may say that we did not understand that the arrangement complained of was made through your office here, and under the circumstances we await further word from you, after you have heard from Montreal, with much interest.

From Mr. Salter, Grand Trunk Ry. to I. I. & Co., dated May 3rd, 1909.

In reply to your letter of 1st instant, as I am so crowded in this office I think we can better discuss the subject of the North West Transport Company 11988 by my calling at your office; therefore, if it suits you, I would call upon you at three o'clock tomorrow, Tuesday, afternoon.

I have this day cabled Montreal to sustain the facts I have given you, and to instruct further in their policy.

I feel with this information in hand same will fully sustain our position in our endeavor to co-operate with you.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1335 11989

From Mr. Salter, Grand Trunk Ry. to I. I. & Co., dated L'pool, May 3rd, 1909.

For your information I wish to state our people advise the S. S. "Volturno" from Rotterdam 13th March discharged at Halifax the following people:

The five people who were passed over the Intercolonial Railway and Grand Trunk being local passengers.

11992 Petitioner's Exhibit 1335

From Mr. Salter, Grand Trunk Ry. to I. I. & Co., dated London, May 7th, 1909.

I have your letter of the 6th instant enclosing copy of letter addressed to Mr. Brown bearing on the statements I have made as to the relationship with the North West Transportation Company and the New York and Continental Line.

Your facts and promises are absolutely correct.

From I. I. & Co., to Mr. Brown, C. P. R., London, dated May 8th, 1909.

11993 You will remember at a recent Conference Meeting we brought up a question with respect to the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. allowing a commission to the North West Transport Line on inland business, and the following is copy of the Minute adopted at that Meeting:

> "No. 11. Letter from Grand Trunk Railway submitted the C. P. R. representative advises they only allowed commission to the North West Transport Line on inland business because they had been unable to induce the Grand Trunk Railway to agree not to do so,
> 11994 and after they had found that the inter-Colonial Grand Trunk connection at Halifax were paying commission.
>
> "Mr. Sanderson was requested to approach the Grand Trunk Railway with a view to facilitating an agreement between the two Canadian railways (including Inter-Colonial Railway) to allow no commission to the North West Transport Line."

We have taken the matter up with the Grand Trunk Railway who assure us so positively that they are not allowing, and have no intention of allowing commission to this Steamship Company, neither have the Inter-Colonial Railway allowed any commission that it seems to us your friends must be under some misapprehension on this matter.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1335

I understand that negotiations were opened by the C. P. R. last year in connection with the New York and Continental Lines, but while the Grand Trunk did not make an agreement they still did not allow commission to that Company.

I think the C. P. R. as members of the Atlantic Conference are not desirous of assisting outside competition of this nature, and in view of my information, which I am assured is correct, do you not think your people would be willing to discontinue any commission arrangement they may have with the North West Transport Line.

From Mr. Brown, Can. Pac. R'way to I. I. & Co., dated May 14th, 1909.

On my return to London yesterday I received your favor of the 8th which you advised me in Liverpool you had sent. I am sending the correspondence out to our friends in Montreal, and will communicate with you on hearing from them.

From Mr. Salter, Grand Trunk R'way to I. I. & Co., dated May 18th, 1909.

I have your letter of the 17th instant in reference to the North West Transportation Company's Line, and note that you have conceded a further delay to the Canadian Pacific.

11998 Petitioner's Exhibit 1335

I beg to suggest that you propose to the Continental Lines, while this delay lasts, that we be favoured exclusively with all competitive traffic of their boats ex Hamburg, Rotterdam and Bremen, and be given a good share of the traffic ex the Canadian Pacific steamers ex Antwerp, to make up to us the loss that has arisen due to our course in supporting the Continental Lines.

I would ask you to kindly look into this matter seriously and look for your support. I am desirous of cabling to our people the position.

Prepaids Cancellation Fee. 12002

The Russian American Line up till now when refunding prepaids deducted 10% cancellation fee regardless on whatsoever grounds the prepaids might have been cancelled. They now say that the American subagents claim that no such cancellation fee should be deducted for passengers who on account of sickness have been refused, contending that the British Lines did not at all deduct cancellation fees. The Russ. America Line desire to have this matter regulated uniformly with all Lines.

Will the Lines please inform me of their views on the subject.

"It is quite possible that the above advertisement was intended to refer to freight business only, however, it does not say so. Messrs. Ruijs & Co. have not signed the advertisement as freight agents, but as agents. How was the public to know that the advertisement referred to freight business only? How was it to know that the Allan Line is 'the fastest and the best service between Holland and Canada' only as a freight Line and not as a passenger Line? Messrs. Ruijs & Co. are in the passenger business, they handling all the business, freight as well as passenger, of the Russian Line.

"But apart from this question we believe that once the correctness of the principle being admitted that the use of superlatives constitutes 'a comparison unfavorable to an other Conference Line,' there seems to be no good reason why a line should be bound to refrain from making unfavorable comparisons in the passenger business, but be at liberty to do so otherwise.

Min. 114 Commission to N. W. T. L. by Canadian Railways.

Supplementary to G. 463 is the following letter from Canadian Pacific Ry. Co. to Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co. of May 27th, 1909: 12020

"I. Bruce Ismay, Esqr.,
Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co.,
30, James Street, Liverpool.

"Dear Sir:

"Acknowledging your favor of the 24th inst., enclosing copies of recent correspondence passing between you and Mr. Salter. This correspondence I note you have sent to the Conference Secretary for circulation. As you are already aware, our advices are that commission was offered and paid, Mr. Salter's letter of April 9th to you, to the contrary notwithstanding. 12021 In view of his protestations, it is of interest to recall a similar situation last year, notice of which I understand, also at Mr. Salter's instigation, was brought by you before the Conference. It will be remembered that he then took the same 'purity' stand, accused the Canadian Pacific, denied paying commission to or having any dealings with the then New York & Continental Line. Though no mention appears in the Conference Minutes, it will be recalled that his letter to the London Agents of the New York & Continental Line was read at the Conference meeting, at which the matter was brought up. In it, he confirmed telephone communications, advised the numbers of Grand Trunk Order Books he had sent them, and instructed the Agents to remit less commission.

12022 Petitioner's Exhibit 1336

"As stated in your letter of the 8th of May to me, you are quite correct in your understanding that last year, the Canadian Pacific 12023 (out of deference to the Conference Lines) opened negotiations in Montreal with the Grand Trunk in an endeavor to reach an agreement with that Company not to pay commission. You are also right in saying that the Grand Trunk refused to make an agreement, but you are wrong in supposing that they had no intention of paying commission, because as has been amply demonstrated, they imagined they had already captured the traffic on a commission basis. We found this out and carried the passengers. This year, except that I absolutely refused the business, the situation was precisely similar to that of 1908. Our people 12024 on the other side found that commission was being paid and again secured the traffic.

"The causes which blocked the Canadian Pacific in its efforts to bring the Grand Trunk into an agreement last year were such as to make it impossible for them to approach that Company again this year. If the Grand Trunk were quite sincere, it was its duty to approach the Canadian Pacific. You will not dispute our right to meet any rail situation that may be created for us by the Grand Trunk or other competing Rail Lines.

"I contend that this is not a question for Conference debate or consideration, and I would not have replied but for the apparent intent of Mr. Salter's letters and the possible serious consequences to us, of your action in circulating them. Our position, as a Steamship Line, partners with you in agreements looking to our mutual protection, has evidently been overlooked by you, otherwise this question of rail competition as between the Grand Trunk and ourselves, would have been left for settlement between us, and you would not have lent your Company as the medium for this most unfair attack. Though it should not be necessary, in the light of events, it appears incumbent upon me to remind you that the Conference has always had the support of the Canadian Pacific in any steps taken to meet outside competition, paying cheerfully its share of the compensation to fighting ships. In no instance would they, as an individual Steamship Line, have been in any way affected by such competition. You must also recognize that this support has been accorded the Conference Lines to the very considerable loss to Canadian Pacific Rails, in addition to the actual amount they have paid from time to time in compensation. I consider Mr. Salter's letter very misleading, and without this full explanation, might be interpreted to the injury and detriment of the Canadian Pacific Railway, a member of the Atlantic Conference and party to agreement A.A. and Subsidiary Agreements, which facts alone should surely prevent any other Conference Line countenancing an unfair attack by a competing Rail Line having no status in our Conferences."

Commission $3. A note says: "Passengers bound for points West of Detroit save two days ocean trip and pay less for railroad fare by disembarking at Halifax."

Mr. Richard of C. B. Richard & Co. assures that he has no connection, direct or indirect with the N. W. T. L. after the sailing of the "Volturno" May 25th.

> "The basis, however, not to be published or used prior to May 29th."

I am informed that the N. W. T. L. apply the Hamburg Line's tariff of European inland fares for bookings via Rotterdam. 12032

Referring to G. No. 458, I note from a circular of Mr. Sandford's, received in the meantime, that the reduction of the Rusamerika's rate from $31 to $28 commences only with the sailing of the "Russia" June 5th. Hence, the compensation for the "Estonia" is not $2, but $4 (Min 22a).

"We have had a long talk with Mr. Fankhauser, and after consideration are of the opinion that the complaints against Buchel of circulating the papers referred to by the Transatlantique Co. in Mr. Peters' circular letter G. 450 are exaggerated. He absolutely denies having any knowledge of the circular addressed to Croations (appendix to G. 450) referring to Zotti being connected with Klause, Zwilchenbart and Im Obersteg & Co.

Cher Monsieur

Vous vous rappelez peut-être que l'année 1905
12048 j'étais envoyé par mon Gouvernement à Hambourg pour faire des démarches auprès les Directeurs de la Compagnie "Hamburger Süd Amerika Linie" pour établir une escale à Lisbonne des grands transatlantiques qui font le voyage de l'Amérique du Sud, ayant arrivé à une heureuse entente, de facon que ces voyages continuent encore avec des trés bons résultats pour le même Compagnie, aussi bien que pour le développement du mouvement de passagers et du commerce international.

Maintenant mon Gouvernement serait très désireux d'obtenir des compagnies de navigation un service de transatlantique entre New York et Lisbonne, et, comme vôtre puissante Compagnie maintient une ligne directe entre New York et les de la Méditerranée, il me semble qu'il vous serait rélativement facile de combiner des voyages avec escale è Lisbonne soit pour tous les paquebôts, soit, au commencement, avec une combinaison alternative entre Lisbonne et les ports des Acores.

Defendants' Exhibit 110 12049

Je crois qu'une combinaison pareille doit réussir, puisque, spécialment pendant l'hiver, plusieurs passagers de l'Amérique du Nord voudraient bien venir debarquer à Lisbonne pour suivre par le sud-express soit vers l'Europe Centrale soit vers les bords de la 12050
Méditerranée, faisant d'abord leurs excurcions en Portugal et en Espagne où le climat est extrèmement doux pendant la saison froide.

Si, donc, vous croyez qu'il sera possible d'aboutir à quelque combinaisons en ce sens, le Gouvernement Portugais voudrait bien entrer en pourparlers avec la personne que votre Compagnie voudrait choisir pour se mettre en rapport avec nous ici à Lisbonne, ce qu'il pourrait faciliter beaucoup l'entente.

En attendant vôtre résponse, je vous prie, Monsieur, d'agréer mes salutations distinguées,

(Sgd) C. ROQUE DA COSTA
Chef du Departements des négociations des traités de commerce au 12051
Ministère des Affaires Etrangères è Lisbonne.

Hamburg-Amerika Linie, Bureau des Vorsitzenden des Directoriums

Hambourg, le 29 Mai 1909.

Cher Monsieur,

Je vous suis bien obligé de votre aimable lettre du 22 courant, par laquelle vous m'informez qu'il est

le désir de votre Gouvernement d'obtenir un service régulier de paquebots transatlantiques entre Lisbonne et New York, et vous me demandez s'il n'etait pas possible de faire escale a Lisbonne sur notre Ligne entre New York et la Méditerranée.

Votre propósition a toute mon attention et je vous en suis très reconnaissant, mais après examen soigneux je dois vous dire franchement que je ne me promets pas de succès commercial d'une telle combinaison. Vous faites mention de l'escale à Lisbonne avec les grands transatlantiques allant à l'Amérique du Sud, établie il y a 4 ans à l'instigation de votre 12053 Gouvernement, mais vous n'ignorez pas qu'il y a une difference importante, vu que les relations commerciales et le mouvement de passagers sont infiniment plus larges entre le Portgual et l'Amérique du Sud, qu'entre le Portgual et l'Amerique du Nord. Et tandis que le détour et la perte du temps sont insignifiants dans le premier cas, il en résulterait de considérables pour notre Ligne de New York à la Méditerranée. Par conséquent, il est certain que l'execution d'une telle combinaison laisserait de la perte, et si vous considérez que les conséquences de la crise mondiale et les dégâts qu'elle a opérés, ne sont pas encore entièrement passées, vous trouverez que le 12054 moment actuel n'est pas propice à l'exécution d'un tel project.

Toutefois je ne le perdrai pas de vue, et tout en vous réitérant mes remerciements de votre aimable proposition je vous prie, Cher Monsieur, l'agréer mes sentiments bien distingués.

COMPAGNIE GENERALE TRANSATLANTIQUE.

Paris, 2nd June 1909.

Arbitration Rates "Mauretania," "Adriatic," etc.

We are in receipt of your favours of the 15th and 22nd ult., containing the statements of the White Star Line & the Cunard Line regarding the above matter.

12071 As the Allan Line has already pointed out the French Line, contrary to what the White Star Line writes, is not the only Line objecting to the reduction of 10/— claimed for by the White Star Line and the Cunard Co. This point is now quite clear and we need not come back to it. But we do not quite see how the fact that we are the only ones protesting against the treatment of favour asked for by the White Star Line could be brought up against us. An agreement has been concluded in London on February 5th 1908 which in our opinion is fair and just; it is therefore quite natural that we should try to oppose any measure which would put us in an un-12072 favourable position.

The statistics do not show that an increase of sailings or a bringing out of new tonnage gives necessarily at the end of any one year a corresponding increase in the percentage of the total carryings. We see for instance that the Lloyd in 1906 had 95 departures West and a percentage of 12.55% for second class business, while in 1907 110 sailings in the same direction gave the Lloyd a percentage of only 11.67% for the same business.

Evidently the White Star Line had more sailings in 1908 than in 1907 (we understand they had 94 departures in 1908 in the Atlantic service against 84 in 1907) but this increase is not at all proportionate to the large increase in the White Star percentage which we have mentioned in Circular G. No. 432.

As to new tonnage we are not aware that the White Star has put any new ships in the New York service during the year 1908.

At the foot of the first page of the statement of the White Star Line we read the following:

> "For instance * * * could not on that account demand that the rates for its various steamers should be advanced."

12074

We simply want to point out that in the present case we are not asking for an advance in rates; we only wish that the agreement W adopted and signed by all in February 1908 remains as it now stands.

"OCEANIC."—According to the White Star Line the "Savoie" & "Lorraine" being of more recent construction than the "Oceanic" the differential of ten shillings which agreement W grants to our two steamers should not exist. We think that the White Star ought to have put this claim forward last year when the agreement W was being elaborated. However the "Oceanic" is an 1899 boat while the "Lorraine" & "Savoie" have been built in 1900. The difference is therefore trifling and should not be taken into account. On the other hand the "Oceanic" is a much larger steamer than the "Savoie" & "Lorraine;" she has a tonnage of 17274 while the tonnage of our steamers is only 11,100. We think therefore, that the differential of 10/— granted to the "Savoie" and "Lorraine" by agreement W should be maintained.

"ADRIATIC."—We can only repeat here that in our opinion it would be a gross injustice to our Company to classify a boat like the "Adriatic" with our steamers "Lorraine" & "Savoie."

12076 Defendants' Exhibit 113

Evidently the speed of the "Lorraine" & "Savoie" is superior to that of the "Adriatic," but there is no doubt that a very large part of the travelling public cares much more for large vessels of moderate speed on which they find more commodities and more comfort. The "Adriatic" offers all this to her clientele while the "Lorraine" & "Savoie" whose tonnage is not half that of the "Adriatic" are heavily handicapped on these points. Under these circumstances we think that the "Adriatic" can very well afford to allow to 12077 our steamers a differential of 10/—.

We note what the Cunard write regarding the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique not being a Member of the Atlantic Conference. We should have written "by the signatories of agreement W" instead of "by the members * * *" We think however that this is of no importance in this special case.

According to the Cunard Line the fact that the majority of the Lines is willing to grant the reduction sought for by the White Star and the Cunard is a 12078 sufficient proof that the classification adopted in London on February 5th 1908 was not just and fair; this, we think, is not conclusive. The statement of the Cunard Line would mean that in any assembly the majority is necessarily right. We think that this assertion is contrary to the facts and if one were to admit this argument of the Cunard there will be no necessity of appealing to an arbitrator.

We confirm here what we have written above on the increased sailings and the increased percentages. We also think that the gain of the Cunard in the percentage of the total carryings is not proportionate to the increase in the number of sailings. We understand that the Cunard had 80 departures West in 1908 against 70 in 1907.

The speed of "Lorraine" & "Savoie" cannot be described as being 21-22 knots. In 1908 the average speed of "Provence" has been 20.50 to 21, and the "Savoie" & "Lorraine" have only in one or two instances exceeded 20 knots.

On the other hand we would like to point out that "Carmania," "Caronia" were built in 1905 and that they are much larger than our two boats.

But the point on which we want to insist is that the granting of the reduction of 10/— would upset the whole classification adopted in London on February last. We feel certain that when this agreement was being elaborated, every member present at the Conference had in mind that the said agreement, in spite of the notice clause inserted therein, would remain untouched until the end of February, 1911. Any alterations in the rates would abolish the fairness of this agreement. We therefore ask the arbitrator to declare that the agreement W is to remain as it now stands or if a reduction is granted to the White Star & Cunard Lines that the same privilege is to be extended to our Company as required in G. No. 432 for we think that the differentials adopted in London last year must be kept up.

Outstanding Russian Ppds. of Russ. Vol. Fleet. (G. No. 378.)

12083 The Russian American Line claim for the passengers carried under byelaw 78 a difference in rate between their rate and the rate of the Russ. Vol. Ppds of Rubel 17 instead of Rubel 15 on the grounds that in the negotiations with the Russ. Vol. Fleet the latter had declared that the average rate of the Ppds. would amount to about 51 Rubels, and that later on they got for 304 adults, 195 children and 11 infants only Rubels 19506.68 which averages with Rubels 48.31 per adult. They say that they did not claim the difference from the Russ. Vol. Fleet on account of the average rate having been declared in byelaw 78 with about 51 Rubels and further point out that 12084 1) in said byelaw the A. C. Lines had declared to pay half the difference between the net rate at which the ppd. had been issued and the net rate of the Russian American Line on Oct. 22nd.

2) the net rate of the Russ. Vol. Fleet is Rubel 48.31.

3) it is admissible to signify 48% as about 51.

The differences in rates they say is due to the circumstance, that Richard & Co. got less money for the prepaids which were sold later on.

Will the Lines please inform me whether they recognize the claim of the Russian American Line; it amounts to Rbl. 135.

"Arbitration rates 'Mauretania,' 'Adriatic,' etc.

"Dear Sir,

"We have duly received your circular 476 and we beg to thank the Red Star Line for the statement they have been kind enough to draw up.

"In their statement the Red Star Line refer only to statistics; they do not consider at all the actual situation of the emigration throughout Europe. We want to point out that owing to the increase of the steerage prices and to the unwillingness of the British Lines to put up the second class prices, the clientele travelling nowadays in second class is mostly an emigrant one. In 1908, the British and Scandinavian emigration was stronger than the Continental, this is shown by the results of the Pool. In 1909, it was quite the reverse and the number of continental emigrants was far in excess of that of British and Scandinavian emigrants. 12087

"The section 42 of the United States Law of 1908 has reduced our carrying capacity as far as steerage accommodation is concerned and many of our customers who would have been travelling in steerage should we have had room for them are taking second class tickets.

"We much regret the action of the British Lines who refused to increase the second class rates; we were quite agreeable to put our prices up as proposed by the Continental Lines but under the understanding that all Lines would do likewise in order that the schedule established in London last year for the agreements V & W should not be disturbed."

Atlantic Conference Minute 107.

First-Class Rates "Mauretania" and "Lusitania." 12111

Having regard to the carryings of these steamers as compared with others in 1908 and to the fact that all Lines except the Allan Line have assented to the proposed reduction of 10/- or its equivalent in the rate fixed for these steamers by Agreement "V" I consider the Cunard Company's claim to make this reduction is established and I so award.

12112 Defendants' Exhibit 119

Second-Class Rates

"Caronia" "Carmania" "Oceanic" and "Adriatic."

When a Line introduces new and improved tonnage into its service such tonnage takes away business from the previously existing steamers of that Line to an even greater extent than from corresponding steamers of other Lines and in making this Award I must not be taken as assenting to the argument that only the carryings of individual steamers and not the total carryings of the Line owning such steamers are to be 12113 taken into account in fixing the rates for the steamers.

But having carefully considered all the arguments advanced in this case together with the statistics for 1907 and 1908 and those for first four months of 1908 and 1909 sent by the Secretary at the request of the Red Star Line I consider this group of steamers are entitled to make a reduction of 10/- or its equivalent in the rates fixed for them by Agreement "W" and I so award.

Minute 107 does not authorize me to consider alterations in rates for steamers not named in the Minute but having regard to claims put forward by the Allan Line and by the Cie Generale Transatlantique 12114 I think it well to say that I do not consider those Lines entitled to any reduction in consequence of the reductions established by this Award.

From Mr. Sandford I received the following cable:

> "Raglan Castle about June 23rd allowing extra commission high as five. Small Committee consider necessary adopt same tactics. Cable confirmation."

The Parties were informed by both these telegrams and I am still waiting for the reply from several of them.

It is not clear if the proposal is to oppose the Raglan Castle on even terms, say same rates and same commissions or if the intention is, to keep the regular rate of the opposing steamer, but allow the same commission as the N. W. T. L. 12117

At any rate in either of these cases it would not be equitable that the fighting steamer should receive compensation only on the basis of Minute 22a resp. 22d in which a higher than the regular commission of $2 is not considered but only a reduction of the regular (gross) rate. I think the amount of compensation must be based on the difference in the net rate.

In order to avoid differences of opinion later on this point ought to be decided, before the proposal of the Small Committee is adopted.

> " 'Volturno's' Eastbound sailing has been postponed to Tuesday, May 25—she is now in dry-dock repairing damage caused by ice when entering Halifax Westbound. One of the reasons for the selection of 'Estonia' was that Messrs A. E. Johnson & Co. offered to meet the tactics of 'Volturno' to the extent also of postponing 'Estonia's' sailing, if necessary. Messrs.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1337

12124 A. E. Johnson & Co. have asked to be relieved of delay in departure of 'Estonia' in view of the fact that she is to proceed Eastbound under reduced boiler capacity and that the delay in 'Volturno's' sailing was not intentional.

"Committee, however, deemed it advisable to insist on fulfillment of the promise above mentioned, so that even at the last moment 'Volturno' should have no opportunity of profiting by absence of a competing rate and steamer. 'Estonia's' sailing will accordingly be postponed to May 25.

12125 "Committee undertook no guaranty for the disbursements and expenses to 'Estonia' incident to this delay; but in view of the conditions which have made it necessary ('Volturno's' delay), Committee recommend that you take into full consideration all these things in adjusting the settlement with Russian American Line."

With reference to G. 486 the parties are agreeable to pay up to $5 commission against the "Raglan Castle" June 23rd. I telegraphed Mr. Sanford accordingly. The Norddeutscher Lloyd received the following cable from their N. Y. representatives, who also speak for the allowance of extra commission:

> "Committee selecting Russian East Asiatic Company 'Estonia' May 24th against 'Volturno' instructed former follow competition tactics allowing extra commission in case of absolute necessity, resulting 'Volturno' obtaining but 72 steerage passengers against 'Estonia' 12141 > 343. Russian East Asiatic 'Russia' selected June 5th against 'Uranium' June 5th under same conditions, but latter postponed June 9th. Committee selected 'Oceanic.' Latter declined extra commission permitting 'Uranium' obtain 147 against 'Oceanic' 343, Russia 609. Committee appointed Russian East Asiatic 'Lituania' against 'Raglan Castle' June 23rd. It is our opinion, Committee should have full authority allow extra commission in case of absolute necessity meeting competitors' tactics."

On this occasion I beg to say that the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique consider the payment of extra commission as very dangerous and not necessitated by the number of steeragers which the N. W. T. L. got. The Hamburg American Line think it best that the decision whether it is more advisable to reduce the gross rate or to pay higher commission should be left to the decision of the Small Committee. As this is an extension of Minute 22 I would request the Lines to state whether they are agreeable to it.

G. No. 493. After cabling to New York that the parties agreed to pay up to $5 commission against "Raglan Castle" June 23rd I received information that the consent of the B. I therefore cancelled my telegram of the 15th on the 17th inst. saying that the small committee must act strictly in accordance with Minute 22.

I beg to inform the parties yet that the N. W. T. L. reduced their III. class Ppd. rate from $36.50 to $34.50.

Compensation SS. "Estonia" against "Volturno" 5/24, 09.

12161 The Russian American Line send me the following bill of compensation, expenses and demurrage for SS. Estonia 25 ult.:

"As per arrangement between the Small Committee and Messrs. A. E. Johnson & Co., Newyork, the following outlays to be refunded the Russian America Line by the A. C. Lines for putting the s/s "Estonia" as fighting steamer against the s/s "Volturno" leaving Newyork on the 24th of May, 1909:

Difference in rate 296/1 26/2 21/0 steeragers =309 at $4.	$1236.
12162 2 days' dockhire, caused by the delay of "Volturno" at $60.	120.
Board and lodging for passengers as per vouchers	5.80
Extra commission as per statement	104.
Difference in railfare between Hamburg—destination and Rotterdam—destination, as per statement	21.90
2 days' demurrage at $265	530.
	$2017.70

E. & O. E.

12163

As to the compensation of $4 per adult this amount is in order in accordance with G. 470. As to the extra commission of $104 allowed for 47/1, 10/2, 3/0 I beg to refer to the telegram of the representatives of the Nordd. Loyd promulgated in G. 493, from which is to be inferred that this extra commission has been allowed by the small committee on their own authority; the same seems to be the case with the amount of $21.90 of difference in railway fare as according to G. 470 the North West Transport Line applied the Hamburg Line's tariff of European inland fares for bookings via Rotterdam and no doubt the small committee will have met this step by applying the same tariff, which would explain said amount. With regard to the amounts of demurrage and the expenses in connection with it of $120 and $5.80 I beg to refer to G. 488.

Will the parties (Allan Line excepted) please inform me whether they agree to total sum of $2017.70 being paid.

To the Parties:

Russian Volunteer Prepaids from Libau. (G. 478).

12167 After the parties agreed to grant to the Russian American Line their claim as per G. No. 478 I beg to submit the account of the Russian American for Prepaid passengers carried under Minutes 78 and 113 as per annex. As to the latter Minute the Allan Line do not participate in the passengers forwarded before October 22nd, the total amount of Rubel 2876.25 is to be divided as follows:

(a) forwarded before October 22nd 1908:

102 ad. 66 chldr. 8 inf. at Rbl. 17 p. ad.=Rbl. 2295 of which 1/2 = Rbl. 1147.50

(b) forwarded after October 22nd:

12168 133 ad. 127 chldr. 6 inf. at Rbl. 17 & 30 p. ad=Rbl. 3457.50 of which 1/2= Rbl. 1728.75

Rbl. 2876.25

The amounts under a & b must therefore be distributed over two percentages. As Transat and Austro participate in them, the calculation of the percentages is as follows:

Petitioner's Exhibit 1374 12169

Transat's share in connection with the N. D. L. V. Lines is 9.39% the remaining 90.61% for the N. D. L. V. Lines is equal to 62.48% under the A. C. Agreement. Transat's share is therefore $62.48 \times 9.39 \div 90.61 = 6.47\%$ and the total of the A. C. percentages incl. Transat 106.47% which after reducing to 100 gives the following percentages:

A.

Allan Line	0.58%
Anchor Line	3.19%
Cunard Line	12.91%
Hapag	18.42%
Nasm	6.23%
	41.33
carried over:	41.33%
Lloyd	24.92%
Red Star Line	9.12%
White Star Line	8.08%
American Line	6.27%
Dominion Line	4.20%
Transat	6.08%
	100.00

12171

Austro's share is 4% of the N. D. L. V. and Transat; as N. D. L. V. and Transat represent 64.77% of the above percentages, the basis of calculation is $64.77 \times 4 \div 96 = 2.70\%$. The total of percentages inclusive of Austro is therefore 102.70% which after reduction to 100 gives the following percentages to which I have added the amounts due to the Russian American Line for passengers carried after October 22nd:

12172 Petitioner's Exhibit 1374

	Austro	2.63%	" 45.47
		100.00	Rubel 1728.75

Deducting the 0.56% of the Allan Line the percentages and amounts due to the Russian American Line for passengers carried before October 22nd are:

C.

	Anchor Line	3.13%	Rubel 35.91
	Cunard Line	12.64%	145.04
12174	Hapag	18.04%	207.01

Second Class rate.

The Red Star Line write: (Translation)

12185 "The small difference between 2nd & 3rd class rates becomes more and more disagreeably remarkable. Not alone that the adjustment of the Pool by raising the 3rd class rates is impossible but also a large number of steeragers are literally forced into the 2nd class and thus diverted from the pool. On the other hand the 2nd class becomes overburdened, and elements are brought into it which according to their social standing do not belong there and they cause serious complaints from the real 2nd class passengers. These conditions presumably exist with all parties."

12186 A letter from the French Line, received to day, also complains on the invasion of the 2nd cabin by emigrants on account of the low rates.

The Red Star Line under these circumstances propose once more a general advance of the 2nd class rates by 20 sh and ask that the Lines wire their vote.

I received the following letter from the Hamburg-Amerika Linie and Norddeutscher Lloyd jointly:

Hamburg
———— June 30th 1909.
Bremen

"In consequence of Minute 118 of the Paris meeting on March 25th 1909, the Norddeutscher Lloyd and Hamburg-Amerika Linie entered into negotiations with the German Government. From the very commencement of the discussions, they noticed that the chances 12213 for the fulfilment of the wishes of the British Lines were not favorable. The points of view given for the repellant attitude of the Government may be summed up as follows:

"Just as the French Government prescribes that emigration going through France, may only take place from French ports, the German Government adopts the point of view that, strictly speaking for emigration coming from Germany or via Germany only German ports should be taken as starting-places. Now in the case of Companies like the Red Star Line or the Transatlantic who have no German ports at their disposal, the German Government can well understand the wish to attract passengers from Germany to their Continental ports of departure, but in the case of the British Lines, whose passengers are free to travel from German ports and for whose passengers German ports are even more favorably situated than all others, the German Government fails to recognize the justifiability of the desire to attract passengers coming from Germany to Ant-12215 werp and Rotterdam. In the eye of the Government, to allow such mode of conveyance would be tantamount to directing traffic away from German ports to non-German ports.

"It was pointed out with great emphasis that the chief point of view in the promulgation of the German emigration law, was the care for the welfare of the emigrant. In the past the German Government has always looked with suspicion upon a mode of conveyance of emigrants that entails a change of ship abroad; the resultant unpleasantness for the emigrant, needs no demonstration. Even the German 12216 Companies, as far as their own traffic is concerned, are not allowed such indirect conveyance. Only after long negotiations and repeated representations on the part of the circles interested, did the Government in the year 1898 consent 'contre coeur' to grant licences to the American Line, the Cunard Line and the White Star Line. But its misgivings regarding indirect conveyance have remained the same. In the licenses of the American Line, Cunard Line and White Star Line, the ports of Hamburg and Bremen are explicitly prescribed as ports of embarkation. It must be remembered that, when emigrants are conveyed indirectly via Hamburg and Bremen, the Government always have the surety that they will be treated in the seaports according to the prescriptions of German Law and that they will be forwarded to England in ships equipped according to German Law; in Germany these are considered to be two advantages which the emigrant fails to enjoy, if he is conveyed indirectly from non-German ports.

"In the course of the proceedings it was 12218 pointed out how great a concession had been made, when, in December 1908 the Government, whilst waiving certain important rules, such for instance as the obligation of ships to classify with the Germanic Lloyd etc., had made arrangements not only in favor of the licensed British Lines (American, Cunard and White Star) but also in favor of the unlicensed British Lines (Anchor, Allan and Dominion), arrangements which guaranteed the unhindered transmigration of their passengers through Germany. It was able to do that, after the German Companies had undertaken full guarantees for the sanitary despatch in 12219 the frontier controlling stations, for railway-conveyance separate from that of other passengers all the way from the frontier to Hamburg and Bremen for lawful treatment of the emigrants in Hamburg and Bremen, for lawful conveyance from Hamburg and Bremen to England and for the conveyance from England to America, so that in the eye of the law such passengers might count as having been forwarded by the German Lines, in ships of the British Lines. It, however, had to decline conveyance via Rotterdam, Antwerp, Havre and Boulogne with change of ship abroad, even if the German Lines were to go surety or even supposing the German Lines were prepared to undertake the conveyance abroad, say with their own ships.

"From several quarters it was pointed out that the Anchor, Allan and Dominion Lines did not possess any license at all in Germany and further that the American, Cunard and White Star Lines were authorized carriers in Germany, namely from Hamburg and Bremen.

12221 That therefore, what the German Lines were putting forward, was, in the first place, an application for the licensing of a foreign line and, in the second place, an application for an extension of the already existing license of another line.

"That both these applications were not applications which like the matter in December 1908, could be settled by changing the prerogatives of the German Lines, that the Government therefore was not able to accept any proposals whatever from the German Lines relating thereto, but that the Companies in-12222 terested must make their own petitions. That, indeed, there could be no doubt as to what the result of such a petition would be, because a petition of the White Star Line for permission to carry passengers from Antwerp, as well as from Hamburg and Bremen, had met with a refusal only in April last year.

"In the foregoing statement we have endeavored to reproduce as fully as possible, not only the decision given, but also the leading points of view. The Lines which come in question, will gather from these explanations that further endeavours promise no success and that the German Lines can do nothing more in the matter."

The proposal to make a general advance of II. class rates by 20 Marks has not been agreed to. Part of the replies is such, that it might be concluded that the resp. Lines are averse to any advance. Nevertheless I still beg to submit the following proposals that have come forward with regard to II. class.

1) to advance rates off Continent by 20 Marks,

2) to make a general advance by 10 Marks,

3) to advance all continental rates by 10 shillings,

4) to charge head tax separately.

12228 Will the Lines please inform me to which of these four proposals they would be agreeable. Lines from which there is no reply here on 8th inst. I shall consider that they do not see their way to agree to any of them.

Telegraph Address:

Jena, July 6th, 1909.

To the Parties:

On June 11th the American Line wrote about their steadily increasing shortage and referring to Art. 11a of the Agreement asked that the Continental Lines, being all in the plus, should advance. On June 22nd 12236 they repeated this application also for the Dominion Line. In the mean time I had replied that for several reasons the Continental Lines could not further advance, the main reason being, that the difference between their lowest steerage rates plus headtax and the second cabin rate (which includes headtax) for the majority of the steamers in the trade had become so small, that a further advance of the steerage rate would seriously interfere with the pooling arrangements. On June 25th the White Star-Dominion Line and the American Line Philadelphia service reduced their Continental steerage rate by 10 Marks.

The Cunard Line on June 23rd wrote: 12237

> "Referring to your sheet No. 22 for the period up to 15th June, we notice that the American and Dominion Lines continue to increase their minus position westbound. The shortage of the American Line up to the 15th June has risen to no less than 4.479 and that of the Dominion Line to 5.655.
>
> "May we ask what measures have been taken or are proposed to be taken, by these two Lines to endeavor to carry the percentage that has been allotted to them?"

12238 Petitioner's Exhibit 1379

In my reply I referred to the reduction of these Lines in their continental rates in view of the impossibility for the Continental Lines to increase their rates.

To this the Cunard Line replied:

> "We are in receipt of your letter of the 26th ult., and note that the American Line have been in communication with you in regard to their Continental rates. In looking over the numbers, however, that have been carried, it must be apparent that the same action might 12239 have been taken by the American and Dominion Lines, not only in regard to Continental rates, but in regard to British and Scandinavian. We are afraid that the alteration in the American and Dominion Line's Continental rates will hardly have the result of correcting their position under the Agreement."

The position of the American Line, both services at the end of the first half year is minus 4696 or 39% short of their share. The Dominion Line, carried 5367 and their shortage is 5814 or 108%! Although it may be premature to judge about the effect of the reduction of their continental rate it seems hardly 12240 possible that they can recover their position with their present differentials. The Continental Lines need not put their steerage rates higher and cannot possibly, in view of there being apparently no chance of increasing the second class rates. But apart from that the position is such that the adjustment can hardly be brought about by continental business alone.

Referring to Article 11 I would ask both the Lines to inform me, soonest possible what further measures they propose, which, as provided for by Minute 2, must be "sufficient to bring about the desired result."

Net rates.

On several occasions complaints have been raised with reference to the quoting of net rates for steerage business on the Continent on the part of the French Line and several of the British Lines. The French Line some weeks ago have instructed their agents, to quote only gross rates and to make no allowance of their commission but then their agents pointed to the net rates of the Basle agents of the American Line, Cunard Line & White Star Line. I then applied on June 12th to the Cunard Line and Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co. and received from the latter the following reply:

12255

> "With further reference to your letter of the 12th inst., wherein you sent us copy of communication received from the French Line on the subject of gross rates being made for third class business over Havre and Cherbourg, we wish to say that the matter has received our careful consideration but we feel in view of the impossibility of preventing the Basle agents from making concessions in the gross rates by their paying away part of their commission it would seemingly be of no object to adopt the proposal now put forward and we therefore for this reason consider that the position should be allowed to remain unchanged, thus leaving the Basle agents to add to the nett rate whatever commission they feel competition will permit them to take."

This reply is considered as most unsatisfactory by all the Continental Lines who have expressed their views on it and who are unanimous, that it must not be allowed, to pass so slightly on an open disregard of the agreement. Art. 14a of the Agreement AA 12257 leaves no doubt that the agents have to charge gross rates out of which the Lines have to pay them the commission, as fixed, and Art. 5 A of the Agreement Z to which the Atlantic Conference Lines are parties, reads: "For Continental business only gross through rates off Continental ports to be quoted."

Whilst it is admitted that under special circumstances it may be useful to depart from certain regulations of the agreements this however cannot be left to the individual parties but has to be decided by Conference.

Will the Lines concerned please conform to the Agreements or point out for consideration of the Conference such reasons as they think make it in the 12258 interest of the Community to maintain for the present, the present practice.

American and Dominion Lines' Minus (G. No. 514.)

12275 The American & Dominion Lines' reply to G. No. 514 reads:

"We have your favour of the 6th inst. (G. 514) and note what you say as to Continental Lines who are all in the plus, being unable to advance third class rates mainly because of the small difference existing between Third Class & Second Class rates.

"As you are aware we have already expressed our willingness to join in a general advance of Second Class rates, which would enable Continental Lines to advance Third Class rates and so give effect to the fundamental 12276 principle of the Agreement embodied in Commentary to Article 11 'A.A.' which says adjustments of carryings, whenever practicable, are to be effected not by reducing rates of one Line, but on the contrary by raising the rates of one or several of the Lines.

"It was in view of the improbability of this being brought about that we took the only step open to us, viz: to reduce Continental Rates, and if it be found after sufficient time has elapsed to show the effect of this, that the measures taken do not produce an adequate result, our Continental Rates can be reduced still further, but with regard to the suggestion that we might take similar action with respect to British and Scandinavian Rates, we are already down to our minimums scheduled at London Meeting Feb. 5th as per Appendix I. of 'A.A.' and are not at liberty to go below those figures."

Petitioner's Exhibit 1338

It is evident that the views of the Cunard Line on the schedule of May 1st, 1907, are at variance with those of the American & Dominion Lines.

The Cunard Line says:

"The same action (reduction) might have been taken by the American & Dominion Lines not only in regard to Continental rates but in regard to British and Scandinavian."

The American & Dominion Lines say:

"We are already down to our minimums."

From the fact that the Schedule embodied in Agreement C. C. contains lower rates than the schedule of May 1st, 1907 one must conclude that the rates in this latter schedule are not the minimums, under which no Line must go down. What however the character of the schedule may be, it cannot supersede paragraph b of the Commentary to Article 11 which fixes the lowest gross rate at £5—.—

I leave it in first instance to the American & Dominion Lines, what further measures they propose to adjust their position and eventually Lines would be entitled to take recourse to Article 11b.

12287 American & Dominion Lines' Minus. (G. No. 525.)

On this subject the following communications have been received from:

Anchor Line:

"* * * We some weeks ago drew attention to the large minus the Companies named were piling up and wrote the British Conference Secretary, Liverpool, on the subject. The American Line reduced rate from some continental ports to a small extent, but the 'measure' was not drastic enough. The Dominion Line then made no move.

12288 "Article 11 of 'AA' agreement is advisory only. Where practicable rates of other Cos. should be advanced, but the article pointed out by the words 'whenever practicable' that this course may not always be prudent or possible.

"Your remarks at the end of your letter sum up the situation in our opinion & the two lines named should long ago have reduced their Continental & other rates to as near £5 as possible."

Petitioner's Exhibit 1385 12289

White Star-Dominion Canadian Service:

"With regard to your reference to the fact that the Scandinavian rates scheduled in Agreement C.C. are lower than those previously scheduled at London on February 5th, 1908, as per schedule of May 1, 1907, under Appendix 1 to Agreement AA, that is explained by the fact that the rates of May 1, 1907, included Head Tax, and at the time that it was decided that Head Tax should be charged separately, and in addition to the normal Agreement rates, the latter were altered, as per Agreement CC., 12290 and they now take the place of those in the Schedule of May 1, 1907, referred to, and, as you say, must be regarded as the minimums within the meaning of Appendix 1 to AA.

"With regard to the Cunard Line's remark that the reduction might have been made to apply to British & Scandinavian Westbound rates, it would appear the Cunard Line have overlooked the fact that the minimums agreed under Appendix 1 are binding on all lines, including those who are outside of the operation of the Westbound Pool so far as regards British and Scandinavian business. 12291

"Regarding your reference to Commentary (b) to Article 11, this cannot override the agreement minimums referred to.

"The measures already taken have apparently altered the American Line's position according to the Weekly Statistics of 7th July, and if we find the measures recently taken are inadequate so far as Dominion Line is concerned, we will consider further reduction in Continental rates."

12292 Petitioner's Exhibit 1385

In the meantime I have been informed that the American Line, Southampton, have reduced their British westbound rate by 5/ prepaid $1.25. In view of the small share of the American Line's Southampton service in British business it is to be expected that this reduction is not sufficient to bring about the desired result. (Min. 2.)

The views of the British Lines on the character of the Schedule apparently do not agree. I find nowhere that they are to be considered as minimums and Art. 6 a of Agreement CC. contains nothing from which might be concluded, that amendments of the schedule 12293 made for pool adjustment purposes can only be made by advancing. A schedule is in itself quite inconsistent with the pooling arrangements.

I would ask the rest of the Lines what positions they take with regard to the opinion expressed by the White Star-Dominion Line and further if they will await the result of the American Line's action.

"Volturno" July 10th eastbound. Advertised rate was $25 less $3 and up to $5 commission is paid extra (thus making a total commission up to $8). The appointed opposition steamer was "Kroonland," Rate $24.— Commission $2. Circulars issued 7th. On 8th "Volturno" reduced to $23.— As known (G. No. 526) "Volturno" got 212 steeragers which include 70 children and infants. She had also 18 cabin passengers & 31 deported aliens. 12302

The next steamer "Uranium" is advertised to sail July 24th.

12305 North West Transport Line. (G. No. 531.)

The Holland American Line wish me to promulgate the following letter of their New York office of 9th instant:

"S.S. 'Volturno' is scheduled to leave tomorrow and S.S. 'Kroonland' of the Red Star Line has been selected by the 'Small Committee' as the fighting ship, with a rate of $24 less $2 commission. The rate up to the 7th inst. for the S.S. 'Volturno' was $25 less $3 commission, after said date was reduced to $23 less $3 commission, with perhaps as previously an unofficial extra commission of from $2 to $3.

12306 The 'Small Committee' did not consider it necessary to make any further reductions for the Red Star Line and we greatly regret that the same tactics which were used previously, namely, the paying of an extra commission where it is deemed necessary cannot be adopted any more under the provisions of the Agreements. We learned from an unofficial source that S.S. 'Volturno' will have between 150 and 200 passengers tomorrow."

Since the Small Committee was stopped in following the steps of the North West Transport Line, the latter is making more headway. If the letter of the Holland America office expresses the general feeling of the New York representatives, the Lines will perhaps reconsider the proposal of the Small Committee as per G. 486. Minute 22a provides for the opposition steamer the same or a lower rate than the outside steamer. I think it is meant "net" rate, as otherwise by the higher commission of the competition in effect there is neither the "same" nor a "lower rate;" the simple reduction of the gross rates seems to be only half a measure and this I do not think is intended by such an important paragraph as Minute 22.

We expect that the British Lines will cause Mr. Cohen to at once withdraw this circular, and also call his attention to the possible consequences of his action."

The passage in the polish circular referred to reads translated:

12312 "They are English Express steamers which cross the Ocean in but 5 to 6 days, the largest in the world and therefore absolutely safe. They who undertake such a wide voyage, should not risk their life and consequently they should go by an English steamer.

"Because on the English vessels the majority of the travelling public are English who are accustomed to better accommodation and better boarding therefore, answering the requirements of the English public, there has been fitted up on our vessels the third class. People are not impelled in an immense compartment, but everybody is accommodated in a cabin with 2. 4. most 6 berths where they

With reference to G. No. 528.
White Star Dominion Canadian Service write:

"With regard to Anchor Line's remarks, since their letter was written, not only has the Dominion Line reduced its westbound Continental rates by Marks 10, which step the Philadelphia service of the American Line had already taken, but the American Line at Southampton, as you point out, has reduced its British rates to the normal minimum and has, furthermore, reduced Continental rates by Marks 20 from Rotterdam, Antwerp, Bremen and Hamburg.

"We hope and expect these measures will produce the desired increase in our carryings.

"With regard to your remark that nowhere are the British and Scandinavian rates scheduled to be considered as minimums and that Article 6 of Agreement CC, contains nothing from which might be concluded that amendments of the schedule made for Pool purposes can only be made by advancing,—we do not think it will be contended that the British and Scandinavian rates scheduled were intended to be regarded otherwise than as minimums just as are all other rates scheduled in the other agreements. If that were not so, the Lines not parties to the westbound pool, who are absolutely unrestricted regarding the amount of westbound traffic they may carry, would be also unrestricted in the matter of rates and could put same down to any figure they considered necessary to command as much of the traffic as they want.

"Article 6 of Agreement C C refers only to Scandinavian traffic, but in any case, in our opinion, there is nothing in that which overrides the principle laid down in Commentary to Article 11 of AA."

In connection with the matter in question is the following letter from Lloyd:

"With reference to Circular Letter G. No. 528 we think the Continental Lines are entitled to ask the British Lines for an authentical explanation regarding the nature of the rate agreement referred to for British and Scandinavian business. Our opinion always has been that the rates mentioned in the Schedule of May 1st, 1907, and its amendments, were not to be considered as absolute minimums. Article 6 Agreement C. C. seems to confirm this view while there is certainly nothing in §2 of the Appendix 1 to Agreement A. A. to contradict it. However as a reduction in the rates agreed upon (even if applying to only one line or class of steamers) would entitle the Lines who are not parties to Agreement A. A. for westbound business, to reduce their rates by a corresponding amount and thereby increase their differentials against the other Conference steamers, it may not be advisable to reduce rates below the agreed schedule except in case of absolute necessity. We shall be glad to hear if this interpretation is correct. In any case we must take exception against the view expressed by the White Star and Dominion Lines that clause 2 of the Appendix 1 to Agreement A. A. overrides §2 of the Commentary to Art. 11 of the Main contract."

Compensation S. S. "Oceanic" June 9th, 1909.
(G. No. 495.)

The White Star Line send me bill for 280 adults, 24 childr. 13 infants=292 adult passengers which were carried in competition against the "Uranium" to Hamburg by the "Oceanic" on June 9th from New York as per G. 495; the rate charged for them has been 25, so that in accordance with Minute 22 there is a compensation of $5 per adult = $1460, to be paid to the White Star Line.

The percentages over which the amount is to be distributed are to be calculated as follows: Transat by agreement with the N. D. L. V. since June 1st participate with a percentage of 10.05% in the eastbound 12327 business of the N. D. L. V. Lines; the remaining 89.95% of the N. D. L. V. Lines are equal to 45.80% of the 4 N. D. L. V. Lines under Agreement A. A., so that Transats share under Agreement A.A. is 45.80x10.05:8995 = 5.12%; the total of percentages is therefore 105.12% which reduced to 100 percent gives the following percentages.

Allan Line	4.71%
Anchor Line	3.74%
Cunard Line	14.38%

12328 Defendants' Exhibit 142

Hapag	11.75%
Nasm	5.80%
Lloyd	17.87%
Red Star Line	8.14%
White Star Line	14.74%
American Line	8.30%
Dominion Line	1.43%
Canpac	4.27%
Transat	4.87%
	100.00

12329 Austro's share is 4% of the 4 N. D. L. V Lines, the remaining 96% of the N. D. L. V. Lines are equal to 43.56% of the above percentages of the N. D. L. V. Lines so that Austro's share is 1.82%. The Total of the percentages of 101.82% reduced to 100 shows the following percentages:

Allan Line	4.63%
Anchor Line	3.67%
Cunard Line	14.12%
Hapag	11.54%
Nasm	5.70%
Lloyd	17.55%

the A. C. percentages which is (93.43×3 : 97) = 2.80% of the A. C. Lines inclusive of Transat and Austro; the total of the percentages of 102.80% reduced to 100% shows the following results:

Allan Line	4.50%
Anchor Line	3.57%
Cunard Line	13.74%
Hapag	11.23%
Nasm	5.54%
Lloyd	17.07%
Red Star Line	7.77%
White Star Line	14.09%
American Line	7.93%
Dominion Line	1.37%
Canpac	4.08%
Transat	4.65%
Austro	1.74%
Russ. America Line	2.72%
	100.00%

As the share of the Allan Line is to be borne by the other Lines in proportion to their shares the above percentages change now as follows:

12333

		Amount due to White Star Line
Anchor Line	3.74%	$ 54.61
Cunard Line	14.39%	210.10
Hapag	11.76%	171.70
Nasm	5.80%	84.68
Lloyd	17.87%	260.90
Red Star Line	8.14%	118.84
White Star Line	14.75%	215.35
American Line	8.30%	121.18
Dominion Line	1.44%	21.02

12334 Defendants' Exhibit 142

"The Gentlemen, who acted as a Committee on behalf of the conference lines, and who declared to possess full authority to deal with our company and to subscribe on behalf of the conference lines, have not informed us about any difficulties, that have arisen, neither has the Secretary at Liverpool given us any information thereof.

"In consequence thereof we consider all the transactions that have taken place between our company and your goodselves on behalf of the Atlantic Conference Lines after June 1st this year, as having been premature and void, as they should certainly not have been put in force, as long as any of the parties to the agreement refused to accept the conditions as agreed to by the committee.

"We shall also feel at liberty to be relieved at once of the obligations assumed by agreement C.C. until such date when the lines mentioned in the agreement have subscribed to same, and announced their willingness to let agreement C.C. become operative.

The White Star Line write:

"We have to refer to the Arbitrator's decision of 14th January last with regard to the payment of commission to Agents in America on cruise business when the Arbitrator ruled that Mediterranean cruises were subject to the rules and regulations of the 1st class rate agreement owing to there being nothing in that agreement to the contrary.

"We beg to submit that when the agreements V, W and X were concluded the question of Cruise business was not in the minds 12378 of any of the representatives present, and it was never intended that these minimum rate agreements should apply to bona fide Cruises by which the Passengers pay an inclusive fare to cover not only the Ocean voyage, but also all necessary shore expenses for Hotel accommodation and sight seeing (guides, drives, rides and rail journeys, etc.).

"The tendency must be, if this position is maintained with regard to Cruise traffic, to strengthen the hands of outside organizers, who have greater freedom of action, and to throw the business very largely into their control, to the detriment of the Steamship Companies, which is surely contrary to the spirit of the Agreements.

"Experience shows that the passengers who book for Cruises are of a different class to the usual Mediterranean Atlantic passengers, and only leave home when their travel arrangements are fully covered, as provided for by the inclusive Cruise fares.

"We therefore have to request that you will circulate this letter promptly, in order that the assent of the parties to Agreements V & X may be obtained to the understanding that passenger bookings for bona fide Cruises which, as before stated, are at rates which include shore excursions, sight seeing, etc., and are always arranged for steamers making special voyages upon an itinerary covering numerous ports quite outside the ordinary trading area, are not subject to the restrictions of the Agreements in question."

To the foregoing letter I may add that the Holland America Line furnished me proof that they get their minimum rate.

A similar case was brought before me October last.
12401 The Hamburg American Line reported that a passenger had paid £ 21 for his through ticket from Kingston to New York by Royal Mail steamer & from Newyork to Liverpool by "Lucania." The minimum rate for the "Lucania" being £ 20.10 there was only 10sh left for Kingston-Newyork instead of the official tariff rate of £ 9. The Cunard Line upon being asked for an explanation of the through rate replied that they had received the full minimum fare for passage from Newyork to Liverpool, and when further the Hamburg American Line pointed to that through rate involving a deviation from clause 7 of Agreement V the Cunard Line asked in what way they had deviated from the Agreement.

Compensation "Estonia" against "Volturno" 24/5/09.
(G. No. 517)

With reference to G. No. 517, the parties who were 12413 of opinion that several items of the bill G. No. 499 were not within the terms of Minute 22, have now waived their objection under the special circumstances of the case & one line with the reserve that this must not be taken as a precedent.

According to G. No. 499 the amount of compensation due to the Russian America Line for S.S. "Estonia" May 25th in opposition to S. S. "Volturno" May 24th from New York is $2017.70. The percentages over which the amount is to be distributed are as per G. No. 318 for the A. C. Lines 89.28%. The Russian America Line's share which is eastbound 3% of the A. C. Lines' and their own carrying, correspondingly is reduced to $89.28 \times 3 \div 97 = 2.76\%$.
12414 The remaining 97.24% distributed over the Lines as per G. No. 318 are therefore:

Allan	4.30%
Anchor	3.41%
Cunard	13.13%
Hapag	10.73%
Nasm	5.30%
Lloyd	16.31%
Red Star	7.43%
White Star	13.45%

Dominion L.	1.30%
Canpac	3.90%
Transat	8.77%
Austro	1.65%
Rusamerika	2.76%
	100.00

According to Byelaw 104 the Allan Line's share of participation to be borne by the other Lines in proportion to the above shares. The percentages in which the different Lines participate in the compensation 12416 payment of $2017.70 are therefore:

	%	Amount due to the Russian America Line $

Dear Sirs:

Arbitration Allan and White Star Lines.

We duly received your letter of the 21st ultimo, enclosing copy of the letter from the Secretary of the Dominion Line to the Secretary of the White

12442 Defendants' Exhibit 156

Star Line of date 30th January last, which we have shown to our clients. From that letter it appears that more than three months after the Allan Line complained of the advertisements and circulars being issued by the White Star Line announcing their new Canadian Service, and nearly two months after the Agreement was made to refer the present questions to arbitration, the White Star and Dominion Lines have made an arrangement between themselves for the transfer of one half of the Dominion Lines sailings in the Liverpool and Canadian Trade to the White Star Line in consideration of payment of a considerable 12443 sum.

We find it a little difficult to understand your clients' reasons for the delay in making known an arrangement which has an important bearing on the subject in dispute. If, however, you can assure us that this Agreement is a bona fide one, we shall be disposed to advise our clients not to press their complaint further, provided your clients agree to pay their costs in the arbitration to the date when you sent us a copy of the letter of agreement, the decision given by the Arbitrator on the preliminary question having been entirely in our clients' favor. We have no doubt that your clients will acknowledge that this is only 12444 fair in the circumstances.

Yours truly,

(sgd.) WRIGHT, JOHNSON & MACKENZIE.

Defendants' Exhibit 156 12445

Liverpool, 23rd July, 1909.

Messrs. Wright, Johnson & Mackenzie,

Dear Sirs:

Arbitration "Allan" and "White Star" Lines.

We must apologize for the delay in replying to your letter of the 13th inst. Mr. Norman Hill who attends to this matter is absent on a holiday and we thought it better to communicate with him before replying to your letter.

The arrangement between the White Star and Dominion Lines is a bona fide one. It resulted from negotiations extending over a considerable period and which were only concluded at a Meeting held on January 14th, 1909, the terms being as set forth in the letter of January 30th of which you have had a copy. 12446

The facts relating to this arrangement were not necessary to and could not have been raised in our clients' preliminary objection that your claim was against the wrong parties, and our clients did raise the arrangement on the first occasion on which it was open to them to do so, namely, in their Statement of Defense to the Claim. There is therefore no justification for your suggestion that costs have been incurred by reason of any nondisclosure of the nature of our defense. 12447

The costs that have so far been incurred are mainly, if not entirely, in relation to the preliminary point. These costs are in the discretion of the Arbitrator and we are content to leave Sir Robert Finlay to decide upon copies of your letter of the 13th inst. and this letter, and without further argument, by whom they should be paid.

Yours faithfully,

(sgd.) HILL, DICKINSON & CO.

They agree to the suggestion in the last paragraph of your letter that copies of our letter of the 13th instant to you and of your letter of the 23rd instant to us should be sent to Sir Robert Finlay and that he should decide upon these letters and without further argument by whom the costs should be paid. From the letters received with regard to the disqualification of the above firm I quote the following two:

1) Lloyd:

"We are in receipt of circular letter G. No. 559 and in reply must object to the disqualification of Messrs. P. Kapeller & Söhne, Czernowitz, unless evidence is submitted, conclusively proving the connection of said firm with the North West Transport Line or any of their disqualified agencies. Complaints against 12462 agents, stating that they are in communication with disqualified firms are not unfrequent. Only a few days ago we received a similar complaint against Mr. Dundoff, Sofia, but in the absence of sufficient evidence we have so far deferred proposing the disqualification of this firm."

2) Nasm:

"If Messrs. Kapeller & Sons are really in communication with the Universal Reisebureau for the forwarding of passengers to the Atlantic Express, as reported to the Cunard Line, they should certainly be disqualified. We cannot, however, recommend to revert to such a measure, unless it is positively sure that the reports received by the Cunard Line are based upon facts. As we all know, denunciations amongst the agents along the Austro-Russian border are of very frequent occurence.

"We therefore beg to suggest that the Cunard Line kindly inform you as to the nature of the advise received by them in respect of the above so that we may be able to judge." 12464 12467 "The Anchor Line cannot get around it that the Union Ticket Office stands in connection with two disqualified Reisebureau's.

Cruise business. (G. 548.)

With regard to G. 548 the following replies have up till now come to hand:

1) Star: August 12th:

"We quite share the opinion of the White Star Line that cruises should not be subject to the agreements V. W. & X."

2) Transat: August 12th:

"Nous ne partageons pas tout à fait l'avis de la White Star quand elle dit que les pas- 12471 sagers qui font une croisière ne sont nullement de la même catégorie que les passagers ordinaires, car s'il n'y avait pas de croisieres, beaucoup de personnes qui en profitent viendraient en Europe par les paquebots réguliers. Du reste, nous ne pensons pas que des compagnies faisant des croisières acceptent des passagers au prix minimum. A notre avis, la commission accordée doit donc être la même que celle qui est indiquée par les agreements V & W."

3) Americano: August 13th:

"In compliance with the White Star Line's suggestion we agree to the understanding that passenger bookings for bona fide cruises are not subject to the restrictions of the cabin agreements."

4) Lloyd: August 19th:

"In reply to circular letter G. No. 548, we beg to say that we are not in sympathy with the proposal of the White Star Line to have 12473 Cruise business generally exempted from the rules and regulations of Agreements V and X. Apart from the difficulty to give a sufficiently clear definition of the conception 'Cruise Business' which will preclude future differences of opinion, we consider a commission of 5% to sub-agents as quite sufficient. In order to prevent the granting of higher commissions on the part of outsiders, we would recommend that the Lines parties to agreements V and X agree among themselves not to charter any of their steamers for cruise purposes unless the Charterer assumes the obligation to limit the 12474 agents' commission to 5%."

5) Allan: August 26th:

"Referring to your circular G. No. 548, we beg to advise you that we decline to assent to the understanding with regard to cruise business proposed by the White Star Line in the letter quoted by you in that circular."

6) Cunard: August 26th:

"We have duly considered your memo of the 9th instant G. No. 548 with letter from the White Star Line upon the above matter. We rather deprecate any deviation from the decision of the Arbitrator as expressed on the 14th January last, in regard to the payment of commission to agents in America on Cruise Business, and as far as we are concerned do not see any reason why Agreements V. W. and X should not apply."

12475

7) Hapag: August 27th:

"G. 548 sorry cannot agree, but are willing discuss matter next meeting."

Continental Steeragers by Mediterrancan steamers. 12488

Art. 1 of Agreement AA. covers the entire steerage traffic forwarded by the parties to this Contract from all European Ports to and via the United States of America and Canada and vice versa. Excepted are Italian and Oriental passengers forwarded by direct steamers through the Straits of Gibraltar.

From this it results that the Atlantic Conference Lines which are engaged in Mediterranean steerage traffic have to account for in the Atlantic Conference all steeragers carried westbound or eastbound by their Mediterranean steamers other than Italians & Orientals, as for instance steergers from & to Austria, European Turkey, Servia, France, Spain, Portugal 12489 incl. Azores, etc., etc.

I am sorry on my recent trip for auditing the passenger manifests of the British Lines I have not attended to this paragraph. I therefore beg to request the Anchor Line and the White Star Line to have their 1908 manifests revised and either to report that by their Mediterranean steamers westbound and eastbound, they have not carried such accountable passengers, or to give the numbers specified for each steamer. Of course I must reserve auditing for next opportunity unless these lines deem it practicable to send me such of their manifests as I may ask.

12490 Petitioner's Exhibit 1409

As far as the Cunard Line is concerned the matter is settled by Appendix 3 d to Agreement AA. (Page 33), for westbound business. Eastbound the last clause on page 28 of Agreement AA. applies.

Hapag and Lloyd are already since long years accustomed to account for Continental steeragers b. their Mediterranean steamers.

We did not pay any particular attention to this information at first because it was sent anony-12498 mously.

"Through inquiries from our friends in the pool in Rotterdam and Antwerp it has turned out now, that as per a report of the Red Star Line which had gone to the trouble to make inquiry at the Austrian Consulate in Antwerp, the copy of the minutes corresponds exactly with the original and the respective passengers have also made the same declaration before the commissioner of emigration. The Red Star Line write as follows:

Petitioner's Exhibit 1410

" 'We have also found out which, though it is a little confused yet throws some light on the case viz: in the presence of a representative of the Austrian Consulate of this place, the Belgian commissioner of emigration had the passengers examined by a polish speaking priest of this place. The passengers have verified the assertions given in the consular-declaration and have only corrected the price paid from Kr. 280 to Kr. 260.

" 'At the hearing were present the proprietor an employee and the porter of the Union Ticket Office, as well as a representative of the "Vat- 12500

Union Ticket at first declared, that they did not work together with "Vaterland" and the porter had forwarded the passengers with "Vaterland" for his own account, but it was determined during the hearing that the payment was made in the office of the Union Ticket Office. This proves anew that the Union Ticket Office stands in connection with the two disqualified Reisebureaux, the Universal-Reisebureau and "Vaterdand." '

> "* * * that Agreement B. B. contains 12528 nothing about bye-law 22. In previous cases it is true we have got the full difference and therefore did not object to our steamers being placed at the disposal of the Conference, but we find it unfair that the Line which supplies the fighting steamer should bear a direct loss by lower rates besides their percentual share.

b) the words 'the Russian Volunteer Fleet, the Russian East Asiatic Co.' to be dropped.

c) If a R. A. L. steamer is selected it must be subject to the consent of the Russian America Line."

The Russian America Line are, I think, mistaken. I refer to Art. 24 of Agreement BB and Minute 104 from which it results with all clearness that can be desired that they are bound by Minute 22.

12530

The Lines will please express their views to what extent, if any, the wishes of the R. A. L. could be regarded.

The R. A. L. have handed in the following bill for compensation to the S. S. "Birma," August 21st.

Newyork—Rotterdam: 416/1 53/2 25/0 = 442-1/2, our rate $31—, fighting rate $24,—difference $7. $3,097.50

Newyork—Libau: 52/1. 4/2. 7/0 = 54, our rate $38,—fighting rate $35,—difference $3 162.

$3,259.50

According to a Memo of Mr. Sandford dated August 16th the "Birma" was appointed to sail August 21st, rate $24, commission $2. On that same date, August 16th, the Russian American Line advanced their eastbound steerage rates by $3 as per Newyork circular 37, and by an other circular, same No. (37) and same date August 16th the rate for S. S. "Birma" was reduced by $7.

12532 Petitioner's Exhibit 1416

On September 18th the R. A. L. wired that they had advanced their eastbound steerage rate to Rotterdam to $31 and to Libau $38. On asking them the reason for this advance they replied, because their shortage was so very small (273) and because the other Lines quoted rates from $31—41 1/2. An advance on the part of a Line which is 9% short of its share cannot be considered as a measure for adjustment and the other explanation is rather curious. If they had informed me before they advanced as they ought to have done (Art. 11 Agreement BB.) I should have objected.

12533 As to the compensation of $7—which is claimed it will have to be decided whether the advanced rate was in operation at the time when the "Birma" was proposed and agreed upon for the opposition, and on this point I have already written to Newyork some time ago; so I can await answer next days.

Increased commission for fighting purposes. (M. 576.)

A cable from Newyork gives the number of passengers by Uranium 11th 250, including 10 cabin. Opposition steamer 12536

Lapland " 687

The number by "Uranium" is the largest which a steamer of this competition Line has got this year and the result of the opposition will hardly be considered satisfactory. I therefore beg to suggest if the Lines which have hitherto not been disposed to agree to allowing a higher commission for the opposition steamer will reconsider their position.

The Anchor Line write:

> "We have not been in favor of granting small committee authority to grant an increased commission to agents when opposing the North West Transport Line at Newyork. We fear that there is no check on what may be done in this matter and leaves the Lines in the hands of subagents to too great an extent. 12537
>
> "But if all the A. C. Lines are agreed to give the matter a trial we would not stand out against this but retain the right to withdraw at 14 days notice to you."

The other Line objecting is the
Cunard Line:

12538 Petitioner's Exhibit 1417

"Referring to your G. No. 573 of the 2nd instant, we may say that we are averse to the policy of increasing commission to Agents, considering that it upsets business and has a demoralizing effect upon them. If deemed absolutely necessary, we think the better plan is for the rate of the fighting steamer to be put down to a figure which, when the normal commission is deducted, is the same as the net rate obtained by the opposition boat whatever its commission may be. The lower rate should attract passengers, which, after all, is what the 12539 Lines desire to bring about."

The presumption in the last paragraph would be right if the passengers were intelligent people, who choose for themselves, but if on the other hand one is of the opinion that agents control the business in question to a certain extent only a half result can be expected by lowering the rates.

I may refer to a circular of the General Agents of the Greek Lines of August 27th in which the following passage is to be found with regard to the Mediterranean Lines fighting the Greek Lines:

"To this disloyal war, each and every agent 12540 of Navigation should answer by supporting the Lines we represent. On our side we promise to do all that is possible to protect the interests of our agents.

"This is a promise on which they can positively rely; for in the past we have in every occasion favored the productive agent not by cutting down rates but by increasing the commission, intending to give the advantage only to the agent whom we believe to be the factor arbiter and soul of the marine transportation industry.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1417

"Above is just the contrary of the ideas and deeds of the Maritime Trust which vigilant and alert to protect its own interests totally ignores those of the one, the real producer of business. The agents have confirmation of what we say in the recent reduction of rate accorded to a steamer sailing September 1st.

"Even in this occasion the Trust has not failed to live up to precedent customs; for having for object to harm us, it has not provided for an increase in the commission so to be useful to its agents, but it has reduced the passage rate."

Of the inconveniences of the measure all Lines are aware, and also those Lines which have already agreed to the measure in question will understand that the Cunard Line and the Anchor Line do not treat it lightly. But all fighting measures are connected with inconveniences and if one resorts to them one cannot be too particular without questioning the desired result.

The decision depends practically on the Cunard Line. If they will inform me, that they will not stand in the way I would cable Mr. Sandford:

"Your cable June eleventh (G. No. 486) now agreed."

In this case it would be necessary to insert the word "net" in Minute 22a, 6th Line and 8th Line before the word "rate" and Minute 22d would have to be altered in the 3rd Line "the amount of the difference between the net rate at which the passengers are booked and the regular net rate of the carrying steamer etc."

In this latter respect the Committee would have to exercise the control of the rates.

In reply to G. 571/74 the Red Star Line write:

"Meanwhile it has been once more proven by G. 574 that the U. T. O. is in business relations with the disqualified firm 'Vaterland.' As regards the communication from the Anchor Line that our Second Class prepaid passenger, Mina Grinfeld, has been forwarded to Antwerp by the disqualified "Universal Reise-Bureau" in Vienna, we think it best to send you this prepaid enclosed, from which you will see that it calls for passage from Antwerp & that there was no railroad transportation to be arranged by us on the strength of the certificate. These Second Class prepaids are sent direct to the passengers by the purchasers and in the case in question the passenger did not secure her place on the steamer in advance nor did she even write us but started on her journey without paying any heed to the instructions given on the back of the ticket. So that we were not at all in a position to correspond with her & give her instructions about the journey to Antwerp. If such a passenger accidently goes into the office of the 'Universal Reise-bureau,' we think this is quite another thing to week by week and day by day passengers, coming from a disqualified firm, being directed to this 'Universal Reisebureau;' this means an organization & relationship with a disqualified firm whilst the other case is a single incident, which cannot be prevented & with which the Line has nothing at all to do."

The ticket referred to is a second class passage order entitling to transportation in II. Class from Antwerp to Newyork or Boston (direct); it does not say for what steamer. I send it to the Anchor Line, who will please return it.

I further beg to promulgate the following letter of 12551 the Hamburg American Line:

"Circular letter G. 582—In reply to the Anchor Line's letter contained therein we beg to say that the disqualification of the 'Reisebureau Vaterland, Onishcavich' to which all Lines, parties to Agreement AA, had agreed and which in conformity therewith was made known to the Agents by the various Lines' circulars, was according to Byelaw 105 to be reconsidered by the British Lines. As so far we have not been informed of the result of the British Lines' reconsiderations the disqualification cannot in our opinion be regarded as re-12552 moved, all the more in view of the fact that the Reisebureau Vaterland is in connection with the "Universal Reise-Bureau" which is also disqualified. Under these circumstances we trust that the Anchor Line will not withhold any longer their consent to the disqualification of the Union Ticket Office whose connection with the two above mentioned disqualified firms 'Reisebureau Vaterland' and 'Universal Reisebureau' is clearly proved and according to the Red Star's report in G. No. 582 continues to exist."

With regard to the information I received through Mr. Smyth that the passengers call of their own accord at the Universal Reisebureau, because they obtain their railway tickets here cheaper and that this seems to be uncontrollable by the steamship Cos. the Red Star Line write:

"We have your letter and note the explanation that the passengers from the Reise-Bureau 'Vaterland' consigned to the Union Ticket Office call of their own accord at the Reise-Bureau to purchase railway tickets from Vienna to Basle. Unfortunately this explanation does 12555 not agree with the facts because we know that these passengers arrive in Vienna with closed envelopes addressed to the Universal Reise-Bureau; I suppose that it will not be pretended that the passengers write these envelopes themselves.

"As to the question of the disqualification of the Bureau 'Vaterland,' we are not in accord with the Anchor Line as to the interpretation of Min. No. 105. The 'Vaterland' had been regularly disqualified and the disqualification recorded by the Secretary and then it needs under Min. 4B the unanimous consent of all the Lines to re-instate this agency. At the desire of the Anchor Line, the British Lines were to reconsider their decision, but should their opinion be favorable to a re-instatement it still needs the co-operation of the Continental A. A. Lines to effect such a re-instatement. For the present the 'Vaterland' therefore remains disqualified and the action between the Union Ticket Office and the 'Vaterland' is absolutely illegal and as the Union Ticket Office is systematically acting against the Law it should be disqualified."

I am in receipt of the following letter from the Anchor Line bearing on G. No. 587:

> "In regard to the Hamburg Amerika letter, the Vaterland, Rotterdam when disqualification was moved was not agreed to by us, and we think you can bear us out in this. We never were able to find out on what ground Vaterland, Rotterdam was disqualified, and why it was the Continental Lines were so anxious to put Mr. Onishcavich out of business and who did not send business to the North West Transport Line or to any outside Line, all his passengers were confined to Conference Lines and the business was duly pooled. 12567
> "We would in any case have nothing to do with any agent or Society that has any dealings whatever with an outside Line. We are aware that the U. R. B. has dealings with an outside Line, but the U. R. B. has nothing to do with us or our agents in regard to Transatlantic business.
>
> "On these broad facts we now definitely state to you that we cannot agree to the U. T. O. being disqualified.

12568 Petitioner's Exhibit 1423

"We notice the Hamburg Packet Company in reference to by-law 105 seem to be ignorant of what the British Lines have done in reference to the re-consideration of the disqualification of Onishcavich, but we understand the Liverpool Secretary of Conference has informed you that the British Lines are unanimous in removing this disqualification provided Mr. Onishcavich satisfies them as to where he will re-establish himself in business."

As to the above statement of the Anchor Line that 12569 the disqualification of the "Vaterland," when moved was not agreed to by them I beg to say that this is a matter dealt with by the B. L. Conference. I am therefore not in a position to say whether it was agreed to by the Anchor Line or not. I only received a disqualification circular dated Liverpool March 18th through Mr. Smyth, in which the Anchor Line is named as one of the disqualifying Lines, so that the disqualification of the Vaterland must be considered as agreed to by all Lines.

When the matter however was taken up again a few days later at the Paris Meeting of March 25th and the disqualification was to be reconsidered, my under-

Compensation fighting steamer "Birma" (G. 584) 12572

Reverting to the last paragraph of G. No. 584 following is the reply from New York:

Anchor Line:

12581 "Your G. No. 588. Union Ticket Office.

"We thank you for yours of 17th September, and note the remarks of the Red Star Line. We cannot amplify what we have already stated in regard to the question of tickets being issued by the U. R. B. of Vienna. We have had our agents here who gave us full explanations of the matter. Explanations that were satisfactory to all the British Lines.

"We notice that the Red Star Coy, do not agree with our interpretation Byelaw No. 105. We have advised you fully of the position of 12582 the British Lines in regard to the disqualification of 'Vaderland' and the present position of the matter. We assure you that the U. T. O. has no desire to do anything contrary to Conference regulations."

Red Star Line:

"We refer to your letters G. 590 & 591 and it would seem to us as if the Anchor Line has not carefully read the previous letters because we do not know where they find that we admit that a second class passenger of ours was forwarded by the Universal Reise Bureau, we have not the slightest knowledge of this and the ticket shows nothing, as we distinctly stated in our letter. The case is very different for the passengers from the 'Vaterland' who were forwarded by the Universal Reise Bureau because, as we stated, these passengers arrived from Krakau with closed envelopes addressed to the Universal Reise Bureau in Vienna and we stated ironically that nobody would pretend that the passengers wrote these envelopes themselves. These envelopes establish beyond any doubt that the 'Vaterland' in Krakau is in connection with the Universal Reise Bureau and that the Union Ticket Office is in connection with both the 'Vaterland' and the Universal Reise Bureau. 12583 12584

"As regards the disqualification of the 'Vaterland,' you deal yourself already with the assertion of the Anchor Line that they have not agreed to the disqualification, and as regards the opinion expressed by you that pending the reconsideration of such disqualification, the disqualification should not be carried out. I think that the interpretation of the contract is a matter which concerns the Lines themselves and not the Secretary, but since you were under this impression, will you please explain why you have then mentioned the 'Vaterland' amongst the disqualified firms in your Weekly Statistics Westbound form 25?" 12585

I think the interpretation of the contract is a matter which does concern the Secretary. That decisions of the Lines overrule his interpretation needs no mention. For the rest the Secretary is subject to errors as other mortals too.

> "According to circular letter G. No. 586 the Russasiatic's steerage rate from Libau is Rbl. 82 and their 11 class B rate Rbl. 100. This makes a difference of Rbls. 18 which is a trifling less than the £2 stipulated by Art. 13 Agreement B.B. This difference is, however, practically reduced to only a little more than £1 as head tax is charged separately for steerage business but not for 2nd cabin. This difference is in our opinion totally insufficient to prevent the diversion of steerage business into the 2nd cabin, and also not in accordance with Art. 13 and passengers booked at the rate of Rbls. 100 second class should consequently be pooled. We shall be glad to hear the views of the other Lines on this point."

> "We beg to acknowledge receipt of your letters G. No. 590 and G. No. 591. The concluding paragraph of your letter exactly states our view of the disqualification of 'Vaterland.' We understood that the action taken with the consent of all Lines at the Paris Meeting on March 25th delayed the disqualification of 'Vaterland' Rotterdam and that the disqualification was hung up pending the decision of the 12606 British Lines to whom the question was referred in accordance with Bye-Law 105. We must consider that this matter is now ended so far as we are concerned."

Holland America Line Septr. 24th:

> "We cannot share your opinion with regard to what was decided at the Paris meeting of March 25th, 1909, in respect of the Reisebureau 'Vaterland.' It is true that the matter was referred to the British Lines for reconsideration, but we do not recollect that anything was said at the time to the effect that pending the reconsideration the disqualification was not to be carried out. From the moment the Continental Lines had been notified by the British Lines that these were agreeable to the disqualification, it could not be removed but with unanimous consent. The Continental Lines at the Paris meeting simply offered to the British Lines the opportunity to revise their standpoint if such was their desire and to submit the question again to the Continental Lines, the disqualification not to be removed unless both British and Continental Lines should favor the removal. Unanimity not having been reached thus far, the disqualification of the Reisebureau 'Vaterland,' in accordance with by-law 4a, remains in effect.

12607

12608

"We understand that the only progress made since the Paris meeting is that the British Lines would be willing to move the re-instatement of the Reisebureau 'Vaterland' provided Mr. Onishcavich satisfies them as to where he will re-establish himself in business, but we do not see how this could satisfy the Continental Lines. In this connection we beg to say that it is hard to understand why an undesirable agent should become less undesirable because of his moving his place of business to some other locality."

From the Secretary of the British Lines I received following copy of letter addressed to him by the Cunard Line:

12610 Petitioner's Exhibit 1430

"Sep. 24th, 1909.

"Dear Sir:

"Referring to your memo of the 22nd September, in regard to Mr. Oniscavich ('Vaterland') we must dissociate ourselves from the statement contained in the Red Star Line's letter—see Secretary Peters' G. 588—that the reinstatement needs the co-operation of the Continental A. A. Lines. At the Atlantic Conference Meeting it was elicited that Oniscavich did not represent any of the Continental 12611 Lines, and according to Byelaw 4 C. no agent can be disqualified unless his disqualification is first proposed by any of the Lines employing him. Therefore the Continental Lines were not right in proposing it. With this in view the whole matter was referred back to the British Lines, and we maintain that the British Lines, if they choose to do so, are fully entitled to reinstate Oniscavich without any reference whatever to the Continental Lines."

"Regarding the closing remarks of the Lloyd we beg to refer to your circulars Nos. 687 & 688 from which can be seen, that the Holland Amerika Line and Red Star Line quote Rmk. 200 (incl. of headtax) while the steerage rate of the same Lines is Rmk. 160, plus headtax Rkm. 17, thus a real difference of Rmk. 23, and we assume that the Conference regulations apply equally to all parties.

"The nominal difference of Rmk. 40 is not in accordance with Appendix 2, Par. 12, or is perhaps the exchange different here?

"According to the above we consider the demands of Lloyd & White Star void to let our 2nd class B passengers figure as steeragers, and await your confirmation accordingly."

Article 13 of Agreement BB is in conformity with Article 13 of Agreement AA in so far as it fixes a minimum difference of £2 between the steerage rate and the second class rate of the resp. steamer but there is the condition, "unless otherwise agreed upon" or "unless there is a second class rate agreement."

The difference between the A. C. Lines and Rusamerika is that the A. C. Lines have a second class rate Agreement, fixing the minimum rates, whilst nothing has been agreed upon with Rusamerika otherwise than in Art. 12.

The best way to get out of the existing state of things might be that a cabin rate for the Rusamerika Line's steamers be agreed upon and I await to hear what the Lines think about it.

Cunard Lines Prepaid rate for Russian steeragers.

By Request of the Cunard Line I circulate the following correspondence:

On August 9th I received from Mr. Smyth the following telegram: 12674

1)

> "Cunard advance Continental prepaid Liverpool service two dollars, Russian two dollars additional."

of which I informed the Continental Lines.

2) Hapag to Secretary: 10/8.

> "What do last four words mean? As they read we must suppose that Cunard intend to apply a special rate by two dollars higher than for other Continentals." 12675

3) Secretary to Cunard: 10/8.

> "Your advance continental prepaids. What special include the two dollars additional for Russians."

4) Cunard to Secretary: 11/8.

> "Your telegram Russian prepaids don't quite understand nature of enquiry, kindly explain."

12676 Defendants' Exhibit 173

5) Secretary to Cunard: 11/8.

"Explanation is wanted why Russian prepaids are charged a differential against other Continentals."

6) Cunard to Secretary: 11/8.

"The expense of two dollars extra for Russian passengers is applied for same object as that of Continental Lines of which you must be aware."

7) Secretary to Cunard: 12/8.

12677

"Referring to the telegrams exchanged with regard to your extra charge for prepaids from Russia and your last telegram in which you say, that the 2 Dollars are applied for the same object as that of Continental Lines, I beg to say that of course I am aware that the Continental Lines make this extra charge for board & lodging in the port of embarkation for prepaids and for cash passengers as well. I was however under the impression that this was already included in your Continental rates and will thank you for informing me if that is a mistake.

12678

"I beg to draw your attention to Art. 15 which fixes the equivalents between cash and prepaid rates."

8) Cunard to Secretary: 16/8.

"We are in receipt of your letter of the 12th instant, concerning Russian Prepaid Passengers. Answering your query, the extra charge to which you refer has not hitherto been included in our Passage Rates.

"With regard to your reference to Article 15, we may say that as far as we are aware, our prepaid rates have never been below our cash parity. A similar instance has been in operation before."

9) Secretary to Cunard: 18/8.

"Your favor of 16th instant. Am I right in assuming that the extra Charge of $2 entitles the holders of such prepaids to free board and lodging in the Continental port of embarkation?

"I note that your prepaid rates have never been below your cash parity but that is not the point. Cash and prepaid rates must be on parity and therefore if you quote a net rate off Havre of Frcs 165.25 your corresponding prepaid rate must be $36½ and not $46½, or if you quote a prepaid rate of 45½, your cash rate must be 190 Marks gross or something like Frcs 220 net. If you refer to similar instances of imparity having been in operation before I would say that deviations from the terms may be tolerated as long as no party objects. Objections are now made and I am to protest on the part of Continental Lines." 12680

10) Cunard to Secretary: 26/8. 12681

"Replying to your letter of the 18th inst. we shall be glad to know for what purpose you require the information from us. In any case your assumption is not correct.

"In regard to the second paragraph of your letter Article 15 of Agreement A.A. is simply a table of equivalents, so that there may be no mistake on the part of any Line in knowing exactly what 100 Marks and upwards represent in United States currency. We have perfect liberty to make our prepaid rates more than our cash if we so desire. We have no knowledge of having deviated from the terms of Agreement, and cannot now in view of the fact that this practice has already been in existence, appreciate any objection."

11) Hapag to Secretary: 25/8.

"From the enclosed circular we gather that the Cunard Line have fixed for Russian Prepaids a rate which is $2.— higher than the fare which they are otherwise quoting. This proceeding cannot fail to create the impression that the Cunard Line in view of the cholera-reports are anxious to reduce their transportation of emigrants of Russian origin. But according to the contract it is neither permissible for a party to shut itself off from the transportation of certain nationalities nor for it to quote special rates without the consent of the other parties. The action of the Cunard Line seems to us in disaccordance with Article 15 and Byelaw 18. We should be obliged, if you would induce the Cunard Line to explain what their intention are with regard to the quotation of the rate in question and whether in view of Article 15 and Byelaw 18 there is some mistake on their part." (Communicated to Cunard August 28th.)

12) Cunard to Secretary: 30/8.

"We are in receipt of your letter of the 28th August, which has crossed ours of the 26th Aug. Copy of letter from the Hamburg Amerika Line is noted. We think the Hamburg Amerika Line will find on reference to their circulars that the arrangement under discussion is one they have in operation themselves, and therefore we do not understand their remark concerning Byelaw 18."

13) Secretary to Cunard: 3/9.

"Your favor of 26th August.

"With regard to Art. 15 you are of opinion that you have perfect liberty to make your prepaid rates more than your cash if you so desire. That is a mistake. If Art. 15 in itself were not clear enough Byelaw 1 will show you, that you have such liberty only during a fixed short period."

14) Secretary to Cunard: 6/9.

"With reference to your favor of 30th August, which I communicated to the Hamburg American Line, they write me as follows:

" 'In receipt of your favor of the 2nd instant we would ask you to reply to the Cunard Line, that we are not aware of having in operation ourselves the arrangement of which an explanation from the Cunard Line was desired, and that we should not consider it right, if we had. In the present case, however, it is not a question of what the Hamburg American Line does, but a question of an action of the Cunard Line. When the Cunard Line finds anything in our quotation which in their opinion is not correct, we expect them to call our attention to it, so that we may be enabled to rectify if necessary, just as we have pointed out to the Cunard Line something which we do not consider correct. Therefore, it is for the Cunard Line either to rectify the matter if a mistake was made, or if it was not a mistake that led to the rate under discussion, but a design, to explain on which regulation of our agreements they based their action.'

12688 Defendants' Exhibit 173

"We now hope to receive the Cunard Line's explanation.'

15) Cunard to Secretary: 3/9.

"Thanks for yours of the 3rd September. We think that possibly you do not quite appreciate our position. As you are aware, we have been overcarrying westbound for some time past, and it is, therefore, necessary for 12689 us to take what measures we deem fit to correct the position. Our sales of Russian prepaids have been considerable, and noticing that the Continental Lines charge a higher rate for Russian passengers, we have taken the same course. Our cash rates however being already £8 or over, we do not propose to advance them further at present."

16) Cunard to Secretary: 9/9.

"We beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 6th instant, and note communication which you have received from the Hamburg Amerika Line. In letter received with 12690 yours of the 28th August, the Hamburg Amerika Line referred us to Byelaw 18, which relates to the quotation of special rates. Seeing that the Hamburg Amerika and other Continental Lines quote rates on similar basis for Russian passengers we cannot follow the application of their reference."

17) Lloyd to Secretary: 13/9.

"We have taken due note of the correspondence passed between yourself and the Cunard Line with regard to the special rate quoted by the Cunard Line for Russian prepaids and regret to say that we consider the explanation given by them as entirely unsatisfactory.

Defendants' Exhibit 173 12691

"Art. 15 says that the Cash Steerage Rates and the American Prepaid Rates shall be established on certain equivalents. We do not think that this can be interpreted to mean that each Line may adopt other equivalents than those expressly stipulated.

"The quotation of a higher rate for Russian business than for other Continental traffic over the same ports constitutes another infraction of the Contract against which we must likewise protest. 12692 If the Cunard Line say that the Continental Lines charge also higher rates for Russian passengers, this statement is certainly not correct so far as our Line is concerned. Our rates for Russian passengers are exactly the same as for all other business. The collection of an extra amount of $2 on prepaids, and of a similar amount on cash tickets from Russia, to cover board and lodging at the port, which expenses passengers of other nationalities have to pay out of their own pocket, has nothing whatever to do with the rate, and if the Cunard Line adopt the same 12693 course, we shall certainly not object, provided the amount charged for board & lodging is a reasonable one. We can, however, not admit that the Cunard Line charge special rates for Russian passengers which in our opinion is quite incompatible with the terms and spirit of the Contract."

18) Secretary to Cunard: 13/9.

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of 9th instant, which I duly communicated to the Hamburg American Line. In reply they revert to their letter of 3rd instant contained in my respects of 6th inst. and write:

12694 Defendants' Exhibit 173

"'The Cunard Line's letter of the 9th instant we cannot consider as a reply to the enquiries made in our letter of the 3rd instant. Instead of replying to the letter the Cunard Line revert to our letter of August 25th. Under these circumstances we beg you to ask the Cunard Line to give a reply to the questions asked in our letter of the 3rd instant, stating whether a mistake was made and if 12695 not explaining on which regulation of our agreement they based their action.'"

19) Cunard to Secretary: 2/10.

"Your favor of the 15th September to hand, and we note the remarks of the Hamburg Amerika Line in connection with our Russian Prepaid Rates. We thought we had made the matter quite clear in ours of the 8th September, and have really nothing further to say. The Hamburg Amerika Company's letter of September 3rd we dealt with in ours of September 9. Apparently they had no grounds 12696 for suggesting that we had infringed Byelaw 18.

"As regards the letter from the Norddeutscher Lloyd, we do not think we can add anything to what we have already written. They admit that they are charging more for Russian passengers than for other nationalities, which is the point we have emphasized in our communications."

20) Secretary to Cunard: 2/10.

"From a circular of your Newyork Agents dated September 2nd I note that your rate

Defendants' Exhibit 173

from Libau to Newyork and Boston direct will be $48.50. In a handbill dated September 15th the same rate is quoted. I do not find that I have been previously informed of this alteration (Art. 12) nor can I trace that I have received these printed matters and circulars. (Art. 16b.) 12697

"Further I have to point out, that this rate of $48½ is $5 higher than the equivalent of your cash rate of M 180 which is $43½. (Art. 15.)

"In reply to your letter of September 22nd Lloyd write: 12698

" 'We do not find that there is anything contained in our letter which would bear out the Cunard Line's statement that we had admitted to charge more for Russian steeragers than for those of other nationalities. On the contrary, we have expressly stated that "our rates for Russian passengers are exactly the same as for all other business," and we fully uphold this statement. We repeat that the collection of an additonal sum from certain passengers for which the latter receive the equivalent in the shape of free board and lodging at the port, which other passengers from whom this additional payment is not collected have to defray themselves, has nothing whatever to do with the passage money. The latter, we repeat, is in the case of our company always the same for all passengers travelling in the same class. We understand, however, that this is not the practice with the Cunard Line who charge a higher ocean rate to Russian passengers than to those of other nationalities, without offering them any facilities which other passengers 12699 paying a lower rate, do not also enjoy. We maintain that this is contrary to Byelaw 18 and must reserve all our rights in this respect.'

12700 Defendants' Exhibit 173

"The Holland America Line fully endorse the opinion of the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American Line with regard to your steerage prepaid rate for Russian passengers."

21) Cunard to Secretary: 6/10.

"We have your letter of the 2nd October
12701 regarding our rate from Libau to New York and Boston, but do not quite understand what alteration it is that you refer to, as we have made no alteration in these rates since our advice to the British Lines' Conference Secretary of the 6th Aug. '09. Perhaps you will kindly send us the circulars to which you refer, when we will have the matter looked into.

"We note your further remarks concerning our prepaid rates; also the communication from the Norddeutscher Lloyd. There does not, however, appear to be anything fresh in what they write. In the correspondence we have had with you we have given you our 12702 views and explained our position, which we maintain is quite in accord with our obligations under Agreement AA and the Byelaws.

"We further observe what you say in regard to the opinion of certain of the Continental Lines. We do not know whether you have circulated the correspondence to all the Conference Lines, but if not we think you should do so, seeing that the interest in the subject is not confined to the Continenial Lines."

With reference to the claim of the Russian American Line for compensation for passengers booked by the Birma to Libau, I received information that the Libau rate was not discussed by the Small Committee but that it appeared to be unanimous in accepting the basis of settlement at $2 per adult for each Libau fare; under the usual reserve of the verification of the numbers of passengers. I therefore beg to submit the following bill for passengers by the Birma:

For 416 ad. 53 chldr. 25 inf. — 442 1/2 adults to R'dam at $6 =	$2655.
12726 For 52 ad. 4 chldr. 7 inf. — 54 adults to Libau at $2 =	108.
	$2763.
In order to rectify as per G. 593 the distribution in G. 561 there must be added	$4685.

which distributed over the percentages as per G. No. 593 gives credit to the Russian American Line:

Dominion Lines' shortage westbound.

On October 23rd I was asked by some of the Continental Lines to request the Dominion Line to reduce their Continental rate by 20 Marks for adjustment purposes. In my letter to Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co. on the subject I pointed out that this measure at the same time would have the effect to meet the competition of the North West Transport Line.

In pursuance to the above I beg to promulgate the following correspondence:

1) Dominion Line to Secretary October 26th:

12768 "We have your favor of the 23rd inst. addressed to Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co. which has been handed to us for attention, and note the suggestion of the Continental Lines with regard to our rate from Continental ports.

"We are pleased to observe the result of the reduction we have made and hope that the passengers we are drawing in consequence via Liverpool will have the effect of keeping business from the North West Transport Line, except when they carry it at unremunerative rates.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1451

"Our rate of M. 130 we may say leaves less than £ 4 nett to the ship per adult, but we should nevertheless, if requested by Conference and compensated the difference by the Conference as a whole, be prepared to make a further reduction of M. 20 as a fighting measure.

"In considering the situation, however, the question occurs to us if it would not be more economical for the North German Lloyd to take some special step in this direction, seeing that they are also very large minus parties in the A. C."

In reply to this letter wired:

2) Hapag October 30th:

"Sorry must protest against Dominion Lines' standpoint Dominion not making a concession by reducing but according Article eleven paragraph a are bound to do so without compensation referring to weekly statistic thirty-nine Dominion's shortage reached 6576 October twenty-third this shows that Dominion's efforts bringing about adjustment in past ten months have been in vain propose Dominion reduces immediately and in case refusal propose to decide matter by vote other lines as per commentary article eleven paragraph c and d."

which I passed on to the Dominion Line.

On the same subject I received the following letters:

3) From Norddeutscher Lloyd: October 30th:

"We have taken due note of the Dominion Line's letter to you of 26th instant from which we regret to note that the Dominion Line in spite of their enormous shortage—being almost

12772 Petitioner's Exhibit 1451

40% behind their share—and notwithstanding the fact that their rate is still 30 shillings above the minimum stipulated in § 2 of the commentary to article 11, have refused to reduce their rate by 20 shillings unless compensation be paid to them by the A. C. Lines for the difference between their present and the reduced rate. We trust that, after further consideration, the Dominion Line will agree that their attitude is not in accordance with article 11 Agreement A. A. and that some drastic measure is necessary to reduce their shortage 12773 to a reasonable figure at least.

"As to our own position, we beg to observe that our shortage is less than 4% of our share so it cannot be compared in any way with that of the Dominion Line. In spite of this, however, we have advised you on October 27th that we had reduced our westbound rates all round by 10 Marks with the only exception of our New York express service. We shall be glad to hear that the Dominion Line have followed our example."

4) From Hamburg-America Line October 31st:

12774 "Against the standpoint which the Dominion Line adopts we are to our regret compelled to protest. In view of its present pool-standing, the Dominion Line is not making any concessions in reducing their rates, but is bound by pool-agreement to do so, without any compensation. Article 11 provides that each party is in duty bound to adopt measures calculated to bring about a correct adjustment. No. 39 of the weekly statistics shows that Dominion Line fell behindhand more and more from week to week till on October 23rd it reached the lowest shortage of 6576. Consequently the measures taken by the Dominion Line to bring about an adjustment, had been without effect for ten months. By the attitude hitherto adopted by the Dominion Line, not only the desired adjustment, has not been brought about until now, but also many passengers who, if a reduction had been made in due time, would have been secured for the Dominion Line have fallen into the hands of the North West Transport Line and have consequently been lost for the Atlantic Conference. A reduction to only £ 6—./— would today no longer suffice to get the Dominion Line out of their minus by the end of the year. To achieve this the Dominion Line will have in our opinion to reduce to at least £ 5—/—. In order to come to a decision in this matter we propose by virtue of article 11, Paragraph b, the Dominion Line should reduce its rate immediately. In case of refusal we move the taking of votes in accordance with Commentary to Article 11, Paragraph c and d."

Messrs. The Norddeutscher Lloyd.

Dear Sirs:

We are obliged for your favor of the 17th inst., and note your views with regard to a Second class Pool, and that you are asking Mr. Peters to place this subject on the Agenda for the next Conference.

The difficulty, of course as usual in arriving at a 12803 Pool will be to agree upon a percentage basis that is satisfactory to all. For our part we have to consider our Southampton service which has only been established since the middle of 1907 and also our Canadian service: the "Laurentic" and "Megantic" having commenced running in the White Star Dominion Canadian service this year.

Assuming that a satisfactory basis can be arrived at for fixing the percentages we think a pool might be worked somewhat on the Lines as per attached memorandum. This of course is a very rough outline, but we shall be interested to hear how it appeals to you.

We are quite of your opinion that a general advance of at least 20/—all around should be made in the Sec-12804 ond Class rate. We think a Pool would secure a larger increase, but we hope that the advance of at least 20/—may be agreed, if a pool is found impossible.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1456

Memorandum re Second class pool.

The lowest Second class Agreement rate is £8.

The lowest First class Agreement rate is £12. 10. 0 by the same steamer giving a difference of £4. 10. 0. In the higher rated steamers this difference is greater, until in the fastest German boats and the "Lusitania" and "Mauretania" the difference is as much as £13. 10. 0. It is proposed to fix the Second Class Pool rate as £9 or not less than £3 above the Third class rate by the same steamer whichever is highest.

The carryings to be regulated by the Lines in the plus advancing rates, but no Line need go higher than within £2 of its First class Agreement rate by the same ship. The compensation rate to be £7 per soul.

The First class rate as fixed by Agreement, but if there is no Agreement must be at least £3, above the Second class rate by the same ship.

12807

Copy of letter from Norddeutscher Lloyd.

Bremen, 28th Oct., 1909.

Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co.,
Liverpool.

Gentlemen:

We are in receipt of your favor of 21st instant re 2nd class Pool and note what you say with regard to 12809 the difficulty to arrive at an understanding regarding percentages. This difficulty is obvious but we think if all Lines bear in mind the past advantages offered by such an agreement, it should not be impossible to come to an understanding on this essential point.

We have carefully looked into the few clauses drawn up in the special memorandum attached to your letter and with reference to same beg to point out the following.

You say that the lowest Second class rate should be fixed at £9 or not less than £3 above the Third class rate by the same steamer whichever is highest. We think that it is quite immaterial what rates are fixed to begin with. We would suggest to start with the 12810 present schedule raised all around by a pound or two, rates to be adjusted in future according to the position of the Line in the Pool. It would, in our opinion, not be feasible to stipulate certain minimum differentials between Third and Second class rates, as a Line may be in excess in the Third class pool and at the same time be short in the Second class pool, and if a certain differential must be maintained, it would be extremely difficult if not impossible for such Line to adjust its position in either Pool without coming into conflict with the above or other stipulations.

12811

As regards First class, you say that no Line being in excess in the Second class pool need go higher than within £2 of its first class agreement rate by the same ship, and further that if there is no First class agreement the first class rate must be at least £3 above the Second class rate by the same ship. In our opinion neither £2 nor £3 would be a sufficient differential between first and Second class and besides this a stipulation which would compel a Line to follow any fluctuation of its Second class rates by a corresponding alteration of its first class rates would be extremely onerous. On the other hand, a second class pool could be worked quite satisfactorily in connection with a first class rate agreement, provided the rates under such agreement are fixed high enough to prevent the diversion of second class traffic into First class.

12812

As to the compensation rate £7 seems to be an adequate figure.

Yours faithfully,

(Signed.) NORDDEUTSCHER LLOYD.

Dear Sirs:

We are much obliged for your favor of the 28th inst., with regard to the proposed second class pool, and have read your remarks with very much interest.

12815 There is no doubt a great deal in the points you make in criticising the rough outline of a Pool which we sent you and while we still think there should be some provision in any second class Pool agreement that may be formed to prevent the third and second class rates overlapping and also the second and first class rates, we are not by any means wedded to our draft proposals, which however, would form a basis for discussion.

It might be well to circulate our letter and your reply before the A. C. meeting on the 25th November, as we think a Pool agreement is more likely to go through if the other Lines have an opportunity of thinking it over before the meeting.

Kindly however, favor us with your view.

12875 The 780 steeragers, which S.S. "Uranium" embarked at Rotterdam on November 13th, were composed as follows:

	to U. S. A.	to Canada	Total from Russia	398	19	417
" Austria	151	17	168
" England	—	124	124

Eastbound:

S.S. "Napolitan Prince" left New York November 6th with about 150 steeragers at a rate of $25 less $3 commission besides $1 to $2 extra commission. Her opposition steamer was S.S. "St. Paul" which left New York on the same date and had on board amongst other passengers according to a report I received from New York, 383 Continentals at a fighting rate of $24 commission $2, besides 8 Continentals at a rate of $31 commission $2.

S.S. "Volturno" sailed from New York 23rd instant with 151 steeragers (estimated) against opposition steamer "Estonia" which got 257. 12878

Westbound Statistics 1908.

I received the following letter from Mr. Smyth:

12881 "First Class Numbers Westbound, your return No. 41. Further to my letter of the 12th instant, regarding a discrepancy in the Anchor Line Eastbound first class statistics in your return No. 41, (G. No. 660, Peters), as opportunity has offered I have been checking my statistics with yours and regret to find that the first class numbers of the S.S. "Cymric" 1st August, in addition to being included in list sent you on the 12th October, 1908, viz., list of British Lines' First Class carryings up to first week in August, 1908, was returned by White Star Line in week 8th-15th August, and thus her first class numbers have been included 12882 twice. Also the Allan S.S. 'Carthaginian' 8th August, through being returned by the Allan Line on the week 1st-7th August, was omitted from the list of first class numbers sent you on the 12th October. This means an additional 50 first class passengers for the Allan Line, while 115 should be deducted from White Star."

The final number of first class passengers for the White Star Line in No. 41 of Form 25 & 27 therefore should read 14667 instead of 14782 and for the Allan Line, Canadian service in Form 27, 4045 in-

North West Transport Line (G. No. 663)

The Red Star Line report 102 steeragers for the North West Transport Line which passed Antwerp from 16th to 19th instant on the way to Rotterdam. In G. No. 657 were reported 91 steeragers on 15th instant; thus not less than 193 steeragers passed Antwerp for the N. W. T. L. in the short time of 5 days. Reports for 8 days, up to the sailing date of S.S. "Napolitan Prince," November 27th, are still outstanding. 12885

Respectfully,

P. S. I just received notice from the Holland America Line that S.S. "Napolitan Prince," which left New York on 6th instant, arrived at Rotterdam on the 22nd and landed 170 passengers.

The steamer suffered storm damage and therefore could not proceed on her voyage to Hamburg. It is said, that she will have to go into the dock and therefore will not be able to sail from Hamburg and Rotterdam according to the sailing list.

12895

Art. 11 b 2 the commission westbound and eastbound on infants rates as per byclaw 106 has been fixed at 5% maximum. The commission on third class infants is one shilling or its equivalent. (Agreed May 17th, 09.)

126. Passengers free from the Pool. Passengers landing or embarking at Gibraltar, the Azores or Madeira by steamers of the direct Mediterranean Lines need not be accounted for under Agreement A.A. Non-Italian and Non-Orienal passengers from or to Genoa, Naples or any other Mediterranean port must be accounted for. (G. 580, 9/10/09.)

(1) The Allan Line's claim of refund of the compensation charged to them for steeragers by their steamers from and to New Foundland to be referred to Mr. Wilding as sole arbitrator. His decision to apply to the whole period of the present Agreement.

(2) The Secretary to lay before the next Meeting a synopsis of those minutes for the past which in his opinion ought to be considered as bye-laws forming part of the contract, and the meeting then to decide whether they agree. In future such byelaws are to be pointed out by asterics and confirmed at the subsequent meeting.

(3) Withdrawn.

(4) A proposal of the continental Lines to be at Liberty to reduce their rates even though plus-parties is not unanimously agreed. Continental Lines may submit for consideration at the next meeting a proposal for regulating continental rates.

(5) Agreed in principle that under the Agreement the rates must be gross rates, but under present exceptional circumstances it was considered unwise to change the present practice.

12898 Petitioner's Exhibit 1347

(6) Withdrawn.

(7-8) Withdrawn.

(9) The limit imposed upon Donaldson Line in clause 5, Appendix 3, to Agreement Z is withdrawn. They are to be allowed with a view to entering the eastbound Pool, to fix their Eastbound steerage rates for 1910 for British and Scandinavian business in accordance with the schedule in force among the British Lines. Their Continental Eastbound rates for 1910 to be fixed from time to time by the other British Lines after having been submitted to and approved by 12899 the Continental Lines.

(10) With regard to infants rates no change to be made in present practice.

(11) The question of the disqualification of agents to be considered by a small committee consisting of Messrs. Cauty, Aitchison, Lister, Rodan, Storm, van der Graaf, v. Plettenberg and Weingaertner.

(12) Agreement with Scandinavian American Line. Agreed by all Lines that this question be reopened and that a special committee be appointed consisting of Messrs. Aitchison, Cauty and Lister, to confer with the Allan and C. P. R. Lines, and thereafter with 12900 the Scandinavian American Line on the matter. The special committee is fully empowered to negotiate an agreement on the best terms obtainable.

(13) The consideration of changes in Agreement H 2 referred to a small committee in which each Line concerned is to be represented.

(14) The question if the Holland-America Line are entitled to pay French Lemon & Co., Florence, a commission of 7 1/2% on first class business to be referred to Mr. Wilding as sole arbitrator.

(15) The Lines parties to Appendix 2, Agreement V, agree to advertise the first class full summer schedule eastbound for U. S. Lines as from May 1st to July 31st. The intermediate first class schedule to be advertised in accordance with minute 96 with the exception that the second period of the eastbound intermediate season will run from 1st to 15th August. It was understood that the Compagnie Gen: Transat: would follow the same procedure.

(16) Withdrawn.

(17) In case of chartering any ships for cruise business the charter to contain a clause obliging charterers or cruise agents to comply with Agreement V or any other Agreements which the Lines themselves would be bound by if doing the business direct. 12902

(19) Withdrawn.

(22) The Russian American Line are allowed for eastbound Libau passengers on fighting steamers compensation for the difference between the regular and reduced net rate, but limited to $12.

(23) Withdrawn.

(24) The rate of steam ship "Laurentic" while in the Newyork trade is left to Mr. Wilding for arbitration. The Cunard Line acccept minimum rate of £16 for Carpathia in the Liverpool New York service. 12903

(25) All Lines agree to Atlantic Conference Lines Statistics and circulars being sent to Cie. Gle. Transatlantique on condition that the statistics between the N. D. L. V. and Transat are sent in future to the B. L.

(18, 19, 20) All Lines agreed to make a general advance of 10/- in Second Cabin minimum rates, the lowest rated steamers from Havre of the Allan and Compagnie Generale Transatlantique excepted. This Agreement on the part of the Canadian Pacific Railway (S.S. Lines) was conditional on a 5/- advance being made in Third Class Rates, except for their open Steerage, etc. This condition could not be accepted, the C. P. R. were asked to reconsider the matter in the hope that they might be willing to make the proposed advance in Second Cabin business, either with no change in Third Class Rates or with a uniform advance of 5/- on all Third Class Rates. Further consideration of the whole matter was referred 12905 to the British Conference who will communicate with the Continental Lines.

12936 The Compagnie Franco-Nord Americaine will from February 5th, 1910, establish a direct service between New York and Bordeaux.

With the scope of introducing the Company to the travelling Public 500 tickets at $50 each will be issued through the Company's general agents, Corsi, Zumsteg & Co., 67 Pearl Street, New York City, entitling the passenger to one 1st class passage to Bordeaux and return. A fee of $10 will be charged to passengers desiring Railroad tickets in 2nd class from Bordeaux to Paris and return.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1475 12937

A special agent of the Company will deliver to the passenger the Railroad tickets to Paris and return, immediately upon the arrival of the steamer. Other tickets at reduced rates can be procured to any interior point in France upon application at the Company's offices.

The steamers are fast and of modern construction. Special attention will be given to insure perfect comfort to passengers. The Cuisine in charge of French chefs, will give entire satisfaction. Selected wines are served at every meal.

The sailings will take place from Atlantic Docks, Brooklyn (10 minutes from South Ferry) as follows: 12938

Saturday,	February 5th, 1910,	Steamer	"Notre Dame De Lourdes"
"	March 19th, 1910,	"	" " " " "

"	August 6th, 1910,	"	Jeanne D'Arc
"	Aug. 27th, 1910,	"	Notre Dame De Lourdes

From Bordeaux the initial steamer will sail February 16th, 1910, and every Saturday following the arrival of the steamer. 12939

The travelling Public desirous of taking advantage of these reduced rates, are requested to secure passage at once, as 500 tickets only are issued and the regular passage will have to be paid upon termination of the sale of the reduced rate tickets.

Any passenger that is for some reason unable to sail on the days given above can make application to the Company for the immediate refund of the amount paid.

12940 Petitioner's Exhibit 4176

The tickets are valid for two years from February 1st, 1910, no time being fixed for the passage to Europe or return.

For acquisition of accommodations and further information, please apply to

Referring to G. No. 637 A the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique send me copie of a letter from the North West Transport Line to one of their Austrian agents, which contains the following passage (translated):

"My Line offers many advantages not to be underestimated. Passengers are never left behind. As the steamers only take third class passengers and no arrangements exist for Cabin the whole vessel's space is for the benefit of the 3rd cl. passengers. Therefore the steamers can take a large number of passengers. This week an extra steamer leaves; then other departures are on the 11th & 24th. In spring two new fast steamers will be put into commission, which will cross from Rotterdam to Halifax in 7 days. On a fare of Kr. 170 Basel-New York including headtax I can allow you Kr. 30 commission, on the tickets 5% (? American R. R. tickets).

"I would be pleased to hear from you whether we can do business together. You may be assured that I would serve you and your passengers strictly prompt and reliable and the connections would be agreeable and remunerative."

Defendants' Exhibit 198

As in this letter mention is made of two fast steamers I add a report of the Liverpool correspondent of the Shipping Gazette:

"Confirmation is cabled from Ottawa of the report published some time ago in the Shipping Gazette that the Canadian Northern Railway Company will next spring inaugurate their own line of steamers from this country to Quebec. It is stated in the Ottawa message that Liverpool will be the port of departure on this side, but I am informed that this question is not yet officially settled, although Liverpool seems the most probable choice. In addition to the steamers Cairo and Heliopolis, the Canadian Northern Railway Company have acquired the Volturno, at present engaged in the Hamburg and New York trade, so that they will have three large Atlantic Liners to commence their service with."

Arbitration Allan Line Newfoundland Passenger.
(G. 678)

On the part of British Lines it is suggested that the Anchor Line might perhaps consent to make up a statement for submission to the Arbitrator on behalf of the British Lines and that at the same time perhaps one of the Continental Lines would do so as well for the N. D. L. V. Lines.

It is thought that the matter may be considered from different points of view on the part of British Lines and of Continental Lines. I await to hear from the Anchor Line and the Continental Lines whether they will draw up the statements. The lines which make these statements would, I suppose, also make the reply to the statement of the Allan Line.

In order that the Lines may know in which way the Arbitration proceedings are going on I repeat here, what Mr. Wilding has written me in this respect.

1. That the parties in difference each render a statement of their case to the Arbitrator.

2. That copies of these statements be sent to all the parties in difference.

3. That the Arbitrator fixes a time within which any comments on these statements may be sent to him by any of the parties in difference.

12976 Petitioner's Exhibit 1481

4. That copies of these comments be not circulated, if they contain statements of fact which differ from each other the Arbitrator will call for further explanations but if they are merely comments or arguments the Arbitrator will consider them as addressed to him and not to the parties in difference.

Dear Sir:

Referring to the call of our Mr. Fourman on you yesterday, we beg to confirm that we consider it as our right for the Conference Lines to issue a circular, cancelling Rule 8 of the agents' agreement. Also that the lines inform the Railway Companies that commission may be paid to us.

We are perfectly candid in saying to you now that we had already written to the President of the United States, complaining about the boycott by the Steamship Lines against us and have his reply that the matter will be taken up.

We now beg to inform you that unless our request is complied with we shall in due time submit all the evidence in our possession when called upon to do so by the authorities in Washington.

We also propose to take steps to sue the Railway Companies under the Law for three times the commissions that have been so far withheld from us through the machinations of the Steamship Conferences.

We shall await until the end of next week for your definite reply to above and remain

Yours very truly,

13019 Arbitration Allan Line New Foundland passengers.
(G. 683.)

Enclosed I beg to hand statements of the case of the Allan Line and the Anchor Line; the latter inform me that their statement will go likewise on behalf of the other B. L. On the part of the Continental Lines the opinion is expressed that as their position does not materially differ from the British Lines' position a separate statement might not be necessary for them. Mr. Wilding informs me that he will allow 14 days for any counterstatements that may be desired, that is to say he proposes to mail his award fourteen days from today. In conformity herewith I beg to request 13020 the parties to let me have their counterstatements in due time. I take it that the Anchor Line will prepare the reply for the B. L.

Respectfully,

Petitioner's Exhibit 1489.

13021

24 Bothwell Street,
Glasgow, 9th December, 1909.

Henry Wilding, Esq.,
The Moorings, Bassett,
Southampton.

Dear Sir:

At a Meeting of the North Atlantic Passenger Conference Lines held in London on the 25th of November, 1909, the following Minute was passed:

> "The Allan Line's claim of refund of the compensation charged them for Steeragers by their steamers from and to Newfoundland to be referred to Mr. Wilding as sole arbitrator. His decision to apply to the whole period of the present Agreement."

We accordingly beg to submit the following:

The Allan Line are parties to Agreement A. A., under which they pool all Eastbound Steerage Passengers they carry by their Canadian and United States Services. Under the same Agreement they pool all Westbound Steerage Passengers conveyed by their United States Services only. For their Canadian Services the Allan Line are not parties to this Agreement Westbound, but under Agreement Z they pool the Westbound Continental Steerage Passengers carried by such Canadian Services.

Article 1, Agreement A. A. defines the passengers to be pooled as consisting of > "the entire Steerage traffic forwarded by the parties to this Contract from all European ports to and via the United States of America and Canada and vice versa, etc."

The Island of Newfoundland is not covered by this Clause, being as you know, a British Crown Colony entirely independent of Canada, and, of course, forming no part of the United States of America. Consequently passengers to and from Newfoundland do not come within the scope of this Article of the Agreement, and are therefore not entitled to be included in the pool.

13024 Petitioner's Exhibit 1489

This position was recognized at the Meeting of the North Atlantic Passenger Conference Lines held at Paris on the 25th of March, 1909, when it was distinctly agreed that Article 1, Agreement A. A. did not cover Newfoundland passengers; and consequently that fishermen to St. Pierre, Newfoundland, were not 13025 to be pooled. The Minute of the Meeting on that subject reads as follows:

> "Passengers to St. Pierre, Newfoundland. It is confirmed that passengers by direct steamers to St. Pierre, Newfoundland, do not come under the Agreements Z and A. A."

The reason why the port of St. Pierre happened to be inserted, was simply that the question had arisen in connection with the conveyance of fishermen to be landed at St. Pierre: to any other port of Newfoundland the decision must have been the same.

The Allan Line is the only Line which has a Pass-13026 enger Service to and from the Island of Newfoundland, and it was never intended to include in the Pool any traffic but that which was common to all the Lines, and was consequently in competition.

We therefore claim that the Allan Line was not entitled to pool the One Hundred and Fifty Three (153) Steerage passengers carried by it from Newfoundland during 1908, and the two (2) Continental Westbound Steerage passengers carried from Liverpool to Newfoundland in 1908, (and inadvertently included in our Pool returns), or any passengers we may carry to or from Newfoundland during the currency of the present Agreements.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1490

We assume that you have copies of the Agreements A. A. and Z at your command; if not, we will be pleased to forward same on hearing from you.

Yours truly,
ALLAN BROS. & CO, U. K. Limited,
per J. Smith Park,
Director.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1490.

ATLANTIC CONFERENCE.

13028

Glasgow, 23 Dec., 1909.

Arbitration.

Claim made by Allan Line, as per Minute 127 London Meeting, 25th November, 1909.

Minute 127. Passengers to St. Pierre, New Foundland (see Minute 111). The Allan Line claim of refund of the Compensation charged to them for Steeragers by their steamers from, and to, New Foundland to be referred to Mr. Wilding as sole arbitrator. His decision to apply to the whole period of the present agreement.

Minute 111 (Paris Meeting 25th March, 1909), reads "Passengers to St. Pierre, New Foundland. It is confirmed that passengers by Direct steamers to St. Pierre, New Foundland do not come under the Agreement Z and AA.

Reason for Minute 111.

The Compagnie Generale Transatlantique stated at the Paris Meeting 25th March, 1909, that they had for many years conveyed some hundreds of French fishermen at a special low rate, on special steamer 13030 from Bordeaux direct to St. Pierre in New Foundland. This carriage they did largely as a concession to Government and that the men were conveyed at so low a rate that there was no profit jn it. The traffic being special and going Direct to St. Pierre offered no competition to any other interest. Minute gave leave for any Line to offer for the business. These fishermen were not to be compensated for when going direct to St. Pierre.

On March 30th, 1909 the Allan Line made a claim for refund of all compensation monies they had paid for steeragers from or to the Island of New Found-13031 land on the ground that the Minute 111 "had agreed that New Foundland passengers are not poolable under Agreement Z and AA."

Further on the Allan Line contend that New Foundland "is an Island Colony with separate Government, not included in the Dominion of Canada, and as the scope of Agreements AA and Z is expressly limited by the first Article in each agreement to passengers to and via the United States of America and Canada and vice versa, we think it is obvious that New Foundland business does not come under these Agreements, and therefore is not poolable."

(Allans letter to Secretary Peters.)

13032 The Anchor Line now makes Statement contesting the claim of Allan Line.

Minute 111 does not in any way indicate New Foundland business is not poolable. It simply refers to a Special class of traffic going to a special Port and to no other on the Island. Allans contention cannot be upheld by the wording of the Minute.

We agree that New Foundland is a Crown Colony and with a Government of its own, but this is a political feature and has nothing to do with its position in all Atlantic Rate questions.

Petitioner's Exhibit 1490

Newfoundland is fully included and provided for by Agreements Z and AA and is covered by the words "Canada" or "Canadian" wherever these terms appear in Agreements or Appendixes, or Bye-Laws, attached to the Agreements.

It is perfectly true that the word Newfoundland does not appear, but this Island has never had any special treatment accorded to it. Rates ruling for Canada or from Canada have always included Newfoundland, and the Canadian Lines have never mentioned it separately.

Article 1 of both Agreements covers the Entire Steerage Traffic, and therefore must embrace New Foundland. 13034

The Article excepts Orientals &c., but no claim was made to except New Foundland.

Article 10. Appendix 2 of AA. Agreement provides for possible competition, and the Article embraces the Whole of the North Atlantic Steerage Business. This shows Agreements covered all services, all ports.

Appendix 11, Agreement Z gives Allan Line a percentage of 1.85 of the Westbound Continental Steerage Traffic, and clause 2 states "This percentage is to be calculated on the total Westbound steerage Continental traffic carried by the Allan Line" and does not except New Foundland. 13035

The Allan Line percentages under the Agreements of Westbound and Eastbound business are based on the actual carryings of the Line during 1906, 7 and all their services were included as well as their passengers to or from New Foundland.

The Allan Line included their New Foundland carryings in their Weekly Statistics from the start of the Agreements and continued to do so until they wrote Secretary on 30th March last giving notice that they would no longer include New Foundland bookings &c. This position the Anchor Line protested against at the time.

13036 Petitioner's Exhibit 1490

The Allan Line advertisements all include New-Foundland as a part of their Canadian service and we send copies of advertisements headed "Allan Line to Canada" in which rates to St. John, N. F. are mentioned in same manner as rates to Halifax N. S.

The Anchor Line leave their statement with the Arbitrator and ask him to decide that the claim of the Allan Line as per Minute 127 of London Meeting 25th November, 1909, has no standing and must be rejected, that the Island of New Foundland is included in the word "Canada," or "Canadian Service" when mentioned in the agreements, and that the Allan Line 13037 include in their pool returns for compensation all New Foundland Steeragers, Westbound and Eastbound and must now do so for the period during which they had ceased making the return, and continue doing this until the expiry of the Agreements.

This statement is submitted to the Arbitrator as the case for the British Lines, and against the claim made by the Allan Line in pursuance of Atlantic Conference Minute No. 127.

> "As far as we can ascertain they are quoting rates of £8.8.— for Cabin and £5-2-6 for 13047
> Steerage passages, but they appear to have no printed matter out yet relating to their passenger venture, and it would seem that they are for the moment paying more attention to getting Continental passengers than British. It is within our knowledge that about 15 passengers arrived at Liverpool Street from Antwerp this morning for them.
>
> "We enclose one of the Thomson Line's freight cards advertising the sailing, but you will notice no reference to passengers on it.

13048 Petitioner's Exhibit 1492

"We understand that Messrs. C. Morris & Co. of Fenchurch Street are prepared to book passengers for the above Line, but we do not think they will be much more successful than they have been in the past in regard to the North West Transport Line, though the fact of the steamers sailing from London instead of a Continental port will be a factor in their favour.

"It is stated that the owners are building two new passenger steamers on the Tyne at the present moment, and intend eventually to 13049 establish if possible a regular Passenger Line.

"We will watch this matter closely, and will keep you posted as to any further developments that come to our knowledge."

On this enterprise I receive the following report of the 5th instant:

(Translation)

Norway-Mexico Gulf Line Ltd.

"In reply to your favor of 19th ult. we beg to advise, that said company which was started with a capital of 1000000 Kronen, which capital probably has been paid fully now, entertains direct steamship connection between Scandinavia and the ports of the Mexican Gulf. The president of said company is 13080 Mr. G. M. Bryde, shipowner of Christiania.

The company receives a government subvention of 100000 Kronen and owns so far three steamers SS. Texas, SS. Tholma, and SS. Noruega.

The line seems to work well ahead and is built up principally on the freight business, the steamers take however a small number of passengers. We beg to enclose a cutting from the timetable "Norges Communikationer" from which you may see the route of the steamers; the steamers also call at Gothenburg for supplementing their cargo."

The cutting reads as follows:

Turbine Steamers "Heliopolis" and "Cairo"

An Improved New York-Rotterdam Service.

Deputy Consul-General Ernest Vollmer, of Rotterdam, reports to the Department at Washington that the North-West Transport Line, at present maintaining a by-weekly service between New York and Rotterdam, has announced that extensive improvements 13112 will be made early in the spring 1910.

Freight and passengers have for some time past been overtaxing the capacity of the present fleet, so that the company has secured the Cairo and Heliopolis for the run. While these ships will replace two of the present vessels, and sailings will not be increased, the facilities of the line will nevertheless be almost doubled. The Cairo and Heliopolis are turbine vessels of 12,500 tons and 25,000 indicated horsepower. They are some 18 months old and were built by the Fairfield Shipbuilding Company. Extensive alterations, including increased bunker capacity will be made at once, so that the ships will be ready for 13113 their new run about March. The Volturno, at present in the trade, will remain as the third vessel of the fleet. The new ships have accommodations for 680 first class passengers and possess every modern convenience, so that the company will now be able to compete for the better class of trans-Atlantic passenger business. The Canadian Northern Railway is reported to have recently announced that it is booking this enterprise.

13120 Petitioner's Exhibit 1505.

Annex to G. No. 715. 27/1/10.

Southampton, January 17th, 1910.

Allan Line—Newfoundland Passengers.

1. The question to be decided in this case is whether the expressions "Canada" and "Canadian" in Agreements Z and A A are the equivalent of "The Dominion of Canada" or the equivalent of "British North America." It is claimed by the Allan Line that as Newfoundland does not form part of either 13121 the United States or the Dominion of Canada Newfoundland passengers are not included in Agreements Z and A A.

2. The question was raised following on the adoption of Minute 111 concerning "Passengers to St. Pierre, Newfoundland." But St. Pierre is only Newfoundland in the same sense that Newfoundland is Canada. St. Pierre is an island belonging to France off the Newfoundland coast as Newfoundland is an island belonging to Great Britain off the coast of the Dominion of Canada, so this Minute tells against rather than in favor of Allan Line's contention.

13122 3. I have before me an Allan Line bill dated 3rd November, 1909, headed "Allan Line—To Canada," and containing only Sailings and Rates to St. Johns, Newfoundland and Halifax from which it appears the Allan Line itself considers "To Canada" may cover Newfoundland.

4. The agreed rates for Allan Line Canadian business have always been charged for Newfoundland business and the allowance of free London tickets conceded to "Canadian Lines" have been given by the Allan Line to Newfoundland passengers.

5. Newfoundland passengers carried by the Allan Line were included in the statistics which formed the basis of the calculations for East-bound Percentages embodied in Article 13.

6. When the question was raised concerning certain fisherman carried by direct steamer to St. Pierre at very low rates by arrangement with the French Government it was considered necessary to obtain a special Minute authorizing their exclusion from the Pool. No such Minute would have been necessary if the business was not covered by the Agreement and if business to St. Pierre was understood to be covered 13124 by the Agreement I do not think there can be any doubt that business to Newfoundland is also covered by it.

7. For the foregoing reasons and having regard to Article 26 Agreement A A which provides that the Arbitrator is to decide more especially by the spirit than the letter of the Contract I consider the expression "Canada" in this Agreement is equivalent to "British North America" and the expression "Canadian Services" is equivalent to "Services to or from British North America."

8. In the Definition Clause Article 28 Agreement 13125
A A it is provided "Lines" means "Parties to this Contract" and the only Allan Lines exempted at the end of Article 3 are the Allan Line's "Canadian Services Westbound."

9. I therefore award that the East-bound Steeragers from Newfoundland and the West-bound Continental Steeragers to Newfoundland are included in the Agreements A A and Z and that the Allan Line should return them to the Pool.

Reduced transportation for Alien charity persons from Newyork State board of Charities. (G. 710.) 13130

Further replies on the above subject have been received as follows from:

1) Hapag:

"We fully endorse the Red Star Line's reasons which speak against the granting of the New York State Board of Charities' application for reduced transportation for alien charity persons and beg to add that, when in former years the institution of charity tickets existed for some time, nearly one-third of our steamers were filled with persons holding such tickets. Any concession to the New York State Board of Charities would surely bring about a repetition of this undesirable state of affairs." 13131

2) Lloyd:

"We beg to acknowledge receipt of circular letter G. No. 704 and regret to say that copies of the memos referred to have so far not come into our possession. From the remarks of the Red Star Line we gather, however, that the Steamship Lines are expected to grant certain concessions in the case of passengers who become destitute after a stay in the United States of more than three years and in respect of whom they are no longer under any legal obligation. We dare say that we are much in sympathy with the views expressed by the Red Star Line, but as the New York representatives will be better able to judge this matter, we should like to hear their opinion before taking any steps in this respect."

13132 Defendants' Exhibit 214

13133 Also one of the British Lines desires to hear the opinion of the New York representatives.

13157 The steamer "Uranium" which left New York on January 22nd arrived at Rotterdam on 3rd instant where she debarked about 260 passengers of which about 100 were deported passengers. Amongst the deported passengers were about 30 Armenians which were sent back to England. The rest of the deported passengers were mostly Galicians who were returned on direct R.R. tickets to Oswiecim, Oderberg, Myslowitz etc. to their homes. Most of these passengers were deported on account of trachoma.

The White Star Line write:

> "From the statistics up to 23rd January we notice the Continental Lines are already running quite considerably into the plus for westbound business, our own position being minus to the extent of about 1200.
> "While not wishing to press the matter unduly so early in the year, we would suggest that the plus parties in view of the strong movement from the Continent advance their rates without further delay and we shall be glad to hear that this proposal is acceptable to them." 13161

As to the strong movement from the Continent it has so far not gone beyond hopes and expectations. It amounted last year up to January 31st to 26207 whilst this year it is 26292. The total carryings of the A. C. Lines were in January 1909: 30191, in 1910: 30039. The Continental Lines' carryings 1909: 24090; 1910: 22571. This shows that the Continental Lines' carryings are proportionately less than last year and if one looks at how the position has developed last year, it seems hardly necessary for the adjustment that the Continental Lines advance. It is also very questionable if it would serve the interests of the Atlantic Conference to do so in view of the numbers which the N. W. T. L. attracts already now and which would certainly increase and probably lead to their putting more steamers in the Line if higher rates or larger numbers offer inducement.

If the Continental Plus Lines think they can raise their rates without strengthening outside Lines, they will no doubt be very glad to do so and I await to hear from them.

Dear Sir:

We have only received this morning a copy of your decision in the Arbitration Claim of the Allan Line Newfoundland passengers, although the letter we notice, is dated 17th inst. We will be glad if you will kindly inform us if our letter of the 11th inst. addressed to you, and the receipt of which was acknowledged by Mr. Peters on the 13th, was in your possession, and was considered by you, before drawing up your decision. We may say that in acknowledging our letter of 11th inst., on the 13th, Mr. Peters mentioned that he purposed forwarding our letter to you on the 14th inst., so that even if he did de- 13167 spatch it on that date, it could not have been received by you earlier than the 17th., owing to the 16th being a Sunday.

We further think that if you had this letter before you, you would hardly have given the decision you have, without submitting to us the advertisement which had been placed before you, of which no copy was supplied to us; nor would you have made the statement that you have regarding the percentages, in view of our reference to our letter of 20th April, 1909, without further communication with us. We will be glad that you let us have particulars of the

13170 Dear Sirs:

Re New Foundland Passengers.

On my return home last night I received your letter of the 31st ult. and telegram of yesterday and regret there has been some delay in replying to your letter.

Your letter of the 11th ult. was before me when making my Award. I delayed forwarding the Award to Mr. Peters for one week, being advised by him that one or more of the Continental Lines might desire to send comments on your letter of 11th January, but no such comments reached me. 13171

It would be irregular for me to discuss my Award with any of the parties but Article 24, Section K of the Agreement AA. gives me power to re-open and reconsider it and I shall be willing to do so if sufficient cause is shown.

Your favor of the 31st ult. appears to demur to Clauses 3 and 5 of my Award. Do you challenge the genuineness of the advertisement referred to in Clause 3 or are you prepared to submit evidence that Newfoundland passengers, carried by the Allan Line, were not included in the statistics which formed the basis of the calculations for the Pool? 13172

If you are considering asking me to re-open this question I think I should point out that as in most cases of circumstantial evidence, whilst no single fact may establish the conclusion reached, a number of such facts individually inconclusive, all pointing in the same direction may make the conclusion reached inevitable.

I send copy of your letter of the 31st ult. and of this reply to Mr. Peters. I am

Yours faithfully,

Having still 11 months before us to bring about an adjustment, we think there is no immediate need for such an action, especially taking into consideration that the shortage of the British Lines is, more or less, the result of the small numbers of British and Scandinavian passengers, which are usually of little importance at this time of the year, and that it will be equalized to a large extent by the increase of this traffic during the following months.

Henry Wilding, Esq.,
The Moorings Bassett,
Southampton.

Dear Sir:

We are obliged by yours of the 5th instant, and note the reason for your delay in replying to our letter. We judge that the explanation of Mr. Peters' advice to you is no doubt the outcome of the enquiry he addressed to us per Mr. Smyth, on 19th January, as follows: 13209

> "Arbitration Allan Line & Newfoundland Passengers."
>
> "By request of the Red Star Line I beg to ask you to kindly inform me whether the passengers the Allan Line claims to be free from the Pool, are passengers who were forwarded by direct steamers from or to St. John's, Newfoundland, or whether those passengers are transhipped passengers." An early reply will oblige."

13210 Petitioner's Exhibit 1518

"P. S. The Red Star Line inform me that the Allan Line cancelled direct St. John's steamers."

To this we replied on the 22nd ultimo as follows:

"We have received this morning a communication from Mr. E. S. Smyth, Conference Secretary, Liverpool, dated 21st, instant, reading as follows:

"'Arbitration Case Newfoundland passengers. Please find copy of a letter from Secre-13211 tary Peters inquiring if the passengers you claim to be free from the Pool are those forwarded by direct steamers from or to St. John's, N. F., or are transhipped passengers.'

"In reply we beg to inform you that the passengers we claim to be free from the Pool were purely Local Passengers booked to and from St. John's Newfoundland, only."

Subsequently we again wrote Mr. Peters as follows on the 24th ultimo:

"With reference to our letter of 22nd instant, we should perhaps, in view of the post-13212 cript to your letter of 19th instant to Mr. Smyth, have specifically stated that the Newfoundland passengers whom we claim to be free from the Pool, were carried to and from St. John's, Newfoundland, direct by our steamers calling at that port. We cannot understand where the Red Star Line obtained their information that the 'Allan Iine' had cancelled their direct steamers to and from St. John's as our direct Mail Service to and from that port, by which these passengers were carried, continues to-day precisely as it has done for the last 30 years."

We have very carefully considered your Award but regret that we do not feel justified in accepting same without further consideration—it is so very serious to have what appears to us the plain terms of the Agreement disregarded, and one portion of H. M. Dominion, defined by Statute—and we therefore propose asking you to reconsider your Award. As our legal advisers are, unfortunately, continuously engaged this week in the Court of Session, we would ask you to kindly allow us to delay sending in our statement asking for such consideration until next week. Shall we send it to you direct, or forward it through Mr. Peters as before?

13214

In your previous letter you informed me you received copy of my Award on the 31st January and for the purpose of Section K of Article 24, I will, under the circumstances, consider it was made and published on that day.

13215

You will see that my power to re-open and reconsider is limited, as follows: "Provided cause be shown to me * * * within three weeks of the issue and publication of the said Award." It will therefore be necessary for you to place in my hands on or before the 24th inst. whatever you propose to submit as justifying your request that I should re-open and re-consider the Award. It will save time if you send it direct to me, at the same time sending a copy to Mr. Peters.

Arbitration Allan's Newfoundland passengers. (G. 733).

The Allan Line have sent me copy of the follow-13241 ing letter to Mr. Wilding dated February 16th:

> "We now send you as requested direct our statement of reasons why we think that your award should be altered, and a fresh award in favour of the 'Allan' Line issued instead. We are also sending a copy of the statement to Mr. Peters."

The Statement referred to reads:

Arbitration—Allan Line—Newfoundland Passengers.

The "Allan" Line take exception to the findings of the Arbiter on the following grounds; as a matter of convenience the findings are dealt with in the sequence 13242 they are made:

1. Agreements A.A. and Z have been diligently searched, but no reference can be found to the phrase "British North America;" at the same time it is not admitted that the use of this expression would have had the effect of bringing Newfoundland into the Agreement. In the Leading and controlling Article 1 of Agreement A.A. the traffic dealt with is strictly defined as "the entire steerage traffic * * * to and via the United States of America and Canada," so that the question to be decided is not as stated by the Arbiter, but is, "Is Newfoundland part of the United States of America or Canada?"

The "Allan" Line base their claim wholly on this question of fact and all the other points that they have dealt with and deal with now are only brought forward in support of the reasonableness of their contention, and in answer to the statements made against their claim.

2. The question arose because the ruling as the St. Pierre, Newfoundland, drew attention to the blunder made by a member of the clerical staff of the "Allan" Line in having overlooked that Newfoundland was not included in the Agreement, and naturally steps had to be taken to rectify the blunder.

It is admitted, to their shame, that, in common it is feared with all the other members of the Conference, as well as of the Secretary, the "Allan" Line had overlooked that St. Pierre was a French Settlement, but the mistake was pardonable, as in the Conference St. Pierre has always been spoken of as St. Pierre, Newfoundland, and it is so described in the Conference Minutes. The fact, however, that St. Pierre is a French Settlement and not part of Newfoundland, strengthens instead of weakens the "Allan" Line position. My minute 111 "passengers by direct steamers to St. Pierre were held not to come under the Agreements Z and A.A." No other position was possible seeing St. Pierre is not a part "of the United States of America or Canada" and, by parity of reasoning, Newfoundland, being no part of the United States of America or Canada, passengers by direct steamers to and from St. John's, Newfoundland, must necessarily be similarly treated. The Red Star Line, during the arbitration, raised the point as to whether the "Allan" Line passengers were forwarded by direct steamers from or to St. John's, Newfoundland, or whether they were transhipped—to this the reply was given that the passengers claimed to be free from the pool were purely local passengers, booked to and from St. John's only, by direct steamers calling there. It may be mentioned that while St. Pierre is only twelve miles off Newfoundland, it is one hundred and ninety miles nearer to Canada than St. John's, Newfoundland, so that under the Arbiter's award passengers to St. Pierre, 190 miles nearer to Canada would be exempt from the pool, while those to St. John's Newfoundland, 190 miles more distant would be included.

13246 Peitioner's Exhibit 1522

3. As stated on 11th January, no copy of the advertisement commented on was furnished to the "Al-13247 lan" Line, and until this was done, it seems somewhat irregular for the Arbiter to deal with it. The "Allan" Line have already maintained that the interpretation of a specific agreement could not be affected by the wording of "newspaper or other advertisements," but they have now ascertained from the Anchor Line that the handbill marked A, attached hereto, is that on which their remarks were founded, and they are astonished at these and the comments of the Arbiter on it. The handbill is one issued by the Liverpool agency of the "Allan" Line and the heading is a "block" used for many years, its wording "Allan Line Royal Mail Steamers to Canada," being the designation by which 13248 the Line is most generally known. It so happens that the particular handbill to which the Anchor Line referred i. e. that dated 3rd November, 1909, only gave sailings to St. John's N. F. and Halifax, but the same headed handbills of earlier and later date—see copies B and C attached—included sailings to Philadelphia so that by the Anchor Line argument, endorsed by the Arbiter, it "would appear the 'Allan' Line itself considers 'To Canada' may cover 'Philadelphia.'" ! ! It may be remarked that all these handbills show clearly that the booking of the passengers to points in the United States and Canada is via Halifax.

4. The statement that "The agreed rates for 'Allan' Line" Canadian business have always been charged for Newfoundland "business" is not correct. The Allan Line have frequently, prior to the present agreements, when rates to Canadian ports were low, charged higher rates to St. John's, Newfoundland, although now that rates are at a reasonable level, they have been charging the same rates to St. John's Newfoundland, notwithstanding that the steaming distance to it is so much shorter than to any Canadian or United States port. The justification for doing so is that the service to Newfoundland is a special one, involving the expenses and risk of calling at a special port 13250 en route, a service which is not in competition in any way with any Canadian or United States Service and which consequently does not secure the class of competitive traffic which the pool was designed to cover. With reference to the Arbiter's remarks re free railway tickets from London it is because Newfoundland is out with the Agreement that the "Allan" Line have been free to grant such free tickets to Newfoundland passengers.

5. The "Allan" Line do not admit that their Newfoundland passengers were included in the figures furnished Mr. Peters for 1906 and 1907—unfortunately they have no record of these figures—but in any case, 13251 as stated in the letter of 20th April, 1909, previously cited, of Mr. Henry Allan, who conducted the negotiations:

> "our existing percentages under Agreement 'A.A.' Eastbound and under Agreement 'Z' Westbound, are not based exactly on the actual numbers carried in any stated period. The percentages were arrived at as the result of negotiation and agreement between the parties.

13252 Peitioner's Exhibit 1522

> "Minute 62 records that 'The final Westbound and Eastbound percentages were agreed to as shown in Article 3 of the Agreement A.A.'"

The "Allan" Line understand that the effect of this Minute is to bar the raising of any question as to the percentages and this is evidently also the view of the Anchor line, who, in reply to a letter asking them to give particulars of the figures on which they founded their statement as to the percentages allotted the "Allan" Line, wrote on 6th January, 1910, as follows:

> "Agreement A.A. and Z. In reply to your demand for figures that formed the basis for arriving at percentages, we can only remind you that the actual carryings of each Line during the years 1906-7, for all services were tabled at London in February, 1908. The negotiations as to percentages were carried through and completed on figures tabled by each Company and having been accepted by the Allan Line cannot now in our opinion be called in question."

6. This does not state the case correctly. The fact 13254 that any one chose to raise the question of St. Pierre passengers, would not affect the rights of the "Allan" Line under the Agreement, but the point raised and the point decided was not a question of rates, or of it being necessary, because of arrangements with the French Government, to obtain a special Minute authorizing the exclusion of the St. Pierre passengers from the pool. What the Conference did was to declare the fact, as recorded in Minute 111, "that it is confirmed that passengers by direct steamers to St. Pierre, Newfoundland, do not come under the Agreements Z and A. A."

To have done otherwise the Continental Lines would have completely stultified themselves, as at the Paris Meeting in March, 1909, when the above Minute was passed the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique distinctly stated through Herr Ballin, that their St. Pierre passengers had never been pooled under their agreement with the Continental Lines, which had been in existence from 1st January, 1903, although Article 1 of that agreement provides, that "The Lines above named shall divide amongst themselves their entire third class traffic from ports between Cronstadt and Bordeaux, both included, to ports in the United States of America and Canada."

13256

7. It has been stated in answer to No. 1 that the phrase "British North America" does not appear in the Agreement and that the "Allan" Line are not aware that it would include Newfoundland, but with regard to the construction of Article 26 of Agreement A.A. the Arbiter is referred to sub-section (b) which states "that for the purposes of the interpretation of Article 26 (a) there have been appended to the various Articles, commentaries with expositions, and it is understood that the same are to be considered to their full extent to form an integrant part of this present Contract."

13257

This interpretation is in accordance, as the Arbiter no doubt knows, with the practice of the ordinary German Acts of Parliament, but if the Arbiter will refer to Article 1, he will find that there is no commentary in regard to the interpretation of it, so that in construing it he must act purely on the letter of the Article.

The parties to the Contract must be held to know the Constitution of the different Countries, Colonies and/or States which the Agreement covers.

Newfoundland being a separate Colony, defined as absolutely out with the Dominion of Canada, it is contended that the Arbiter has no power to read the Contract so as to make Newfoundland a part of Canada.

13258 Petitioner's Exhibit 1522

8. It is submitted that the argument used here is quite unsound.

The definition cannot extend the scope of Article 1. The "Canadian services westbound" were exempted, as otherwise they would fail to be included in terms of Article 1, but Newfoundland not being included in Article 1 there was no call to exclude the carryings either to or from this Island, any more than 13259 those of the "Allan" Line services to South America.

Generally it may be pointed out that Article 1 is the controlling Article of the whole Agreement and that the subsequent Articles are all executive to Article 1 and simply provide details for carrying out the Agreement between the parties, and that the object of Article 26 is that the spirit of the Agreement should be exercised in construing the executive details of the Agreement, where there is ambiguity, but that the Arbiter has no power to alter or to include in Article 1, traffic not expressly included in it, but must interpret this Article strictly and in accordance with 13260 the law of England.

For these reasons the "Allan" Line contend that the Arbiter should alter his award and should issue an award that the "Allan" Line should be repaid from the pool the monies which they have, through a clerical error, paid into the Pool in the past on account of Newfoundland passengers, and should be exempted from payments for such passengers in future.

13295 Lloyd's Phila-Balto Service. (G. No. 747.)

The Norddeutscher Lloyd write:

"We beg to acknowledge receipt of circular letter G. No. 747 and have taken due note of the remarks of the American Line with regard to the landing of Baltimore passengers at Philadelphia. As we have apparently not expressed ourselves sufficiently clear in our previous letter we beg to repeat that for all passengers who, at the time of booking, are known to be landing at Philadelphia the regular rail fares from that port will of course be applied. On the 13296 other hand there will always be some Baltimore passengers, especially prepaids, of whom we do not know beforehand whether they will be forwarded by direct steamer or by a steamer calling at Philadelphia. In case we should choose to land these passengers at Philadelphia we cannot compel them to pay the difference in the fare as this would be contrary to the existing laws and would consequently bring us in conflict with our Government. The landing of these passengers at Philadelphia would be effected for no other purpose but of avoiding to keep them on board during the ship's stay at harbour and because it is cheaper for us to pay the very trifling difference in the railfaire instead of catering for these passengers for 3 or 4 days extra. We really do not see how any Line could possibly be prejudiced by our landing a few bona fide Baltimore passengers at Philadelphia simply because it saves us a lot of trouble and responsibility and because it will enable us to avoid unnecessary expenses.

"We therefore sincerely hope that the American Line will withdraw their objection and in this expectation have fixed our Philadelphia rate on a parity with Baltimore, which we could not do however, if such opposition should be maintained."

The Norddeutscher Lloyd informed me yesterday that anticipating the consent of all concerned they had fixed their steerage rate to Philadelphia in conformity with their Balto rate to M 160—(Ppd. $36.50).

I beg to request the American Line, Liverpool, to inform me, whether they maintain their objection.

"We beg to refer to circulars No. 756 and 763 from which we gather that the American 13364 Line have withdrawn their objection but that the Anchor Line apparently still uphold their protest and that the Hamburg-American Line have since joined them therein.

"From the remarks of the Hamburg-American Line we are inclined to suppose that they have not yet fully grasped the essence of our proposal. When a passenger, upon his own request, is transferred from the steerage to the third class, or when a passenger booked to or via Baltimore insists upon being landed and forwarded via Philadelphia, he has certainly to pay the difference in the fare. But if, ow- 13365
ing to our direct Baltimore steamer being full, or for some other reason, we find ourselves compelled to forward a Baltimore passenger by indirect steamer, and if we then decide to land this passenger at Philadelphia rather than keep him another three or four days on board; in other words, if we land a Baltimore passenger at Philadelphia possibly against his wishes but in any case not upon his request, we can hardly be expected to make him pay any difference in the fare.

13366 Defendants' Exhibit 238

"To prevent us from adopting this course would mean forcing upon us considerable extra expenses for keeping passengers waiting here, or for retaining them on board 3 or 4 days longer than necessary, and it would further expose us to the risk of having to pay heavy penalties in case passengers should manage to escape while the steamer is berthed at Philadelphia. We rather feel that this would not be treating us fairly nor in accordance with the spirit of the contract, especially as our landing 13367 a few Baltimore passengers at Philadelphia cannot in any way prejudice the interests of the other Lines and certainly not those of our Hamburg friends, who are not directly interested in the passenger service to either Baltimore or Philadelphia.

"Besides this we fail to see why we should not be allowed to do what other Lines are doing. If our directing some Baltimore passengers via Philadelphia were contrary to the Agreement, how can it then be legal for the White Star Line and Cunard Line, and probably other British Lines as well, to offer third class passengers free transportation between 13368 New York Boston and Philadelphia? This practice has been going on ever since Agreement A.A. existed, and as far as we know, it has never been intimated that this was contrary to Art. 1 and Minute No. 18.

"As our Philadelphia service will soon be inaugurated, we would thank you to at once circulate this letter, asking the Lines for a definite reply by wire. In case our request should still be refused, we would very reluctantly be compelled to fix our Philadelphia rate at Marks 146, whereas, otherwise we should prefer to fix

"It is quite true that at the moment we are minus parties, but as we pointed out to Hapag 13374 that is the result of the earlier passenger movement from the Continent, and we might also add, to the reluctance of the Continental Lines to increase their steerage rate (see your G. 722, 727, etc.) at a time when we had space available and could have carried extra passengers. Now the travel to Canada has set in very strongly, and our S.S. 'Canada' on the 3rd instant sailed quite full. "Under these circumstances we do not understand Hapag's objection to the change in our Continental rate, which is not for pool adjustment purposes. Should we reduce our rate we could not carry more passengers than we are doing at present, and there is nothing in the agreement, as we read it, to prevent any Line obtaining the best rates possible, when advancing rates does not prejudice it's carryings to the detriment of the other Companies."

THE AMERICANS' EUROPEAN TOUR.

Bordeaux, March 2nd.

(By Telegram from our special correspondent.)

The noise made by the American newspapers in connection with the bankruptcy of a travel agency has spread as far as this place. It is known that many Americans had placed money with this agency in the hope of being able to perform the famous "European Tour" which is the dream of every citizen of the 13385 United States. At the last moment the organizers of this agency failed to keep their obligations.

I have been able to interview at this place, M. Louis Duverrier whom the newspapers accuse in connection with the matter and who they say absconded with the money entrusted to him. "I am so far from being deserving of suspicion" he said to me, "that I have myself been duped in this regrettable affair. I have just seen the Chief of the service of Public Security and the American Consul of Bordeaux and had no difficulty in proving my integrity. The seizure which has been spoken of was effected at my own order on account of the disappearance of my authorized agent.
13386 This latter person has, in fact, misappropriated a total sum of about Frs. 20.000, but this money has been guaranteed by me who am not in flight and who will keep my obligations."

M. Louis Duverrier is in fact occupied at the present moment in loading a vessel which is in the Bordeaux roads and if he seems annoyed by the unfortunate affair, he is not at all uneasy.

Lloyd's Phila--Balto. service. (G. 768) 13394

On this subject write the Hamburg American Line:

"We beg to refer to circular-letter G. 768. It is true that, in the first instance, we had misunderstood the Norddeutscher Lloyd, but concerning the intention as set forth in circular-letter G 768 we have also misgivings; on the one hand for order's sake, and, on the other, because we fear an unfavorable effect on the formation of rates. If the Lloyd were to have the right to quote equal rates to New York, Baltimore, Boston and Philadelphia, the other Lines would also soon claim the same privilege. The proceeding of other Lines mentioned by the Lloyd we have always regretted as an unnecessary sacrifice of earnings and we were under the impression that it no longer existed nowadays. If a Baltimore steamer, on the passenger's reaching the port of embarkation, should be full, the passengers, instead of waiting until the next sailing, would rather pay in addition the small difference in rates, but, when a passenger is already on board, he holds his contract and, according to the law, must be 13395 forwarded in conformity with the tenor of that contract. To Lloyd's proposed expedient to fix the Philadelphia rate at Marks 146, we should have no objection to make."

13396 Defendants' Exhibit 242

I further received the following telegram from the Holland America Line:

"G. 768. We suppose that whenever Lloyd steamers called at Newyork on way to Baltimore landing passengers partly at Newyork and partly at Baltimore which frequently occured Lloyd charged Newyork railtariff to 13397 those landing at Newyork and Baltimore railtariff to those landing at Baltimore according to Lloyd's obligations under agreement Philadelphia now taking place of New York we fail to see how this alters Lloyd's situation."

Dear Sir,

Newfoundland Passengers.

13410 With regard to your letter of the 4th instant, we are somewhat surprised and disappointed that, considering we traversed each point in your award of 17th January last, you should not have dealt specifically with our arguments, but should have simply reaffirmed your award. As your decision seems to us to strike at the whole basis of the Agreement, and would apparently permit an arbiter to drive a coach and four through the Agreement, inasmuch as in effect you declare your right to deal with passengers to and from a place which cannot by any possibility be shown to be covered by the terms of the Agreement, we venture to suggest the desirability, before formally reaffirming your award, that you should take Counsel's opinion as to whether or not it is intra vires under the Agreement for you to deal with the question of Newfoundland passengers.

We are in receipt of your favor of the 4th inst. the contents of which had our best attention.

As per information received from the N. D. L., here, Messrs. Please be good enough to advise us when you have arranged this with Messrs. O. & C., so that we may then reserve the Cabins here, thus saving about Mks. 83.— for you.

It is necessary for us to make a deposit of Mks. 300.— to the Lloyd, when reserving the Cabins.

RUSSIAN TRANSPORT CO.,

L. M. KAHAN GROSS & CO.

Rotterdam 9 March, 1910.
Nieuwehaven 72a.

Dear Sir:

We know that you send large numbers of passengers to the United States of Northamerica and Canada and therefore beg to propose that henceforth you forward 13469 your passengers by our Company.

From the enclosed list you will see that our rates are considerably lower than those of all the other Lines, and we beg to mention that we have very large and well equipped steamers at our disposal.

The passengers must at all events take the route Vienna-Basle-Rotterdam and need not go via Germany.

Hoping to get many passengers from you we etc.

sign. KAHAN, GROSS & CO.

In the list mentioned there are quoted, amongst 13470 others, the following rates:

Off Rotterdam inclusive free board & lodging and head tax to

To the Parties:

Lloyd's Phila.-Balto. service. (G. No. 787.)

In pursuance to G. 787 I beg to communicate that the Hamburg-American Line and Holland-America Line have waived their objections against request of 13496 the Nordd. Lloyd as contained in G. No. 729.

It will be proper to take a record of it in the minutes of the next meeting and I propose the following wording:

> "When the Nordd. German Lloyd by their sailings to Baltimore via Philadelphia have booked passengers to Baltimore or to the interior of the U. S. via Baltimore and such passengers of which it was not known, when they were booked, whether they would go to Baltimore by direct steamer or by steamer via Philadelphia, are landed at Philadelphia for the convenience of the North German Lloyd and 13497 > not at the passengers' request,
>
> "Then the North German Lloyd shall be at liberty to either forward such passengers from Philadelphia to Baltimore at the Company's expense, or to forward them from Philadelphia to the point of destination in the interior without collecting the difference between the R. R. fare from Philadelphia & from Baltimore.
>
> "This liberty is withdrawn when any Line notifies that they withdraw their consent."

May I ask the parties, whether they agree to the above wording?

Respectfully,

H. PETERS.

to the Agreements V & W.

Byelaw 22:

Section 1 to read: The following scheme was approved to meet the competition in the eastbound business of such outside steamers as may be agreed upon unanimously from time to time. 13550

a. To read: When a Line, party to this special agreement with the consent of the other parties puts a steamer on the berth in opposition to an outside eastbound steamer at the same or a lower rate than such outsider, then the parties (including the Line of the opposing steamer) etc.

6th line, between "regular" and "rate" insert "net" (G. 585).

8th line, instead "$30" put "$28 net."

b. Drop. 13551

c. The opposition steamer is appointed in the manner as agreed upon from time to time.

The appointment shall be guided by considering which steamer is best suitable for being most efficiently opposed with regard to date of sailing, preference by steeragers, capacity, etc.

These terms being nearly equal etc. up to "concerned." Last 2 lines to be dropped.

d. No alteration.

13552 Petitioner's Exhibit 1548

e. The Compagnie Generale Transatlantique participate in the compensation with 4.87% and the Austro-Americana with 1.82% (G. No. 593).

f. No alteration.

g. The compensation accounts to be settled in dollars or the equivalent in the currency of the country of the carrying Line at the current rate of exchange. (Minute 45.)

h. Any line may withdraw from this Agreement at any time by giving 30 days' notice.

13553 i. The Allan Line having declined to continue party to this bye-law the Allan Line's share of participation to be borne by the other Lines in proportion to their shares.

In view of the Meeting on 5th May. I beg to submit the following letter from the Allan Line 27th instant: 13628

> "We duly received your circular letter of 12th instant enclosing a synopsis of 'Minutes proposed to be considered as bye-laws under Agreement AA. etc.' at the meeting of the Lines which is to take place in Paris on the 5th of May. We disapprove of the elimination of Minutes 84, 99 and 118, which gave expression to the assurance of the German Lines that they would use every effort in their power with their Government to improve the facilities for the transit of passengers booked for the British Lines. Although the results 13629 of their efforts have, so far, not been quite satisfactory, and we attribute no blame to the German Lines for this, we consider it preferable that these Minutes, recording the promised co-operation of the German Lines should be retained.
>
> "We also very strongly object to the proposal that Bye-law 127 should become No. 37, and should read as follows:
>
> "Eastbound steeragers from Newfoundland and the Westbound Continental steeragers to Newfoundland are included in the Agreements AA and Z (Award Wilding).

"We have been expecting to hear from you on this subject ever since we replied on 8th March to Mr. Wilding's letter of 4th March confirming his award.

"The decision in our view was a most extraordinary one, and strikes at the whole basis of the agreement; we have the very strongest advice that the award was ultra vires of the arbitrator and that the Courts would certainly support us in refusing to accept it.

13631 "We recognize, however, the far reaching effects of such action, and have also a very strong desire to act in harmony with the other members of the Conference.

"In the circumstances we propose that the whole of the representations, both for and against, as submitted to Mr. Wilding, be referred to Herr Ballin, and Mr. Booth, for their perusal and sole decision, or if neither of these members care to undertake the duty, that the matter be similarly referred to Mr. Norman Hill, or any other first class solicitor.

To the Parties:

Regulations of Continental Lines' rates.

In accordance with Minute 129 the Nordd. Lloyd submits the attached proposal in pursuance of which he writes yet: 13634

> "With reference to the memo. * * * it occurs to us that another solution and perhaps the most satisfactory one, would be to increase the II class rates all round by say £1.—. This would enable the Continental Lines to fix their steerage rates even higher than £8 and thus permit a correct adjustment without need of altering anything in respect of the existing rules."

The subject is on the Agenda.

Respectfully, 13635

13636 Petitioner's Exhibit 1560.

We beg to refer to Minute No. 129, reading:

> "A proposal of the Continental Lines to be at liberty to reduce their rates even though plus parties is not unanimously agreed. Continental Lines may submit for consideration at the next meeting a proposal for regulating continental rates."

In conformity with the last paragraph of this Minute we beg to submit the following:

The Contract provides in Art. 11 that the adjustment shall be effected by increasing the rates of the 13637 plus parties or, if this is not feasible, by reducing the rates of the Lines who are short, but it does not give the plus parties the right to reduce their rates. In the same Article it is stipulated that no Line can be compelled to fix its rates higher than £ 8.

The position of the various Continental Lines under the A. C. Pool is dependent on two different factors:

1) Upon their position versus the other Continental (N. D. L. V.) Lines that is, upon their position in regard to the Continental business, and

2) Upon the relation of Continental versus British and Scandinavian business from which latter they are 13638 debarred.

In order to arrive at a proper adjustment at the end of the year, not only the positions of each Continental Line under the A. C. Pool should be considered, but also its position versus the other N. D. L. V. Lines.

In case the British Lines would, at all times, carry their proper share of the business, there would be no difference whatever in the position of each individual Continental Line (a) under the A. C. Pool and (b) under the N. D. L. V. Pool, as the shares under both agreements are fixed in exactly the same proportion.

However, as long as the British Group is short—and under normal conditions this will be the case during about the first nine months of the year (as up to this date the relation of the British and Scandinavian business to the total traffic covered by Agreement A. A. remains behind the yearly average) the position of the individual Continental Lines is not correctly visible from the A. C. statistics, as the real position of the individual lines is modified by their percentual share in the total plus of the Continental group versus the British group—F. i. if the British Lines are 10,000 short and the Continental Lines consequently 10,000 in excess, the North German Lloyd having 13640
26.53% out of the total 62.48% of the Continental Group or 42.46% of the latter, will appear as in excess by 4246 passengers, if the said Company has carried its proper share under the N. D. L. V. Pool, and it would still appear as 246 in excess (and consequently be prevented from reducing its rate) if its shortage under the N. D. L. V. Pool would amount to 4000.

The real position of the individual Continental Lines becomes, however, apparent, as soon as the minus of the British Lines disappears. This will usually happen at the end of September and, as already explained, this change is chiefly due to the then 13641 larger number of British and Scandinavian passengers whilst, at the same time, emigration from the Continent is less important. (We have already drawn attention to this fact in Circular 420 and the statistics attached to Circular 794 confirm it.)

The effect of this change is that the plus of the various Continental Lines, so far as such plus resulted from the British Lines shortage, suddenly disappears and the real position of the individual continental Lines then becomes apparent. But as the season, especially for Continental business, has then too far advanced, it will be too late to bring about a correct adjustment by any ordinary means until the end of the year. Therefore, in order to arrive at a correct adjustment at the close of the year, the Contiental Lines must take measures before hand to adjust their position amongst themselves. This, however is not possible if the Lines who, in the N. D. L. V. Pool remain heavily behind their share, are prevented from reducing their rates because, under the A. C. Pool they appear as plus parties.

It is obvious that these difficulties could be easily avoided if the Continental Lines would start, at the 13643 beginning of the year, with rates below the maximum of £8 say with £7 or less as, in that case the adjustment among the Continental Lines could be effected by advancing the rates of the plus parties. This practice, however, would have the disadvantage that it would prevent the Continental Lines and consequently also the British Lines, from obtaining the best possible rates during the spring months when emigration from the Continent is at its highest and when good rates can be easily obtained, while on the other hand, it would bring the rates up at a time when emigration from the Continent falls off and when it may appear desirable, in the face of possible outside competition—
13644 to keep the rates at least of some of the direct Lines at a lower level.

In consideration of the above the Continental Lines have found it more in the interest of all the parties concerned, to follow the reverse course, i. e., to start with the maximum rates at the beginning of the year and to gradually reduce the rates as the season proceeds and emigration falls off. Here, however, the difficulty begins, as the fact that the Continental Lines, generally as well as individually (and especially also those of the Continental Lines who, under the N. D. L. V. Pool are short) appear as in excess under the

Petitioner's Exhibit 1560

A. C. Pool, will prevent them from lowering their rates and adjusting their position among themselves.

In order, therefore, to enable the Continental Lines to maintain their present practice of starting with high rates at the beginning of the year, it will be necessary to allow them to slightly reduce their rates, even though they may appear to be in plus A margin of £1 would, in our opinion, be sufficient and we would therefore move the adoption of the following clause:

> "In case the Continental Lines find it convenient, at the beginning of the year, to adopt 13646 > for their regular New York steamers the maximum rate of £8, they shall be allowed to reduce their rates for adjustment among themselves by not more than £1 irrespective of their position in the A. C. Pool."

Such an arrangement would in no way prejudice the interests of the British Companies inasmuch as the latter have it always in their power to adjust their own position, and as they can rest assured that the Continental Lines, in view of their large interests in the Continental business, will not reduce their rates if it can possibly be avoided.

Revision of Byelaws. (G. No. 841.).

The Hamburg America Line member of the Special Committee appointed at the recent meeting to revise 13718 the byelaws states that by mistake byelaw 66 has been brought under the byelaws to Agreements V. & W. and that this should be altered, as byelaw 66 bears on steerage business and has nothing to do with the cabin agreements. The parties will easily persuade themselves by circular letter G. No. 237 that this observation is correct and that the question of the exchange of eastbound prepaid tickets was brought up exclusively as a matter appertaining to steerage business. I therefore shall take it that the parties agree to byelaw 66 being withdrawn from the additions to Agreements V & W and be added to the byelaws to Agreement AA unless I am informed to the contrary until 28th in- 13719 stant.

The Red Star Line wish to have ascertained what value is to be attributed to the byelaws and minutes which are not carried forward in the synopsis of byelaws as per G. 841; as this might become a question of importance in the event of later disputes and arbitration cases. Will the parties please let me know their view in this respect.

From the Russian America Line I received the following letter (Translation):

13763 "From copy of our complaint which we lodged with the Police Office here on 20th inst. you will see in which way the Libau representatives of the British Lines proceed against us.

"When the steamer was about leaving we caused still two trouble-makers of the resp. firm who had sneaked into our waiting-hall and spread amongst the passengers all sorts of slander against us and the steamer 'Lituano.'

"The conduct of Karlsberg, Spiro & Co. is directly opposed to the spirit of our agreement and we ask therefore, referring to Appendix 2 of Agreement AA that the British Lines 13764 fine these agents for 1000 Roubles, and that they be disqualified in case of repetition.

Awaiting your reply etc."

The complaint referred to above reads:

"To the Pristow of the II. District of Libau.

"When to-day there were in the office of our passenger department about 500 (?50) persons with the intention of booking the assistant of the chief of that department, Mr. N. Rosaler perceived that two men had gathered a big crowd round them telling them all sorts of swindle and slander against the steamer Lituania 11th inst. f. i. the voyage would take 20 days, there were no sleeping room on the steamer etc. and trying to persuade them not to go by that steamer.

"When Mr. N. Rosaler appeared in the crowd which became more and more excited and tried to contradict those slanders and when he asked the two men to take a look at the steamer one of them asked that Mr. Rosaler might listen to him privately. Mr. Rosaler then took them 13766 into his private room. There it appeared that the two men were Israel Chenkin and Joseph Kelchenskey. Chenkin then tried to induce Kelchensky to leave the room asking him to look alone at the steamer as he, Chenkin, had very little time to spare.

"After Kelchensky had left the room and after a short conversation Chenkin told him, that he could influence the passengers by his agitation that they would not go by the 'Lituania.' They would then book with Karlsberg, Spiro & Co. and in consideration he would get from this firm Rbl. 3 for each passenger. If 13767 the Russian America Line would pay him 100 roubles he would persuade the passengers to book for the 'Lituania.' At this moment entered the room Chenkin's brother who introduced himself to Mr. Rosaler as Grigory Lewitin who had also been agitating and he confirmed what Chenkin had told.

"As Mr. Rosaler liked to have a witness about Chenkin's declaration he asked our employee Mr. Birker into his room in whose presence Chenkin repeated his demand.

Westbound Adjustment.

13844

On 14th inst. the Secretary of the B. L. telegraphed:

"Cunard Libau Marks 165 Basle Frcs. 165."

In reply to which at the request of the Hamburg American Line I telegraphed to the Cunard Line:

"You advance Libau Basle rate though 3544 in Minus please explain."

The Cunard Line on the 16th inst. wrote as follows:

"We are obliged for your telegram of the 15th instant reading: 'You advance Libau Basle rate though 3455 in Minus please explain.'

13845

"Some weeks ago in view of our minus we made a reduction in the rate as a temporary measure, with the idea of ascertaining whether this would assist in the adjustment of the position. The rate however which we adopted, as you will be aware, was unremunerative and after going into the matter we decided to advance the rate somewhat, still of course keeping it below that of other companies. We satisfied ourselves beforehand that there was not likely to be any material difference in the number of passengers we were obtaining and at the same time you will understand that our action was in accordance with the spirit of the agreement, which is that rates should be remunerative."

13846 Defendants' Exhibit 371

The following letter is now at hand from the Hamburg American Line:

"On the 15th inst. we telegraphed you:

" 'According your telegram Cunard advances Libau-Basel though 3544 in minus, please ex-13847 plain' and thereupon received your reply that the Cunard Line had been induced to make this change because the rate was 'unremunerative.' However, we regret that we cannot admit this reason, as there is no foundation for it in the contract. The Cunard Line ought to have considered whether the rate was remunerative or not before adopting it. Now as a minus party the contract gives them no right to raise the rate. However there is yet another reason why we cannot give our consent to the advance made by the Cunard Line. At the beginning of February the Cunard Line stopped accept-13848 ing Russians via Hamburg and Bremen, stating that their steamers were filled. This stoppage in the conveyance of Russians has hitherto not been cancelled. The control-stations and the Hamburg and Bremen agents of the Cunard Line are most strictly forbidden to book Russians for the Cunard Line. Consequently the Cunard Line, which received during the first seven weeks of 1910, 890 Russian cash passengers via Hamburg and Bremen, did not receive during the following eighteen weeks of this year more than 39. Now, if the Cunard

Defendants' Exhibit 311

Line, besides stopping the traffic via Hamburg and Bremen, also makes it, by means of an advance in rates, more difficult for Russian passengers to flow from Libau, one might suppose that the Cunard Line, in view of the rumors regarding Cholera, were anxious to withdraw from the carriage of Russian passengers. We do not wish to assert that such is really the intention of the Cunard Line, but we only say that it appears as if it were so, and this appearance we should like to see avoided in the general interest, in order not to create a precedent for the future. 13850

"As the percentages of the parties are based on the carriage of Russians, it is obvious that no party is allowed to claim dispensation from the conveyance of passengers of Russia.

"Our objection to the advance in rates we must therefore uphold. It is our opinion, that a party which has such a high minus as the Cunard Line, namely 3731, equal to more than 10% of its percentage, is not allowed to advance and that it has not the right to shut itself out from Russian business. Otherwise we should have to claim the same for ourselves. We beg you therefore to inquire of the Cunard Line whether they are ready to re-establish the old rate. If not, we beg you to submit the question to the arbitrator for decision." 13851

Will the Cunard Line please let me know their reply.

Respectfully.

13853 Uranium S. S. Co., Ltd. (R. 879.)

At the request of the Holland America Line I beg to communicate the following letter of Director J. G. v. Reuchlin dated 23rd instant :

"With reference to the interview I had with Colonel Davidson on June 22nd. I may state the following:

"The British Lines are aware through the exchange of telegrams which has taken place previously, of the fact that the Continental Lines hold a different view of the nature of the understanding reached in Paris under Minute 149.

13854 "From the report submitted by Mr. Aitchison the Continental Lines had the impression that Mr. Mackenzie and Col. Davidson had shown utter indifference as to coming into contact with the Continental Lines and the latter therefore feared that in formally opening negotiation with these gentlemen the latter might gain the impression that the Continental Lines were showing great anxiety to come to an understanding with them.

"I was therefore gratified to learn from Mr. Aitchison that on his subsequent meeting with Col. Davidson, Saturday last the latter had expressed himself desirous of meeting the Continental Lines in either London or Liverpool, or even to the extent of going to the Continent for that purpose. Mr. Aitchison further acquainted me with the fact that the proper basis had been found for an agreement on rates and commissions both for British and Scandinavian business westbound and eastbound between the 'Royal' and British Conference Lines and that the completion of such an agreement only 13856 waited for the Continental Lines' coming to an arrangement with the Uranium Steamship Company. In the meantime having received word from Col. Davidson I went to see him and explained to him that having been informed that he had expressed a wish to see the Continental Lines, and being in London and having received his note, I had much pleasure in personally making his acquaintance, but not as a delegate of the Continental Lines, as I had no mission whatever. I told that I was not prepared to discuss either rates or commissions, but that I had simply in view to ask him 13857 frankly what his intentions were with the Uranium Steamship Company, which Line, I understood, was being controlled by the Canadian Northern Railway, and was competing with our company in the New York trade in which, to my knowledge, the Canadian Northern Railway as such had no natural interest.

"Col. Davidson replied that I had not been informed correctly, that the Uranium Co. had nothing to do either with the Canadian Northern Railway or with the firm of Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann, but that it should be regarded as a very unwelcome inheritance left to Mr. Mackenzie personally who is the only one interested in this company.

"Col. Davidson further explained that Mr. Mackenzie would never have started this line on his own initiative but that Mr. Petersen with whom he entertains friendly relations had interested him some years ago in his scheme of starting a direct line from the Continent to Canada and New York. Ever since that moment Mr. Mackenzie has been obliged to in-

13859 vest more money in this enterprise until in the beginning of this year, Col. Davidson had been invited by Mr. Mackenzie to look into the working of this line and its prospects. Col. Davidson had thereupon in February last advised Mr. Mackenzie to either abandon the line entirely or to reconstruct it by taking it out of the hands of Mr. Petersen and substituting a more careful and more economical management. Col. Davidson assured me that Mr. Petersen has now nothing to do any more with the Uranium Steamship Company. I did not want to ask why then Mr. Petersen had been present at the 13860 first meeting of Mr. Aitchison regarding the 'Royal' Line as I did not consider it wise to show that Mr. Aitchison had reported in detail to the Continental Lines.

"Col. Davidson then said that in consideration of the large sums already expended in this line, Mr. Mackenzie finally decided to go on with it once more. Three steamers were acquired by purchase, the 'Uranium,' the 'Volturno' and the 'Campania,' and a new company had been formed, 'The Uranium Steamship Company.'

"In the course of the conversation which lasted over an hour and in which the land and rail interests of the Canadian Northern were fully discussed, I received the impression that whilst the Royal Line has been established by the Canadian Northern Railway with the firm intention to maintain it, it will largely depend on the results obtained with the Uranium Line whether the latter is going to be continued. Col. Davidson is fully convinced of the fact that the Canadian Northern Railway as such has no interest whatever in Mr. Mackenzie's maintaining a steamship service on New York. 13862
The passengers landed at Halifax are naturally to a certain extent interesting to their rail interests, but the majority of them lands in New York where practically all the cargo is discharged and eastbound all the cargo loaded, whilst the eastbound passengers come exclusively from the United States.

"Col. Davidson at the end again approached the question as to whether I could not agree rates with the Uranium Co., but I told him that I was not prepared to discuss any agreement. He then asked me if I would report to the Continental Lines about our conversation 13863 and said that he should like to meet the Continental Lines but that he was leaving for Canada on July 7th. I replied that as far as I could see no meeting of the Continental Lines would take place before that date. Col. Davidson then continued that there were practically no more differences between Mr. Aitchison and himself with regard to the Royal Line but that he understood that the latter's admittance to the British Conference was dependent on an understanding being arrived at between the

13864 Defendants' Exhibit 312

Continental Lines and the Uranium Steamship Co. I confirmed this, whereupon Col. Davidson remarked that he could not admit that these two questions should be mixed up; for him these were two separate questions which should be treated separately.

"I consider this a very important point because it shows that there is great anxiety on the part of the Royal Line to be admitted to Conference. This should make the lines cautious; for the very reason why Col. Davidson wishes to separate these two questions, the lines 13865 must combine them.

"I may add that our conversation was carried on in a most friendly spirit and ended in the promise being made by Col. Davidson to return my visit in Rotterdam next week.

"As I had no authority to act as a representative of the Lines, I refrain from making any recommendations. I judge that within short the Continental Lines after they shall have consulted each other will be in a position to state to the British Lines which course in their opinion should be pursued in dealing with the Royal and Uranium Lines; in the mean-13866 time I think no further steps should be taken.

Yours truly,
Signed J. G. REUCHLIN."

H. PETERS,

The bills have been verified and found in accordance with the passenger manifests. 13911

The Scandinavian American Line having consented to contribute to the expenses incurred for passengers carried at cut rates since March 1st the percentages are to be ascertained as follows:

The eastbound percentages under Agreement AA are:

Allan Line	4.95%
Anchor Line	3.93%

13912 Defendants' Exhibit 319

Cunard Line L'pool	12.77%
" " Fiume	2.35%

	100.00%

13913

Transat by Agreement with the N. D. L. V. since June 1st 1909 participate with a percentage of 10.-05% in the eastbound business of the N. D. L. V. Lines; the remaining 89.95% of the N. D. L. V. Lines are equal to 45.80% of the 4 N. D. L. V. Lines under Agreement AA, so that Transats share under Agreement AA is = 45.80 × 10.05 : 8995 =5.12%. The total of percentages is therefore 105.-12% which reduced to 100 makes the percentages:

Allan Line	4.71%
Anchor Line	3.74%
Cunard Line	14.38%
13914 Hapag	11.97%
Nasm	5.80%
Lloyd	17.65%

Austro's share is 4% of the 4 N. D. L. V. Lines, the remaining 96% of the N. D. L. V. Lines are equal to 43.56% of the above N. D. L. V. Lines, so that Austro's share is 1.82%.

The total of the percentages of 101.82 reduced to 100 is:

Allan Line	4.63%

In accordance with Article 24 of Agreement BB the Russian American Line participate with 3% in the A. C. percentages which is (93, 43 × 3 : 97) = 2.80% of the A. C. Lines inclusive of Transat and Austro, the total of 102.80% reduced to 100 gives:

13917

Allan Line	4.50%
Anchor Line	3.57%
Cunard Line	13.74%
Hapag	11.44%

Westbound Adjustment (G. 882).

13928

The Cunard Line write on June 30th:

"We are favored with your G. No. 882 of the 24th June, and note the comments of the Hamburg Amerika Line upon our recent alteration in Westbound rates.

"In confirming what we wrote to you on the 16th instant (G. No. 882) we are sorry to say that we cannot agree with the criticisms of the Hamburg Line.

"In the first place, with each Line endeavoring to carry its allotted percentage, our contention that the rates are to be remunerative will we think be recognized and admitted by all 13929 Lines to be the fundamental basis of the agreement. Commentary A to Article 11 supports our view, and the Secretary himself has stated over and over again that this is the object of a pool.

"Bearing this in mind, we feel that we have only carried out the intent of the Agreement in bringing our rates back to a basis where we can make ends meet, and which while at the same time preserving a certain degree of inferiority to the rates of the other Lines, will we hope enable us to reach a proper adjustment in due course.

"While we do not feel called upon to enter into details of the carryings of Russian Passengers by our Line, a reference to Strasser's statistics showing the nationality of steerage passengers carried between January 1st and 30th April 1910 will show that we carried a larger number of Russians than any other British Line. The fact that an outbreak of cholera was reported to have occurred in 13931 Russia had no bearing whatever on the alteration made in our Libau rate, which we think the Lines will appreciate.

"Lastly, we are afraid that we are unable to appreciate why the question should be arbitrated. The position of our rate at Libau is exactly the same as the position occupied by the Lloyd, as outlined in the Secretary's memo G. 216, that is, we are the lowest, and any further reduction would not alter the situation. Our minus being in our opinion merely a temporary depression, we must ask the same consideration under the terms of the agreement as that extended to the Continental Lines, vide, 13932 the Secretary's memo G. 216 above referred to, also letter of the Lloyd in G. 420 commenting on British Lines position generally. We anticipate that when the Autumn movement sets in we shall speedily alter our position."

ATLANTIC CONFERENCE.

Secretary's Office
Telegraph Address:
"Secretair," Jena.

Jena, July 8th, 1910.

To the Parties:

13943 Compensation for fighting rates for SS. "Philadelphia" April 2nd, SS. "St. Paul" April 30th, SS. "Philadelphia" May 7th, SS. "Kroonland" April 2nd, SS. "Finland" April 9th, SS. "Adriatic" March 12th, SS. "Laurentic" April 2nd, SS. "Adriatic" April 9th (G. 818).

I regret to say that an error has occurred on page 4 of G. 889 in so far as the calculation (93, 43 x 3 : 97) is 2.89% instead of 2.80%; in consequence hereof the account has to be made up anew. I also take the opportunity to liquidate at the same time the amounts for some other fighting steamers, for which the bills in the meanttime have come to hand; the complete account 13944 is:

Bills presented by

1) American Line, Southampton:

471 adults, 29 childr. 18 inf. Rate $24.— @ $6.— = $2913.— $4395.—

13950 $6789.—

The bills have been verified and found in accordance with the passenger manifests.

The Scandinavian American Line having consented to contribute to the expenses incurred for passengers carried at cut rates since March 1st the percentages are to be ascertained as follows:

The east bound percentages under Agreement A.A. are:

Defendants' Exhibit 324

13951

13952

Transat by Agreement with the N. D. L. V. since June 1st 1909 participate with a percentage of 10.05% in the eastbound business of the N. D. L. V. Lines; the remaining 89.95% of the N. D. L. V. Lines are equal to 45.80% of the 4 N. D. L. V. Lines under Agreement AA, so that Transat's share under Agreement AA is = 45.80 × 10.05 : 8995 = 5.12%. The Total of percentages is therefore 105.12%, which reduced to 100 makes the percentages:

Allan Line	4.71%
Anchor Line	3.74%
Cunard Line	14.38%
Hapag	11.97%
Nasm	5.80%

13954 Defendants' Exhibit 324

Austro's share is 4% of the 4 N. D. L. V. Lines, the remaining 96% of the N. D. L. V. Lines are equal to 43.55% of the above N. D. L. V. Lines so that Austro's share is 1.82%.

The Total of the percentages of 101.82% reduced to 100 is:

Allan Line	4.63%

13956 of the A. C. Lines inclusive of Transat and Austro, the total of 102.89% reduced to 100 gives:

Allan Line	4.50%

The Scandinavian American Line join the A. C. Lines with a percentage of 3.94%, which corresponds (90.80 × 3.94: 96.06) to 3.72% of the above percentages exclusive of Transat, Austro & Russian American Line; the total of the percentages is therefore 103.72%, which reduced to 100 results in the following percentages:

13958

Allan Line	4.34%
Anchor Line	3.44%
Cunard Line	13.23%

13981

Annex to G. 898. 11/7, 1910.

The Moorings

July 8th, 1910.

S. S. Franconia.

Under Minute 152 of the Atlantic Conference Meeting held at Paris 5th May 1910, the First and Second-Class Rates that the Cunard Line proposed to charge for the S. S. Franconia were referred to me for arbitration.

The gross tonnage is stated at about 18,000 and the 13982 speed called for in the specification is 16 knots and I have to thank the Cunard Company for affording me an opportunity of inspecting the plans showing the Passenger arrangements of this Steamer.

For the reasons stated in the fifth and sixth paragraphs of my Award dated 14th January 1909 concerning the "George Washington," "Berlin," "Cleveland" and the "Cincinnati" I consider the definite classification of the "Franconia" is not possible and that the Rates I now fix are provisional Rates to be charged for this Steamer, say, to the 30th November 1911 and that the Rates to be charged subsequently should be determined by agreement or arbitration after 13983 the Steamer is running.

The trade and services in which the steamers were engaged were evidently taken into consideration in fixing the Rates established by Agreements (V) and (W) and therefore under the last section of Rule 1, Agreement (V) and Clause C of Rule 1 of Agreement (W) the trade and service in which the Steamer is to be engaged should be taken into consideration in fixing Rates for the new Steamer.

It is intended that the "Franconia" shall be engaged in the Cunard Line Services between Boston and

13984 Defendants' Exhibit 329

Liverpool and New York and the Mediterranean and whilst there may be some ground for the Cunard Company's claim that the Rates for a steamer engaged in the Boston-Liverpool trade should not be so high as for the same steamer engaged in the New York-Liverpool trade there is not any ground for claiming that the steamer when engaged in the New York-Mediterranean trade should charge lower Rates than if she was engaged in the New York-Liverpool trade.

Agreement (X) provides "That the steamers men-13985 tioned above when entering or engaged in the Mediterranean trade be rated the same as in the North Atlantic trade."

I have therefore fixed the provisional Rates to be charged for the "Franconia" when engaged in the Boston-Liverpool Service also the provisional Rates to be charged if she is engaged in the New York-Liverpool Service and the First-Class Rate fixed for the New York-Liverpool Service will apply when she is engaged in the Mediterranean trade. Agreement (X) does not apply to Second-Class business but provides that Second-Class Rates are to be arranged by New York Conference so I fix no Second-Class Rates for "Franconia" in Mediterranean trade.

13986 The provisional Rates in the Liverpool-Boston trade to be:

First-Class .....£18.
Second-Class ....£10.

and in the New York-Liverpool trade:

First-Class .....£19.
Second-Class ....£10.10.0.

The Second-Class Rates include the advance of 10/- agreed to by Minute 154.

We entirely agree with the Cunard Line that one of the objects of the agreement is to have remunerative rates but that does not alter the fact that an adjustment must be brought about whenever the pool position of a line requires it and this without regard whether a rate is remunerative or not. We are surprised the Cunard Co. should be in doubt about it as this rule is the fundament of the agreement (Articles 9 and 11).

> "We therefore think that the policy followed by the Cunard Co. is not according to the spirit of the agreement nor do we think that the Cunard Line has got the right to increase rates although minus party as nothing is provided in the contract which authorizes such an action."

Dear Sir,

14004 Messrs Knie, Falk & Co., Libau and the Thomson Line.

I have your favor of the 30th ult enclosing copy of a communication which you have received by Secretary Peters from the Russia American Line and beg to refer to my letter of the 1st inst which deals with the same matter. From the copies of the original letters which I have sent you and which were addressed by the United Shipping Co., London to Messrs. P. Bornholdt & Co., Libau asking them to forward some Thomson Line prepaid passengers to England, you will learn that neither Messrs. Knie Falk & Co., nor Messrs. Karlsberg, Spiro & Co. have anything whatever to do with the forwarding of such passengers or with the handling of such prepaids. Just in the contrary, both Messrs. K. Sp. & Co., and Messrs. K. F. & Co. have strictly refused transportation and the charge which the Russian-American Line again makes against Messrs. Knie Falk & Co. is absolutely unfounded and absurd.

Defendants' Exhibit 334

Yours faithfully,
signed: B. KARLSBERG.

E. S. Smyth, Esq.
Secretary
The North Atlantic Passenger Conference,

Dear Mr. Smyth,

I have received the following report from Messrs. Karlsberg, Spiro & Co., Libau:

"During the last weeks it has several times occured that passengers holding Thomson Line prepaids apply to Messrs. Knie Falk & Co and to us asking for transportation from Libau to England. But, of course, both we and Messrs. K. F. & Co. have refused to forward such passengers and to handle that business altogether. Last week we refused again transportation to a family holding such a Thomson Line prepaid and to-day the same family applied again to us showing a letter which they had received in the meantime from the United Shipping Co., London addressed to Messrs. P. Bornholdt & 14007

14008 Defendants' Exhibit 334

Co., Libau of which we are enclosing copy herewith. Nevertheless, we refused transportation and Messrs Bornholdt, the Forenede Agents at Libau may not ship either, as they have no right to accept or to forward any steerage passengers on Forenede steamers from Libau without our consent. However, this does not settle the matter at all; there must be found a way to prohibit the United Shipping Co. to assist the Agents of the Thomson Line in such a way, the more as they have no right whatever to dispose of the space in 14009 the steerage of the Forenede steamers sailing from Libau. As you will learn from the enclosed copy of the letter from the United Shipping Co. transportation was to be granted to Mr. Johannes A. Eurich, wife and infant and the letter is dated June 20th."

In addition to this report I have received a further letter from Libau this afternoon referring to the same matter and stating the following:

"With reference to our report regarding Thomson Line prepaids we beg to hand you enclosed copy of another letter addressed to the 14010 Forenede Agents, Messrs. Bornholdt & Co., Libau by the United Shipping Co., London asking to forward Naum Finina from Libau to London; this letter is dated June 23rd.

"Please take the matter as soon as possible. It must strictly be prohibited to the United Shipping Co. to assist outside Lines."

These reports and the enclosed copies to which Messrs. K. Sp. & Co. refer speak for themselves and I shall thank you if you will kindly do all you can in connection with this matter.

Yours faithfully,

signed: B. KARLSBERG.

the view to bring the Royal Line into the A. C. agreement for 3rd class business also to have them join the First & Second Class rate agreements. The British Lines having full authority from the Continental Lines to make the best arrangement possible.

Failing obtaining the consent of the Royal Line to join the A. C. agreement the British Lines to negotiate a 3rd class rate agreement (continental rates not to be lower than the British Lines' lowest continental rates) in which case the Royal Line to be at liberty to carry 3rd class passengers for the Uranium Co. in the event of one of the latter Cos' steamers being prevented from sailing owing to a break down, of which satisfactory evidence must be produced, as for instance a Lloyds' certificate.

The British Lines agree to continue to assist the Continental Lines in meeting the competition of the Uranium S. S. Co. and withdraw their notices in connection with A. C. minute No. 22.

In the event of an arrangement being made for/including the Royal Line in the A. C. agreement it is understood that it is to be similar in character to that by which the Russian East Asiatic Co. is associated with that agreement.

It is agreed that minute 18 of the A. C. agreement be altered by adding the words: "excepting the Royal Line."

Dear Sir:

14033 With reference to the question raised by you when in Southampton as to the inclusion of the passages of Colonel and Mrs. Swalm, who sailed by the White Star Line from Southampton last year, in our returns, as regards Colonel Swalm, this gentleman was granted a free passage on the grounds that he was a United States Government official and that he made the voyage on Government business, and we therefore consider that under clause 11 (b) of the appendix II to Agreement AA his passage should not be included in our returns.

As Mrs. Swalm who sailed by the "Oceanic" paid £10 only and the minimum Second Class Agreement rate for this steamer is £11. we are arranging to in-14034 clude her passage in our rectification return for the month of June.

With reference to your interpretation with regard to clause 11 b Appendix II Agreement AA. I beg to say, that in my opinion this clause has nothing to do with cabin business and is only applicable to steerage business.

The circumstances under which cabin passengers may be forwarded free or at reduced rates without being pooled are stated in clause 3 & 123 of the Bye-laws, but with these exceptions all passengers paying less than Agreement 2nd cabin rates by the carrying steamer are to be pooled.

Please kindly inform me whether you will act accordingly, or whether you are of different opinion.

Dear Sir:

We have your letter of the 4th instant.

14039 We note you do not agree with our interpretation of clause 11 (b) to Appendix II of Agreement AA being applicable to the case of Colonel Swalm as you consider it only applies to Third Class business.

Clause 11 (b) however in our opinion should be applicable to Government Officials who are transported free, and when Agreement "V" was drawn up, clause 11 (a) of paragraph 9 gave permission for free passes to be granted under certain conditions.

We cannot think that when this clause was drawn up it was ever intended that passengers thus carried free were to be included in the returns under the Agreement.

14040 Under these circumstances we are still of opinion that the passage of Colonel Swalm as a United States Consul travelling on Government business should not be returned, and, although the matter is a small one, an important principle is involved and we will be glad if you will circulate this letter and ascertain the views and opinions of the other Lines.

Catholic divine service on board.

The Hamburg American Line write: 14054

"Enclosed we beg to hand you translation of a letter, which was received by us from Mr. Cahensly, President of the St. Raphael's Association for the protection of catholic German emigrants. It is our intention not to comply with the suggestion made in this letter but to reply, that we are not in a position to do so, seeing that the emigrants on our ships are composed of members of quite a number of different confessions; there are among them Roman Catholics, Greek Catholics, Evangelical Lutherans, Evangelical Reformed, Jews, Mohammedans and followers of various other 14055 denominations. It would therefore not be feasible to arrange divine services according to the doctrines of their church to the members of the one confession without making equal arrangements for the followers of the other confessions. The number of different confessions to be considered, however, renders it impossible to provide for so far reaching institutions for all the passengers on board our ships and it is obvious that we cannot give free transportation to so many preachers.

14056 Defendants' Exhibit 343

"We would ask you kindly to submit this question to the Lines in order that they may express their opinion about it."

Westbound Adjustment (G. Nos. 903, 899, 802, 882).

With regard to circular letter G. No. 903 I beg to communicate in the annex the further replies I received in the above matter. With reference to the question, whether a short line may advance or a line in excess may reduce rates I would make a few remarks.

Art. 11 rules that such measures are dependent on "that the results thus obtained (i. e. by the statistics furnished) show that a Line has exceeded its proportion or has remained below it." It must therefore lie open before all eyes that a Line is plus or minus and it is not left to a Line's individual opinion that 13506 it will become a plus or minus party in the further course. This rule stands.

Now in the business of the Lines there can and do exist circumstances which justify to anticipate that a short line will in a near future turn into excess and it is rational if such line does not wish to run into a large excess at low rates and proposes to advance. But such a case must not be looked at from the standpoint of such Line only but due regard must also be taken whether it is not to the detriment of some other Line or of their community. The same regard has to be taken if a plus Line is going to reduce.

Therefore it is my opinion that a line which wishes to resort to measures which involve a deviation from the terms of the contract should lay the reasons why they believe that such measures are compatible with their duty to adjust their position before their pool colleagues and the consent of 75% of the shares (similar to Art. 11 & Commentary) should be obtained before such measures can be made operative.

It seems to me that rather much stress is laid on the remunerativeness of rates. Though this is the last and most important end, it must not be lost sight of, that this end cannot be obtained, if the principle of the pool to divide the volume of the traffic by fixed percentages and to make each Line carry its percentage as nearly as possible is not maintained in the front.

Respectfully,

1) Letter of Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co. dated July 15th:

Dear Sir:

Westbound Adjustment.

Your G. 903.

We quite agree with the argument that one of the important objects of the Agreement is to enable the 14111 Lines to carry their third class passengers at remunerative rates.

We also agree that, while it is against the letter of the agreement for a Line in the minus to advance rates, we do not think it is against the spirit of the agreement to do so in the event of such Line only altering those rates which are much below the fares of the other Companies, and that the alteration made is not such as to in any way check the flow of business.

In the same way, if a Line sees its position changing in the immediate future from plus to minus, or, vice versa, we think a change in rate would be justified 14112 to anticipate such altered position.

As regards the particular question involved between Hamburg-American Line and Cunard Line, it is a question of course, as to whether the case comes within the foregoing exceptions.

Yours faithfully,

2) Letter of the American Line Southampton dated July 16th:

Dear Sir:

Referring to your circular letter G. No. 903 of the 11th inst. we agree with the view set forth that one of the most important objects of the Agreement is to enable the Lines to carry Third Class passengers at remunerative rates.

We are also of the opinion that while it is against 14114
the letter of the Agreement for a Line in the minus to advance its rates, we do not think it against the spirit of the agreement to absolutely prohibit this being done in the case of a Line only altering those rates which are much below the fares of other Companies, and that such an alteration is not one which would check the flow of business.

Similarly if a Line's position is evidently likely to change in the future from plus to minus or vice versa we consider a change of rate would be justified in anticipating such an altered position.

With reference to the particular question between the Hamburg American and Cunard Lines under review at present, we agree with the remarks made 14115 by the North German Lloyd set forth in your circular letter G. No. 906 of the 14th instant that, having an assurance from the Cunard Line that it is not their intention to stop the carriage of Russian passengers, they will see no difficulty in agreeing to their wishes in this specific case provided the question is submitted to the other Lines.

Yours faithfully,

3) Letter of the Holland America Line dated July 16th:

Dear Sir:

With regard to the question as to whether the standpoint taken up by the Cunard Line in raising their steerage rate notwithstanding the fact that their position in the pool remains greatly below their allotted share, is correct, we beg to say that in our opinion the arguments brought forward by the Cunard 13517 Line in support of their action are not convincing and we feel very certain that it is not in accord with the agreement.

May we take it that, in as much as the Hamburg-American Line, according to G. 906, desist from having this question arbitrated, the Cunard Line admit that their action was contrary to the stipulations of the Agreement? In that case we would be willing to share the views expressed by the Lloyd, to the effect that on condition that Cunard's action shall not be looked upon as a precedent, we agree to drop the matter.

Yours truly,

Pooling of Cabin Passengers (G. No. 909).

I beg to communicate in the annex the replies with regard to the correspondence in the annex to G. 909, 14123 to which I have to add that the Continental Lines have, ever since they had their agreement, acted according to the views expressed by them, and to them only referred what I told the Cunard Line.

Unless the Lines dissenting from the views of the majority prefer to have the matter arbitrated, I would request, that the Lines overhaul their west & eastbound manifests carefully not only for identical but also for similar cases and eventually report. Such reported cases they will please mark in the manifests for 1909, and also in future, by entering in red or blue ink the word "pooled."

I take this opportunity to repeat what I have already orally expressed where occasional differences of view 14124 finally were agreed upon, viz. that the passenger lists must be completely overhauled in order to get the reports corrected according to the understanding reached.

It is clear that my examination of the manifests cannot go beyond picking out a number of voyages and going through them thoroughly and turning attention to cases, where my views differ from those of the resp. Line. It is then the duty of the resp. Lines to correct not only these special cases which I bring to their notice.

I reserve the right to a second examination and if it should turn out that corrections which ought to have been made are not made I should consider it as gross negligence and report to the Parties. 14125

"However, cabin-passengers paying less than the minimum agreed rates, unless covered by Bye-law 3, have invariably to be pooled even if the reduction has been granted in strict accordance with Clause 11 of Agreement V or Clause 7 of Agreement W. In the latter case there is no infringement of the Cabin Agreements, but the passengers have yet to be accounted for to the pool. This is at least the practice which we have always followed, and which is also corroborated by Byelaw 123, paragraph 2. Being obliged to pool such passengers was meant as a safeguard against excessive liberality in granting reductions; on the other hand accounting for them to the steerage-pool does of course not make good an in- 14127

Deported Passengers. 14156

I beg to submit the following letter, received yesterday:

Liverpool, August 6th, 10

H. Peters, Esq.,
Secretary,
Atlantic Conference,
Jena.

Dear Sir:

1. Eastbound Deported Passengers
2. Eastbound Charity Passengers 14157

With reference to your conversation on your recent visit regarding the non-pooling of Eastbound steeragers forwarded on a/c of the Canadian Government, for which a subsistence rate of $15 has been received, we submit that a distinction should be made between (1) such passengers as are forwarded on deportation orders, and to whom it is compulsory upon us to give passage whether we wish to do so or not, and (2) passengers whom we voluntarily carry at the request of the Government or Benevolent Societies and to whom it is open to us to refuse transportation at less than official rates if we choose to ignore the policy of accepting them.

14158 Defendants' Exhibit 361

Those in the first named category we submit we are entitled to carry free of Pool obligations, even though the Government do pay us $15 to cover expenses incidental to their shipment, subsistence and handling, and, not infrequently forwarding expenses at this end.

Those in the second named category we agree are Pool passengers and we have always hitherto pooled them.

14159 Under the Canadian Law, as you doubtless know, the Government have now the right to call upon us for the deportation within three years from the time of their arrival, of any ineligible persons, without any payment. That right, however, has only been exercised in respect of passengers deported within a year; and when the period of residence has exceeded one year, the Authorities, as a voluntary act of grace and equity, and not because they are under any obligation to do so, have paid us $15 against the expenses referred to.

This payment, however, in no way removes the passengers from the category of "Bondable Passen-14160 gers," i. e. who are deported by "the Government" and who therefore "shall be deducted Eastbound" (Byelaw 11 appendix 11).

Passengers voluntarily carried, that is passengers carried for Benevolent or other Societies, or even for the Government, at a Charity rate of $15 or $25, or at any other rate, and which the Lines are under no compulsion to carry if they don't want to, are, of course, subject to Pooling obligations, and have been pooled.

Defendants' Exhibit 361

14161

We trust the Lines will accept this as the position we are entitled to maintain in this matter.

Byelaw 11 B. (G. 923.) 14168

With reference to circular letter G. No. 923 I received the following replies from:

1) the Hamburg Amerika Linie dated July 30th:

"In reply to your circular No. 923 of July 28th we beg to say that the 436 steeragers forwarded from New York to Fiume at a rate of $10 during 1909 have to be accounted for to the pool, seeing that these passengers which, we understand, have been carried at the cheap rate upon Hungarian Consular orders on the strength of the contract existing between the Cunard Line and the Hungarian Government, 14169 were included as full passengers in the basing figures for 1906 and 1907.

"This is corroborated by the fact that, according to the weekly returns furnished by Mr. Lawson Sandford which served as a basis for the annual statistical abstract, the total of passengers returned at the request of the Government amount to 197 souls in 1906 and to 185 souls in 1907, Italian and Adriatic passengers not separated. It is therefore evident that the passengers carried at cheap rates under special contract with the Hungarian Government were not counted as Bondables or Government passengers, and that Byelaw 11 (subsection b) does not apply. The alternative for complying with the demand of the Cunard-Line would be to revise the basing figures and reduce their eastbound share to the percentage that is arrived at upon deducting from their 1906 and 1907 carryings the numbers of passengers carried at the $10 rate.

14170 Defendants' Exhibit 363

"We do not doubt that the Cunard Line if 14171 viewing the matter in this light will not insist upon their demand, and we shall be glad to know if these Government passengers have been duly included in the 1908 accounts."

2) the Holland Amerika Linie dated August 1st:

"We believe that the position taken up by the Cunard Line in their not accounting for into the pool of 436 steerage passengers carried by them from New York to Fiume during 1909 at a rate of $10 by order of the Hungarian Government is correct, in as much as in our opinion this comes under By-Law 11 Sub-section B.

14172 "In connection with the above the only question which comes to our mind is whether at the time when Cunard's eastbound percentage for their New York-Fiume service was fixed, the number of this kind of passengers carried by the Cunard in 1906 and 1907 was taken into account; however, we realize that this can only be a very small matter."

3) the Norddeutscher Lloyd dated August 11th:

Defendants' Exhibit 363

"G. 923.

"In our opinion the case is not covered by byelaw 11.b, and seeing that the passengers in question were included into the basing figures when the pool percentages were calculated, there can be no doubt about the Cunard Line's obligation to account for these passengers into the Pool or to agree to a corresponding decrease of their eastbound share. As however this would be a small matter we are willing to comply with the wishes of the Cunard Line; at all events we shall go with the majority of the Lines."

14174

4) the Red Star Line dated August 2nd:

"Byelaw 11b.

"We think it is doubtful whether these passengers come under Byelaw 11 b, but our feeling is that they should not be pooled."

Up till now none of the British Lines have expressed their views.

I should be obliged to receive the reply of the Cunard Line what they have to say with regard to the letter of the Hamburg Line.

"We thought that this matter had already been satisfactorily dealt with, and we do not know that we can add very much in regard to it, beyond emphasizing the fact that it is still our opinion that when the low rates which we had in operation were increased they could not have any detrimental effect upon the business of the other Lines. We do not, however, anticipate that this situation will again arise.

"In connection with your observations and the remark of the Holland-America Line, we might point out that the latter recorded an advance in their westbound rates on June 29 while still minus 658.

"While on the subject of adjusting the positions under the respective Agreements, we have just notified Secretary Smyth of a reduction of 5/—in our westbound British cash rates for sailings up to the end of September. Our minus we feel sure would soon have been considerably reduced, and we had hoped advances rather than reductions would have taken place, but in view of the reduction of the White Star Line we have felt it necessary to reduce our rates also."

With reference to circular letter G. No. 942 I beg to communicate the replies so far received, regarding 14210
the joint letter of the Canadian Lines in above matter.

(1) Letter of the Holland American Line, dated August 13th:

> "The idea of byelaw 11 was not that passengers need not be accounted for, simply because they were being deported by the Government, but because the deportation had to take place either without any compensation to the Steamship Line or merely against payment of cost of subsistence. Therefore in order to determine whether a passenger has to be pooled it is not sufficient to say that the Government 14211 > has ordered his deportation; in our opinion all depends on the amount that the Government pays for his transportation. We do not think that a sum of $15 can very well be regarded as just covering cost of subsistence, it does more than that and for this reason the Canada Line's deported passengers for whose transportation the Canadian Government has paid us $15 (for N. D. L. V. Lines' joint service, Secretary), have been duly accounted for in the pool."

14212 Defendants' Exhibit 370

(2) Letter of the Norddeutscher Lloyd, dated August 18th:

"With reference to circular No. 942 we do not think that the passengers mentioned by the Canadian Lines as belonging to the first category can be considered either as 'bondables' or as 'passengers returned at the request of a Government against payment of the cost of subsistence.'

"The term 'bondable' can, in our opinion, only apply to passengers who have remained 14213 'in bond' i. e., passengers who have been refused admittance and have been deported before actually entering the United States or Canada. The passengers in question having been admitted by the Canadian Immigration Authorities and having stayed in Canada for some time, cannot be considered as bondables. On the other hand, the rate of $15 which is paid by the Canadian Government for the transportation of these passengers cannot be said to cover merely the cost of subsistence which, considering the short trip, could hardly exceed one pound.

14214 "We therefore hold that the passengers in dispute should be pooled. However, if the other Lines are inclined to consider them as exempted, we do not intend to raise any objections."

I also beg to request the other parties, who have not yet answered, to let me have their views.

14225

> "E. B. Rates: Follow all you say on this subject. Now that our Continental rate is up to $35.00, we cannot expect much of this business. The s.s. 'Graf Waldersee' is to sail on the 18th. inst., rate $27.00. This rate, announced on August 9th, will naturally turn all the Continental business to this steamer, in fact it is getting so now that the Agents throughout the country know just exactly when to expect reduced rates. They watch the sailings of the Uranium S.S. Co., and know that there will be a reduced rate by one of the Conference Lines sailing the same week."

Cunard's Hungarian Deported Passengers (G. No. 944)

With reference to G. No. 923 & 944 I beg to communicate the following correspondence: 14240

1) Letter of the Cunard Line dated August 20th:

> "We have perused with interest your G. 944 on the subject of passengers carried by our steamers from New York to Fiume on Hungarian Government Orders at the rate of $10. We do not think we have anything to add to the very full explanation contained in our letter of the 25th July. For these passengers we only receive £2 for a voyage of 20 days, and if they were pooled, they would have to be pooled at a rate of £4. From a careful perusal of the statistics it seems that these Government Consular passengers were not included in the 1906/7 figures which were under review at the time the agreements were made. We believe the figures taken were Sandford's, and reference to these we believe will confirm our statement. The figures mentioned by the Hamburg-American Line are the ordinary passengers deported by the American Government." 14241

2) Letter of the Secretary to the Cunard Line, dated 23rd:

14242 Defendants' Exhibit 376

"I received your favor of 20th instant.

"You are quite right that the figures on which your percentage was based were those of the Sandford's statistics, which did not include the passengers 'returned' by the U. S. authorities. As the Hungarian Consular passengers do not belong to this category it seems to me that they were included in the basing figures. If you have still the passenger lists of 1907 you could easily ascertain it. I await your kindly reply."

14243 3) Letter of the Cunard Line dated August 25th:

"We beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 23rd August, on the subject of Consular and deported passengers in our Eastbound Adriatic Service, and can only confirm the statement made to you in ours of the 20th instant, that the figures advised to Mr. Sandford for the years 1906/7, which were under review when considering percentages, do not include Consular passengers. We had previous to writing you, made reference to our Schedules, and for your information now give you four random examples in each year, from 14244 which you will see that an approximate general statement may be made that the figures in Mr. Sandford's Transatlantic Movement Book do not include Consular or deported passengers."

From the random examples of the Cunard Line, of which the Annex is a copy, it seems to result that the Hungarian deported passengers were not included in the basing figures of 1906 and 1907, and under these circumstances it seems but fair, that they should not be included now.

With further reference to G. No. 942 I beg to communicate the following letters:

> "Referring to your circular Letter G. 957 of the 22nd instant respecting the accounting for Eastbound deported and charity passengers and asking for the opinion of the Lines respecting same, our views are in accordance with those set out in the letter addressed to you (see your 14256 circular G. 942) of August 12th on the 6th of August by the Canadian Lines."

2) Letter of the Hamburg Amerika Linie dated August 29th:

> "Reverting to circulars 942 & 957 we would say that in our opinion the passengers who are sent back at the request of the Canadian Government against payment of $15, are, strictly speaking, subject to pooling, and as the Holland-Amerika Line has already pointed out, such passengers have so far been duly accounted for by the Canadian Joint Service of the Continental Lines.

"On the other hand it is to be admitted that this puts a hardship on some of the Lines, but we have in similar cases not applied to the pool in order not to disturb a sound principle, when only a few hundred pounds were involved. We have no idea what the passengers carried at the $15 fare by order of the Canadian Government amount to, and if it is really a serious item, then we would propose to have the matter noted for the Agenda of the next meeting. 14258

"Of course, the treatment must be uniform over all Lines."

3) Letter of Cunard Line dated September 1st:

"With regard to the questions raised in your G. No. 942 and 957, the point that occurs to us is whether or not such passengers were included in the figures upon which the percentages of the Lines in question were based. If they were actually included in the numbers, then our feeling is that there is no alternative but to account for them now to the Agreements, 14259 though we are quite prepared to fall in with the views of the majority of the Lines on the point."

4) Letter of the Anchor Line dated September 2nd:

"In regard to your G. Nos. 942, 957:

"Eastbound deported passengers and charity passengers.

14260 Defendants' Exhibit 379

"We do not care about entering into the merits of the questions raised by the above letters. The United States British Lines some time ago made their charity rate $25 & pooled the business. They also made a rate of 3/- per day for mere subsistence when necessary to grant passages under stringent circumstances, but in this case not to pool business.

"The whole matter is whether a $15 rate should be pooled. This rate leaves a profit and all business taken at a profit should be pooled, but we should agree with Lloyd not to insist 14261 now on this traffic (at $15), being pooled during the currency of the present A. A. Agreement."

Before the matter is further dealt with I would ask the Canadian Lines, whether the passengers in question were included in the Sandford's statistics, which were the basis of the percentages and further the number of such passengers in 1909.

Cunards Non-Hungarian Passengers via Fiume.

When auditing the Cunard Line's passenger lists during my recent stay in Liverpool I solicited information from them, what passengers by their Fiume service they considered as Non-Hungarians to be accounted for under Appendix III to Agreement AA as far as they exceed 7%. I pursued the question by letter to the Cunard Line of August 1st reading:

14279

> "I beg to revert to the question of Non-Hungarian passengers which is in a rather unsatisfactory state, at least for me, since I do not know what is exactly meant by 'Non-Hungarian.' I find you are right in that respect, that the 7% were arrived at in this way, that of the total number of steeragers landed at New York by your Fiume service as per the statistics of nationalities there was deducted the number of those which appear in these statistics as Hungarians and the balance were considered as Non-Hungarians. The consequence, it seems to me, ought to be that in the ensuing years, the same method be employed. The figures are derived from official sources and could therefore be taken to be correct.
>
> "All other methods are more or less open to criticism. It has not become clear to me, in which way you ascertain the number of 14280

Defendants' Exhibit 384 14281

Non-Hungarians, nor which passengers you consider as such. I may be mistaken if I understood that you took as Non-Hungarians the steeragers embarking at Trieste. As I pointed already out, when in Liverpool, these numbers and those reported by you as Non-Hungarians do not agree.

"It is clear that 'Hungarians' cannot mean the race, or nationality which would be only those known under the name of 'Magyars,' and would exclude all the other nationalities living in Hungary such as Rumanians, Slovaks, Servians, Germans etc. It therefore can only mean either citizens of Hungary proper or all people residing in its boundaries. It seems to me reasonable that it must be taken in this latter sense. If memory serves me right one of the reasons why you could not enter the pool for your Fiume service was, that you were tied for business from Hungary by your contract with the Government and it was in consideration of this circumstance that it was thought right that you be not bound for that part of your business which falls under this contract, but that you might bind yourself for all other business say f. i. from Servia, Bosnia, Croatia, Dalmatia, Greece, etc. to which your contract does not apply. 14282 14283

"I should feel obliged if you would kindly let me know precisely what in your opinion is the correct interpretation of 'Non-Hungarians,' and I would then submit the matter to the A. C. Lines."

In reply I have the following letter from the Cunard Line of 3rd instant:

"With reference to your letter of the 1st August and our acknowledgment of the 6th.

14284 Defendants' Exhibit 384

with regard to the exact definition of the term 'non-Hungarian,' we may say that we have looked upon a passenger of Hungarian nationality as one owning political allegiance to Hungary. The numbers which we have accounted for as 'Hungarian' have come under the control of the Hungarian Government.

"A comparison of the figures which we have accounted to you this year with those taken from the nationality sheets show that there is very little difference between our 14285 methods and those of the Immigration Authorities at New York."

In comparing the figures of the Cunard Line for this year with those of the statistics of nationalities (having due regard to it, that the statistics of nationalities contain the figures of arrivals and the Cunard Line's figures contain the passengers departed from Europe in the same period) I arrived at the following result:

Up to June 30th:	Total passengers	Non-Hungarians according to
14286 a) Statistic of Nationalities	25947	1652
b) Cunard Line's reports	25818	1431
difference in favor of Statistic of Nationalities	+129	+221
Up to July 31st the Statistic of Nationalities show a plus against Cunard's reports of	16	276

I beg to leave it to the lines to decide whether the question of the Cunard Line's Non-Hungarians by their Fiume service should be further ventilated.

Respectfully,

Annex to G. 996.27/9. 1910.

1) Letter of the Allan Line, dated 21st inst.

"We have your circular of 19th instant, G. No. 985, embodying a letter from Messrs. Imsay, Imrie & Co., in which they propose on advance of £1 in Second Cabin rates as from the 1st of October, or, alternatively, from 1st April next until 31st October.

"We do not favour an advance in Second Cabin rates, as after the beginning of October there will be ample room in the Second Cabin 14357 of our steamers, and we consider the present rates are sufficiently high.

"As to Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co.'s other proposal to make the advance operative from 1st April next until the 31st of October, in our opinion this is a matter that should be left over until it is decided whether or not the present Agreement, which expires at the end of February, is to be renewed. We have no objection, however, to the question being placed on the Agenda of the next Meeting."

2) Letter of the Anchor Line, dated 21st inst.

14358 "We fear that the proposal to add 20/— to present second class fares would not be feasible at the present time. At all events we consider that matter should receive full consideration from all the British Lines and we are therefore proposing that at next Conference meeting in Liverpool, the subject be fully discussed."

3) Letter of the C. P. R., dated 23rd inst.

"Replying to your G. 985 of the 19th instant in regard to the proposed advance in 4) Letter of the Donaldson Line, dated 21st inst.

"We have your letter of the 19th inst. G. No. 985 regarding proposed advance in 2nd class rate, but we do not think at this period of the year that any advance can be made on these rate. We are quite agreeable however that the matter be placed on the Agenda for the next meeting." 14360

5) Letter of the Hamburg-Amerika Line, dated 20th inst.

"The White Star Line's proposal to advance the second class rates for all steamers by £1.—/— from the 1st of October seems to us in view of the present not very flourishing times a most desirable and practicable means to increase the revenue of the Lines. We would agree to this proposal."

6) Letter of the Holland-Amerika Linie, dated 20th inst. 14361

"We are agreeable to an all-round advance of second class rates by £1 as proposed by the White Star Line."

7) Letter of the Norddeutscher Lloyd, dated 21st inst.

"In reply to circular G. No. 985 we beg to say that we fully share the views of Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co. as to the advisability of an all-round advance of second class rates, and that we agree with their proposal on the condition that the advance be uniformly applied to all steamers and to all ports. We would also suggest to increase the existing first class minimum rates by a corresponding amount in order to maintain adequate differentials between first and second class."

8) Letter of the Red Star Line, dated 20th inst.

"We agree to the proposals of Messrs. Ismay, Imrie & Co. to advance the second class rates for all steamers by £1 from 1st October next or that during next year from April 1st 14363 to October 31st the minimum rates be increased by £1.-/-."

9) Letter of the Cie. Gle. Transatlantique, dated September 26th:

"Nous sommes tout disposés à hausser de £1 tous nos minima en seconde classe, à la condition, bien entendu, que tous les autres navires, y compris ceux de l'Allan Line départ du Havre (newer and old steamers), soient augmentés d'un montant égal."

10) Reply of the Cunard Line to Secretary Smyth:

14364 "We are quite in sympathy with idea of increasing revenue but to our mind it is difficult to advance 2nd class rates further without affecting the first class."

Eastbound Deported—and Charity Passengers from Canada. (G. 969.)

With regard to circular letter G. No. 969 I beg to submit the following joint letter: 14366

Liverpool, Sep. 22nd '10.

Mr. H. Peters,
Secretary,
Atlantic Conference, Jena.

Dear Sir,

Re Eastbound Government Deported Charity Passengers.

With reference to your letter No. G. 969, in reply we have to place on record that during 1906 & 1907 there were no Government Deported Charity passengers, consequently there were none included in the statistics which were the basis of the percentages. 14367 Up to May 1907 the Canadian Immigration Act only empowered the Government to deport passengers who had been in Canada for a less period than 12 months, but in May 1907 the Immigration Act was amended and the Government obtained authority to deport within two years. They, however, did not put this power into operation until the Autumn of 1908, when the Canadian Government came to an understanding with the Steamship Cos that if they made an Order on the Steamship Co for the deportation of an emigrant who had been resident in Canada more than one year and under two years they would pay the Steamship Co. a Charity rate of $15 to cover the expenses of the deportation to the Steamship Co.

14368 Defendants' Exhibit 393

The deportation of such emigrants practically commenced in 1909 and during that year the numbers carried were as follows:

Allan Line	83
C. P. R.	32
Dominion Line	113

14369 We trust these particulars will be accepted as satisfactory by the Lines as we feel that these Government "Charity" Deports which, as already pointed out the Lines are compelled to carry whether the Government allow a Charity rate or not, are strictly "Bondable" passengers and therefore free from the Pool.

Yours truly,

ALLAN BROS. & Co. U. K. LIMITED,
signed p. F. S. Thompson.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY, ATLANTIC LINES,
signed, H. S. Carmichael.

WHITE STAR-DOMINION LINE,
signed, J. Fleetwood.

14370 I shall be pleased to have the parties confirm that under the above circumstances they agree that the Canadian Government "Charity" Deports, for which the Lines do not receive more than $15 per adult, need not be pooled.

The Donaldson Line reply in the matter as follows under 8th instant:

> "We are in receipt of your circular letter of 5th inst., G. No. 969, and beg to state that deported passengers for which we received an allowance of $15 per adult from the Canadian Government were not included in our figures submitted for a percentage basis. The number we carried in the year 1909, for which we received this allowance was 16."

To the Parties:

I beg to promulgate the following letter of Mr. J. Bruce Ismay of 28th instant:

"Prior to the next A. C. Meeting fixed for Thursday, November 24th, I desire to remind 14378 the Lines of the discussion which took place at the Paris Meeting in May last with regard to the position of the White Star-Dominion Canadian Service in connection with Agreement A. A.

"On that occasion, I placed before the meeting a cable from Mr. Hays, President of the Grand Trunk Railway, indicating the intention of that Railway to have a steamship connection in exactly the same position, or at any rate not further committed as regards the agreements, than the Atlantic services of their competitors, the C. P. R., and that unless the 14379
White Star-Dominion Canadian service, as the ocean connection of the Grand Trunk Railway, could take up such a position, the Grand Trunk would feel compelled to establish a Line of steamers of their own.

It was felt that a new Canadian service established by the Grand Trunk Railway would be most prejudicial to the interests of all, and should be guarded against if practicable, but nevertheless my proposal that the White Star-Dominion Line should be placed in the same position as the C. P. R. and Allan Lines was not agreed to.

14380 Petitioner's Exhibit 1622

"In subsequent communications Mr. Hays has emphasized the very strong feeling of the Grand Trunk Railway in this matter, and their fixed intention to have their own Steamship Line unless his views are met.

"Since the Paris meeting negotiations have been brought to a successful issue with the Canadian Northern, whereby they have been admitted to a rate agreement for their west-14381 bound 3rd Class business, entering the A. A. Agreement for their eastbound business only, although at the same time their representatives expressed their willingness to consider joining the A. A. Agreement westbound should the other Canadian Lines agree to do so. In these circumstances the Lines will no doubt appreciate that the White Star-Dominion Canadian Service cannot continue after next February in its present position, as the only Canadian Line subject to the A. A. Agreement for its westbound business. I am quite prepared to continue in the A. A. Agreement for this service if the other Canadian Lines also join, but if 11382 they are free then the White Star-Dominion Service must also be free, subject only to a rate agreement with the other Canadian Lines.

"As I am anxious all the Lines should know the position of the White Star-Dominion Line, kindly circulate this letter and place the matter on the Agenda for the meeting when I hope a solution of the question satisfactory to all may be arrived at."

As requested I shall place the subject on the Agenda of the November Meeting.

(2) Letter of the Norddeutscher Lloyd dated September 29th:

"We have taken due note of the Canadian Lines' statement in regard to passengers carried eastward upon the request of the Canadian 14393 Government at the reduced rate of $15 net, and if all other Lines are agreed that the passengers in question should be treated as Bondables, we do not intend to raise objections although, in principle, we do not agree with the Canadian Lines' interpretation of the Contract in this respect. Applying the full compensation rate to the above passengers would undoubtedly be a hardship upon the Lines being compelled to carry them, but as the rate of $15 does not merely cover the cost of subsistance but leaves a certain profit, a moderate rate of compensation would not appear unjustified; or 14394 if that course is not considered advisable, the number of such passengers a Line may carry free from compensation, might be limited."

In Folge dem sind wir schon vorher alle Eventuellitäten bedacht, tragen ferner auch Sorge, wenn jemand das Unglück hat untervegs bis zum Schiff an den Augen krank zu werden, was sogar sehr häufig vorkommt in Libau ausgeheilt, und dann den anderen Leuten nachgeschickt wird, was auf den anderen wegen nicht nur unmöglich, sondern gänzlich ausgeschlossen ist.

Dass den Leuten durch unsere Beförderung ausser allen Bequemlichkeiten gegenüber den anderen Kontoren um glücklich durchzukommen die grösste Sicherheit geboten wird, unterliegt keinem Zweifel, und ausser dem haben sie bei uns auch nicht das gefürchtete Bad, desgleichen auch keine Kleiderdämpfung, wodurch die Sachen wenn die Leute über Deutschland reisen, zum weit grössten Teil gänzlich verdorben wer-

Sie würden ferner noch ein weit christliches Werk tun, wenn sie alle Familien-Väter, die nach Amerika zu reisen beschossen haben, vor den auf dem Lande umherreisenden Wanderagenten die von Kolonie zu Kolonie unherziehen warnen möchten, dass sich die Leute mit diesen Sahurken unter keinen Umständen

Diese Herren gehen von dem Standpunkte aus, dass die Dummen nicht alle werden, und in der Tat ist es dem auch wirklich so, denn diese Herren finden immer wieder ein neues Feld, wo sie ihr Unwesen in ungeschwächter Stärke mit gutem Erfolg betreiben.

To the Parties:

Sale of steamers to competitors. (G. No. 1009.)

On the question the parties have expressed themselves as follows:

14435 1) Lloyd:

"We beg to own receipt of circular letter G. No. 1009 relating to an offer we had recently obtained for the purchase of some of our steamers.

"The question raised by the White Star Line is not a new one. The Lines will remember that it was very thoroughly discussed in connection with the sale to the Uranium S. S. Co. of the Navigazione steamer 'Campania' when all Lines were unanimously of the opinion that no Line was prevented by the Agreement from selling steamers to an outside party; that the 14436 passing of Conference steamers into the hands of outside Lines could only be effectively prevented if the Lines were to bind themselves not to sell any passenger steamers except for breaking up but that, of course, no Line could submit to such a far reaching restriction.

"The question was also touched in connection with the sale of tonnage to the contemplated new Norwegian Line, when it was proposed and agreed, but only in regard to this particular case, not to offer any steamers to the said Company. This also confirms that, in principle, the Lines are not prevented from selling steamers to outsiders.

"A restriction, such as the White Star Line seem to suggest, while it might cause serious inconveniences and losses to the individual Lines would, on the other hand, prove perfectly valueless for the protection of the joint interests, as there would be no difficulty whatever in obtaining suitable tonnage from other quarters, should the Conference Lines refuse to supply same."

2) Holland Amerika Linie:

"The question referred to by White Star regarding the sale of steamers to competing Lines is a peculiar one. Generally spoken it would of course be a very desirable thing if by the simple agreement of the associated Lines not to sell any tonnage to competitors every attempt to establish a competing Line could be made impossible from the start. However, we are not in this fortunate position. If the Agreement Lines bind themselves in this respect, there will be the Italian Lines, for instance, in the American trade that would not be bound and besides them there are so to say an unlimited number of shipowners who would be willing to dispose of tonnage that might very suitably be arranged for the transportation of steerage passengers. This is fully illustrated by s. s. 'Campanello' of the Uranium Steamship Company, which was formerly s. s. 'British Empire,' a freight steamer built in 1902 and only subsequently fitted with steerage accommodation.

14439

"In our mind the idea of establishing a new Line has never been given up for lack of available tonnage. Even the Norwegian Line which was being mentioned so frequently during the last couple of weeks has not given up its plans because the Schichau yard did not want to sell ss. 'Kaiser Friedrich,' but because they did not want to accept shares in payment of their steamer. It was capital that was lacking in Norway and not ships.

14440 Petitioner's Exhibit 1628

"Considering that the market for the sale of old passenger steamers is so very limited and further considering that, as stated above, the unwillingness to sell an old passenger 14441 steamer does not prevent the establishment of a new competing line, we do not see that any practical purpose is being served by an understanding under which a limited number of Lines bind themselves not to sell to certain other Lines."

3) Anchor Line:

"We consider that it would be highly undesirable for any of the Lines to assist any new competition by offering to supply steamers even if applied to."

4) Canadian Pacific Ry. Co.:

14442 "We are of the opinion that it would be a wrong principle for any of the Atlantic Conference Lines to render any assistance to the proposed Greek Line in the matter of supplying tonnage."

The Red Star Line are likewise of the opinion that no tonnage should be supplied to a new arising competition.

I beg to ask whether without prejudice to Agreement AA, Art. 18 it is understood that for the event of a new competition threatening from northern ports, the present case shall form no precedent in the question of supplying tonnage to a new competition.

Supplying tonnage to new competition. (G. 1015.)

14471 Recent negotiations about not selling steamers to a contemplated new Greek Line having led to no result.

White Star Line now have wired:

> "As no unanimity consider ourselves free sell tonnage any new competition except so far as are tied by special arrangement regarding Norwegians."

I do not consider it beyond doubt, that the position taken by the Lines which held themselves free to sell steamers to opposition Lines is in accordance with Article 18*b* and an arbitrator might possibly decide 14472 to the contrary. So if the Lines want to be free in this respect they had better see that this article is amended. But would that be an improvement? What applies to selling would of course also apply to chartering.

Whilst Art. 18 stands as it is I can not imagine that any party acting contrary to it could be excused or justified by pleading that they cannot be refused what is allowed to any outsider. If a Line wants to participate in the benefits of an agreement, they must also partake in the restrictions which it imposes.

Supplying tonnage to new competition. (G. No. 1022)

The Norddeutscher Lloyd write:

14477 "We beg to acknowledge receipt of circular G. No. 1015 re sale of steamers to the proposed new Greek Line. Direct traffic between Greece and the United States not being covered by the A. C. Agreement, it is obvious that the special case under discussion does not rightly concern the A. C. Conference. It has, however, a considerable indirect interest for the A. C. Lines in so far as a similar question has already come up, and may come up again at any time, in connection with direct competition from northern ports. From this point of view we appreciate that the motion of the White Star Line has afforded to the Lines an opportunity of expressing their opinion on the question of principle, whether or no the Lines should be subjected to any restrictions in regard to the sale of tonnage to outside competitors.

"It is obvious that such a restriction would be a very heavy burden for the Lines submitting to it, and it would therefore only be justified if it were certain to have the desired effect. This effect, however, could only be assured if not only the A. C. Lines but also the Mediterranean Lines, the South American

14479

Lines and more or less all emigrant and passenger carrying Lines would bind themselves not to sell their steamers except for breaking up. But even in that case, as the Holland-American Line has correctly shown, a competing Line would have an opportunity for fitting a cargo steamer for the transportation of steeragers or for ordering new tonnage which, considering the present state of the shipbuilding industry, may be promptly obtained and at very convenient terms.

"A restriction merely covering direct sales to outsiders would, for obvious reasons, be of no value whatever, while a restriction considering all the forms and possibilities of indirect sales (with or without the knowledge of the selling company) would practically lead to the prohibition of the sale of tonnage except for breaking up. 14480

"The latter restriction would, however, prove so cumbersome that we suppose no Line would be willing to submit to it.

"Of course there may be cases when a resolution, not to sell tonnage to a competitor, might be carried through with success, e. g. if a competing Line should, for some reason or another, be in immediate want of tonnage. In such cases the Lines may, as heretofore, resolve from time to time not to sell steamers to such a Line; but as a general rule such a restriction would not only be extremely onerous but, at the same time, almost valueless. 14481

"We hold that such a restriction is not imposed by the Contract as it stands, and that, generally, each Line is at liberty to sell its steamers unconditionally and to whomsoever it likes. From the opinions expressed in circular G. No. 1015 it appears that this view is also shared by the other Lines, the only point of dispute practically being whether it would not be advisable, in this specific case, to make an exception from the general rule."

14482 Defendants' Exhibit 409

Rotterdam 5 November, 1910.

P. T.

Wir teilen Ihnen hierdurch mit, dass wir von heute an bis auf weiteres für die Fahrt nach Boston und Philadelphia, Pa., den gleichen Preis berechnen wie für New York; somit stellen sich jetzt die Nettoraten wie folgt:

14603 Rotterdam-Halifax, Rubel 40.—
Rotterdam-New York, Rubel 48.—
Rotterdam-Boston, Rubel 48.—
Rotterdam-Philadelphia, Rubel 48.— inclusive Kopfsteuer und freier Beköstigung in Rotterdam.

Für Passagiere, die über Halifax nach den Vereinigten Staaten reisen, ist die Nettorate Rotterdam-Halifax Rubel 48.—

Durch diese Preisermässigung ersparen Sie bei Passageiren nach Boston Rubel 5.70, bei Philadelphia Pa., Rubel 4.50.

Sollte bei Buchungen nach weiteren Plätzen die Eisenbahnrate von Boston oder Philadelphia billiger sein, 14604 als von New York, so werden wir Ihnen selbst-verständlich die billige Eisenbahnrate berechnen.

Wir hoffen, dass ihnen dadurch jetzt ermöglicht sein wird, uns grössere Transporte zuzuweisen.

Indem wir nochmals bemerken, dass wir sowol Avis- wie auch volle Rimesse stets vor dem Eintreffen der Passagiere hier haben müssen damit wir unsern Angestellten an der holländischen Grenze beauftragen können Ihre Passagiere durchzulassen, zeichnen wir in Erwartung baldiger Zuweisungen.

G. Schyns

The Hamburg American Line writes:

14735 "A short time ago there arrived in Hamburg steerage passengers of the Dominion and Allan Lines who were provided with properly drawn-up prepaid contracts calling for passage from Liverpool by these Lines and who were therefore duly forwarded. But, strange to say, in addition to these prepaids the passengers also held certificates of the firm of G. Schyns, Antwerp, termed 'Kajütsschiffsbillet' for the journey from Antwerp to Toronto. These certificates had been sent to them by Schyns from Antwerp with a letter which states that for the passengers a steamer-ticket calling for free conveyance from Antwerp to Toronto had ar-14736 rived and that, therefore, the passenger should immediately proceed to Vienna to Schyns' office, where he would receive 15 Roubles for a ticket to Antwerp.

"For your kind submission to the Lines we send you in the enclosure of these certificates of Schyns two photographic reproductions (14 copies of each) also two of Schyns' letters (one addressed to Leizer Goldmann with German translation, Allan Line prepaid 15677, and the other to Rose Walikoff, Dominion Line prepaid 139489).

Defendants' Exhibit 468 14737

"These documents are worth special attention in several respects.

"From them is evident that invitations to travel to holders of Dominion Line and Allan Line prepaids are forwarded by an Agent, disqualified by all the Continental and British Lines including the Dominion and Allan Lines.

"It is obvious that the certificate forwarded by Schyns to the passengers is intended by its superscription 'Kajütsschiffsbillet' to deceive and to create with the authorities, with whom the people come into contact on their way to the 14738 port of embarkation, the false impression that the holders of the certificates are not emigrants but cabin passengers.

"The certificates are issued for conveyance from Antwerp i. e. from a port via which, neither the Dominion nor the Allan Line, hold a license.

"In his circulars Schyns makes the assertion that passengers with his interim-contracts can pass all the controlstations without hinderance. However neither with certificates issued by Schyns nor with such calling for conveyance from Antwerp can passengers pass the controlstations. Schyns therefore knowingly disseminates untruths in the name of British Lines. 14739

"By this action the agent Schyns, disqualified by the Dominion and Allan Lines, puts these two Lines in danger of having the license, procured for them by the two German Lines, withdrawn by the German Government, so that then the Dominion and Allan Lines would be precluded from carrying Continental passengers lawfully from German ports.

"We therefore think that we are doing our friends the Dominion and Allan Lines a service if we hereby bring to their knowledge Schyns' unlawful behavior."

14740 Defendants' Exhibit 468

I herewith beg to enclose a photographic reproduction of the tickets as well as copies of letters addressed to the holders of said tickets by Mr. Schyns.

Uebersetzung aus dem russischen.

Antwerpen, den 20. Oktober 1910.

Frau Maria Bock
Nowograd-Wolynsk, Gouv. Wolyn.

Hiermit beehre ich mich, Ihnen eine Schiffskarte zu behändigen, welche für Sie aus Canada zugegangen ist und auf freie Fahrt von Antwerpen nach Toronto, Ontario lautet.

Von Antwerpen gehen die Dampfer jeden Donner- 14744 stag. Ich ersuche Sie, so schnell wie möglich die Reise anzutreten.

Von Ihrer Heimat wollen Sie sich direkt nach Wien (Oesterr.) begeben. In Wien wenden Sie sich bitte and diese adresse:

Oesterreichisches Central-Reisebureau G. Schyns, Navarragasse No.53, Wien, II.

Hier erhalten Sie für 15 Rubel eine Fahrkarte nach Antwerpen.

Unser Angestellter befindet sich stets auf dem Bahnhof in Wien; damit dieser aber Sie erkennen kann, wollen Sie an sichtbarer Stelle anliegende rote Adress- 14745 karte tragen.

Falls Sie grösseres Gepäck haben, so können Sie dieses 3 Wochen vor Ihrer Abreise an meine Adresse nach Antwerpen expedieren; das Gepäck ist von 2 Seiten mit Gepäckzetteln zu versehen.

Ihre Freunde, welche mit Ihnen zusammen nach Amerika zu reisen beabsichtigen, können bei mir zu einem billigen Preise Schiffskarten lösen. Da aber unsere Dampfer früzeitig besetzt werden, so bitte ich die Personen, welche zu reisen gedenken, an meine Adresse eine Angabe von 10 Rub. absenden zu wollen.

14746 Defendants' Exhibit 468

Ich werde alsdann für diese gute Plätze auf dem Dampfer belegen und Schiffskarten zusenden.

Wollen Sie mir gefälligst mitteilen, wann Sie die Reise nach Canada antreten werden.

Hochactungsvoll

P. Pon. G. SCHYNS (Gez.)

Appendix to G. No. 1698.

Translated from the Russian.

Antwerp, 20/10/'10.

14747 Mrs. Maria Bock,
Nowograd-Wolynsk, Gov. Wolyn.

I herewith take the liberty to transmit you a steamer ticket which has arrived here from Canada for you and which entitles you to a free passage from Antwerp to Toronto, Ontario.

The steamers sail from Antwerp every Thursday. I ask you to kindly start on your journey at your earliest convenience.

Proceed direct from your home direct to Vienna (Austria). When you have reached Vienna, kindly present yourself at the following address:

14748 G. Schyns' Austrian Central Travel Office,
53, Navarragasse, Vienna, II.

You will here receive a railway ticket to Antwerp for the sum of Rb. 15.—

Our employee is always at the railway station at Vienna; in order that he may know you, kindly carry the enclosed red address card so that it may be easily seen.

If you have large luggage, this can be sent on to my address at Antwerp three weeks before you leave home; the luggage must be provided with luggage labels on two sides.

Defendants' Exhibit 468 14749

Those of your friends who intend to go to America with you will be able to obtain steamer tickets from me at cheap rates. But as the berths on our steamers are quickly booked, I request those persons who intend to travel to send me a deposit of Rb. 10.—. I shall then secure good accommodation on the steamer for these persons and forward them their steamer tickets.

Would you be so kind as to inform me when you will begin your journey to Canada?

Respectfully,

We acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 18th inst. and will accordingly reduce the III Class east-14783 bound rate for SS "George Washington" from $40 to $38.

During the high season we would undoubtedly have always been able to fill the III Cabin on this steamer at the higher rate of $40 from here, but during the dull season it no doubt is advisable to reduce the price somewhat, in order to keep step with the Hamburg steamers.

CANADIAN NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY

Tenth Annual Report of the Directors

Submitted to the Shareholders of the Company at the Annual General Meeting Held at the Company's Offices in Toronto on Wednesday, the 23rd Day of October, 1912.

To the Shareholders:

14790 The result of the Company's operations for the fiscal year ended 30th June, 1912, are as follows:

Gross Earnings.
From Passenger Traffic	$ 3,434,140.81
From Freight Traffic	15,567,998.17
From Express, Mail, Telegraph, Dining and Sleeping Cars, Interest and profits from Elevators and other Subsidiary Companies and Investments	1,857,954.65
	$20,860,093.63

Defendants' Exhibit 18

14791

Working Expenses (including Taxes &c.),	$14,979,048.52
Net Earnings	$5,881,045.11
Deduct:
Fixed Charges (per statement, page 17)	4,630,844.12
Surplus	$1,250,200.99
From this Deduct Interest at 5% per annum paid on Income Charge Convertible Debenture Stock outstanding	674,804.11
Net Surplus for the year	$ 575,396.88

The Gross Earnings show an increase of $4,499,381.24 or 27.50 per cent, and in Net Earnings of $890,698.29, or 17.85 per cent, over the preceding year.

The Working Expenses were 73.82 per cent of the Gross Earnings of the Railway proper and 71.81 per cent, including Taxes, of the Gross Earnings from all sources, compared with 72.59 per cent and 69.50 per cent respectively last year.

During the year over 586 miles of newly constructed tracks were added to the System, the average mileage operated being 3,888 miles.

The classified table of freight carried again reflects a substantial development of the industrial and argricultural resources of the country served by your Railway. The statistics covering grain, including the figures representing flour shipments, show a total movement of over sixty million bushels, or approximately 32 per cent of the total inspected crop of Western Canada. This shows a notable advance over any previous year, and is a reliable indication of the productiveness of the territories your Directors have selected.

The Gross Earnings show an increase of $4,499,-381.24 or 27.50 per cent, and in Net Earnings of $890,698.29, or 17.85 per cent, over the preceding year.

The Working Expenses were 73.82 per cent of the Gross Earnings of the Railway proper and 71.81 per cent, including Taxes, of the Gross Earnings from all sources, compared with 72.59 per cent and 69.50 per cent respectively last year.

During the year over 586 miles of newly constructed tracks were added to the System, the average mileage operated being 3,888 miles.

The classified table of freight carried again reflects a substantial development of the industrial and argricultural resources of the country served by your Railway. The statistics covering grain, including the figures representing flour shipments, show a total movement of over sixty million bushels, or approximately 32 per cent of the total inspected crop of Western Canada. This shows a notable advance over any previous year, and is a reliable indication of the productiveness of the territories your Directors have selected.

14794 Defendants' Exhibit 18

An increase of 120 per cent in the total bulk of commercial coal carried is also remarkable, the figures being 804,803 tons moved this year, compared with 370,-161 tons for the previous twelve months. This increase is indicative of the growth of the coal mining industry in Western Canada, which, upon the completion of the extensions of your Railway now being constructed in the larger coal areas, will receive an even greater stimulus. There is also a further indication of the prosperous extension of the cities, towns and settlements along the lines of your Railway, as 14795 shown by the increase of 48 per cent over last year in the amount of building materials carried by your Railway during the year.

Land sales during the year were 55,111 acres for $836,084.37, an average of $15.17 per acre, compared with 279,151 acres for $3,345,498.73, an average of $12.00 per acre, the preceding year. The reduction in sales is substantial, but your Directors, recognizing that the value of productive acreages in Western Canada is assured, and being desirous of, as far as possible, selling to settlers only, have not pressed the sale of your Company's lands. On the other hand, they have adopted an aggressive policy of colonizing the free lands offered by the Dominion Government 14796 in territories adjacent to your Railway. Two million four hundred and seventy-nine thousand acres of these lands were entered upon by settlers during the year, of whom a largely increased number were a most desirable class of British emigrants.

The operation of the Royal Line of Steamships continues to vindicate the wisdom of engaging in the Atlantic trade. The increasing popularity of the route emphasizes the necessity for extending the service so that the Company may take the full benefit of the business controlled by its organization. The negotiations referred to in the previous Annual Report, having

Defendants' Exhibit 19a

14977

The plaintiff joined the purchasing combination established by the defendant and procured goods through the latter from various firms; the defendant had assumed towards these firms the del credere up to a certain amount (that is to say had guaranteed these firms payment by the plaintiff). As compensation the plaintiff had to pay a commission of three per cent to the purchasing combination. After the plaintiff had paid the credits allowed defendant, the latter dissolved his business connection with that combination and entered into direct relations with the said firms. This business connection was dissolved at the instigation of the defendant because the latter put the firms making the deliveries to the alternative of either continuing business with him or of not delivering to plaintiff.

The plaintiff claimed in the suit that the conduct of the defendant violated bonos mores, as defendant solely intended to damage him; that such purpose was realized by defendant because plaintiff had to look for other sources of supply and that he could only obtain credit from them gradually.

The Court says:

> "The appellant urged error (in the court appealed from), regarding the meaning of bonos mores; if the defendant, as the court appealed > 14979
> from correctly held, had a legal right to establish the firm of R. B. in Fr., then a further examination of his different business motives appeared irrelevant, and if the act of the defendant in itself did not violate bonos mores, then his act could not become unlawful by reason of his alleged represensible motive of conduct, viz: according to the opinion of the court appealed from, his controlling desire for revenge.

14980 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

"The appeal is justified. According to the facts found by the court below a conduct against bonos mores on the part of the defendant cannot be assumed. The court below does not overlook that the defendant pursued his own legal right, if after terminating the commercial relations with plaintiff he entered into connections with another firm in Fr. and received the latter into the purchasing combination, in order to make the same profit in the future as he had made through the former 14981 connections. * * * The successful exercise of individual commercial rights as a rule will be connected with damage to the competitors and knowledge of such injury alone cannot justify the assumption that the exercise of such right violates bonos mores. No objections, therefore, can be raised against the method employed by the defendant. It is true, according to the opinion of the court below, that the defendant in his procedure was also actuated by an immoral motive, namely by the intention arising from a sentiment of revenge to damage plaintiff, but such motive, however strongly it may have influenced the defendant, 14982 cannot turn the scale, in view of the exercise of a legal right. If an act is permissible and not illegal and if it is done in pursuance of a lawful right, then the act does not become a violation of bonos mores, if at the same time it is influenced by an immoral motive."

Defendants' Exhibit 19a 14983

Decision of June 7, 1910, by the Second Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of Earthenware Industry W. (Plaintiff) against Wurttemberg Business Agency for Roof Tiles (corporation with limited liability), (Defendant). Vol. 73, Imperial Court Decisions, pp. 429-434.

(Head-note)

1. Influence of the illegality of an arbitration provision in articles of association of a cartel organized in the form of an association with limited liability. 14984

2. Limits of the liability of a member of the cartel association; especially exclusion of the right to withdraw.

The Articles of the Association of January 25th, 1905, provided that the combination, through a corporation, shall have the sole sale of roofing materials, with the exception of certain articles, and also the right to manufacture the same alone within certain Wurttemberg districts, and that it shall buy the roofing materials from the associates on the basis of certain percentages. The purchasing prices and selling prices are to be fixed every year by the associates. However, the 14985 selling prices may be changed at any time by the directors. The associates are forbidden, under penalties, to themselves sell roofing material within the territory exempted. On this basis, the by-laws of the company contain detailed provisions in reference to the fixing of prices, the acquisition of property, the accounting between the members, the adjustment of surplus deliveries, regarding the refusal of delivery, times of delivery, etc.

In Article 63 of the articles of association it was provided that the directors or a commission delegated by them should, as an arbitration court, decide all controversies.

14986 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

The plaintiff brought suit against the defendant asking the Court to adjudge that certain obligations imposed in articles 39 to 63 of the articles of association became extinct by its notice of withdrawal.

The Court says:

> "Defendant's demand is based on the allegation that a cartel could not be organized as an association with limited liability; that the articles 39 to 63 should be adjudged void because 14987 their not being restricted in time was violative of bonos mores; * * * that the article 63, especially violates further the principle that a party could not be judge in its own matter; that if article 63 is void, then as a matter of course the entire articles of association are void according to article 139 of the Civil Code.
>
> "The invalidity of the arbitration provision and therefore of article 63 of the articles of association has been adjudicated in the Court below. * * * The arbitration provision of article 63 does not belong to the essential pro-14988 visions of the articles of association and therefore the latter are not affected by this article.
>
> "The Court below denies that the articles of association violate bonos mores; for an illegal restriction of the members could not be found in the articles; all single provisions are such as the purpose of the cartel necessarily carries with it. The restrictions to which the members had subjected their business are in correct proportion with the advantages derived from their combination. That no right of withdrawal is allowed to the associates is consonant with an

Defendants' Exhibit 19a.

Decision of June 25th (also referred to as of July 5th), 1890, by the First Civil Division of the German Imperial Court (Reichsgericht), in the Matter of M. S. M. (Plaintiffs) against M. and others (Defendants). Vol. 28 Imperial Court, Decisions, pp. 238-251.

(Head-note)

14856 Measures taken by a combination of traders for the purpose of excluding a person in the same trade from all association with the members of the combination until his submission to certain principles adopted for the doing of business, and of publicly designating him as excluded. Is a liability thereby created to make good the damage thereby caused?

One of the plaintiffs was a member of the combination, the German Booksellers' Association at Leipzig, until 1888. He resigned because he would not submit to the new by-laws. The new by-laws, adopted in the year 1888, made it compulsory upon each member to comply with the terms regarding rebates in sales adopted by the association, and prohibited the sale to members or non-members who did not comply with such conditions. After he had ceased to be a member of the association, the plaintiff began to allow a larger rebate to his customers than was admissible under the rules of the association. The association thereupon requested its members by circular to cease furnishing books to the plaintiff. The plaintiff was also included in a list published in the association's Journal, containing the names of booksellers put under a ban on similar grounds, and the members of the association were told that, in the event of their furnishing any books to the plaintiff, they would also be included in the black list. The suit for damages was dismissed by the two lower courts. The Imperial Court reversed the judgment of the lower courts and ordered a new trial.

14858

The Imperial Court admits that the purposes of the association of the book dealers regarding rebates are perfectly lawful, and not subject to any objections, and justified by the historical development of the book trade in Germany. It is a different thing, however, the Court says, to forbid the members generally to sell under any circumstances to plaintiff. If it was absolutely impossible for plaintiff to buy books, then plaintiff could not sell the same any more. Such conduct cannot be considered lawful.

14859

In regard to the legality of the purposes of the association, the Court says:

> "In the first place, it seems in point to deal with certain allegations made on behalf of the plaintiff according to which it would appear that the very object of the association, consisting in the imposition on all members of the trade of fixed rules as to the rebate to be allowed to customers, was in itself an unlawful interference with the free formation of prices to which the customers were entitled, as well as a restriction on the freedom of trade, and therefore constituted a violation of public order and was an act 'contra bonos mores,' and that the Association was in the nature of a 'ring.' In answer to these allegations it is necessary to point out that they might be relevant if there had been an association of persons, who, for their speculative purposes, had as their object 14861 the command of the market for a particular kind of goods and the hemming in of the free action of economic forces, which might operate against such purposes. But such combinations must be kept entirely apart from associations of persons in the same trade who, in good faith, co-operate for the purpose of preserving the vitality of such trade, by preventing the depreciation of the products of such trade, and the other disadvantages arising from mutual underbidding. It does not follow from the principle of the freedom of trade that the free play of economic forces is to be unassailable, to the 14862 extent of making it unlawful for traders to attempt any regulation of the operation of these forces by means of associated self-help, or to restrain each other from acts deemed to be harmful to the common cause."

Defendants' Exhibit 19a 14863

Decision of February 4, 1897, by the Sixth Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of B. (Defendant) at the suit of the Saxon Wood Pulp Manufacturers Syndicate (Plaintiff). Vol. 38 Imperial Court Decisions, pp. 155-162.

(Head-note)

Combination of trades people for the purpose of obtaining and preserving adequate prices for their trade production.

Are restrictions, to which the members submit by the by-laws of the combination in reference to the carrying on of their trade, valid, considering the principle of freedom of trade, and can penalties be recovered, by suit, which a member is alleged to have forfeited by transgressing the restrictions imposed by the by-laws on his trade? 14864

Are the members entitled by law to resign from the combination at any time, contrary to the provisions of the by-laws?

In March, 1893, a large number of traders organized the above named association for the purposes of "preventing in the future destructive competition of the manufacturers between themselves, and to obtain an adequate price for their manufactures." For such purpose the members, under penalty, agreed to sell their manufactures exclusively through a common selling agency. The association was to continue at least until October 31, 1895. 14865

The combination sued a member for the payment of the penalty alleged to have become due on account of the fact that the defendant sold his manufactures directly to other paper factories, instead of through the common selling agency. The defense of the invalidity of the agreement, as being contrary to the principle of freedom of trade, was overruled. The Court says:

"The association now suing, as is expressly stated in the articles of association and not denied by the parties, has been organized to prevent, in the future, destructive competition between the Saxon Wood Pulp Manufacturers and to make possible the obtaining of higher prices than could be obtained from unrestricted competition. Regarding the question whether a combination pursuing such objects violates 14867 the principle of freedom of trade expressed in the Trade Law, two points of view are to be considered: First, whether, by a combination of trade people for the purpose of maintaining certain minimum prices for their products, the intentions of the legislator, in so far as he desires to further the interests of the community by liberty of trade, are not militated against in an inadmissible manner; Second, whether by agreements of the kind in question, the individual freedom of a person is limited in a manner violating the intention of the legislator.

"The first question has repeatedly been an-14868 swered in the affirmative, especially outside of Germany (citing text-writers), but, on the other hand, the following must be considered.

"If in a given trade the prices of the manufactures are sinking too low, and if thereby the profitable carrying on of the trade is prevented or endangered, then the crisis thereby created is not only pernicious to the individual, but also to the economical status of the people in general, and it is therefore in the interests of the community that prices in a given trade shall not permanently be inadequately low. The legislatures accordingly have often, and also recently, attempted to increase the prices of certain productions by the introduction of protective tariffs. Therefore, it cannot be stated unqualifiedly and generally, that it is contrary to the interests of the community, if manufacturers in a particular trade combine in order to prevent underbidding and the sinking of the prices of their product, or to moderate the same. If prices in fact are continuously too low, so as to threaten the manufacturers with economical ruin, their combination is not only 14870 a justified exercise of their right of self-preservation, but also a measure serving the interests of the community, and therefore, from different quarters, the formation of syndicates and cartels of the kind in question have been referred to as a means, which, if properly applied, is especially suitable to be of benefit to the entire community, by preventing uneconomical and wasteful overproduction and the catastrophes resulting therefrom (citing text writers).

"In accordance therewith, it has been held repeatedly in the past by German and other courts that it does not violate the principle of 14871 freedom of trade, so far as the same is intended to protect the interests of the community against the self interest of the individual, if people in the same trade combine together to pursue, in good faith, the purpose of keeping a certain trade in a condition to live, by protecting their products against their becoming valueless, and the other disadvantages which result from underbidding by individuals (citing various decisions of state courts of appeal (Oberlandesgerichts), and the decision by the Imperial Court of June 25, 1890, vol. 28, p. 238).

"Agreements of the kind in question can, therefore, from the standpoint of the public interest protecting the freedom of trade, only be objected to, if in a given case objections arise on account of special circumstances, particularly if the agreement is evidently intended to create an actual monopoly and the extortionate exploitation of the consumers, or if such results will in fact be produced by the agreements and manipulations made.

14873 "As far as concerns the second of the questions raised above, the provision of the Trade Law, by which there is guaranteed to every individual the right to carry on his business at his pleasure, in so far as the laws do not specially prescribe or admit of exceptions and restrictions, cannot be interpreted to mean that the individual may not by contract subject himself to any restriction regarding the time, place or manner of the exercise of his trade. That this is not the meaning of Paragraph 1 of the Trade Law has been constantly held by the Imperial Court, by answering the question, whether 14874 agreements prohibiting competition can be legally entered into, in the affirmative, with the restriction that such agreements can only limit the freedom of trade of the individual but not destroy the same forever in all or certain directions.

"The restrictions to which in the case at bar the defendant submitted himself by joining in the agreement of March 22, 1893, are, neither regarding their extent nor regarding the time for which they were entered into, so far-reaching that according to the principles just developed, a restriction limiting the individual freedom of trade in an inadmissible manner could be spelt out therefrom."

The decision recognizes the legality of the syndicate.

Decision of April 11, 1901, by the Sixth Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of Bl. (Plaintiff) against D. A. Steamship Company (Defendant). Vol. 48 Imperial Court Decisions, pp. 114-129.

(Head-note)

Is article 826 applicable to the case where a steamship company in competition with other carriers imposes

14878 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

on a business firm interested in the under-price of the adversaries, as a means of compulsion, the exclusion from their general freight tariffs?

"The defendant in September, 1899, made an agreement with a competing group of sailing vessels, in reference to mutual competition in the freight business to Adelaide, Melbourne and Sydney from Hamburg, Bremen and Antwerp, whereby the minimum amount of the freight rates of both parties were fixed. The defendant thereupon extended its freight busi-14879 ness also to Brisbane.

"As an attempted agreement with the sailing vessels, by which they should entirely give up their freight business to Brisbane, could not be attained, the defendant, by letter of December 11, 1899, informed the plaintiff, who as a forwarding agent brought to the sailing ships important freights, that it was compelled to take measures to secure to itself the said business, including the measure that it would suspend for the firms interested in the Brisbane sailing business and who were adversaries of the defendant the effect of its freight tariffs 14880 for all ports, not only for Hamburg but also for Antwerp; that the defendant was willing to give the plaintiff an opportunity, before such measure was carried out, to confer with the defendant in reference thereto. In a letter of December 27, 1899, the defendant informed the plaintiff that from now on the effect of all its freight tariffs from and to all ports touched by defendant's ships had been suspended both for the Hamburg as well as the Antwerp firms of the plaintiff, directly and indirectly. The plaintiff replied on December 29, 1899, that it would try to bring about an agreement between the plaintiff and the sailing vessels, protesting at the same time against the measures threatened and made effective by the defendant. On January 8, 1900, the plaintiff informed the defendant that it had been instructed by the firm of Wm. Sp. & Co. in Capstadt to load certain goods from Antwerp to Capstadt and asked for communication of the respective freight rates. The defendant answered the same day that for the said goods, if they should be laden for Wm. Sp. & Co., it would charge the tariff rate and added: 14882

"We would however request Sp. & Co. in the future to use another agent and give notice that otherwise we would charge higher rates."

Thereupon the plaintiff on January 11, 1900, protested and requested the withdrawal of the threat made, otherwise it would bring suit for an injunction.

The Court says:

"In Germany, there is a legal compulsion to carry only for railroads (citing statute) but not for land frieght transportation generally and not for ocean freight commerce.

* * * * * 14883

"The standard of the meaning 'bonos mores' (see Article 138 of the Civil Code) must be taken by the judge from the controlling conception of the people, 'the ethical feeling of all fair and just thinking persons.' In this connection it is not precluded that regard be had to the moral view of a certain circle of the people, if in such view the dominant habits are expressed, for instance in the case at bar the conception of an honorable merchant in commercial intercourse. Herewith, however, is not to be con-

14884 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

fused a business practice actually resorted to in commercial intercourse which possibly cannot be considered as a sound habit but rather as a bad one. If therefore the court appealed from designates the measures in question as they are similarly applied every day in free competition, then thereby, not considering the actual correctness of the assumption, the applicability of section 826 of the Civil Code has not been decided. In trade and commerce, especially in the fight of competition, very often manipulations occur which for such reason by no 14885 means can be considered as decent. Especially must article 826 of the Civil Code now give protection against the abuse of the liberty of trade by gainseeking exploitation or by violence towards others.

"The decisive point in the conduct of the defendant lies in the withdrawal of the general freight tariffs as against the plaintiff. This act would be in itself not an unlawful one, as according to the above deductions a legal liability in this respect did not exist for the defendant under the laws in point.

* * * * *

14886 "A rule of compulsory carriage binds the carrier, who holds himself out to the public to carry on certain conditions, to apply the same measure to all interests assigned to him and denies to him the right arbitrarily or for unfair reasons to exclude the individual from the terms of transportation otherwise offered the public. A conduct of the latter kind, may however, where a compulsory duty does not exist, amount to an act against bonos mores. Likewise according to the conception of fairness and honesty in commerce prevailing with us, one will see, in the conduct of a carrier who excludes an individual—or a certain group of individuals—from the tariffs offered generally to the public, a violation against bonos mores, in case it is done for unfair competition.

"An unfair competition however would exist if in the case at bar the defendant, solely for the purpose of pushing aside or suppressing competition inconvenient to it, undertook by exceptional tariffs to injure the interests of the competition. * * * That the plaintiff by the exclusion from the benefit of the general tariffs and the charging of rates was injured in his business is in itself apparent."

The Imperial Court reversed the judgment appealed from and sent the case back for a new trial.

Decision of May 29, 1902, by the Sixth Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of K. and others (Plaintiffs) against the Enamel Works W. & E. (Defendant). Vol. 51 Imperial Court Decisions, pp. 369- 385.

14889

Does article 826 of the Civil Code apply, if in a strike the employer requests his fellow traders not to engage the striking workingmen named by him?

Action brought by workmen, who had been put on a "black list" by an employees' association.

The Court says:

"Measures such as stoppage of business or boycott, under certain circumstances, fall within Article 826 of the Civil Code, especially if therewith is connected a defamatory statement whereby somebody is characterized as personally unworthy of intercourse with a certain circle. The making of a so-called black-list whereby the employment of certain workingmen is advised against, does not necessarily and always contain such a defamatory statement. Above all, the application of Article 826 of the Civil Code to such measures will always depend upon the circumstances of the given case, upon the manner and kind of the influence over the freedom of will of the adversary and of the disadvantages inflicted upon 14891 him. An act which has for its purpose a result totally to undermine the commercial existence of the adversary in the battle for wages, permanently to make him breadless and tradeless, must be adjudged differently from a measure only intending to cut off temporarily the adversary, for the duration of the battle for wages, from his possibility of earnings in the given branch of trade, to compel him thereby to give in and to submit to the conditions exacted. A case of the latter and not of the first mentioned kind is presented here according to the findings of the court appealed from, according 14892 to which the defendant, in the first place, desired, by the measure in question and by way of coalition of the employers, to make the striking workmen more pliable to assume work with it; the defendant in the circular requests the other manufacturers to give to it their indirect support in the fight for wages opened against it by the workmen, by not receiving in their employ the workingmen designated by name, who "frivolously desert a good and safe living."

14890 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

Accordingly it was held that section 826 did not apply.

Defendants' Exhibit 19a 14893

Decision of November 6, 1902, by the Sixth Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of H. (Defendant) at the suit of E (Plaintiff). Vol. 53 Imperial Decisions, pp. 19-23.

(Head-note)

Combination of traders for the purpose of obtaining and maintaining adequate prices for their commercial services. Under what condition has an individual member the right to withdraw from the agreement contrary to its provisions.

14894

The parties, together with three others who like themselves carried on the business of loaning scaffolds, on June 27, 1899, entered into a contract whereby each bound himself to the others to charge his customers in an agreed manner a certain price for the loan of scaffolds and not lower prices. Violations, as the contract provided, should be made good by the violators in each individual case by a penalty of 1,000 Marks in favor of the other signers of the contract.

The defendant without doubt repeatedly charged his customers lower prices than provided in the contract. The plaintiff, on each account, asked his share of the penalties forfeited by the defendant. 14895

The Court says:

> "The appellant claimed that the contract was an agreement of association from which the single participant for good reasons could withdraw and that the repeated breach of contract by the others establishes such a justifying ground to withdraw. We cannot concur in such a view as the contract of the parties, viewed from the standpoint of the controlling common law does not fall entirely within the meaning of an association. Combinations of traders for the purpose of fixing minimum prices for the customers of the individual participants are not associations within the proper meaning of the word, though their legal character is kindred to them. * * * By a cartel agreement the maintenance of the price cannot be achieved if most of the participants do not live up to the contract. Everyone, who contrary to the contract closes at a lower price, puts those observing the contract in danger of losing their clientele. The danger increases in 14897 the measure in which the number of the violators of the contract increases. And the possibility of a suit to recover the proportionate payment of the contract penalties will not always make up for the threatening economical disadvantages. We must therefore proceed, in the default of the other provisions in the contract, with the assumption that in contracts of the kind in question the individual participant only intended to bind himself in so far and for so long as the obtaining of the desired purpose, from a reasonable interpretation of the facts, has not been rendered impossible by the other 14898 parties to the contract. In the case at bar, if defendant's allegations are true, the other three participants, that is to say the majority, did not live up to the contract and the plaintiff did not wish to overcome this by enforcing the penalty. Then the majority of the parties interested have frustrated the purpose of the association towards the defendant and therefore the defendant had the right on his part to declare his withdrawal.

Defendants' Exhibit 19a 14899

Decision of December 14, 1902, by the Sixth Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of the Artistic Union (Plaintiff) against the Exchange Association of German Booksellers (Defendant). Vol. 56 Imperial Decisions, pp. 271-287.

(Head-note)

Does Article 823 or Article 826 of the Civil Code apply, if a combination of traders imposes on persons in the same trade measures directed to inducing the latter to submit to certain rules adopted for the business, by excluding the person violating them 14900 from certain institutions and by refusal to make deliveries or by making it more difficult to obtain the products of the trade.

The defendant association was entered into for the purpose of preventing, in the interests of the German book trade, the allowance of excessive rebates, and imposed in its by-laws the duty upon its members to refrain from publicly offering rebates to the public; to keep, in its sales to the public, the shop prices established by the publishers, and not to sell books, against the directions of the publishers, to such book dealers and to the persons buying from them, who had 14901 been excluded by the management or the general meeting of members of the said association from using the institutions of the association. If a book dealer was found to have exceeded the permitted rate of rebate—called a "slasher" of prices (schleuderer)—or to have been assisting a "slasher," then the name of the dealer slashing the prices was communicated by circular letter to the members of the association and to those non-members who had signed the publishers' declaration. Under the by-laws of the association, the dealers so listed were not to be allowed any rebate or only a reduced rebate. The plaintiff was, by circular letter of May 20th, 1891, by virtue of a resolution of the management of the association, placed on the list of "slashers," and the name was carried on such list up to November 3rd, 1900 continuously. The plaintiff claimed that the measures taken by the defendant against him contained a sort of proscription in violation of the dictates of bonos mores, and sued for an injunction restraining the defendant.

The court says:

14903 "As regards in general the judging of the conduct manifested by the defendant in combatting the so-called slashing of prices, it is necessary, in order to determine what is permissible and what is not permissible, both from the standpoint of the present law and—so far as may be relevant—from that of the present moral conception, to look on the one hand to the purpose pursued by the defendant and on the other to the means chosen by him therefor.

* * * * *

14904 "There can be no doubt that the alleged purpose pursued by the defendant in combatting the so-called slashing of prices, in order to protect the book trade against the books becoming valueless and the other disadvantages resulting from the underbidding by individuals, and through such protection, to enable the smaller dealers also to live, is legally a perfectly permissible and in no way an immoral purpose. In itself it is neither violation of the public order nor of bonos mores, if the defendant seeks to attain in good faith the desired purpose by means of associated self-help; namely by imposing not only upon the members of the association, in the articles of association, certain obligations, but also by inducing persons in the same trade outside of the association to participate in the realization of its purposes. Such a combination of traders by way of association or agreement for the purpose of establishing and preserving adequate prices for their products and articles, even if it has the importance of a trade cartel, cannot therefore, in itself, be considered as legally objectionable or morally reprehensible (citing the decisions of February 4, 1897, by the present Division, Vol. 38 Imperial Court Decisions, p. 155, et seq.).

14906

"In this respect the conduct of the defendant Exchange Association has not been criticized in the decision of the Second Civil Division of this Court of October 24, 1902, in the Matter of M. & M. against S. & P. It can therefore only be relevant whether the defendant association, in the choice and application of its means of fighting outside of the combination of the trade associates who joined in and with the association, has exceeded the limit of the permissible and has unlawfully trespassed within the sphere of the rights of third parties —in the case at bar of the suing book dealer."

14907

* * * * *

In examining the means of fight used by the defendant against the so-called slashing of prices, the Court continues:

"In so far as the defendant denied to non-members the use of all institutions and advan-

14908 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

tages of the association, to which they had no right, because they would not comply with the stipulations regarding the rebates allowed to customers, and in so far as the defendant imposed on its members in its articles of association the obligation not to make deliveries of publications to such persons against the will of the publisher, its conduct cannot at all be objected to as far as the first proposition is concerned, and as to the second it cannot be objected to, standing alone. In itself, it cannot 14909 be denied to a tradesman or to a trade combination to impose on third parties special conditions for the entering into of business transactions or the maintenance of business relations and to refuse delivery of their products or articles, in case of non-compliance therewith. Even if a certain pressure upon the other to induce him to a certain business conduct may be exercised thereby, not every influencing of the free will of another is to be considered as unlawful or immoral. The conduct of the defendant would be morally reprehensible and unlawful according to article 826 of the Civil Code, however, if the measures applied by it, 14910 as to their character and intended effect, threatened the party affected thereby in his business existence, in so far as his commercial enterprise would be paralyzed or undermined thereby and his credit or reputation in the business world would be permanently injured. Such an interpretation the Imperial Court in its judgment of June 25th, 1890, has given to the manipulations by which the defendant has inflicted on the slashers of prices a complete stoppage of business.

* * * * * *

Defendants' Exhibit 19a

"An act if not unlawful by Article 823, would have to be found unlawful by Article 826 of the Civil Code if, in view of the compulsion, those who do not submit to the rebate rules of the defendant would, by reason thereof, be threatened with the severe material disadvantage of a complete stoppage of delivery and with the tying-up of the possibility to trade therewith connected. Such violence to the other people in the trade would conflict with good morals, with the 'ethical feeling of all fairly and just thinking people.' (Citing decision of April 11, 1901, by same Division, Vol. 48, p. 124, et seq.) 14911 14912

"Now the defendant did not apply against the plaintiff any measure of the kind above specified up to the present time. Without regarding defendant's exclusion from the supply of the Exchange publication and from the use of Exchange institutions and establishments, only the measure was imposed against the defendant that deliveries should not be made at all or only with reduced discount. This means of combat, whereby the publisher had the choice either not to make deliveries or to make them only with reduced discount, the First discount, the First Civil Division of the Imperial Court in the judgment previously cited—in contradistinction from stoppage of delivery —has held to be unobjectionable. 14913

"The appellant claims that even if one distinguishes between a complete stoppage of the supply and a mere obstruction of the supply of goods, still not every obstruction is permissible; on the contrary it depends upon the degree of obstruction, that is to say, on the amount of the reduction of the rebate. That in any event, such reduction of the rebate is unlawful which in fact has the same effect as a stoppage. * * * That the plaintiff has already been injured if brought into such dangerous position even if the result must not follow absolutely.

"We may concur with appellant that a measure, which though not in form but in its desired effect amounts to a complete stoppage of business would therefore have to be considered as not permissible, and that also in case a choice is left to the publishers to deliver either not at all or only at a reduced discount, it would likewise be unlawful if either the reduction in the discount in conformity with the intention of defendant would no longer leave to the retailer affected thereby any business profit or if the choice is not in fact felt to the free discretion of the publishers but, by virtue of the authoritative attitude of the Exchange Association not to deliver, had been fixed in advance. But the plaintiff has not proven that either the one or the other was the case, and the delivery at a reduced discount evidently, in the opinion of the defendant (who believed he should take more stringent measures), did not have the effect to so obstruct the carrying on of the business as to compel the "slasher" to submission."

* * * * *

"It is true that the defendant has very recently, as appears from its circular of December 2, 1900, attempted to obtain declarations from the publishers, wherein the publishers shall bind themselves not to make deliveries to the firms excluded from the use of the institutions and organizations of the Exchange

Defendants' Exhibit 19a 14917

Association, or only at the shop-prices. This new and more stringent measure the Appellate Court below would have considered unlawful because, as we have shown, the retail book-dealers, if receiving the books, at best, at shop prices, could not have sold at all any more with a profit, in other words, would have had to discontinue their business, and because the delivery of books only at shop-prices would amount to a total tying up of their business. We must concur in this view of the lower court; according to what we have stated, the damage caused 14918 by the said compulsory measure to those affected thereby would amount to conduct illegal pursuant to Article 826 of the Civil Code."

Decision of March 17, 1904, by the Sixth Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of St. (Plaintiff) against Iron Foundry Corporation, formerly K. & Th. (Defendant). Vol. 57 Imperial Court Decisions, pp. 418-432.

(Head-note)

14919

"Exclusion of a workingman by an association of employers. Liability of the one inducing the measure for the damage caused to the workingmen, if the exclusion pursuant to the measures taken by the association, renders it in a far-reaching manner more difficult to obtain work and, compared with the conduct of the workingmen, proves to be an unfair hardship."

14920 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

The Court says:

"Decisive is it therefore whether the measures taken by the Association against the plaintiff is an unlawful act, and this must be so held, dissenting from the opinions of the Courts below.

"The Association of Berlin Metal Manufacturers pursued, among others, the purpose to take care of the interests of its members in fights which arise between them and their workingmen over wages and terms of employ-14921 ment, and by united action to procure the victory of the employers (Articles of the Association, Article 1, Nos. 4 & 5). To the institutions destined as means of fight against the employees there belongs also the employment office, provided for in Article 1, No. 3, and Article 23 of the Articles of Association, and organized by special regulations. If in the first place such office may be for the purpose of facilitating the obtaining of a suitable working force for the members and the finding of opportunity of employment for the workingman, it shall also provide to the association the op-14922 portunity to exclude individual workingmen from all workshops belonging to the association, if the competent representation of the Association—the confidential commission—should consider it as within the interests of the employers represented by it. * * *

"The immediate effect of this institution extends, according to the statement of the witness N which was credited by the court below, over about nine-tenths of all establishments of the metal industry existing in Berlin and environs. Indirectly, however, according to the finding of the court appealed from, its effect is still more far-reaching. First, the denial or withdrawal of the certificate of identity has also the effect, that it is very difficult and often impossible for the workingman affected thereby to find employment from a factory in Berlin and environs not belonging to the association—the court appealed from mentions six—because they also, as testified to by N., take note of the association, and furthermore a workingman disciplined in such way by reason of the relations which the Berlin Association entertains with the general association of German Metal Manufacturers will not be accepted by an outside factory belonging to such association.

"The imposition of denial of work therefore has, during its continuation, consequences nearly amounting to a complete exclusion of the workingmen from occupation in a larger business of the metal industry, and therefore with good grounds the question may be asked whether an institution allowing to an association of employers such a prominent interference with the exercise of the working energy of another, and the enforcement of such power, are not to be regarded as violating the law.

* * * * *

"As the Imperial Court has already held repeatedly, in the battles of commercial competition and especially of the interest and class conflict between employers and employee in wholesale commercial industry, the observance of limits in the pursuance of purposes, justified in themselves, must be demanded in such manner that not only means of fight consisting of illegal acts but also such measures, causing injury to the adversary, as appear unfair and unjust according to the generally existing ethical views or under the given circumstances, must be considered as illegal.

14926 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

"According to what has been said, based upon the findings of the lower court in reference to the effect of a denial of work by the said association, the measure amounts to a very grave interference with the economical life of the person affected thereby; for it limits and obstructs in the most far-reaching manner the gaining by him of opportunity to work in a 14927 trade field which, regarding the numbers of the workingmen therein employed, stands in one of the first ranks; the transition to another commercial field, however, is also, as a rule, connected with great disadvantages for the workingman, who has not received special technical training. * * *

"Having regard to these facts, it must be considered as a compelling demand of justice and fairness for an association of employers, who enable themselves to give to their measures such a far-reaching effect as is the case with the association in question, that they will, at the utmost, only proceed with the exclusion of 14928 an individual workingman for a long period of time or without limitation of time, where very grave delinquencies in his working relation are in question and the same have been established by careful investigation."

Defendants' Exhibit 19a 14929

Decision of February 2, 1905, by the Sixth Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of Goldbeaters Association of Germany and others (Defendants) at the suit of H. & B. (Plaintiffs). Vol. 60 Imperial Court Decisions, pp. 94-106.

(Head-note)

Is it against bonos mores (Art. 826, Civil Code) if a large number of people in the same trade unite for the purpose of obtaining more advantageous conditions, if they, however, do not admit into the combination certain traders in the same trade, for the purpose of excluding their competition and thereby make it essentially harder for them to carry on their business? Can such an act against bonos mores be found in the fact that a trader or a combination of such, wilfully induces a union of workingmen not to take employment from another man in the same trade, in order to make impossible or obstruct the trade of the latter? 14930

In the year 1902 negotiations took place in Nurnberg and Schwabach looking towards the regulation of the production, as well as the fixing of certain minimum prices of the gold leaf business. At the same time they attempted to reach an agreement with the workingmen employed in such business, which should thereafter be enforced. The negotiations were successful in both directions. The combination of the manufacturers of gold leaf was organized, and a tariff of wages was entered into between the employers and the employees. In Sections 15 and 16 of the wage tariff, it was provided that the organized male and female employees of the gold leaf trade, could only be employed in the factories having adopted the tariff, and that the members of the combination should not 14931 this is done for the purpose to make impossible or obstruct the carrying on of the business of such employer and to do away thereby with his competition, then such conduct of the said traders violates not only the principles by which men of noble thought and fine ethical sentiment are guided in business life but it far exceeds what is considered permissible in commercial competition, in the general conscience of the people, and according to the ethical conception of all fair and just thinking men."

Decision of March 6, 1907, by the Imperial Court, Published in "Das Recht" (1907), p. 636. Translation from Report of English Royal Commission on Shipping Rings (1909), Vol II., pp. 218-9.

F. L. Sloman and Company v. Rob. M. Sloman, Jr., and others.

Judgment of the Court of the Empire, 6th March, 1907.

14940 Fritz Loesener Sloman, owner of the firm of F. L. Sloman and Company, was formerly a partner to the firm of Rob. M. Sloman, Jr. In leaving the latter firm he agreed, in order not to compete with the business of the defendant, not to run nor to charter nor to represent as agent any steam or sailing vessel between the Elbe and/or Antwerp and the ports within the continent or islands of Australia. This agreement was made on the 10th of March, 1904.

At the time when plaintiff was still a partner to the defendants' firm, they, together with the two other defendants, namely, the German-Australian Steamship Line, Hamburg, and the North German Lloyd Bremen, had agreed to grant a rebate upon the freight of 10 per cent payable six months after the close of every half-year, to those shippers who had shipped their goods from the Continent, between Hamburg and Havre, both ports included, to the aforesaid Australian ports exclusively in the ships of the defendants. Fritz Loesener Sloman, after leaving the firm of Rob. M. Sloman, Jr., established, under the style and name of F. L. Sloman and Company, in Hamburg a shipowner's and shipbroker's business, and opened in the beginning of 1905 a new sailing line between Bremen and Australia; of this he informed the shippers on the 19th January, 1905. The defendants, thereupon, wrote to their shippers that a rebate would no longer be granted to those who shipped their goods from the Continent, between Hamburg and Havre, to the Australian ports in sailing vessels not belonging to Rob. M. Sloman, Jr., plaintiff, thereupon, changed the port of sailing of his vessels from Hamburg to Tönning—a port not lying between Hamburg and Havre—in order thus to avoid any loss to his shippers upon the rebate for goods shipped in the defendant's vessels. Plaintiff gave notice hereof on the 2nd March, 1905. The defendants now altered their position and, through notice issued in the course of March, refused to grant a rebate to shippers who shipped goods in other vessels than those belonging to the defendants from ports lying between Memel and Havre. 14942 14943

Plaintiff contends that this alteration in their system of granting rebates was introduced by defendants for the sole purpose of disabling the plaintiff to run his sailing vessels from Tönning to Australia and thus to compete with the defendants, that this interference with his (the plaintiff's) business was, in virtue of Civil Code, ss. 823 and 826, illegal, and, as showing the intention to exclude any and all competition, also against public policy; that, therefore, the defendants should be forbidden by an order of the Court to make the granting of a freight rebate dependent upon the fact of the shippers not having shipped any goods in other than the defendants' vessels at any port lying between Memel and Hamburg.

Defendants objected on the ground that their action, although it interfered with plaintiff's business, did not altogether prevent the plaintiff from continuing the same. The reasons adduced in a former judgment of the Court of the Empire (Volume 56, page 271 fg) for invalidating an action as being 14945 against public policy did, therefore, not apply, because plaintiff was not prevented from doing his business altogether. As long as plaintiff was partner to Rob. M. Sloman, Jr., he never objected to the rebate system, the benefit of which he then enjoyed. The system of granting rebates had been introduced merely for the purpose of protecting one's self against irregular competition and of keeping rates of freight steady. It was a well-known fact that shipping customers throughout the world were rewarded by a granting of rebates upon the freight due from them. The action of the defendants had not been directed solely against plaintiff, who, indeed, by running the new line, 14946 made himself guilty of breach of contract and of an unfair competition, but against any other competitors as well. Plaintiff did not suffer any damage, as was shown by a circular issued by him on the 2nd June, 1905, in which he boasted of the excellent business done by the new line. It was not the defendant who interfered with the plaintiff, but the plaintiff who interfered with the business of the defendant by running the new line with the sole purpose of being bought up by the defendant.

Defendant No. 1 (Rob. M. Sloman, Jr.), lodged a counterclaim to the effect that by an order of the

Defendants' Exhibit 19a 14947

Court plaintiff should be forbidden to send ships from Tönning or any other port on the west coast of Schleswig-Holstein to Australia and to send for goods from Hamburg or ports between Hamburg and Havre or to pile up goods at Hamburg for the purpose of these goods being carried to Tönning and there to be shipped in the vessels as aforesaid—also that plaintiff should pay on account of damages the sum of £5,300.

In support of this counterclaim the defendant relied upon the agreement of 10th March, 1904, referred to above, according to which, if rightly understood, plaintiff was checked in competing with the 14[illegible] defendant's firm. If section 2 of this agreement only mentioned the Elbe and/or Antwerp, this was due to the fact that the ships of the two other defendants called at these places—it was meant, however, to cover the whole sphere of action or all three defendants between Hamburg and Antwerp. Plaintiff knew that Rob. M. Sloman, Jr., carried on a regular trade via Antwerp, Rotterdam, and Bremen; and precisely in consideration for not entering into competition with this firm, £5,000 in cash and 10 yearly payments of £2,500 cash were granted to him in the said agreement. Even if it was meant to exclude only the ports on the Elbe and Antwerp, plaintiff had broken the agreement not only by choosing Bremen, but far more 14910 by choosing Tönning to be the port of shipment. It was not so much the port from which the ship sailed, but the places where the goods were brought together in order to be shipped to Australia, which were meant to be covered by the agreement. The goods were actually ordered to Hamburg, where they were stored at the Export and Lagerhaus Company, this company forwarding the goods by special steamer to Tönning. And, indeed, plaintiff himself advertised as taking goods for trans-shipment at Hamburg. This, however, was tantamount to carrying goods straight away from Hamburg. Plaintiff had twice already broken the agreement as was shown by the award of a Court of Arbitration settled in the month of August, 1905. Plaintiff, through his illegal proceedings, had forced the defendant to lower the rates of freight to a considerable extent, and had caused a great reduction in the amount of goods shipped by the defendant. If plaintiff had not entered into this illegal competition, defendant would have been able to run five more sailing vessels and to earn £5,300 more on account of freight, because, without the ac-14951 tion of the plaintiff, the rates of freight would not have suffered any change since the time at which plaintiff left the firm of the defendant.

14950 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

Plaintiff replied: Owing to the system of granting rebates, such high rates of freight were obtained that German shippers could no longer compete with foreign shippers who had to pay much less. The agreement made between the defendants aimed at keeping up the rates of freight due for carrying goods in sailing vessels. Plaintiff, on the other hand, tried to ameliorate the position of this trade and, for this purpose selected Tönning as port of shipment, as this port was so favorably situated that, in spite of the additional freight for carrying the goods to this port, 14952 plaintiff was able to carry on a profitable business by charging less freight than the defendant. Plaintiff never thought of compelling the defendant to come to terms with him, his sole aim being to promote the sailing vessel trade. On the other hand, the measures taken by the defendant had no reasonable cause in the relations existing between him and his shippers, but were meant solely as a blow dealt against the plaintiff.

As regards the counterclaim of the defendant, the term "from the Elbe and/or Antwerp," contained in Section 2 of the agreement between plaintiff and defendant, was sufficiently clear so as to give no plausible reason for extending the meaning thereof beyond what it actually said; this was clearly shown by the wording of sub-sections a, b and c of Section 2.

Plaintiff would never have given his consent to being wholly excluded from the Australian trade. There was no breach of contract in the fact of plaintiff ordering goods to be sent to Hamburg, there to be warehoused and thence to be carried to Tönning. The differences settled by arbitration and referred to in the pleadings of the defendant, showed no bad faith on the part of the plaintiff. Plaintiff refused to acknowledge any damage having been caused to the defendant by his dealings. 14954

Defendant replied: That the agreement entered into between him and the two other defendants was in no way meant to be a measure for doing harm to or even suppressing the sailing vessel trade to Australia.

The claim of the plaintiff and the counterclaim of the defendant were both rejected by judgment of the High Court of Appeal, confirming the judgment below. Both parties appealed to the Court of the Empire—this appeal, however, was dismissed for the following reasons: 14955

Plaintiff founds his claim on Civil Code, section 826. This section rules that whoever, through an action which is contra bonos mores (against public policy), and intentionally causes damage to arise, has to pay for it. The dealings of the defendant cannot, however, be said to be of such a kind. In plaintiff's opinion, the defendant unlawfully interferes with his business by granting a rebate of 10 per cent on the ordinary freight only upon condition that a shipper has, within a certain time, not shipped any goods from ports lying between Memel and Havre to the

Australian ports in any ship not belonging to or not authorized by the defendants, and that this fact had been notified to the defendant by sending him a schedule to be filled out for this purpose. This opinion is wrong. For, apart from the fact that the range of shipping ports was afterwards extended, the system of granting rebates had already been introduced at the time when plaintiff was still a member of the firm of the defendant, and plaintiff himself had, at that time, reaped the benefit of it. By granting a rebate the defendants wished to reward shippers for constantly em-
14957 ploying the defendant's ships and for the undertaking to ship their goods exclusively—for a certain period—either in steamers belonging to the German-Australian Steamship Line or to the North German Lloyd or with the sailing vessels belonging to or authorized by the defendant. Every shipowner is at liberty to fix the rates of freight, at which he undertakes to carry goods, at his pleasure; he is perfectly free to lower the rates of freight below the amount fixed by competing lines; he may also grant any favour he likes to shippers, who employ no other ships but these belonging to him, thereby enabling him to count with a regular supply of goods and thus to ensure a steady business 14958 and to make the best advantage possible of his ships. It is only fair, if the defendant, by granting rebates, rewards the shippers for the services done to him in exclusively using for a certain length of time his ships for transporting their goods and thereby effectually furthering his business. It stands to reason, that such favours granted to customers of an old and well established business make it very difficult for a young business of a similar kind to compete with the older one, the more so, the greater the favour is, the older business is able to confer upon its customers. But this does not lead to establish the illegality of a measure which, indeed, is necessary in order to procure customers and to ensure a regular supply of goods, without which no business can prosperously be carried on. There is, moreover, no provision in the law which could be adduced as sanctioning the opinion of the plaintiff, that such measures were contra bonos mores (against public policy), and, therefore, gave rise to an action for damages. Plaintiff refers in his pleadings, in support of his view, to a judgment of the Court of the Empire delivered on 11th April, 1901.

The facts of this case, however, were quite different from those of the present one. In the case referred to, measures had been taken by a shipowner in order to compel a shipper, who shipped his goods with a competing line, to submit to the conditions imposed by the former; the shipper had even been warned that, unless he yielded to the pressure brought to bear upon him, he would be charged a higher rate of freight than the one at which the owner had advertised that he would carry on his business. In the present case, however, there is no question of a measure taken in order to impose upon the plaintiff a certain line of conduct and to carry on his business to his own free will and pleasure. The notice, of which the plaintiff complains, has been addressed to all shippers, without any distinction, and offers them, without in the least compelling them to accept the offer, certain advantages, if they for a certain length of time would forego their right of choosing in every case the cheapest route, and would ship their goods exclusively in ships belonging to the defendant. This notice, addressed to the shippers of the defendant, in no way affects a right or a title belonging to the plaintiff.

Another argument of the plaintiff is to the effect that, through the aforesaid measures, the defendant intends monopolizing the trade between German ports and Australia and that, as a matter of fact, he already does so, that the agreement made between the several defendants purports to keep up the rates of freight for sailing vessels in order to gradually diminish the sailing trade, a measure hostile to the interests of the whole nation. Even, if this were so, and the measures taken by the defendant would actually lead to a reduction in the trade of sailing vessels, no provision in the law could be found preventing the defendant from granting rebates to his shippers in the manner he did. This last point is the only one in question, viz: is the defendant allowed or is he forbidden to grant a rebate to his shippers? And, if plaintiff now 14963 alleges that the defendant has monopolized the German-Australian trade, this is at variance with plaintiff's own words, as shown in a notice he sent to his shippers shortly before going into Court. In this notice, dated June, 1905, plaintiff declares that the new line he established between Tönning and Australia prospered so well as to enable him to send three more first-class sailing vessels out before the 15th of August; that the lively and effectual assistance given to him by the shippers ensured a steady and prosperous business, and that he had reason to hope that shippers would gradually become aware of the fact how much more sailing vessels were to be preferred to steamships 14964 on account of the great difference in freight. And, also, in the course of the proceedings when urged by the defendant that his new line did not yield any profit but had merely been entablished in fraudem contractus, plaintiff had repeatedly asserted that, although he had to content himself with a smaller profit as compared with the defendant he, nevertheless, did a good business, because there was, on account of the lower rates of freight, such a supply of goods that the extra freight for carrying them to Tönning did not enter into consideration. It appears from these statements, made by the plaintiff himself that, at least for the present moment, there is no question of the defendant having monopolized the German-Australian trade.

Defendants' Exhibit 19a

For the foregoing reasons the claim of the plaintiff must be dismissed.

As regards the counterclaim of the defendant, the Courts below were right in holding that clause (2) of the agreement of 10th March, 1904, does not suffer of an extensive interpretation. Defendant, when entering upon this agreement, was well aware of the fact that the plaintiff was going to establish a line in competition with the one of the defendant. Precisely in view of this fact, defendant imposed certain restrictions upon the plaintiff with reference to the latter's sphere of action. These restrictions, as contained in clause 2 of the said agreement, are to the effect that plaintiff shall neither own nor charter nor represent as agent any steamer or sailing vessel carrying goods from the Elbe and/or Antwerp to the continent or islands of Australia. If two experienced merchants enter into such an agreement they are expected to know what they write and to exactly state what they want. It would, therefore, be wrong to interpret the agreement beyond the actual meaning of the terms the parties chose to employ. Hence it follows that plaintiff did not commit a breach of contract by establishing a shipping port at Tönning at the mouth of the Eider. For these reasons the counterclaim of the defendant appears to be unfounded and must be dismissed accordingly.

Decision of January 2, 1909, by the First Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of the Iron Smelting Works Th. (Plaintiff) against Selling Agency of the United Enamel Works (corporation with limited liability) and others (Defendants), Vol. 70, Imperial Court Decisions, pp. 165-170.

(Head-note)

14969 Can the members of a selling syndicate, if a certain kind of business becomes more profitable than other business, during the existence of the syndicate, demand that they participate therein in accordance with their percentage in the syndicate?

Certain manufacturers made a syndicate agreement, for the purpose of regulating the sale, and to prevent over-production, having a common selling office in Berlin, the selling office having been incorporated. The members waived the right to sell their own manufactured articles, and the selling corporation acted in its own name, and ordered the goods from the members. Each member received a certain share in the entire production. One of the members, the plaintiff, brings suit for Mk. 25,000, claiming that its interests were in-14970 jured as far as deliveries to countries outside of Germany are concerned. Originally the foreign and inland sales were equally profitable. Later on the sales to foreign countries became more profitable. It is claimed that therefore the defendant, the selling corporation, was obliged to divide the more profitable transactions equally among the members.

The Court says:

> "As in every cartel, the parties to the contract of April 7, 1900, remained independent as far as their manufacturing is concerned. As compensation for their deliveries, they received a purchase price and not a share in the profits. Nevertheless, they were united in a community of interest also by allotment of the prices and production. The influence on the market conditions achieved thereby was a common advantage for all members for which they undertook to restrict their free competition. It is consonant with the character of every community of interest that the advantages gained will inure to the benefit of the individual associate in the proportion of his interest in the community 14972 (see also article 743, Subd. 1 of the Civil Code). The larger the amount of the percentages of a cartel member is, the greater benefit he will derive as a matter of principle, from the combination. If therefore, in a selling syndicate, higher prices are introduced for a certain class of business, it follows from the nature of the thing that the individual members are entitled to participate in proportion to their percentages.

"Provisions of the agreement in the case at bar, which could exclude or modify the above inferences which are presented, are not apparent. Pursuant to Section 21 of the syndicate 14973 agreement the defendant (Purchasing Agency) was allowed to establish under-prices for certain manufactures if it considered it necessary for the fighting of the competition; for the loss which the member making the delivery thereby suffered, the latter should be compensated by the others in proportion to their percentages."

The Imperial Court dissented from the decision of the lower courts.

Decision of February 16, 1909, by the Seventh Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of the Prussian Treasury (Defendant), at the suit of the Mine M. St. (Plaintiff), Vol. 70, Imperial Decisions, pp. 283-8.

In this decision, the Imperial Court also recognized the validity of the Rheinisch-Westphalen Coal Syndicate, as a matter of course. The decision involves a question of taxation, in case of the sale of a coal mine. According to Article I, subdivision 1, of the syndicate agreement, the members sold their entire produc-14975 tion of coal, coke and briquets to the syndicate, with certain exceptions, the syndicate in turn binding itself to receive and to sell the same on terms stipulated. The sale of coal fields and mines to non-members was subject to the approval of the meeting of the mine owners, which approval had to be given in case of assurance of performance of duties by the new member.

(Head-note)

Solicitation (by A) to the suppliers (B) of a merchant (C) not to deliver to him (C) any more, under threat (by A) of breaking off his business relations (with B). Is a transaction, permissible in itself and performed in the exercise of a lawful right, violative of bonos mores, if it is influenced also by an immoral motive.

Defendants' Exhibit 19a

14977

The plaintiff joined the purchasing combination established by the defendant and procured goods through the latter from various firms; the defendant had assumed towards these firms the del credere up to a certain amount (that is to say had guaranteed these firms payment by the plaintiff). As compensation the plaintiff had to pay a commission of three per cent to the purchasing combination. After the plaintiff had paid the credits allowed defendant, the latter dissolved his business connection with that combination and entered into direct relations with the said firms. This business connection was dissolved at the instigation of the defendant because the latter put the firms making the deliveries to the alternative of either continuing business with him or of not delivering to plaintiff.

14978

The plaintiff claimed in the suit that the conduct of the defendant violated bonos mores, as defendant solely intended to damage him; that such purpose was realized by defendant because plaintiff had to look for other sources of supply and that he could only obtain credit from them gradually.

The Court says:

> "The appellant urged error (in the court appealed from), regarding the meaning of bonos mores; if the defendant, as the court appealed from correctly held, had a legal right to establish the firm of R. B. in Fr., then a further examination of his different business motives appeared irrelevant, and if the act of the defendant in itself did not violate bonos mores, then his act could not become unlawful by reason of his alleged represensible motive of conduct, viz: according to the opinion of the court appealed from, his controlling desire for revenge.

14980 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

"The appeal is justified. According to the facts found by the court below a conduct against bonos mores on the part of the defendant cannot be assumed. The court below does not overlook that the defendant pursued his own legal right, if after terminating the commercial relations with plaintiff he entered into connections with another firm in Fr. and received the latter into the purchasing combination, in order to make the same profit in the future as he had made through the former connections. * * * The successful exer-

14981 cise of individual commercial rights as a rule will be connected with damage to the competitors and knowledge of such injury alone cannot justify the assumption that the exercise of such right violates bonos mores. No objections, therefore, can be raised against the method employed by the defendant. It is true, according to the opinion of the court below, that the defendant in his procedure was also actuated by an immoral motive, namely by the intention arising from a sentiment of revenge to damage plaintiff, but such motive, however strongly it may have influenced the defendant,

14982 cannot turn the scale, in view of the exercise of a legal right. If an act is permissible and not illegal and if it is done in pursuance of a lawful right, then the act does not become a violation of bonos mores, if at the same time it is influenced by an immoral motive."

Defendants' Exhibit 19a 14983

Decision of June 7, 1910, by the Second Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of Earthenware Industry W. (Plaintiff) against Wurttemberg Business Agency for Roof Tiles (corporation with limited liability), (Defendant). Vol. 73, Imperial Court Decisions, pp. 429-434.

(Head-note)

1. Influence of the illegality of an arbitration provision in articles of association of a cartel organized in the form of an association with limited liability. 14984

2. Limits of the liability of a member of the cartel association; especially exclusion of the right to withdraw.

The Articles of the Association of January 25th, 1905, provided that the combination, through a corporation, shall have the sole sale of roofing materials, with the exception of certain articles, and also the right to manufacture the same alone within certain Wurttemberg districts, and that it shall buy the roofing materials from the associates on the basis of certain percentages. The purchasing prices and selling prices are to be fixed every year by the associates. However, the 14985 selling prices may be changed at any time by the directors. The associates are forbidden, under penalties, to themselves sell roofing material within the territory exempted. On this basis, the by-laws of the company contain detailed provisions in reference to the fixing of prices, the acquisition of property, the accounting between the members, the adjustment of surplus deliveries, regarding the refusal of delivery, times of delivery, etc.

In Article 63 of the articles of association it was provided that the directors or a commission delegated by them should, as an arbitration court, decide all controversies.

14986 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

The plaintiff brought suit against the defendant asking the Court to adjudge that certain obligations imposed in articles 39 to 63 of the articles of association became extinct by its notice of withdrawal.

The Court says:

> "Defendant's demand is based on the allegation that a cartel could not be organized as an association with limited liability; that the articles 39 to 63 should be adjudged void because
>
> "The invalidity of the arbitration provision and therefore of article 63 of the articles of association has been adjudicated in the Court below. * * * The arbitration provision of article 63 does not belong to the essential pro-> 14988 visions of the articles of association and therefore the latter are not affected by this article.
>
> "The Court below denies that the articles of association violate bonos mores; for an illegal restriction of the members could not be found in the articles; all single provisions are such as the purpose of the cartel necessarily carries with it. The restrictions to which the members had subjected their business are in correct proportion with the advantages derived from their combination. That no right of withdrawal is allowed to the associates is consonant with an association with limited liability and in itself is not sufficient to warrant the assumption of an excessive restriction of liberty.

"There is nothing before us of which the plaintiff could complain. The plaintiff found the cartel only inconvenient after it raised its production. We cannot hold that the Court below has violated any law."

Decision of April 13, 1912, by the Sixth Civil Division of the Imperial Court, in the Matter of B. (Plaintiff) against the Electrical Works E. (Defendant). Vol. 79, Imperial Court Decisions, pp. 224-230. 14990

Legal position of electrical overland stations. Unlawful interference with the trade of another.

The plaintiff carries on an establishment for the installation of electrical lines as well as the sale of the articles necessary thereto. The defendant carries on a central electrical station from which it delivers electricity for illumination for a number of communities surrounding its place of business. The plaintiff has entered into agreements with a restricted number 14991 of installation firms by the terms of which it gave to them "the sole right to make connections in houses, the delivery of motors and other current consumers, with all otherwise acquired appurtenance for installations which shall become connected with their wire system," for certain designated places, reserving to itself, however, the right to make installations itself in its own discretion.

With the wire system of the defendant also the villages N. and T. were connected. After several inhabitants of these villages had applied to the plaintiff

14992 Defendants' Exhibit 19a

for making the connection and for making of the delivery therefor required, he asked the defendant on June 17, 1910, for its conditions of connection but received the answer that the defendant only would operate plants that were built for the installators concessioned by it. The plaintiff claims that such business conduct by the defendant will lead to a complete elimination of free competition and to an actual monopoly by the defendant as to the installation and apparatus; that such interference with this business was in violation of article 10 of the Trade Law and in violation 14993 of bonos mores.

The complaint and the appeal were dismissed.

The Court says:

> "According to the established rulings of the Sixth Division of this Court, an illegal interference with the business of another can only be assumed if the act is directly aimed against the existence of the business, if its conduct actually is impeded or its legal existence denied and if its closing or restriction is demanded; not, however, if the act of another only disadvantageously influences the income of the business (citing decision of the Imperial Court in 14994 Civil Matters, Vol. 77, page 217, et seq.) * * * The defendant does not prevent the plaintiff from undertaking installation work in the buildings whose owners desire connection with defendant's lighting system, nor from delivering to them the necessary materials. Defendant's acts have only the result, by denying delivery of electrical current to such persons, that they do not entrust the plaintiff with the installation work and the delivery of the material. This is not an immediate interference with the trade of the plaintiff but only an unfavorable influence on the income of his business. From the standpoint of the Trade Law, it is absolutely in the discretion of the defendant to whom and under what conditions it will deliver an electrical current produced by it, as it is generally in the discretion of any trader whether he will enter into purchase or other contracts and with whom and under what conditions.

* * * * *

"If * * * the defendant in a way exercises an actual monopoly regarding the delivery 14996 of electrical current, and if the traders doing the business of electrical installations and the delivery of apparatus and motors are essentially injured in their commercial activities by the business methods of defendant, then from the standpoint of the present trade legislation no remedy can be had in law.

* * * * *

"It is true that, considering the actual monpoly of the defendant regarding the delivery of electrical current and the great economical importance of electricity also for the individual, it would be an abuse of the liberty of trade violating bonos mores if the defendant should 14997 impose upon the consumers unfair and unreasonable conditions. The Courts below have correctly found that this is not the case. The consumers of the electrical current have as a rule no interest in the person of the electrical installator if they are only well served and for adequate prices. But the defendant has an essential interest to have the work of wiring done in a good and reliable manner, as defective work would interfere with its own business."

Claims of the several associates arising out of Syndicate Agreement. Secs. 718, following, Civil Code do not apply.

By a Syndicate Agreement of February 22, 1906, the parties have agreed with each other not to undertake certain work in building streets in Berlin and its 14999 suburbs, under penalty of Mk. 5 for each square meter, at a cheaper price than provided in a contract made with the City of Berlin. According to the allegations of the defendant, the plaintiff violated this agreement by doing certain work in Schoneberg at a lower price, and thereby he forfeited a penalty of at least Mk. 40,000. The defendants interposed a counterclaim each asking for the payment of his share. The plaintiff prayed to have it adjudged that the defendants are not authorized to demand the penalty, and that each individual associate to the agreement is not authorized to make any demand under the contract. The plaintiff's demand was dismissed, and the counterclaim was allowed. The appeal is rejected.

15000 The Court held:

By the agreement a syndicate was established with the main purpose that the participants shall not work below certain prices. A common organization and common property did not exist; also the penalties were not to go into the common funds, but should be divided among the different participants of the syndicate. That the agreement does not establish an association, though, as far as its objects are concerned, they are similar to the objects of an association. Therefore, the provisions regarding the funds of an Association, Secs. 718 following of the Civil Code, are not applicable. The participants were already, during the existence of the relationship created by the agreement, each individually entitled to ask his share in the penalty from the party violating the agreement.

 15001

Provisions in The German Unfair Competition Law of June 7, 1909, amending the law of May 27, 1896. (Imperial Laws, 1909, p. 499.)

Sect. 1. Whoever does any acts, in business relations for the purposes of competition, that violate bonos mores can be enjoined and is liable for damages.

Sect. 3. Whoever, in public announcements or in notifications designed for a larger circle of persons, makes incorrect statements in reference to business relations, especially the quality, the origin, the method of production or the computation of prices of goods or trade services, in reference to the manner of obtaining and the source of obtaining the goods, in reference to the possession of marks of distinction, in reference to the reason or the purpose of the sale or in reference 15003 to the quantity of goods in stock, can be enjoined from making them, if they are apt to create the appearance of a particularly favorable offer.

Sect. 4 provides that if the statements mentioned in section 3 are made with the intent to create the appearance of an especially favorable offer, and such statements are knowingly untrue and apt to mislead, then the party making them will be punished by imprisonment not exceeding one year or with a fine not exceeding 5,000 marks, or both. If such statements are made by an employee or attorney, then the owner or manager of the business, if the act was done with his knowledge, is punishable with the employee or attorney.

Sect. 12. Whoever, in business relations for the purpose of competition, shall make, promise or give presents or other advantages to an employee or other representative of a business for the purpose of obtaining a benefit for himself or another, through the unfair conduct of such employee or representative, shall be 15005 punished with imprisonment not exceeding one year or with a fine not exceeding 5,000 marks, or both.

The employee or representative of the business shall be punished likewise. The advantage received shall be forfeited to the State.

Sect. 14. Whoever, for the purposes of competition, makes or publishes statements regarding the business of another, the person of the owner or manager of the business, the goods or commercial services of another, shall be liable to make good the damage caused thereby, if such statements injure the business or credit of the owner and if such statements cannot be proven 15006 to be true. The person injured can also enjoin the making and publication of such facts.

Sect. 15. If the statements referred to in section 14 are known to be untrue to the party making the same and are made for the purpose of damaging the business, then the party making the same shall be punished not exceeding one year or by a fine not exceeding 5,000 marks, or both.

Section 17 prohibits and punishes the publication of business and trade secrets.

SUPPLEMENT O.

REGULATIONS FOR THROUGH TRAVEL.

1. Control of Travellers in Transit.

In the interests of security and peace to the Prussian State, both from police and hygienic viewpoints, it has been found necessary to issue certain rules and regulations for controlling the through journeying of the lower class of foreign emigrants. 15009

This necessity arose chiefly from the fact, that the great majority of Non-German emigrants travelling through Prussia, came from countries where the sanitary police organization was defective, and furthermore because of the fact, that most of such emigrants were bound for North America, where severe laws with relation to the financial status and health of immigrants were especially likely to result in their re-15010 jection and return, thus eventually burdening Prussian charitable institutions.

The legal aspects governing the issuance of the rules and regulations in question, are as follows:

International law recognizes the principle, that, in the interest of maintaining its own security and peace, every state has the right to forbid aliens to enter upon its territory. (See von Liszt's "International Law" —3rd edition, 1904, page 199.) This principle has always been upheld by Prussian legislation and administration. (See Rönne's "Constitutional Law"—1884, Vol. IIII, Article 284.) It finds specific legal

Although the empire has not curtailed the functions of the police forces of the component states, according to Article IIII of the Constitution of the Empire, the police for the supervision of foreigners is really placed under the control and legislation of the Empire. The "Friezügigheitsgesetz," (the law, granting to citizens of German states freedom to move to and live in any 15012 other state of the Empire) of November 1st, 1867, in particular has regulated the authority of the several states to expel persons so far as German subjects are concerned. For Non-Germans, however, the supervisory police regulations have remained, as they existed heretofore. Furthermore, the Passport Law of October 12th, 1867, and the Emigration Law of June 9th, 1897, do not interfere with these powers. Finally the Law of the Empire concerning epidemics, of June 30th, 1900, in Articles 11 and 24, for the express purpose of preventing the entrance and spread of diseases dangerous to the common welfare, explicitly determines the power of the police authorities to prohibit or to restrict the admission into, or the travelling through, their territory of Non-Germans, coming from countries in which such diseases exist; this however does not in any way curtail the functions and powers of the separate states pertaining to this matter. No treaty or agreement of the empire having been made with any foreign state which contains such curtailment, the Prussian Government to this day has the right, power and authority to prohibit the admission into its territory of any Non-German whatsoever. This right of exclusion naturally and obviously in- 15014 cludes the right, power and authority to make the admission of foreigners conditional upon compliance with certain demands, rules and regulations. These stipulations governing border traffic on the Prusso-Russian boundary line differ somewhat from those controlling such traffic on the Prusso-Austrian frontier.

I. Prusso-Russian Frontier Traffic.

1. Former Status.

A. Traffic to North America.

15015

Transit traffic of emigrants coming from Russia, and desirous of crossing Prussia on their way to North America, was heretofore subject to regulations (see edict of the Minister of the Interior of October 8th, 1893) as follows:

In order to obtain permission to cross the frontier, through travelers must possess:

a) A proper legal passport;

b) A cabin ticket to North America, and

15016 Defendants' Exhibit 20

c) Sufficient money; viz: for normal persons in good health, over 10 years of age, 400 marks; for such, under 10 years, 100 Marks.

Exemption from the provision regarding possession of the necessary funds, was extended only to such emigrants who could produce a cabin ticket for passage to North America, issued by a German steamship company, as well as a railroad ticket to the port of embarkation, or a guarantee issued by the German Central Committee for Russian Jews, that the person would be forwarded to North America without delay in 15017 Germany, and that, in case of their being returned from North America, they would be sent back to their homes. If the above stipulations were not complied with, transit through Prussian state territory was permitted (Edict of September 18th, 1894), only in case the emigrant passed through a control station. The establishment of such control stations as would serve the purposes of the sanitary, charity and peace police, was pledged by the two great German steamship companies, the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American Line. These companies, furthermore, jointly had guaranteed the payment of all expenses arising to the state, the several communities, or the 15018 charity organizations on account of transportation, maintenance, treatment and possible burial of transit travellers who had been admitted to control stations, either on their way to or on their return from North America, the latter, in the event of rejection and deportation.

At these control stations, through travellers must be registered and medically examined, their luggage and effects must be disinfected and the sick isolated. Forwarding to the port of embarkation must, if possible, be made in complete groups or bodies, either by special emigrant trains or special emigrant cars attached to other trains. The forwarding is the business of the German steamship companies and should as a rule be effected via Ruhleben. Thus far, control stations have been established at Bajohren, Tilsit, Eydtkuhnen, Insterburg, Prostken, Illowò, Ottlotschin, Posen, Ostrowo and Ruhleben.

The cost of the erection and maintenance of these stations will be borne jointly by the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American Line. Nevertheless, all of these stations are under strict state supervision, and therefore are endowed with the character of state police institutions.

The functions of the agents of the German steamship companies employed at the control stations have their legal basis in the Emigration Law. This stipulates compulsory agencies, viz: the licensed emigration contractor in the conduct of his enterprise, is compelled to employ agents outside of the commonwealth or town of his industrial establishment, and outside of the boundary lines of the commonwealths or towns of his possible branches (Emigration Law, Article 8).

According to Article 11 of that law, all persons, who desire professionally to take part in the business conduct of an emigration enterprise by the preparation, mediation or closing of the transportation contract (agents) require a license. This licensing is a function of the state, the permit will be issued by the upper branch of the Administration (Emigration Law, Article 12). The permit granted the agent may at any time be curtailed or withdrawn and must be withdrawn under certain conditions, namely in the event that the agent is found unreliable in the executions of his functions (Emigration Law, Article 18).

The edict of the Imperial Advisory Board of March 14th, 1898, contains additional specific rules and regulations for the guidance of the business conduct of agents throughout the empire. This edict stipulates the details of the transportation contract to be entered into with the emigrant. Supplementing this, Prussia has issued the following orders for the supervision of agents:

15022 Defendants' Exhibit 20

Agents at the control stations are instructed not to sell tickets to Russian emigrants, unless they previously have been properly examined, disinfected, and passed at the control stations.

At the frontier crossings connected with the control stations (railway stations) agents are employed for the purpose of designating those arriving emigrants, 15023 whose further transportation will be assumed by the steamship lines. (Decree of the Prussian Government to the steamship companies of September 18th, 1894.)

Only judicious, prudent and tactful persons with a command of languages are to be employed as such agents. (Decree of the Ministry of the Interior to the Administrative Presidents of Governmental Districts, of March 14th, 1903.)

No official authority is vested in these agents, and any attempt on their part to assume such, must promptly and decisively be stopped by the police representatives. On the other hand, all efforts of the agents to comply with the regulations, are to be aided 15024 in every possible way, and the police authorities must take efficient action whenever emigrants attempt to avoid the fulfillment of these rules and regulations.

In addition to the preceding, there are in effect a number of rules and regulations for the purpose of preventing misunderstanding and inconvenience in the treatment of emigrants in transit. For this reason there should be employed as border police none but judicious, prudent and tactful officials, possessing so far as possible sufficient knowledge of languages to enable them to consult with these travellers. (Decree of the Minister of the Interior, of March 14th, 1903.)

The same decree orders that complaints to the police made by emigrants in transit, concerning their treatment at the control stations, be reported immediately, if necessary by telegraph, to the superior authorities, who then must investigate the facts for themselves and render their decision in accordance with the result of their investigation. All complaints must be recorded in the journals, kept for the registration of through emigrants.

Emigrants in transit, who have succeeded in crossing the frontier, without complying with the preceeding stipulations, by decree of the Minister of Public Works, of January 16th, 1896, and of the Ministry of the Interior, of January 16th, 1896, are permitted to continue their voyage only, if they are willing to purchase transportation to Ruhleben, there to pass that control station. In the event of refusal to comply with this, such travellers are to be returned to the Russian frontier, if necessary by force, in accordance with the Russo-German Agreement governing border traffic, of February 10th, 1894.

B. Traffic to England.

By joint decree of the Imperial Ministers of Education, of the Interior, of Commerce and of Public Works, of March 14th, 1903, the preceding rules and regulations were extended to cover also through traffic of Russian emigrants bound for England, modified only with respect to the amount of cash required by passengers at 100 Marks each for normal persons in good health over 10 years and at 50 Marks for those under 10 years of age.

15027

15028 Defendants' Exhibit 20

2. Present Status.

The rules and regulations governing the Prusso-Russian border traffic have recently been altered as follows:

Admission to Prussian state territory is to be granted only if the emigrant is provided with a proper legal passport, a passenger contract to a Non-German port of departure, issued by a steamship company licensed in Germany, a railroad ticket to the port of embarkation, and an amount of money, sufficient either to insure admission of the passenger to the country 15029 of his or her destination, or to pay for return passage to his or her home, in case of rejection there. This amount has been fixed at 400 Marks for each normal person in good health, of 10 years and over, and at 100 Marks for those under 10 years.

Non-German emigrants not complying with these stipulations when crossing the Russo-Prussian frontier, are required to pass a control station, such as at present are in operation at Bajohren, Tilsit, Eydtkuhnen, Insterburg, Prostken, Illowo, Ottlotschin, Posen and Ostrowo.

The equipment and conduct of these control stations is regulated by special directions.

15030 The preceding stipulations becoming effective cancel all previous directions appertaining to Non-German emigrants in transit crossing the Russo-Prussian frontier conflicting therewith, irrespective as to whether or not such emigrants are to be transported by domestic or foreign steamship companies. (Joint edict of the Ministers of the Interior, of Commerce and Trade, of February 26th, 1905.) Therefore all emigrants who are provided with tickets of the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American Line, are also required to pass a control station, when not in possession of sufficient funds.

The former regulations have been extended and made more severe, inasmuch as they now apply not only to emigrants in transit, for England, the United States of North America and Canada as heretofore, but to all such crossing the seas, and they require the proof of possession of 400 respectively, 100 Marks on the part of those, bound for England also.

The new rules are less severe for emigrants coming from Russia than the old, because they do not require the possession of a cabin ticket, in addition to passport, railroad ticket and cash; and allow emigrants to proceed without passing a control station, if able to show any passenger contract of any steamship company, licensed in Germany; a steerage ticket being deemed sufficient if the other requirements are complied with.

15032

In this connection the former privileged position of the German Central Committee for Russian Jews has been eliminated, there being no longer any reason for such privilege, this committee having ceased its activities long ago.

II. Prusso-Austrian Frontier Traffic.

For the regulation of the Non-German emigrant traffic across the Prusso-Austrian frontier, the minister of the Interior and of Commerce and Trade has, by edict of September 20th, 1904, decreed as follows:

15033

Admission to Prussian state territory is permissible only when emigrants in transit are provided with a passage contract entered into with a steamship company licensed in Germany, covering transportation to a Non-German port of landing, a railroad ticket to the port of embarkation and sufficient funds to guarantee their admission into the country of their destination, or to pay for their return journey home, in the event of their rejection there. As heretofore, the possession of 400 Marks is deemed necessary for all normal persons in good health over 10 years of age, and of 100 Marks for such persons under 10 years.

15034 Defendants' Exhibit 20

Non-German emigrants not complying with these stipulations are required to pass a registry station, such as are in operation at present at Myslowitz, Ratibor and Bingerbrück. The equipment and conduct of these registry stations is regulated by special directions.

Registry stations being governed by the same principles as those established in other German states, the passing of such stations shall be deemed sufficient for permitting travellers to cross Prussian territory.

These directions do not apply to Non-German emi-15035 grants crossing the Russo-Prussian frontier and passing control stations located thereon. So far as these are concerned, rules and regulations in force remain unchanged. These stipulations becoming effective cancel all previous directions appertaining to Non-German emigrants in transit, conflicting therewith, and apply to all such emigrants, irrespective as to whether such emigrants are to be transported by German or foreign steamship companies.

Hence the requirements to be complied with by Non-German emigrants in transit who desire unhampered to cross the Prusso-Austrian frontier, are practically identical with those, pertaining to such traffic in transit on the Prusso-Russian border, with 15036 the only difference that in the event of non-compliance therewith, a registry station must be passed on the one and a control station on the other. These registry stations also are being maintained jointly by the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American Line. They serve, as do the control stations, a charitable, sanitary and peace police purpose; only the sanitary police control is not as strict as at the control stations.

The obligations assumed by the German steamship lines, in the case of every emigrant registered at these stations, are identical with those assumed at the control stations. Non-German emigrants in transit who have evaded these registry stations in violation of these rules and regulations, are to be stopped and sent home, unless they, of their own free will shall proceed to one of the registry stations, now being conducted at Ratibor, Myslowitz and Bingerbrück, or to the control station at Ruhleben, near Berlin.

The attention of the respective authorities has been called to the fact that the agents employed by the steamship companies at the registry stations are not vested with official functions, and that any attempt on their part to assume such, must be promptly and decisively stopped by the police representatives. On the other hand, every possible assistance must be rendered to agents striving to conform with regulations, and whenever emigrants attempt to act contrary to these rules and regulations, energetic action must be taken to compel compliance therewith.

III. Austro-Saxon Frontier Traffic.

The Royal Government of Saxony has issued rules and regulations for the control of emigrant traffic in transit, crossing the Austro-Saxon frontier, which for all intents and purposes are identical to those governing Austro-Prussian frontier traffic. Registry stations have been established at Leipzig and two other points. Emigrants in transit having passed one of these stations, are allowed to travel through Prussian territory on their way to the port of embarkation without further formality.

IV. Austro-Bavarian Frontier Traffic.

Law and Official Gazette for the Kingdom of Bavaria, No. 56, Munich, November 15th, 1905.

No. 23458, Information regarding the combating of cholera, with respect to emigrants in transit.

15040 Defendants' Exhibit 20

Royal Ministry of the Interior and of Traffic Matters.

In view of the prevalence of cholera in Russia, it is decreed, with the cordial assent of the Chancellor of the Empire; based upon Article 24, Chapter 1, Number 3, Paragraphs 2 and 25 of the Law of June 30th, 1900, with respect to combating common dangerous contagious diseases, and of the orders for the execution of such measures, No. 1, Part 2, issued by the Imperial Advisory Council February 21st, 1904, that, until further notice, the following regulations shall be in effect:

1.

Emigrants in transit, coming from Russia, are permitted to cross the Bavarian frontier only by railway via Eger-Markt-Redwitz and Linz-Passau.

2.

At the railroad depots at Markt-Redwitz and Passau travellers coming from Russia are medically inspected, and all those afflicted with cholera, or suspected of being so afflicted, are isolated and quarantined. Emigrants in transit must obey the orders and follow the instructions given by the officials in charge and their subordinates.

15042

3.

Offences against numbers 1 and 2, unless subject to a more severe sentence under the Criminal Code of the Empire, are punishable by a fine of no more than 150 Marks, or imprisonment, as provided by part 46, section 3 of the Law regarding the combating of disease dangerous to the commonweal.

2. Instructions

For the equipment and the conduct of the emigrant registry stations in the Administrative District of Oppeln.

The arrangement and management of the emigrant registry stations at Ratibor and Myslowitz, established with the consent of the state by the German steamship companies, the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American Line, is governed by the following rules and regulations, and any special orders, that may be issued hereafter by the undersigned Administrative President. 15044

I.

Emigrants in transit, crossing the Austrian frontier in contravention of rules and regulations for the control of Non-German emigrants in transit over the Prussian frontier issued by the Minister of the Interior and the Minister of Commerce and Trade on September 20th, 1904, are to be taken by the police authorities to the registry stations at Myslowitz and Ratibor, the nearest station to be chosen in each instance.

II. 15045

The decision as to whether or not emigrants in transit taken to these stations by the police authorities, or applying there of their own accord, shall be forwarded further, lies with the representatives of the steamship lines, subject to the condition set forth under section 3. When such transportation is denied, the police authorities shall supervise the return of such rejected passengers across the border.

15046 Defendants' Exhibit 20

III.

The forwarding of emigrants in transit is permitted only if the physicians employed at the stations have ascertained, that there are no sanitary reasons against it.

The appointments of physicians to such stations must be approved of by the undersigned Administrative President.

IV.

15047 Acceptance of emigrants in transit for further transportation on the part of the authorized representatives of the steamship lines must be recorded in registers that must be kept in duplicate for each steamship line. One set of these records is intended for the use of the police of the community, wherein the station is located; the other is to be retained by the representatives of the steamship lines. The police are responsible for the correct entering upon these records of the names and data concerning emigrants in transit, and for the conformity of both sets of records.

V.

15048 Both sets of records are to be closed and signed daily by the representatives of the steamship lines, and then to be submitted to the police authorities, who, in turn, are required to examine and certify the entries of each day by affixing their signature and seal. In connection with the set of records held by the police, an alphabetical index must be provided, containing the family and proper names of the persons registered, together with the number of the page of the entry. This index must be kept up to date.

VI.

The representatives of the steamship lines are required to expedite the departure of emigrants in transit as soon as they have been registered, arranging however for such transportation in cars going through to the port of embarkation. Each emigrant in transit, upon being registered, is to be supplied with an identification card, similar to the sample attached, in order to avoid his being stopped and sent back while on his voyage through Prussian territory. This identification card is to be certified by stamp of the local police authorities.

15049

VII.

The steamship companies are required to provide suitable accommodation and shelter and maintain same in proper condition. They also must see to it, that emigrants consigned to their care who arrive aboard evening trains, do not remain outside of the accommodations provided for them. If such accommodations are not directly connected with the stations, the transportation of emigrants in transit to the place provided should be accomplished without delay.

VIII.

When transmitting to the police authorities the daily records duly signed by their authorized agents, the steamship companies undertake the obligation, that neither the Prussian state, a Prussian community, or a Prussian charity organization shall be put to any expense on account of the persons registered, neither for their transportation, their possible return transportation, their accommodation, maintenance, care or burial, and to indemnify such state, commonwealth or organization in the event of their being put to any such expense.

Oppeln, July 14th, 1904.

The Administrative President:

3. Agreement

Between the Imperial German and the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian Governments with respect to through traffic in each other's territory.

Conditional on reciprocity, the two governments have agreed by an exchange of notes of January 25th, 1905, that neither will undertake measures to prevent persons wishing to emigrate from their territory from travelling through the territory of the other state, 15053 provided such persons are entitled to emigrate according to general rules and regulations.

(Federal Laws of the North German Federation 1867, No. 5, p. 33.)

15054 (No. 8.) Law regarding Passes of Oct. 12, 1867.

We, Wilhelm, by the Grace of God, King of Prussia, etc. in the name of the North German Federation decree, after having obtained the consent of the Federal Council and the German Parliament (Reichstag), as follows:

Par. 1. No subject of the Confederation requires a pass to depart from Federal territory, to return to it, or for a stay or traveling within the same. But at their request passes or other pass papers shall be issued to them if there are no legal obstacles to their right to travel.

Defendants' Exhibit 20

15055

Par. 2. Nor shall a passage paper be required from foreigners, either when entering, or when departing over the frontier of the Federal Territory, nor during their stay or their travels within the same.

Par. 3. Federal subjects as also foreigners are however required, at official request, to submit sufficient identification in regard to their person.

Par. 4. Passes or other traveling papers, as well as other legitimation documents, which are issued by the proper officials of a Federal State, if they do not contain a specific restriction in this respect, are valid for the entire Federal territory.

15056

Par. 5. There is no obligation to submit the traveling papers for visée.

Par. 6. The following are authorized to issue passes to Federal subjects for entrance in Federal territory:

1). Federal ambassadors and Federal Consuls.

2). The ambassadors of every Federal State, but as far as subjects of other Federal States are concerned, only inasfar as the latter are not represented in their territory.

3). As far as they are still in existence (Art. 56 of the Federal Constitution) the Consuls of every Federal State, inasfar as they possess this authority in conformity with the provisions applying to that state.

Those officials are authorized to issue foreign passes and other traveling papers, who, in conformity with the provisions applying to the individual Federal States, possess this authority, or who are authorized in future by the Confederation or by the governments of the individual Federal States.

Par. 7. For passes and other traveling papers uniform blanks are to be introduced and used.

15058 Defendants' Exhibit 20

Par. 8. For passes and other traveling papers there shall not be levied a higher stamp tax and execution fee than at most one Thaler for both.

The ambassadors and consuls are authorized to issue passes stamp-free and without expense. The individual government have the right to decide in what other cases this is permissible.

Par. 9. If the safety of the Confederation or any one of its Federal States, or the public welfare appears endangered by war, internal disturbances or other events, the obligation to be in possession of a 15059 pass can be temporarily introduced by a decree of the Federal Council either entirely or for a certain district, or for trips from and to certain states of foreign countries.

Par. 10. This law will take effect January 1, 1868.

All regulations, opposed to this, become null and void.

This does not, however, affect the regulations in regard to compulsory passes and traveling routes, nor the control of persons newly arriving, nor of strangers (foreigners) at their stopping place.

However, for the latter purpose, certificates of permission to reside may neither be introduced nor con-15060 tinued, where they exist.

(No. 1278.) Decree relative to restrictions of imports from Russia, of January 29, 1879.

We, Wilhelm, by the Grace of God, German Emperor, King of Prussia, etc., decree in the Name of the Empire, after having obtained the consent of the Federal Council, as follows:

Par. 1. To prevent the danger of bringing in contagious diseases, the importation of the following articles is forbidden from Russia over the Imperial frontier until further notice:

15062

Used personal and bed wash, used dresses (cloths), rags of all kinds, paper waste, furs, leather, hides, skins, half-finished as also chamois-dressed kid leather and sheepskin, bladders, guts in fresh and in dried condition, salted guts (Saitlings) felt, hair (including the so-called zackel wool) Bristles, feathers, caviar, fish and Saretabalsam.

Par. 2. The inhibition contained in Par. 1 does not apply to wash, articles of apparel and other traveling utensils, which travelers take with them for use.

The Imperial Chancellor is authorized to decree to what extent and in what manner such articles are to be subject to disinfection.

15063

Par. 3. The importation of sheep wool, so far as this has not been forbidden by decrees of the government officials, is only permitted after previous disinfection.

If the sheep wool to be imported has been subjected to a factory wash, the disinfection shall be restricted to the packing.

Par. 4. This decree shall take effect on the day of its publication.

15065 (Nr. 1280.) Decree relative to the obligation to have pass of travelers coming from Russia. Of February 2, 1879.

We, Wilhelm, by the Grace of God German Emperor, King of Prussia, etc.

decree in the Name of the Law, based on Par. 9 of the Law relative to passes, of October 12, 1867 (Federal Law Journal, p. 33) as follows:

1. Beginning with the 10th of this month until further notice, every traveler coming from Russia must identify himself by pass, which has been viseed on the day of his departure from the Russian territory, by the German Embassy in St. Petersburg or by a 15066 German Consular official in Russia, or on either of the two preceding days.

Par. 2. To obtain this visée credible evidence must be produced that the holder of the pass did not stop in any place attacked by the pestilence or suspected of same within the last twenty days.

Par. 3. The pass shall be submitted to the frontier officials of this country for visée when entering via the Imperial frontier in order to obtain permission for the continuation of the trip.

Par. 4. The Imperial Chancellor is authorized to take the proper steps for the execution of this decree.

Nr. 1281. Publication regarding the admittance of Travelers from Russia over the Imperial frontier. Of. February 3, 1879.

Based on the authorization granted by me in Par. 4 of the decree of the 2nd inst. in regard to the coming from Russia (Imperial Law Journal, p. 9) obligation to possess pass on the part of travelers and in Par. 2, Art. 2 of the decree of the 29th ulto. relative to restrictions on the importations from Russia, (Imperial Law Journal No. 3), I hereby decree as follows:

15069

1. Travelers, coming from Russia, are only then to be adimtted over the Imperial frontier, if they identify themselves by passes, which are in entire conformity with the regulation of Par. 1 of the decree of the 2nd inst.

2. The traveling baggage of those travelers, who are in accordance herewith, to be admitted over the Imperial frontier, but who belong to a Russian Government, which has been attacked by pestilence, or is suspected of same, by domicile or ordinary stay, are to be subjected to disinfection when entering via the Imperial frontier and before they are permitted to continue their journey. Of the wearing apparel, which such travelers have on their persons, the upper garments at least must be disinfected.

3. The disinfection (2) must be done by means of gaseous, sulphurous acid in the manner that the articles to be disinfected are to be exposed for at least 6 continuous hours in a closed room to the direct influence of the sulphurous acid and that at least 15 gramm sulphur to the cubic meter air space shall be 15071 burnt for this purpose.

Convention.

His Majesty the Emperor of Germany, King of Prussia, in the name of the German Empire His Majesty the Emperor of Austria, King of Bohemia, etc., etc., and Apostolic, King of Hungary; His Majesty 15083 the King of the Belgians; the President of the French Republic; His Majesty the King of Italy; His Royal Highness the Grand Duke of Luxemburg; His Highness the Prince of Montenegro; Her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands and in her name Queen Regent of the Kingdom; His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias; the Swiss Federal Council,

Having decided to establish common measures to safeguard the public health in time of cholera epidemic, without occasioning useless obstacles to commercial transactions and to the movement of travellers, have named as Their Plenipotentiaries: [Here follows a list of same.]

15084 Who, having exchanged their powers found in good and due form, have agreed to the following provisions:

I.

In what concerns international prophylaxis applicable to travellers and to merchandise:

Shall be applied henceforth the measures indicated and specified in the Annex 1 of the present Convention.

II.

In what touches the sanitary regulation of the mouth of the Danube (Mouth of Soulina):

Are adopted the provisions recorded in the Annex II.

III.

The parts hereto annexed have the same value as if they were incorporated in the present Convention.

IV.

The present Convention shall have a duration of five years to begin from the date of the ratification. It shall be renewed five years at a time by tacit holding over, saving notice of withdrawal, within a period of six months before the expiration of this term, by one of the High Contracting Parties.

The notice of withdrawal shall produce its effect only in respect to the Country or Countries which shall have given notice of it. The Convention shall remain executory for the other States. The High Contracting Parties reserve to themselves equally the right to propose, by way of diplomatic negotiations, the modifications which they may judge necessary to be introduced in the Convention and its Annexes.

The present Convention shall be ratified; the ratifications thereof shall be deposited at Berlin as soon as possible and at the latest within the period of six months to date from the 15th of April, 1893.

In faith whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed it and have affixed their seals thereto.

Title V.

Measures to be taken at land frontiers. Service of the Railroads. Travellers.

The carriages affected in the transportation of travellers, mail and baggage cannot be retained at the frontiers.

If it happens that one of these carriages be contaminated, it shall be detatched from the train in order to be disinfected, whether at the frontier, or at the nearest station for stopping, when this shall be possible.

15092

It shall be the same for carriages with merchandise.

Only those sick with cholera and persons attacked with cholora—form symptoms can be detained.

It is important that travellers be subjected, with reference to their health, to an inspection on the part of the personnel of the railroads.

Medical intervention shall be limited to a visit of the travellers and to the care to be given to the sick.

If there is a medical visit, it shall be combined, as far as possible, with the custom-officer's visit, so that the travellers may be detained the least possible length of time.

When travellers coming from a contaminated place shall have arrived at destination, it shall be of the highest utility to subject them to an inspection of five days to be counted from the date of the departure.

The measures concerning the passage at the frontiers of the personnel of the railroads and mail are of the jurisdiction of the administrations interested. They shall be combined so as not to impede the regular service.

The Governments reserve to themselves the right to take particular measures in regard to certain classes of persons, especially towards:

PROTOCOL OF ADHESION.

(Great Britain ratified the convention, with certain exceptions, on July 13 at London, and July 15 at Berlin, 1894. In a foot note to this protocal (p. 367), it is stated the following countries had also then ratified the Convention: Germany, Austro-Hungary, Belgium, France, Great Britain and Ireland, Italy, Luxemburg, Russia and Switzerland. It appears from official proclamations (Bekanntmachungen), issued by the German Government from time to time and printed in the Imperial Laws, that the following countries subsequently ratified the Convention: Servia, and the Principality of the Liechtensteins, (a small state of Germany between the Tyrol and Switzerland) on February 15, 1895 (Imperial Laws 1895, p. 152); the British Colonies of Natal, Ceylon, Lagos, St. Helena and Canada on December 14, 1895, (id., 461); and Roumania on October 18, 1897 (id., 1897, p. 776). A new International Convention, covering the Plague, Cholera and Yellow Fever, was entered into by the various Governments on December 3, 1903.)

E. PASS and FOREIGN POLICE.

120) Circular to all Royal District Presidents and to all Royal Province Presidents of October 8th, 1893, in regard to emigration via Holland.

As I have been informed, quite a large number of of foreign emigrants have gathered recently in the government district of Osnabrueck, whose further trip to Holland ports has encountered difficulty for 15099 the reason that they are only allowed to pass the Dutch frontier if they already are in possession of the proper steamer ticket, which the majority of them, however, do not possess. The difficulties arising from this have been increased by the fact that those emigrants, that emanate partly from Russia via Memel, Eydtkuhnen or Stettin and partly from Galizia, are very often not provided with sufficient funds for this unexpected stay. For this reason I would again recall attention to the regulations governing the admission of foreign emigrants to Prussian ground, especially as they have been stipulated in the decrees of May 6th, last year, and March 17th and May 24th of the current year.

According to these regulations Russian emigrants shall be absolutely excluded from entering Prussian ground, if they cannot show a proper pass, a cabin ticket to America and as much cash as is required to assure their journey to America and their acceptance there in view of the so-called pauper law. For this, in the case of healthy and not weakly persons, if they are older than 10 years, the sum of M.400 for each one is required; for younger persons the sum of M.100 each. Only those Russian emigrants are 15101 exempted from proving that they are in possession of sufficient cash funds, who can either present the cabin ticket of a German steamship company for the voyage to America and complete railroad ticket for the journey to the steamship port, or give a guarantee of the German Central Committee for the Russian Jews in that city that they will be sent to America without expense or stay-over in Germany and, in case they should be rejected there, there they will be transported back to their mother country. On the other hand, the possession of a cabin ticket of a foreign steamship company does not suffice to replace the evidence of cash funds. Whoever is in possession of 15102 such a ticket must furthermore not only be in possession of a pass, but must also prove that he is in possession of the cash funds which are required to assure his further journey to America and his admittance there in conformity with the regulations of the Pauper Law.

These regulations apply to Galician emigrants with the exception that the possession of a pass and a cabin ticket as a preliminary condition to pass the frontier is not required. On the other hand, the Galician emigrants, if they desire to travel through Prussia must also be able to prove either that they have the necessary cash funds or the steamship ticket of a German steamship company for the journey to America, and railroad tickets to the steamship port, or the specific guarantee for their further transportation and permanent support on the part of the German Central Committee for Russian Jews.

Minister of the Interior.

Berlin, Sept. 18, 1894.
Received Sept. 28, 94. No. .....

Answered.

In reply to the representations made by the representatives of the North German Lloyd and the Ham-15107 burg American Packetfahrt A. G. of July 24th and August 17, 1893, of January 29th, March 28th, July 23rd and 24th, 1894, we hereby approve, referring to the conference held in the Ministry of the Interior on May 4th of this year, at which the Directors Marquardt-Bremen and Ballin-Hamburg were present, the erection of so-called "Control Stations" at the Russian frontier, with the right to recall at any time, on the following conditions for the purpose of regulating the transportation of emigrants passing through the country from Russia to Bremen and Hamburg:

1). Both steamship companies must establish the control stations as also subsequently perhaps, remove 15108 the same and shall stand all expenses which are incurred hereby as also for the maintenance and the operation of the stations.

Furthermore, both companies must guarantee under joint liability, the expenses which may be caused the State, the communities or the charity organizations:

a). By transporting the through-emigrants, admitted to the stations, regardless of whether the latter were actually received in the stations or not, and regardless of in what direction or for what reasons whatever the transportation is made.

b). By providing for, housing and taking care of (eventually also burying) these through-emigrants, regardless of whether these expenses were caused at the stations or anywhere else in Germany, whether they were caused on the journey to or back.

This obligation of both companies also remains in force toward the State, the communities and the charity organizations, should the through emigrants who are admitted to the control stations subsequently perhaps buy steamship tickets of other companies.

2). Control stations shall first be established in Bajohren, Eydtkuhnen, Prostken, Jllowo and Ottlotschin. 15110 Both steamship companies, however, bind themselves to establish and maintain other stations at any time upon request, at other frontier points, with corresponding equipments. On the other hand, the companies can be forbidden the further use of stations already established and be ordered to remove them. This can especially be demanded if the requirements stipulated in regard to the erection and management of the stations are not conformed with sufficiently.

3). The control stations are to be erected near to railroad stations, in accordance with the plans and description submitted on July 24th of this year.

The examination of the plans, in detail shall be 15111 left to the proper officials in accordance with the building, and sanitary-police regulations involved.

The erection as planned, however, is to be further complemented in the manner that every control station must have a corresponding room, in which sick people separated as to their sex, can be housed and nursed. The government police officials shall decide in what manner this requirement shall be complied with in each station.

Therefore, each station shall comprise four buildings, separated from one another:

15112 Defendants' Exhibit 20

a). A Barrack of about 30 meters length, 15 meter width and 4 1/2 meter height, comprising a waiting room for the arriving through-emigrants, separate disrobing,—bath—and dressing rooms for men and women, adequate rooms and apparatus for disinfection, furthermore doctors' and staff rooms, as well as finally, a waiting room for the through-emigrants who have been disinfected.

b). a barrack of suitable size, in which, separated as to sex, those suspected of being ill can be housed and treated.

15113 c). A suitable sick room for receiving men and women separately.

d.) A lavatory, as per regulations, complying with the needs.

A complementing or extending of the equipment arranged for must always be effected on demand.

Furthermore, the stations are to be isolated as much as possible, which, in accordance with the instructions of the government police officials, must be effected by erecting a fence or in any suitable manner.

I, the Minister of public works, have empowered the proper Royal Railroad Administration to give over to both steamship companies the ground required for the 15114 erection of the control stations; in regard to the private railroads involved, the Royal Railroad Commission has been provided with the proper instructions.

4. In every control station there must be employed by the steamship companies:

a). A Doctor, for whom a substitute must be held in readiness.

b). The necessary attendant and managing force.

The doctor must see to the sanitation of the station and is responsible for this. He must examine the through emigrants upon their arrival in the station and must instruct whether they are to be treated as in good health, suspected of being sick, or sick.

a). Those in good health (but only they), after they have passed the station and been subjected, together with their belongings, to the prescribed disinfection process, must be transported as quickly as possible to the embarkation port. When granting permission for continuance of the trip, humanitarian grounds are to be considered as well as the sanitary.

b). Those suspected of being sick are to be housed in that part of the station set aside for them and are there to be subjected to at least five days of observation before they, if their transfer to the Department for Sickness has not been found necessary, can be allowed to continue their journey, as in good health, to the ports, or be transported back over the Russian frontier. 15116

c). Sick people are to have suitable medical treatment in the room set aside for them, until they can be treated in the same manner as healthy emigrants and either their further journey be effected or their return transportation over the Russian frontier. In case of death, the companies must attend to the burial. 15117

The sicknesses in question are not only cholera, but also all other contagious diseases, as small pox, spotted typhus, diptheria, etc.

5. As the equipment and maintenance of the stations is exclusively at the expense of both steamship companies, only those emigrants can be admitted to the stations, who intend to travel with the ships of these companies. In order to facilitate the control, the companies agree as far as in their power to deliver their tickets to the emigrants even at the other side of the frontier. Furthermore, they agree to employ at every frontier pass belonging to the control stations (R. R. station) an official who shall designate emigrants arriving there, and whose further transportation is taken over by the companies.

As long as there are no special police considerations in individual cases, those emigrants from Russia, whose further transportation through Germany is attended to by the steamship companies in the manner mentioned, are allowed to pass the frontier, without their being required to comply with the demands, which otherwise remain in force unchanged (cabin ticket or possession of a certain sum of money and 15119 presentation of the pass), as in this case, the companies take the obligation of the emigrant.

The companies agree, however, to see to it as much as possible, that the through emigrants to be received at the control stations carry at least an identification paper of the simplest kind (birth or baptism certificate, frontier pass, pass or blue book), to give information in regard to their extraction and origin.

I, the Minister of the Interior, reserve the right to demand generally, in the future, the possession of such a paper as a preliminary condition for the admittance to such a control station.

15120 6. The transportation from the frontier to the control station of the through emigrants taken over by the officials of the companies must be effected in closed troups, avoiding all contact with the public, otherwise present, and must be attended to via the shortest route, under proper guard.

7. No emigrant who is admitted to the control stations may, undertake independently and according to his own judgment, the trip through Prussia to the embarkation ports, and this must be avoided by the companies through special measures. The further transportation is exclusively matter of the companies and must be done in closed troups (whether in special trains or in a special emigrant car, attached to a special train), in regard to which special arrangements must be made by the companies with the railroad administration.

During the railroad trip the through emigrants are to be kept strictly isolated from the rest of the public. They may, therefore, only be transported in a train, in a number for which sufficient public toilets are installed, intended only for emigrants.

The other through-emigrants are to be rejected and for the present remain in the station.

It is not required that an accompanying doctor be given the emigrant trains. On the other hand, the companies must see to it that at suitable stopping stations, always after a trip of about six hours, there is a physician at disposal, who can examine the condition of health and in case of sickness, make the necessary arrangements.

All through emigrants who are transported by railroad from the control stations to Bremen or Hamburg are to be sent via Ruhleben, where, during a suitable stop, they are to be subjected to medical examination and proper treatment (washing, disinfection).

8. The companies expressly assume the obligation, also to do all in their part that those through—emigrants from Russia, who have been rejected at the control stations or somewhere else after leaving it on their further trip, be transported back, not only over the frontier, but to their home, as soon as possible.

9. The control stations and everything else pertaining to its operation are subject to permanent police inspection. The companies are obliged to suffer the necessary measures to carry out this inspection, respectively to make it possible.

15124 Defendants' Exhibit 20

The companies, in case they do not comply with their obligations, are in danger of use being made of the reserved right to recall, and that the privileges allowed both companies at the frontier will be revoked.

The Royal Provincial Presidents of the Provinces of East and West Prussia have been entrusted with the instructions further necessary to carry out this decree, and will also determine on what day, after the completion of the necessary preparations, the individual control stations are to be put in operation and the regulations in regard thereto enter into force to their full extent.

Ministry of Public Works,

Berlin, January 13, 1896.

Referring to my decree of June 21, 1893, No. II/III 5344, in regard to through emigrants from Russia, who have crossed the frontier unlawfully and arrived in the interior, the regulations regarding them are stipulated as follows:

1. Emigrants from Russia, who are not in possession of a proper pass and of a cabin ticket for the ocean voyage and who wish to buy tickets at an interior station for another interior station or for a sea port, shall be refused them. They shall only receive a ticket for their return to Russia or to the next control station, or if they are bound toward a station westward of Schneidemuehl, ticket is to be issued to Ruhleben. 15128

If any doubt exists whether the travelers are emigrants from Russia, or if they refuse to buy a ticket to the aforesaid stations, they shall immediately be conducted to the nearest official of the general police administration, which latter shall decide. It is also left to the police administration to see to it that the emigrants actually take the trip to the control stations, in conformity with the tickets issued to them, or that they return to Russia. The officials of the railroad administration do not take any responsibility for this but they must render the police officials their full support in seeing to it that the emigrants are conducted to the control stations. 15129

2. The train, station and control personnel of the railroad administrations of the eastern lines shall be instructed to see to it in trains going west, carefully but without annoying not interested travelers, that these are not used by emigrants from Russia (even though in possession of proper tickets) who have passed the frontier unlawfully, i. e., who are neither in possession of a proper pass and a cabin ticket nor have passed through an emigrant control station, but who have nevertheless, without being recognized, bought a ticket at the ticket office, or who contrived to get one through a third person. Travelers, who under given circumstances, are suspected of such an attempt are to be reported to the station agent at the next station, who is to see to it that such travelers be brought before the police officials.

It is remarked in this connection that every emigrant, who has properly passed a control station, is to be provided with a certificate to this effect, so that the non-possession of such a certificate justifies the assumption of having slipped by the control station.

The R. R. officials are entitled to demand the presentation of this certificate. The police officials must 15131 then definitively determine whether it is a case of improper avoidance of the control station and take further steps.

The decree issued by the Minister of the Interior to the Provincial President in Koenigsberg, Stettin, Pottsdam and Posen of the 16th inst. is attached herewith in copy.

THE MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS, signed THIELEN.

Copy.

15132 Berlin, January 16, 1896.

Ministry of the Interior.

I respectfully beg to inform the Central Administration that other instructions in regard to the treatment of emigrants from Russia who have unlawfully passed the frontier and arrived in the interior, have been issued, in conformity with which such emigrants shall receive tickets to interior control stations lying east of Berlin, respectively to Ruhleben, or back to Russia. (See Translator's note below.) A premise for this is that all emigrants received at the control stations and accepted for over-sea transportation receive a certificate in regard to their admittance to one of the stations. As far as I know, this is already the case. Nevertheless, I do not wish to omit calling the attention of the Central Administration to it, so that any measures that may be further deemed advisable may be taken.

THE MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR,
signed. VON DER RECKE.

To the Central Administration
Emigrant-Control Stations, this city.

Trans. Note. This sentence in the German is not quite clear, as the word "ticket" transportation or a similar word seems to have been omitted. We believe we have given the correct interpretation. L.T. B."

IMPERIAL LAWS, 1897, pp. 463-472.

(No. 2393) Law concerning Emigration. Of June 9, 1897. 15135

We William, by grace of God, German Emperor, King of Prussia, &c., enact in the name of the Empire, upon the consent given by the Federal Council and the Reichstag, as follows:

I.—Grantees.

Sec. 1. He who desires to undertake the forwarding of emigrants to countries outside of Germany (grantee) must have a license.

15136 Defendants' Exhibit 20

Sec. 2. Giving and refusing this permission belongs to the Chancellor of the Empire, with the consent of the Federal Council.

Sec. 3. As a rule permission is only to be given to:

(a) Citizens of the German Empire who have their commercial establishment within the territory of the Empire.

(b) Mercantile companies and corporations who have their seat within the Empire; co-partnerships and commanditt companies and 15137 commanditt companies on shares, however, only if the individually liable associates are all German citizens.

Sec. 4. To foreign persons or corporations, as well as to citizens of the German Empire who have not their commercial establishment within the Empire of Germany, the license can only be given if:

(a) They appoint a citizen of the Empire, residing therein, as their attorney in fact, who shall lawfully represent them in the matters concerning the forwarding of emigrants, with Authorities or private persons.

15138 (b) If they subject themselves to the German Law and the German Courts in all legal controversies arising out of the acceptance and forwarding of the emigrants.

Sec. 5. Before permission is given, the applicant has to deposit securities for at least 50,000 marks, and if intending to undertake transoceanic forwarding business he must prove further that he is a shipowner.

Sec. 6. Permission is to be given only for particular countries, and portions of such, or particular places, and in case of transoceanic forwarding only for particular ports of embarkation.

Sec. 7. In case of granting a license to such German Companies whose object it is to procure settlers for lands acquired by them in transoceanic countries, the Chancellor of the Empire is not bound by the provisions of section 5; for particular reasons, however, exceptions from the provisions of Art. 5 may be made.

Sec. 8. Permission entitles the grantee to do business throughout the German Empire, with the following restrictions: Outside of the communality of his place of business and that of his branch office, he has —as far as concerns more than giving information to inquiries and the publication of conditions and forwarding opportunities—to avail himself of the assistance of agents as provided in section 11. 15140

Sec. 9. The grantee can have substitutes to transact his business. The appointment of such is necessary for the establishment of such offices. After the death of a grantee and in case of a guardianship or administration, the carrying on of the business can only be continued by the substitute for not more than six months. The appointment of a substitute has to be approved by the Chancellor of the Empire. 15141

Sec. 10. Though permission given to the grantees can, with the consent of the Federal Council, be restricted or revoked at any time by the Imperial Chancellor, the permission of the appointment of a substitute can be revoked by the Imperial Chancellor at any time.

15142 Defendants' Exhibit 20

II.—Agents.

Sec. 11. Whoever desires to assist in the manner described in section 1 by preparing and contracting the forwarding of emigrants (agent) requires permission therefor.

Sec. 12. This permission is given by the high administrative authority.

Sec. 13. Permission can only be granted to citizens of the Empire who reside or do business within the 15143 district of this high administrative authority (section 12). This permission cannot be granted even under compliance with the above requirements:

(a) If facts are known which prove the unreliability of the applicant with regard to business contemplated by him.

(b) If permission has already been granted (section 15) to a number of persons considered sufficient for the proportion of the district by the authorities thereof.

Sec. 14. Before permission is granted, the applicant has to give security for at least 1,500 marks.

15144 Sec. 15. Permission to do business in the district of the authority granting the same, if the same is not limited to a part thereof only, can be given; with the consent of this authority, the extension of the business into neighboring districts can be granted to the agent by the authorities of such districts.

Sec. 16. Agents can not transact business of the kind mentioned in section 11 for persons other than those mentioned in the instrument of permission, or for their own account.

Sec. 17. Agents cannot carry on business in branch offices by substitutes or in traveling about.

Sec. 18. Permission granted to agents can at any time be limited or revoked. Permission must be revoked:

(a) If the requirements of section 13 are not complied with.

(b) When facts exist which prove the unreliability of the agents in regard to his business transactions.

(c) If securities, in part or wholly, have been applied to cover claims, and are not replaced within four weeks after being called for.

Sec. 19. Complaint against the ordinances of the authorities based on sections 11, 15 and 18 can be entered at the supervising authority within two weeks.

III.—Ordinances for Grantees and their Agents.

Sec. 20. The securities deposited by grantees and their agents serve for all liabilities, fines, and costs arising from their business transactions with emigrants and with the authorities. 15147

Sec. 21. The Federal Council issues the necessary regulations about the management of the business of principals and agents, particularly:

(a) About the books and registers to be kept, statistics and other records, as well as the blank forms to be used.

(b) About the manner of giving security and the conditions which are to be entered in the bond concerning the liability and supplementing and restoring the securities.

15148 Defendants' Exhibit 20

IV.—General Provisions Regarding Forwarding Emigrants.

Sec. 22. The grantee is permitted to forward emigrants only on the basis of a previously executed written contract. The emigrants cannot be placed under obligation to pay or refund the whole or part of the passage money, or to refund or work out any advances made to them, after their arrival at their place of destination; neither can they be restricted in the selection of their occupations or places of residence in the foreign land.

15149

Sec. 23. The forwarding and making contracts to forward:

(a) Of persons owing military duty of the age beginning with 17 and ending with 25 years, before they have procured a certificate of discharge (section 14 of the law about acquiring and losing German citizenship of June 1, 1870) or a certificate of the commission for substitutes, showing that their military duty does not interfere with their emigration.

(b) Of persons whose arrest has been ordered by any court or police authority.

(c) Of German citizens for whom the passage money has been paid wholly or in part, or who have received advances from foreign governments or colonial societies or similar agents —are prohibited (Exceptions to this can be granted by the Imperial Chancellor).

Sec. 24. Emigrants who do not possess the necessary certificates mentioned in section 23, or who belong to the class of persons mentioned in b and c of the same section, may be prohibited from leaving the Empire by the police authorities. The police authorities in the seaports are authorized to prohibit the grantee from shipping persons whose forwarding is prohibited by this law.

V.—Special Regulations for Sea Transportation of Emigrants to other than European Countries.

Sec. 25. Contracts regarding sea transportation of emigrants must include transportation and board to and including the foreign port of landing. The same is to be extended to the transportation and boarding from the port of landing until the place of destination, as required by the granting of permission (section 1). If the emigrants take passage in a foreign shipping port (not German), or if a change of ships has to take place, these must be mentioned in the contract. 15152

Sec. 26. The sale to emigrants of passage tickets from a transoceanic place is forbidden. This prohibition does not apply, however, to contracts under which the grantee agrees also to forward the emigrants from transoceanic ports.

Sec. 27. The grantee is obliged to board and lodge the emigrants at the appointed place of forwarding or shipping without cost, if the delay of departure is not caused by the emigrant. 15153

Sec. 28. If the delay lasts longer than a week, the emigrant has the right to withdraw from the contract and to demand the restitution of his passage money.

Sec. 29. The restitution of the passage money can be demanded also if the emigrant or any member of his family accompany him should die before the beginning of the sea voyage, or if he can prove that by sickness or other circumstances beyond his control he is prevented from undertaking the sea voyage. The same refers to cases concerning the restitution of the corresponding part of the passage money where, according to section 26, the forwarding from a transoceanic port of landing is prevented. The return of one-half of the passage money can be demanded if the emigrant withdraws from the contract for other reasons before the voyage begins.

Sec. 30. Should the ship by accident or any other cause be prevented from continuing the voyage, or by such causes is delayed on the voyage, the contractor (section 1) is bound to furnish the emigrants sufficient 15155 lodging and board, and to forward them and their baggage to the place of destination as soon as possible. This ordinance applies also to the forwarding from the transoceanic port of landing (section 26).

Sec. 31. Agreements contrary to the conditions of sections 27-30 have no legal force.

Sec. 32. The grantee can be compelled to insure his obligation arising from the sections 27-30, in a sum exceeding by one-half the amount of the passage money, or to deposit an amount sufficient to cover this sum.

Sec. 33. Grantees are responsible for the seaworthi-15156 ness of the ships by which the emigrants are conveyed, as well as for their proper provisioning, as prescribed by law. These obligations also rest upon the captains of the ships.

Sec. 34. Every emigrant ship, before entering upon its voyage, is subject to inspection as to its seaworthiness, outfitting arrangement, and supplies of provisions. This examination is conducted by official inspectors appointed by the respective governments.

Sec. 35. Before the departure of the ships, the emigrants and ship's crew must be examined as to their health by a physician appointed by the emigration authorities (section 40).

Sec. 36. The Federal Council creates ordinances covering the condition, arrangement, outfit, and supplying with provisions of emigrant ships, and official inspection and control of the same, and the sanitary inspection of the passengers and crews before embarkation, the exclusion of sick people, the management of embarkation, and the protection of emigrants in regard to health and morality. The ordinances promulgated by the Federal Council are to be published in the law paper of the Empire, and to be submitted to the Reichstag at its next sitting. 15158

Sec. 37. As emigrant ships, in the sense of the law, are to be considered all vessels sailing to other than European ports and carrying—not considering the cabin passengers—at least twenty-five passengers.

VI.—Authorities of Emigration.

Sec. 38. For the assistance of the Imperial Chancellor in executing the duties and rights pertaining to his office in regard to emigration affairs, a council of competent persons, consisting of a president and at least fourteen members, is created. The president is 15159 appointed by the Emperor, and the members are elected by the Federal Council. Every two years a new election of members takes place. In general, the organization of the council is regulated by the Federal Council, and its actions by a self-made order of business.

Sec. 39. This council must be consulted before permission is granted for enterprises the object of which is the settlement of particular parts of transoceanic countries, as well as in limiting or revoking the license of a grantee. Besides this, the Imperial Chancellor may bring before this council, for consideration, proper and important questions about emigration, and motions can be brought by the council before the Imperial Chancellor.

Sec. 40. For the supervision of emigration and the proper execution of the ordinances thereof, emigration officials are to be appointed by the respective state governments in seaports where grantees have been licensed.

15161 Sec. 41. In the seaports, the Imperial Chancellor causes the supervision of emigration by commissioners appointed by himself. These commissioners are empowered to assist in the inspections provided for in Section 34; also, to undertake independent inspection of emigrant ships. They have to call the attention of the state governments to discovered defects and violations, and insist upon their being remedied. The captains of emigrant ships are compelled to give the commissioners, when asked for, a truthful statement about all the circumstances connected with the ship and the voyage, and to permit them at any time to enter the ship's rooms and examine the ship's papers. In foreign countries, the duties of the commissioners.
15162 for the protection of the German emigrants, are executed by the authorities of the Empire, to whom, if necessary, assistant commissioners can be attached.

VII.—Forwarding from Ports outside of Germany.

Sec. 42. By Imperial order, with the consent of the Federal Council, ordinances of the kind mentioned in section 36 can be issued for the regulation of forwarding emigrants and passengers in German vessels sailing from other than German ports.

VIII.—Fines.

Sec. 43. Grantees (§1) who violate the ordinances of sections 8, 22, 23, 25, 32 and 33 (see subdivsion 1) or the ordinances issued for the management of their business by the competent authorities, are liable to a fine of 150 to 6,000 marks or imprisonment up to six months. If the violations have been committed by a substitute (section 9) the latter is amenable to punishment; the grantee is likewise amenable with him if the violation has been committed with his knowledge, or if he has failed in the necessary care and supervision of his substitute as far as it was possible under the circumstances. The same fine is imposed upon ship captains who violate the obligatons imposed upon them by section 33, subdivision 2, and section 41, subdivision 3, or the ordinances issued under section 36, without distinction as to whether the violation has been committed in the inland or in foreign countries. 15164

Sec. 44. Agents (section 11) who violate the provisions of sections 15, 16, 17, 22 subdivision 2, and 25, or the ordinances issued for the management of their business by the competent authorities shall be punished with a fine of from 30 to 3,000 marks or with imprisonment up to three months. 15165

Sec. 45. Any one forwarding emigrants without permission under sections 1 and 11, or who makes it a business to assist therein shall be punished with imprisonment up to one year or with a fine up to 6,000 marks, or by either of these punishments. The same punishment shall be imposed upon those who make it a business to induce emigration.

Sec. 46. Whoever violates the provision of section 26, subdivision 1, shall be punished with a fine up to 150 marks or with imprisonment.

Sec. 47. Violating the ordinances issued under section 42 shall be punished with a fine of from 150 to 6,000 marks, or with imprisonment up to six months.

Sec. 48. Whoever induces a female to emigrate for the purpose of mercenary prostitution by evilly concealing this purpose, is subject to imprisonment in the state prison up to five years. Besides such imprisonment, the loss of civil honor and rights is to be decreed, also a fine of 150 to 6,000 marks may be imposed, as well as subjection to police supervision. The 15167 same punishment shall be imposed on the person who, with knowledge of such contemplated purpose, intentionally assists in the emigration of the female. Under mitigating circumstances, the punishment may be reduced to not less than three months' imprisonment and a fine of 150 to 6,000 marks.

Final Provisions.

Sec. 49. The names of the authorities, which in each federal state shall be designated as supervising authority, higher administrative authority, police authority, shall be published by the central council.

15168 Sec. 50. This law shall become operative on April 1, 1898, and simultaneously the license for the purpose of forwarding or assisting in the forwarding of emigrants issued under the provisions of state laws shall cease.

IMPERIAL LAWS 1898, pp. 39-56.

(No. 2451) Ordinance respecting Regulations concerning the Business of Emigration Principal and Agents. Of March 14, 1898.

On this basis of §21 of the Law concerning Emigration of June 9, 1897 (Imperial Laws, p. 463). The Federal Council in its session of March 14, 1898, has made the following Regulations concerning the Business of Emigration Principal and Agents:

(The important provisions of this ordinance are as follows:

This ordinance prescribes the blanks that have to be used by the principals, separate for each ship.

A written contract in the German language must be entered into between the principal and the emigrant. Section 5 of the ordinance prescribes very detailed provisions that must be contained in such contract. In case the emigrant is to be shipped to a place beyond the port of embarkation, additional provisions must be contained in such contract, as prescribed by said ordinance.

Section 7 contains different provisions in case the port of embarkation is outside of Germany and the emigrants only come from or travel through Germany.

Section 17 contains provisions in regard to the business of the agents, providing that in each case the agent has to give a receipt, the contents of which are fixed by Section 17 of the law. Prescribed blanks must be used for such receipts, and copies thereof must be preserved and bound in books, duly paged and numbered.

15172 Defendants' Exhibit 20

Section 23 provides that the principal has to fix a certain price, and such price cannot be exceeded by the agent or the principal. The principals have to keep all letters written to the agents and vice versa, and the correspondence is subject to inspection of the authorities.

Section 36, following, of the ordinance contain provisions regarding the security to be given by the principals and agents and what claims shall be satisfied therefrom.)

IMPERIAL LAWS, 1898, pp. 57-92.

(No. 2452) Ordinance respecting Regulations concerning Emigrant Ships. Of March 14, 1898.

On the basis of §36 of the Law concerning Emigration of June 9, 1897 (Imperial Laws, p. 463), the Federal Council in its session of March 14, 1898, has made the following regulations concerning emigrant ships:

(This ordinance contains detailed provisions regard-15174 ing the standard and equipment of the ships, and also regarding the food to be given to the emigrants and to their care, in case of sickness and otherwise; also in reference to medical examinations and the amount of provisions and drugs and life saving appliances that must be on board.)

Defendants' Exhibit 20 15175

LIST OF EMIGRATION PRINCIPALS LICENSED, PURSUANT TO THE EMIGRATION LAW OF JUNE 9, 1897.
(April 9, 1898.)

(Goetsch's Emigration Law, Supplement J.)

The Imperial Chancellor, in accordance with the provisions of the Emigration Laws, published the names of the principals authorized by the German government to engage in Emigration business. According to the publication by the Imperial Chancellor, of April 9th, 1898, there were 14 principals licensed. 15176

One of the principals authorized is the North German Lloyd Company of Bremen; the ports from which and the countries to which emigrants can be forwarded are specified therein, as follows:

The North German Lloyd can carry emigrants from the following ports: Bremen, Bremerhaven, Brake, Nordenham, Hamburg, Cuxhaven, Rotterdam, Antwerp, London, Southampton, Plymouth, Havre, Cherbourg, Amsterdam.

The countries to which the emigrants may be carried are: Great Britain, Canada, United States of America, the Argentine Republic, Paraguay, the three 15177 southern states of Brazil (Parana, Santa Catharina, Rio Grande do Sul), Uruguay, Egypt, Transvaal, Cape of Good Hope, the Continent of Australia, Natal. To other states than the three southern states of Brazil, the Lloyd can only carry non-German emigrants; likewise to Cuba and Mexico.

Special conditions were imposed as follows upon this principal:

(a) Emigrants coming from Germany shall not be carried who shall be sent as settlers to countries outside of Germany by an Emigration contractor or similar company not licensed in Germany.

(b) The provisions regarding the Emigration ships, of March 14th, 1898, shall also be applicable beginning from July 1st, 1898, regarding the carrying of emigrants by ships destined for Great Britain, even if, not counting cabin passengers, the ships should carry less than 25 passengers.

The Lloyd was further allowed to carry emigrants 15179 to Cape Colony, the Transvaal and Natal, on ships of the German East African Line; also between Bremen and London on ships of the Steamship Company Argo; and from Southampton on ships of the English Union Castle Line.

The Hamburg-American Line has been licensed to carry emigrants from Hamburg, Cuxhaven, Bremen, Bremerhaven, Brake, Nordenham, Geestemünde, Stettin, Swinemünde, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Amsterdam, Vlissingen, London, Southampton, Plymouth, Grimsby, Havre, Cherbourg, Genoa, Naples, Boulogne, to Great Britain, Canary Islands, Cape Verde Islands, Egypt, Transvaal, Natal, Cape of Good Hope, 15180 Azores, Canada, United States of America, three southern states of Brazil (Parana, Santa Catharina, Rio Grande do Sul), Uruguay, Paraguay, the Argentine Republic, the Continent of Australia; and emigrants by way of sea also to the Netherlands, Belgium, France, Spain, Portugal, Italy. (To other states than the three southern states of Brazil, as well as to Cuba and Mexico, only non-German emigrants may be carried.)

The Hamburg-American Line has been generally authorized to carry emigrants also on ships of the Hamburg-South American Steamship Company and by the Sloman ships. Also to carry emigrants from Hamburg to Great Britain, namely, to London, on ships belonging to the Kirsten Ship Line, to Grimsby on ships of the Great Central Railway, to West Hartlepool on ships of the West Hartlepool Steam Navigation Company; finally, to the Cape of Good Hope and the Transvaal, as well as Natal, between Hamburg and London on ships of the Kirsten Ship Line, and from London on ships of the Union Castle Line. 15181

F. Missler, of Bremen, is also named as one of the licensed principals, with the right to carry emigrants from Bremen and ports immediately surrounding Bremen to the United States of America, to Canada, to the three Brazilian States of Parana, Santa Catharina, Rio Grande do Sul, to the Argentine Republic, Cape Colony, Transvaal, and the Continent of Australia, to Great Britain and to the Hawaiian Islands. (To the latter, however, it can only carry emigrants who are not German citizens, and are provided with passports.) To the Hawaiian Islands, ships of the firm of Pfluger and Company of Bremen shall be used. 15182

The Hanseatic Colonization Company, of Hamburg, is another licensed principal named in the publication. Special conditions are imposed upon such Colonization Company. Among others, the number of the emigrants to be carried per annum cannot exceed the number to be allowed by the Imperial Chancellor, after hearing the Company and in consideration of the conditions prevailing in each year. The Company is bound to return emigrants without means to their former place of residence, free of charge, if for any reason they cannot be carried, and further to take proper care of the widows and orphans of the German emigrants after they have reached the port of 15183 destination, until they arrive at the place of settlement, or if this cannot be done, to return the same to their former place within Germany.

The Company is further obliged to enter into a contract with the emigrants regarding carriage, food, and, after arrival at the place of colonization, covering the period of at least a month. Furthermore, the Company is obliged to see that the emigrants shall receive remunerative employment for three days in each week after arrival, and can sell the necessaries of life to the emigrants only at cost. Only such real 15185 property can be sold to the emigrants as is suitable for their profitable existence. If the property assigned to the settler should turn out to be unsuitable, notwithstanding any claim for damages he may have against the Company, the Company shall assign to him another suitable property and release him from his obligations regarding any property that may be unsuitable. The Company is further obliged to erect churches and schools in the country to be settled and to furnish gratuitously real estate necessary for such purpose, to employ doctors and druggists.

The circulars and prospectuses to be used by the Company must be submitted to be Imperial Chancellor 15186 for approval. The purchase price of the real estate intended to be sold to the emigrants must be fixed and approved, and if credit for such payment is given, interest can only be charged after the expiration of the second year, etc., etc.

And a number of other provisions regarding further protection of such settlers.

La Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, the Red Star Line, White Star Line, Cunard Steamship Company, American Line, and others are also mentioned in the list of principals licensed.

The Minister of the Interior.

IV a 63.

Since it has been ascertained that numerous Russian emigrants try to evade the control regulations which are to be observed on the frontier line by pretending that they desire to emigrate to England while in reality America is their place of destination, the regulations referring to the admission of Russian emigrants to America, especially as prescribed in my—the Minister of the Interior—decree of October 8, 1893—J. B. 15188
7248—is extended to Russian emigrants to England with the provision that the amount of cash which must be shown has been fixed at Mks. 100 for healthy persons at the age of more than 10 years, and Mks. 50 for younger people.

The provisions of our decree of September 18th, 1894, M. D. J. I. B. 6536-pp apply, insofar as the transportation of such Russian emigrants to England is attended to by the two German steamship companies: The North German Lloyd, and the Hamburg-American Line.

Minister of the Interior
Iv. c. 63 Ang. 2.

In recent years travelers coming from Russia have been regarded as emigrants at the frontier control stations repeatedly, although a closer examination of the situation revealed that they were not emigrants and therefore not subject to the regulations enacted for such emigrants. Consequently, at various times 15191 diplomatic negotiations with foreign countries, of an undesirable nature, were necessary.

In agreement with the respective Ministers, I therefore decree herewith that in those cases where travelers object to their treatment as emigrants to the Executive Police Officials, that they immediately report to their superiors—if necessary, by telegraph—in regard to this, and their superiors must hereupon immediately examine the situation and decide accordingly.

In this connection I especially emphasize how important it is, that only careful and tactful officers are stationed at the frontier, and who, if possible, shall also possess the necessary knowledge of languages, 15192 so as to to be able to converse with the traveling public.

Insofar as the officials in question are appointed or confirmed by your Honor, I beg you to continue to pay the most careful attention to these points, also in the future.

Likewise will you kindly see to it that only prudent tactful persons, having a knowledge of languages, are selected as the agents who are to be appointed by the two German Steamship Companies, in conformity with the decree of September 18, 1894—M. d. I. I. B. 6535 pp.

Defendants' Exhibit 20 15193

It has also been shown that the Russian emigrants pass the frontier very often at other places, evading the control stations. I therefore beg your Honor to instruct the police officials subject to you that they pay special attention to such emigrants and see to it that the regulations passed in this connection by the decree addressed to the Provincial presidents of January 16, 1896—1 B 11781, Ang. 2 be strictly carried out.

At the same time the District Presidents at Marienwerder and Posen shall kindly consider whether they could perhaps enact police regulations for the better 15194 observance of the control, in conformity with the copy of the attached decree for the government district Gumbinnen of December 23, 1898, which same decree has also been issued for the government district of Koenigsberg.

Furthermore, the stipulations fixed elsewhere, by the decree of the 14th inst. M. d. I. IV. c. 63 Ang. 1 pp. for emigrants to England in regard to cash funds, must also be taken into consideration here.

I look forward to receiving your kind notice within six months in regard to the observance of this decree.

By order of

It is herewith certified that the foregoing two decrees are authentic and that the regulations contained therein were enacted by the Royal Prussian Government, in the interest of charity, of safety and police sanitation.

The decree of March 14, 1903—IVc. 63 in regard to the treatment of the Russian emigrants allegedly traveling to England, however, has been cancelled by the decree of February 26, 1905 $\frac{\text{IV c } 3369}{\text{II b } 1846}$, which has placed the emigrants mentioned on the same plane as the other emigrants passing over the Prussian-Russian frontier, also in regard to the cash funds to be demanded shown by them.

the transportation of Austrian Hungarian emigrants to Bremen and Hamburg, in force from October 1, 1903.

I. Route, Tickets and Ticket Rate reduction.

The emigrants from Austria-Hungary, in order to avoid contact with the control station Ruhleben near Spandau, destined for Russian emigrants, are generally conducted over Kohlfurt-Frankenberg-Magdeburg-Lehrte, in the following manner: 15200

a. Party trips.

The emigrants, who desire reduction in price for party trips through the Prussian territory, are gathered at the control stations Myslowitz and Ratibor by the representatives of the Hamburg American Line and the North German Lloyd, so that at least 30 persons are transported in one train (German Railroad Personal and Package Tariff, Part 1 Par. 11, Art. IV). The reduction is granted in the manner that the emigrants are transported on IV. Class tickets in the 3rd railroad class. For this purpose the tickets bought in Myslowitz and Ratibor, as well as those bought at foreign ticket offices direct to Bremen and Hamburg, of the IV Class bear the rubber stamp. 15201

"Good as party ticket 3. Class via Magdeburg."

(The additional clause "via Magdeburg" is necessary, because the tickets for ordinary transit apply to via Berlin.)

Direct tickets of higher railroad classes are exchanged at the control stations against reimbursement of the difference in rate against tickets of the IV. Class.

15202 Defendants' Exhibit 20

b. Individual trips.

The transportation of individual emigrants "via Falkenberg-Magdeburg" is assured in the manner that the designation of route stamped on the direct tickets to Hamburg and Bremen via Berlin are crossed out at the control stations, and in place of this the cards are stamped "Emigrant card via Magdeburg."

II. Transportation.

a. With ordinary public trains.

15203 The aforementioned emigrants, who travel without a reduction in price, may use any train for which the ticket is valid in public transit. It is, however, just as much in their own as in the interests of the railroad administration, that they use only train connections, which require the least transferring and stops. At this time only train 216 from Ratibor and Train 230 from Myslowitz are to be recommended; the station officials in Ratibor and Myslowitz, therefore, shall recommend this connection and dissuade from others.

b. With special trains.

15204 For party trips, with reduction in price, if there are present the minimum number of 30 ticket holders, the special train 1390 is to be used in Ratibor, the special train 1390a in Myslowitz, which, beginning from Kandrzin shall be continued as one train No. 1390, but not permitting more than 50 axles (including baggage cars). If there are not enough seats in the train, the remainder of the company must stay back until the next day's special emigrant train, unless they prefer to continue their trip without a reduction in rate. Later trains (second sections) are not to be used.

The admittance of emigrants at intermediate stations and the admittance of other travelers at the stations of departure or intermediate stations is absolutely forbidden.

III. Reports.

As train 1390 is put into use more often than not at the present time on the route Kandrzin-Kohlfurt, until further notice its omission, not its employment on this route, shall be reported each time. (Schedule V., Par. 24.)

15206

In regard to trains 1390 and 1390a there shall be reported from station Ratibor and Myslowitz latest at 5 o'clock in the afternoon to Station Kandrzin and from there to Station Breslau and Kohlfurt the number of axles for Hamburg and the number for Bremen; furthermore it shall be reported from Ratibor and Myslowitz to Kandrzin and from there to Station Hamburg H the number of emigrants destined for there.

The telegrams to be sent from Kandrzin shall read:

Station V Breslau O/S and Kohlfurt.

Today with train 1390 .... Axles for Bremen and .... Axles for Hamburg from here.

15207

Stat. V.

Station V. Hamburg H.

Today with train 1390 .... emigrants for Hamburg from here.

Stat. V.

In order to avoid that more than 50 axles (including baggage cars) are combined for train 1390 from Kandrzin, Myslowitz must inform Station Ratibor latest at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the number of the axles carrying emigrants in train 1390a.

15208 Defendants' Exhibit 20

Further report is made from Station Kohlfurt as per instructions of the Royal Railroad Management Halle.

IV. Formation of Trains. Route signs.

For special trains 1390 and 1390a III. Class Passenger cars with airbrakes, if possible with toilet and in winter with steam heat are to be used. The trains are to be provided with 51% brake axles.

15209 On both lengths of the cars destined for Hamburg in train 1390 (1390a) a route (direction) sign is to be attached, having a white inscription on a red background; on the front side: "Only for emigrants from Myslowitz or Ratibor to Hamburg;" and on the other side: "Immediately back to Kandrzin empty."

The cars destined for Bremen shall carry the same signs, but with the difference that the white inscriptions: "Only for emigrants from Myslowitz or Ratibor to Bremen" and "Immediately back to Kandrzin empty" shall be on a green background.

15210 In conformity with these direction signs, the representatives of the steamship companies shall supply the emigrants traveling to Hamburg with red-white badges for immediate recognition of their destination and to avoid that other emigrants (Russians) or other travelers enter the emigrant cars.

The cars intended for Hamburg are to be put at the head of the train.

V. Train power and employes for train 1390a and 1390.

The locomotives with employes are to be provided by Railroad Workshop	Myslowitz to Kandrzin.

"	Ratibor to Kandrzin.
"	Kandrzin to Breslau.
"	Breslau Bl. to Kohlfurt.

Defendants' Exhibit 20 15211

The train attendants are provided by:

The Minister of the Interior.
IV. c. 3327.

Berlin, February 13, 1904.

In view of the increasing importance of the return immigration from North America, it has been found necessary to provide for special police measures to protect the through transportation of foreign return immigrants through this territory.

The through transportation of those return immi-
15215 grants who are neither German citizens nor have ever been such, is therefore made conditional on the steamship company, that has assumed the return transportation, agreeing to return these passengers free of charge in the direction of their former home to beyond the outgoing frontier and to guarantee that through their return transportation, housing, boarding or burial no expense will accrue to either the German Empire nor to Prussia, a Prussian community or a Prussian Charity Organization, but in case this should nevertheless happen, to refund the expenses involved.

To carry out these provisions the aforesaid return immigrants, inasfar as they return in large numbers and have the same destination, are to be through 15216 transported in closed troups, whether in special trains or in special return emigrant cars, which are to be switched on to a certain train, through Prussia, further arrangements in regard to which must be made with the Royal Railroad Administration.

Should such a closed return transportation not be feasible, the return emigrants in question are to be provided with legitimation papers, from which the above obligation of the Company can plainly be seen.

Awaiting your kind reply, whether the Direction (Management) is willing to comply with these instructions, I beg to remain

Management of the North German Lloyd

The Minister of the Interior,
IV. c. 3660.

Berlin, April 21, 1904.

In view of the conferences had between representatives of the Management (Direktion) and my referee, in pursuance with my letter of February 13 of this year IV. c. 3327 I herewith agree that the non-German return emigrants, who are not transported home in closed troups, shall be given as legitimation paper a certification, from which can be seen that, and the 15218 day when they arrived at a German port with a vessel of the company. These certifications shall further contain the following:

> "Issued in conformity with the decree of the Prussian Minister of the Interior of February 13, 1904, c. 3327."

I assume in this connection that the Management declares its willingness to give guarantee for such non German return emigrants in accordance with my aforementioned letter on the basis of such certifications, who will become dependent on our officials or communities. In this connection I will recognize that it appears desirable, and is not more than fair, to limit this obligation 15219 to a certain period of time. Therefore, with the right of revocation I agree that the Management can only be called upon to make good, on strength of the certifications issued by the company, if within 8 days after his landing in a German port, a return emigrant causes expense of the kind mentioned in my aforementioned letter of February 13th, this year.

I request the Management to accept these propositions and at the same time to submit to me a form of the certifications to be issued accordingly.

Berlin, Sept. 20, 1904.

The Minister of the Interior,

IV. c. 5097

Ministry for Trade and Commerce II b. 8271.

The enclosed regulations in regard to the transportation of non-German emigrants via the Prussian frontier you receive herewith for your guidance, with the following remarks.

15221 Deviating from the regulation of the circular decree of the Minister of the Interior of October 8, 1893, I. B. 7248 who signs below, the new regulations refer not only to Galician emigrants but—aside from the Russians—to all non-German emigrants, and do not only apply to the emigration to North America, but to all emigration across the ocean.

In future every emigrant will be released from visiting the registration stations, who, besides having complied with the other conditions of the "Regulations" has closed a transportation agreement, with a steamship company concessioned in Germany, regardless of whether it is a German or a foreign company.

15222 The German steamship companies of themselves have neither the right nor the obligation to accept passengers of foreign steamship companies that are concessioned in Germany, in the registration stations which they have erected and maintained. We reserve the right, however, in certain cases, to concede to such requests on the part of the companies, or to impose such an obligation on them, according to conditions which must be gone into further. The obligations, which the German steamship companies assume for each emigrant entered in the Register, remain in force, even if that emigrant were transported by another company.

Defendants' Exhibit 20 15223

The previous special regulations in regard to the emigrants transported by the German Central Committee for Russian Jews have been cancelled, as this Committee has ceased to exist since 1898.

We respectfully request your Excellency to instruct the Police Administrations controlled by you accordingly and to impose upon them the duty of strictly carrying out the regulations. In this contention, we especially emphasize that the agents of the steamship companies have, of course, no governmental authority and that, should they try to assume such, they be repulsed most positively. On the other hand, the endeavor of the agents, to carry out the instructions of the regulations should be supported in every manner and in every instance where emigrants try to evade these regulations, there should be emphatic intervention. 15224

Emigrants, who, violating the "Regulations," evaded the registration station, are to be stopped and sent back to their own country, if they do not voluntarily proceed to one of the registration stations in Ratibor, Myslowitz and Leipzig, or to the control station Ruhleben near Berlin.

REGULATIONS

in regard to the transportation of non-German emigrants via the Prussian frontier.

To regulate the transportation of non-German emigrants over the Prussian frontier, the following is ordered:

Admittance to the Prussian State ground may only 15227 then be allowed if the emigrants possess a transportation contract with a steamship company concessioned in Germany for the passage to a non-German debarkation port, a railroad ticket to the embarkation port and sufficient cash, to assure their admittance at their destination, or in case of their rejection at their destination, the return-transportation to their home. In this connection, as hitherto, for healthy and not weakly persons over 10 years a sum of M. 400 each, for younger people, a sum of M. 100 each shall be deemed sufficient.

All non German emigrants, who do not comply with these conditions must pass a registration station, as 15228 they exist at this time in Myslowitz and Ratibor.

The equipment and the operation of these registration stations are subject to the special regulations issued in regard to them.

Inasfar as registration stations have been provided in other German Federal States in accordance with the same principles, the passing through such station is also sufficient for the transportation through the Prussian State Ground.

The foregoing regulations do not apply to emigrants who pass the Russian-Prussian frontier, and the control stations there. In regard to these emigrants, the former regulations are the only ones that apply.

Defendants' Exhibit 20 15229

Furthermore, these regulations enter into force, voiding all former, contradictory regulations, for all non-German emigrants, irrespective of whether they are transported by domestic or foreign steamship companies.

REGULATIONS

in regard to the passing of non-German emigrants over the Prussian-Russian frontier.

To regulate the passing of non-German emigrants over the Prussian-Russian frontier, it is herewith decreed as follows:

The admittance to Prussian state ground is only then to be allowed if the emigrants possess 15231

a proper pass

a transportation agreement for the journey to a non-German debarkation port with a steamship company, concessioned in German,

a railroad ticket to the embarkation port and sufficient cash funds, to guarantee their acceptance at their destination, or in the case of being rejected there, the return transportation to their home. In this connection, healthy and not weakly persons of more than 10 years, must have a sum of M. 400, younger persons a sum of M. 100 each.

15232 Defendants' Exhibit 20

All non-German emigrants, who, when passing the Prussian-Russian frontier do not comply with these conditions must pass a control station, as exists for instance, in Bajohren, Tilsit, Eydtkuhnen, Insterburg, Prostken, Illowo, Ottlotschin, Posen and Ostrowo.

The equipment and the operation of these control stations are subject to the regulations issued in regard to them.

The foregoing regulations are in force, voiding all contrary former regulations for all non-German emigrants who pass the Prussian-Russian frontier, without regard to whether they are transported by native 15233 or foreign steamship companies.

INSTRUCTIONS

15234 in regard to the arrangement and the operation of the emigrant registration station in the government district Oppeln.

The arrangement and the operation of the emigrant registration stations erected, by state approval, in Ratibor and Myslowitz by the German Steamship Companies, the North-German Lloyd in Bremen and the Hamburg American Line in Hamburg, is to conform with the following regulations, as well as with the special instructions, as such may still be issued by the undersigned government district president.

Defendants' Exhibit 20 15235

1. The emigrants passing the Austrian frontier, who do not comply with the regulations issued by the Minister of the Interior and the Minister of Trade and Commerce in regard to the transportation of non-German emigrants over the Prussian frontier of Sept. 20, 1904 (M. Bl. f. d. i. V. S. 276) are to be conducted by the police officials guarding the frontier transportation to the registration station at Myslowitz and Ratibor, i. e. always to the nearest station.

2. The decision, whether the emigrants who have been brought to the stations by the police officials or who have voluntarily proceeded there shall be transported by the steamship companies, shall be left together with the instructions stipulated in Par. 3) to the authorized agent of the companies. If the transportation is rejected, the police officials must guard the return of the rejected emigrants over the frontier. 15236

3. The transportation of the emigrants can only be assumed if it has been determined by the physician employed by the station, that there are no sanitary objections to the transportation.

The physicians of the stations must be confirmed by the undersigned district president.

4. The emigrants taken for transportation shall be entered in the Register by the authorized agent of the steamship companies, which register must be conducted separately for each steamship company, as per the attached sample, in two copies. One of them is for the local police administration, in the district where the station is situated, the other must remain in the safe-keeping of the authorized agent of the steamship companies. The police administration is responsible for the accurate entering and tallying of both registers. 15237

5. The register shall be daily closed in two copies by the agents of the steamship companies and signed by them and thereupon submitted to the police administration, who must immediately examine the accuracy of the entries made, and certify to it by signature and seal. An alphabetical register shall be arranged for the copy remaining with the police administration, which must contain the names and baptismal names of the persons entered in the registers, naming the page of the registration. This index must always be kept up to date.

6. After the emigrants have been entered in this register, the officials of the steamship company must 15239 see to their quick departure, this, however, if possible, in the through wagons to the port of embarkation. Every registered emigrant shall first receive a legitimation card, made out as per enclosed sample, so as to avoid that the same, while passing through Prussian ground, will be stopped and rejected. This certification shall be certified by the local police administration by their seal.

7. The steamship companies are obliged to attend to suitable housing and to see to it that these rooms are kept in good condition. Furthermore, they must see to it that the emigrants arriving with the evening trains and taken over by them, do not remain anywhere 15240 else than in the rooms destined for them. If these should not be situated immediately near the station, they shall immediately, without interruption, be conducted to them.

8. By the delivery of the registers signed by the agents of the steamship companies to the police officials, the steamship company in question assumes the obligation to see to it that through the transportation of the persons entered in the register, no expense will be incurred to either the Prussian State nor a Prussian community or a Prussian charity organization for their possible return transportation, housing, boarding or burial; should this, however, occur, then the expense to be reimbursed them.

Berlin January 29, 1909.

It has been stated that persons, who with the intention of traveling steerage to America, pass over the Prussian Russian frontier in the same manner as oversea emigrants, but who prove that they are American citizens, are treated differently in the various governmental districts.

We therefore instruct that these persons, who on the surface appear as emigrants—aside from those 15243 regulations pertaining to the cash funds required, which do not apply to American citizens, for the reason that they cannot be forbidden admittance to America on account of insufficient means of subsistence—shall be subjected to the existing regulations for Russian emigrants in those instances when they have transferred their residence or permanent domicile from America to Russia, and later, again wish to permanently settle in the United States, or another country. Whether these premises apply must be determined in the individual case with the proper care and especially be examined into them if the person involved objects to his treatment as an emigrant

American citizens, who, retaining their residence in America, have entered upon a short visit or proceeded to Russia for other transient purposes and wish to return to the United States, on the other hand, are not to be regarded as emigrants, and this not even then, if they intend to travel steerage.

We respectfully request your Excellency to kindly cause the necessary steps to be taken in this connection, as soon as possible.

IV. c. 4584. 2 Ang.

In explanation and further pursuant to the instructions communicated to the Management in my letter of February 13, 1904. IV. c. 3327, I have issued to the police officials:

> "Regulations in regard to the transportation of non-German return emigrants via the Prussian frontier"

Defendants' Exhibit 20 15247

a copy of which I herewith enclose to the Management.

I herewith state in connection with No. V. of the regulations, that the privilege allowed the steamship companies concessioned in Germany in this paragraph presupposes the continuation of the guarantee obligations assumed by the Management of the North German Lloyd, based on my aforementioned letter. I further assume that the Management will also see to it in future that the return emigrants transported by your company will be transported through Prussia without stopping, if possible, in closed troups in special trains or special cars. 15248

Regulations.

in regard to the transportation of non German return emigrants via the Prussian frontier.

I. The following regulations apply to:

A. Non-German return emigrants, who after crossing the ocean, have landed in a foreign port. 15249

B. Non German return emigrants, who while emigrating were rejected in a foreign port and not permitted to embark.

and (this refers to A and B) and afterwards, on their return trip, pass the Prussian frontier.

II. As a matter of principle, the through-trip through Prussia is only allowed the return emigrants, if it is the nearest way to their home country.

III. All railroad trains, passing the frontier and which serve passenger transportation are to be controlled at the first Prussian Station where they make a longer stop, to ascertain whether they carry non-German return emigrants with them.

15250 Defendants' Exhibit 20

IV. Such return emigrants, who are transported by a steamship company concessioned in Germany (either singly, or in special trains or in special cars, and who are in possession of the certification of the steamship company in question) as such is provided in the decree of February 13, 1904—IV. c. 3327—are not subject to further control.

15251 V. Such return emigrants, who are transported by a steamship company not concessioned in Germany in special trains or in special cars, are only then allowed to pass undisturbed, if they are in possession of direct tickets to their home country or at least to a station beyond the Prussian frontier, and the special train, respectively the special car passes through, without any long stop, at intermediate stations, direct to the home country or at least to the Prussian outgoing frontier.

VI. All non-German return emigrants, who do not fall under either No. IV. nor No. V. are to be stopped by the police.

15252 This applies to:

1. The return emigrants transported by a steamship company concessioned in Germany, as far as they are not in possession of the certification mentioned under No. IV.

2. The return emigrants transported by a steamship company not concessioned in Germany, inasfar as they:

a. are provided with direct tickets to their home country or to a station beyond the Prussian outgoing frontier, but where the special train or special car used by them does not pass through to at least the Prussian outgoing frontier without a long stop.

or b. where they are, it is true, transported in special cars or special trains, but are not in possession of a through ticket of the forementioned nature, or c. where they travel singly in ordinary trains.

The continued trip through Prussia is only allowed the return emigrants designated under 1 and 2a to c if they are in possession of adequate cash funds, which make it appear out of the question that during their stay in the interior they will become a charge for the 15254
Prussian State, communities or charity organizations. For this, healthy and not weakly persons who are above 10 years of age, are required to have a sum of M. 100 each. Russian return emigrants must furthermore be in possession of a proper Russian pass.

Return emigrants, who fulfill the conditions mentioned in the foregoing paragraph shall be caused to buy—in case they are not already provided with it—a ticket to beyond the Prussian outgoing frontier in the direction of their home, and to continue their trip. If they refuse to buy the ticket, they, as also those return emigrants, who do not comply with the above conditions, shall be ordered over the frontier by which 15255 they entered the interior, after having first been officially expelled.

"Returning Emigrants in Prussia.

"(From Consul General A. M. Thackara, Berlin)

"Since December last new regulations regarding the passage of returning emigrants over the Prussian frontiers have been enforced by the Prussian Government. The measures apply principally to Russians and to people from eastern Europe generally. The passage 15260 of returning emigrants through Prussia is permitted only when it is the shortest route to their native land.

"The returning emigrants, unless they hold certificates issued by a steamship company that has been licensed by Germany to carry emigrants, must have a certain sum of money, must be prepared to travel in special trains or cars, and must have tickets to their homes or at least to points beyond the Prussian frontiers. Sound and healthy emigrants over 10 years old must have a sum of 200 marks ($47.60); if under 10 years of age, 100 marks ($23.80) is required. Emigrants returning to Russia must be provided with a Russian passport. Returning emigrants who have otherwise complied with the conditions, but who re- 15261 fuse to buy a ticket to a station beyond the Prussian frontiers, in the direction of their homes, will be expelled from Prussia at the frontier at which they entered.

"Under the terms of the concessions granted to certain steamship companies, the latter are bonded to guarantee that the returning emigrants who have been carried by their lines will have uninterrupted and free transportation through Prussia, and to refund the Prussian Government all expenses incurred by the State or other authorities in case the emigrants become public charges. The companies which have the concessions are: The Hamburg-American Line, North German Lloyd, Compagnie Générale Transatlantique, Red Star Line, White Star Line, Cunard Steamship Co., and the American Line. By special agreement with the Hamburg-American Line certificates are also issued to returning emigrants who have been carried by the Holland-American Line."

15262 Defendants' Exhibit 20

The Cabinet Ministers for Alsace-Lorraine,
Department of the Interior.

The stream of emigrants from Eastern and Southern Countries of Europe, which annually pours through Germany, is recognized from a hygienic view, 15264 to be a source of considerable danger. Whereas heretofore, this traffic principally traversed the route via the Eastern Prussian Frontier, it has now been ascertained that long emigrant trains are being despatched weekly from Basle, routed through Alsace-Lorraine, for northern ports of departure. Many of the emigrants thus forwarded come from certain sections, in which peculiarly local dangerous contagious diseases exist, and because of this reason as well as of the notorious and habitual uncleanliness of the emigrants, they constitute an unceasing menace to the health of the general public of the respective countries through which they pass. Appreciating this danger, the Prussian Royal Government at first intended to arrest emigrant traffic at its frontiers, thereby preventing the passage of such emigrants through German territory, but upon reconsideration and in the interests of the German steamship companies as also because of the fact that, despite the most stringent measures, streams of emigrants continued to overflow its borders, the Prussian Government in 1893 conditionally assented to the passage of emigrants through its territory.

It was stipulated that the German steamship companies were to establish Control Stations on the Prus- 15266 sian-Russian frontiers where it was considered that greatest danger threatened. These Control Stations were required to be thoroughly equipped for the cleansing of emigrants and the disinfection of their personal effects. There also the emigrants were to be examined for the purpose of ascertaining whether they were suffering from contagious or other disease which would result in their exclusion from the United States of North America, in conformity with that country's Immigration Laws. The care of all persons, who first are registered, then examined and finally admitted for passage at the Control Stations, devolves upon the German steamship companies; the economic interests of which are identical with those of the police authori- 15267 ties and because of this, as well as for the general welfare of all concerned, these Steamship Companies have undertaken, as a duty, the defraying of the entire cost of the establishment and maintenance of these Control Stations and also the payment of whatever other expense is necessary in the event of illness of emigrants and for the return passage of those who may be rejected as unfit to travel.

These Control Stations have demonstrated their value, for because of the obligations assumed and the consequent supervision exercised by the Steamship

Companies, as already explained, Prussian territory has been spared much damage, which but for this precaution might have been incurred, through the introduction within its borders, of disease, poverty and crime. This became all the more apparent after somewhat similar Registry Stations had been established at the Austrian frontier. These Registry Stations differ in substance from the Control Stations principally because they are not provided with cleansing and disinfection plants with which Control Stations are equipped, nor have they the facilities for the isolation of emigrants suffering with contagious dis-15269 eases. This is because the emigrants crossing over the Austrian frontier were considered as being of a higher standard than those coming by way of the other frontier and it therefore was not thought necessary to provide these Registry Stations with all the facilities characteristic of the Control Stations, but irrespective of this, all emigrants passing through the Registry Stations are subject to identically the same sanitary supervision as prevails at the Control Stations.

Emigrants now endeavor to elude this control by Prussia and Saxony, by travelling through Southern Germany or Switzerland, so that they may embark at the ports of Belgium and Holland. This naturally 15270 affects Alsace-Lorraine, as emigrants, travelling through that territory from Basle to Little-Bettingen, similarly menace those districts in the manner that Prussia previously was endangered, not only from a hygienic view, but also because the rejection of emigrants at the Holland and Belgian seaports would cause their return to those districts to the annoyance of their charity organizations and the disturbance of the public welfare. In view of these circumstances it seems imperative to order the establishment of Registry Stations, similar to those of Prussia and Saxony at St. Ludwig on the Alsatian and Swiss frontier.

Defendants' Exhibit 20 15271

Therefore, in order to regulate the forwarding of Non-German Emigrants across the Alsatian and Swiss frontier, the enclosed regulations are decreed.

These regulations apply to all Non-German emigrants, not only those who are bound for North America, but also those who wish to cross the Ocean to any other place.

Foreign emigrants, to be exempt from passing through a Registry Station, are required not only to comply with all the other terms of these regulations, but also to have booked passage with a steamship Company licensed in Germany, irrespective as to whether it is a German or a foreign line. 15272

The German steamship companies assume all responsibility for registered emigrants even though the emigrant is forwarded by another company.

I would request your Honor, kindly at once to issue instructions to the respective police departments named below and to impress on them the necessity of a strict enforcement of these regulations. You please will note that no official authority is vested in the agents employed by the steamship companies to manage their Registry Stations and that any attempt on their part to assume any such authority must be firmly resisted. On the other hand, the agents are to be assisted in every way possible in their endeavor to comply with the terms of these regulations, and energetic measures should be adopted against emigrants who endeavor to disregard or evade them. 15273

Emigrants who attempt in violation of these regulations to avoid the registry stations and to enter this territory in a round about way, for instance from Basle via Freiburg-Neubreisbach, are to be arrested and returned to their homes, unless they proceed voluntarily to a Registry Station.

The Under-Secretary of State.

To the

Hon. President of the Administrative District of Collmar.

15274 Defendants' Exhibit 20

Enclosed herewith your Honor please will find a copy of the new emigration rules and regulations for your kind attention and judicial observance. So long as the Government of the Grand Duchy of Badan does not establish a Registry Station, it is to be feared that a stream of emigrants will be conveyed from Basle through Baden and attempt to enter our territory by way of Kehl. In dealing with these emigrants, the police officials will be required to act in accordance with these rules.

The Under-Secretary of State.

15275 To the
Hon. District President, Here.

Enclosed herewith your Honor please will find a copy of the new emigration rules and regulations for your kind judicial observance. In case it should develop at your locality that emigrants attempt to enter Lorraine by way of the Palatinate, I would request you kindly to notify me.

The Under-Secretary of State
(Signed:) MANDEL

Hon. District-President at Metz.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

FOR THE TRAFFIC OF NON GERMAN-EMIGRANTS ACROSS THE FRONTIER OF ALSACE-LORRAINE.

In order to regulate the traffic of Non-German emigrants across the frontier of Alsace-Lorraine it is decreed as follows:

Defendants' Exhibit 20 15277

Entrance into the territory of Alsace-Lorraine is prohibited to emigrants unless they hold the passage-contract of a steamship company, licensed in Germany, entitling them to transportation to a Non-German landing port, as well as a railroad ticket for transportation to the port of embarkation and are in possession of sufficient money to secure their admission into the country for which they are bound, or to pay return transportation to their homes, in case they are refused admission there.

In conformity with this, it is required that persons over 10 years of age, who are in good health and are not physically afflicted have in their possession the sum of 400 Marks each, while for younger persons the amount of approximately 100 Marks each will be deemed sufficient. 15278

Non-German emigrants, who do not comply with these requirements, will only be permitted to enter the country by passing through a Registry Station. Such a station will be established at St. Ludwig for Alsace-Lorraine.

The establishment and operation of the Registry Station is governed by special rules and regulations pertaining thereto.

Registry Stations being operated in German Federal States on a similar basis, all emigrants who have passed through them may freely pass in transit through the territory of Alsace-Lorraine. 15279

These rules apply to all Non-German emigrants, irrespective as to whether they are forwarded by domestic or foreign steamship companies.

Strassburg, December 31st 1910.

The Cabinet Ministers for Alsace-Lorraine
Department of the Interior.
The Under-Secretary of State.
(Signed:) MANDEL.

DEFENDANTS' DEMURRERS.

The demurrer of the defendant, The Allan Line Steamship Company, Limited, to the petition of The United States of America, filed herein on January 4th, 1911.

This defendant, The Allan Line Steamship Company, Limited, by protestation, not confessing or acknowledging all or any of the matters or things in the said petition contained to be true in such manner and form as the same are therein set forth and alleged, demurs to the said petition and for cause of demurrer shows that the petitioner, The 15308
United States of America, has not in and by said petition shown any special right or equity on behalf of said petitioner, or made or stated such a cause as doth or ought to entitle it to the particular discovery or relief as is therein and thereby sought and prayed for, or to any relief whatever, from or against this defendant.

Wherefore, and for divers other good causes of demurrer appearing on the face of the said petition, this defendant demurs thereto and humbly prays the judgment of this Honorable Court whether it shall be compelled to make any further or other answer to the said petition, and humbly 15309 prays to be hence dismissed with its reasonable costs and charges in this behalf most wrongfully sustained.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES,

SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK.

Before—LACOMBE, COXE, WARD and NOYES,
Circuit Judges.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Petitioner, vs.

HAMBURG-AMERIKANISCHE PACKET-FAHRT-ACTIEN-GESELLSCHAFT and Others, Defendants.

15368

On demurrers for want of equity to a petition filed by the United States under the Federal Anti-Trust Statute for the purpose of restraining the further execution of an agreement between the certain steamship companies for the formation of an association called the Atlantic Conference relating to the carriage of steerage passengers between the United States and Europe.

15369

NOYES, Circuit Judge:

It may be accepted without discussion that the transportation of passengers between this country and Europe forms a part of the commerce of the United States with foreign nations. It is also clearly established that Congress has power to prohibit all contracts, combinations and conspiracies in restraint of such part of the foreign commerce of the United States. The real question here is not one of power, but of interpretation.

15370 Opinion of Court on Demurrers.

The inquiry is whether that which is charged against the defendants comes within the provisions of the Anti-Trust Statute and this inquiry has two phases:

(1) Does the agreement in question directly and materially affect foreign commerce?

(2) Does such agreement with the acts stated in the petition amount to an unlawful contract combination or conspiracy?

The agreement affects foreign commerce because 15371 its operation must necessarily divert a part thereof, viz.: the business of carrying steerage passengers from the natural channels of free competition into fixed channels assigned to the parties. The different lines obtain not that which would come to them from their separate efforts, but prescribed and certain percentages of the traffic.

The agreement directly and materially affects foreign commerce and is partly intra-territorial because it is to be carried out in part in the United States. Confining ourselves to east bound traffic, it is evident that the contract contemplates the solicitation of business; the making of contracts of carriage; the taking on board of passengers, and 15372 the actual commencement of transportation within the territory of the United States. It requires acts to be done in this country; such acts are as material and essential as those to be performed abroad, and the part of the contract requiring them cannot be separated from the remainder.

The prohibitions of the Anti-Trust Statute apply broadly to contracts in restraint of trade or commerce with foreign nations. This contract directly and materially affects such commerce, and if it unlawfully restrains it, it comes within the statute. We see nothing to warrant the contention that the act should be narrowly interpreted as prohibiting only contracts which are to be performed wholly within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States nor—if it were for us to consider—any reason for concluding that a broader construction would lead to international complications.

As the contract directly and materially affects the foreign commerce of this country by being put into effect here, it is immaterial where it was entered into or by what vessels it was to be, or has been, performed. Citizens of foreign countries are not free to restrain or monopolize the foreign commerce of this country by entering into combinations abroad nor by employing foreign vessels to effect their purpose. Such combinations are to be tested by the same standard as similar combinations entered into here by citizens of this country. The vital question in all cases is the same. Is the combination to so operate in this country as to directly and materially affect our foreign commerce? As said by the Circuit Court of Appeals for this Circuit in Thomsen vs. Union Castle Mail S. S. Co., 166 Fed., 251:

> "That the combination was formed in a foreign country is likewise immaterial. It affected the foreign commerce of this country and was to be put into operation here."

15375

The final inquiry is whether the acts and agreements of the defendants as set forth in the petition in addition to materially and directly affecting foreign commerce restrain it within the meaning of the statute. This inquiry requires the examination of the second phase of the question with which we started and it is whether such acts and agreements amount to an unlawful contract, combination or conspiracy.

15376 Opinion of Court on Demurrers.

The petition states the contract at length. It shows a division of traffic into stated percentages, contains stipulations for the pooling of receipts, and embraces provisions to secure its enforcement. In general the fixing of rates is left to individual discretion, although the holders of 75% of the shares of traffic may direct any party to raise or reduce its charges.

The petition, after stating the contract, shows the methods adopted by the associated defendants in fighting competitors and in forcing them out 15377 of business, and charges unfairness and oppression. It further alleges that the defendants in carrying out the combination have charged excessive and arbitrary rates to the public. It also alleges that by the contract and the practices thereunder the defendants have obtained a virtual monopoly of that part of the foreign commerce of the United States included within the scope of the combination.

Testing the petition by the allegations which it contains, as must be done upon demurrer, it is clear that—the effect upon foreign commerce being shown—the averments make out a combination and conspiracy in violation of the Anti-Trust 15378 Statute. Whether or not the statute is directed against all combinations in restraint of competition, it is certain that it embraces those in which the purpose and effect are to charge arbitrary and excessive transportation rates. Whether the statute be broadly or narrowly construed, it is clear that it prohibits combinations and conspiracies to restrain the business of transporting passengers when accompanied with acts of oppression and attempts to monopolize.

The demurrers of the defendants are overruled with costs and they are assigned to answer by the February rule day.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT,

SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK.

Before—LACOMBE, COXE, WARD and ROGERS,
Circuit Judges.

THE UNITED STATES

v.

HAMBURG-AMERICAN STEAMSHIP LINE and Others.

15380

This is a proceeding in equity under the Anti-Trust Act to terminate and dissolve a combination of various trans-Atlantic steamships engaged in the transportation of passengers. The transactions complained of are concerned mainly with the transport of steerage passengers.

LACOMBE, C. J.:

The writer's opinion as to what, under prior decisions, was the construction to be given to the Sherman Anti-Trust Act will be found fully set forth in U. S. v. American Tobacco Company, 164 F. R., 700. If that construction were followed in this case there could be no doubt as to the conclusion to be reached upon the facts proved. It is practically not disputed that, by the various agreements and conferences which together constitute the combination complained of, that branch of trans-Atlantic commerce which is concerned with the transport of steerage passengers is arbitrarily interfered with so that the proportions of it carried by the various lines, which have so combined, are not as they would be if full, free and unrestricted competition were the sole controlling power to effect the distribution.

15382 Opinion of Court on Facts.

Since the decision above cited, however, there have been two exhaustive opinions of the Supreme Court dealing with this Act; Standard Oil Company v. United States, 221 U. S., 1; and United States v. American Tobacco Company, 221 U. S., 106. The effect of these would seem to be that 15383 contracts and methods of business, which do in fact restrain or interfere with competition, are not to be held obnoxious to the provisions of the Act, unless such restraint or interference is "unreasonable" or "undue."

> "Without going into detail and but very briefly surveying the whole field, it may be with accuracy said that the dread of enhancement of prices and of other wrongs which it was thought would flow from the undue limitation on competitive conditions caused by contracts or other acts of individuals or corporations, led, as a matter of public policy to the prohibition or treating as illegal all contracts or acts which were unreasonably restrictive of competitive conditions, either > 15384 from the nature or character of the contract or act or where the surrounding circumstances were such as to justify the conclusion that they had not been entered into or performed with the legitimate purpose of reasonably forwarding personal interest and developing trade, but on the contrary were of such character as to give rise to the inference or presumption that they had been entered into or done with the intent to do wrong to the general public and to limit the right of individuals, thus restraining the free flow of commerce and tending to bring about the evils, such as enhancement of prices, which were considered to be against public policy. * * * The Statute * * * evidenced the intent not to restrain the right to make and enforce contracts, whether resulting from combination or otherwise, which did not unduly restrain interestate or foreign commerce, but to protect that commerce from being restrained by methods, whether old or new, which would constitute an interference that is an undue restraint."

Standard Oil Company v. United States, 221 U. S., pp. 58, 59, 60.

"Applying the rule of reason to the construction of the Statute, it was held in the Standard Oil case that as the words 'restraint of trade' at common law and in the law of this country at the time of the adoption of the Anti-Trust Act only embraced acts or contracts or agreements or combinations which operated to the prejudice of the public interests by unduly restricting competition or unduly obstructing the due course of trade, or which, either because of the inherent nature or effect of the evident purpose of the acts, etc., injuriously restrained trade, that the words as used in the Statute were designed to have and did have but a like significance. It was therefore pointed out that 15387 the Statute did not forbid or restrain the power to make normal and usual contracts to further trade by resorting to all normal methods, whether by agreement or otherwise to accomplish such purpose."

United States v. American Tobacco Company, 221 U. S., 179.

To determine whether any particular course of conduct is or is not "undue" or "unreasonable" involves, of course, a consideration of all the surrounding circumstances, which may be multifarious. Moreover, opinions will sometimes differ as to what should be the answer to such a question. Upon a given statement of facts twelve unprejudiced jurymen will sometimes unanimously reach the conclusion that the conduct of an individual evidenced "due" and "reasonable" care and prudence, when upon the same state of facts twelve other unprejudiced jurymen will unanimously reach a different conclusion. Courts have recog-15389 nized this uncertainty, for it has been frequently held in actions for negligence that although a judge may direct an appropriate verdict, when all intelligent minds would agree as to the inference to be drawn from proved facts, he should send the cause to the jury whenever there might be an honest difference of opinion as to whether the conduct of an individual exhibited "due" and "reasonable" care and prudence. So, too, when question arises in an equity court as to the "reasonableness" of certain transactions different chancellors may differ in their answers. Thus in United States v. Periodical Clearing House, a litigation arising under the Sherman Act and involv-

15390 ing certain regulations made by what was known as the "Magazine" or "Periodical Trust," this court was evenly divided in opinion as to whether such regulations were reasonable or not. (Decided March 22nd, 1913, by dismissal of complaint, for the reason that the government had failed to satisfy a majority of the court that it was entitled to the relief prayed for. Not reported, as no opinions were filed.)

Referring now to the facts in proof. One of the matters complained of is what is called in the testimony the providing of "fighting ships." Upon occasions when some steamship owner or charterer, not a member of the combination, has put a vessel on a berth adjoining one from which vessels of a member of the combination were about to sail and has offered to carry passengers at a lower rate than that asked by such member, an extra vessel has been put on ostensibly by one of the lines in the combination, but really by the combination itself at the same or a lower rate and all have co-operated to furnish such a "fighting ship" and thereby keep out the competitor. This seems clearly to be within the prohibition of the Act; the case is analagous to that presented in United States v. Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' Association. In that case some wholesale lumber dealers, learning the names and addresses of the customers of retail dealers who bought from them, had taken away such customers by offering to sell them direct at wholesale prices. An individual retail dealer who had thus lost customers was of course free to give information of his experience to any of his business associates, but an association of retail dealers which gathered such information and circularized the retail trade with a list of the names of the wholesalers who had done so was held to be a combination to boycott or blacklist and a decree was entered in this court enjoining the further preparation and issuance of such circulars—which decree was affirmed on appeal (201 F. R., 581; U. S. Sup. Court, June 22nd, 1914, not yet reported).

15393

The testimony (which is voluminous) fails to satisfy us that the defendants, or any of them, have charged excessive or exorbitant rates for the transportation of passengers, of any class, especially when it is considered that vastly more in the way of safety, speed, sanitary conditions, physical comfort, etc., is now given to the passenger than was given to him before these agreements and conferences were entered into.

15394 Opinion of Court on Facts.

Much is made in argument of the circumstance that members of the combination employ only agents who will agree to confine their business to selling passage tickets for such members. When the deplorable conditions which existed before this method of business was adopted are considered it would seem that such an arrangement has greatly benefited the traveling public, especially the more ignorant class of many different nationalities which travels in the third class or steerage. Moreover, dealing as it does merely with the control of defendants' agents, who are free to accept or decline such agency, it is analagous to the case which was presented in United States v. Periodical Clearing House, supra, where, upon the question whether or not such control of agents was or was not within the Act, this court was divided in opinion and dismissed the bill. No attempt was made to review that decision on appeal. It is thought therefore that complainant has not shown itself entitled to relief on this branch of the case.

The main subject matter of the controversy, viz.: the controlling of transportation so as to allot proportionate shares of it to the different defendants who are in the combination, has recently been most exhaustively considered by the Standing Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries under resolutions of the House of Representatives in Congress; it is manifest from its report that the Committee had before it substantially the same evidence which is contained in the record in this case. There is nothing to add to the elaborate presentation of all sides of the controversy which will be found in that report, and we find it most persuasive to the conclusion that, in view of the peculiarities of ocean transportation, the method adopted by the defendants—if purged of its obnoxious feature, the "fighting ship"—is a reasonable one, which so far from restraining trade really fosters and protects it by giving it a stability which ensures more satisfactory public service for all concerned. Without this method or something like it there would be, 15398 in the language of the Committee, one or other of two results: "the lines would either engage in rate wars which would mean the elimination of the weak and the survival of the strong, or to avoid a costly struggle they would consolidate through common ownership—either would mean a monopoly fully as effective and it is believed more so, than can exist by virtue of (this) agreement." It seems, therefore, that this particular combination comes fairly within the exception to a strictly literal construction of the statute, which is indicated in the Standard Oil and Tobacco cases.

The Allan Line and Canadian Pacific Line withdrew from the fighting ship agreement before the 15399 bill was filed. As to both these defendants the bill is dismissed. As to the other defendants injunction will issue against the continuance of the "fighting ships" and as to the other prayers for relief the bill is dismissed. Since the government has not prevailed on the main part of the case, the decree will be without costs.

Ward and Henry Wade Rogers on the pleadings and proof, and the petitioner having moved the Court for an injunction in accordance with the prayer of the petition;

Wherefore, it is hereby ordered, adjudged and decreed:

15412 Final Decree.

1. That as to the defendants Allan Line, Bryce J. Allan and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company the petition is dismissed.

2. That the other defendants and each of them and their agents, servants, employees and all persons acting under or in behalf of them are hereby enjoined, restrained and prohibited from combining, conspiring or agreeing to interfere with or restrain the business of any owner of a vessel operated in competition with the vessel or vessels 15413 of one or other of said defendants, by providing, operating, or maintaining an extra vessel for the purpose of having it compete with such competing vessel by offering to carry passengers; and from in any way contributing to the cost or expense of procuring and operating such extra vessel. This injunction, however, shall not in any way affect the right of each individual defendant to run such vessels and on such terms as such individual defendant may choose in opposition to any competitor provided that the cost and expense thereof is not contributed in whole or in part by any of the other defendants.

15414 3. As to all other prayers for relief the petition is dismissed without costs to either side.

15430 Petitioner's Assignments of Error.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT,

SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Petitioner, v. HAMBURG-AMERIKANISCHE PACKETFAHRT-ACTIEN-GESELLSCHAFT, et al., Defendants.	In Equity, E-7-74.

15431

Now comes the United States of America, by H. Snowden Marshall, United States Attorney, and by Henry A. Guiler, Special Assistant to the United States Attorney, solicitors for the petitioner, and files the following assignments of error upon which the United States of America will rely upon its appeal from the decree made by this Honorable Court on the 9th day of November, 1914, in the above-entitled cause:

15432

I.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the defendants, The Allan Line Steamship Company, Limited, International Mercantile Marine Company (American Line), International Navigation Company, Limited (American Line), The Anchor Line (Henderson Brothers), Limited, Canadian Pacific Railway Company, The Cunard Steamship Company, Limited, British and North Atlantic Steam Navigation Company, Limited

 15433

(Dominion Line), Hamburg-Amerikanische Packetfahrt-Actien-Gesellschaft (Hamburg-American Line), Nederlandsh-Amerikaansche Stoomvaart Maatschappij (Holland-Amerika Lijn), Norddeutcher Lloyd (North German Lloyd Line), Societe Anonyme de Navigation Belge Americaine (Red Star Line), Russian East Asiatic Steamship Company, Limited (Russian-American Line), Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, Limited (White Star Line), Bryce J. Allan, Phillip A. S. Franklin, John Lee, William Coverley, Charles P. Sumner, Adrian Gips, Herman C. Von Post, 15434 Gustav H. Schwab, Jr., Alexander E. Johnson and Max Straus, have been, and now are, engaged in a combination and conspiracy to restrain the trade and commerce of the United States with foreign nations in the transportation of steerage passengers contrary to the Act of Congress dated July 2, 1890 (26 Stat., 209), entitled "An Act to Protect Trade and Commerce Against Unlawful Restraints and Monopolies."

II.

That said Court erred in failing to hold, declare and decree that said combination and conspiracy 15435 in which the defendants have been, and are now engaged, is contrary to the aforesaid Act of Congress.

III.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that said defendants have been, and are now, engaged in restraining said trade and commerce of the United States with foreign nations, contrary to said Act of Congress.

15436 Petitioner's Assignments of Error.

IV.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that said defendants have been, and are now, engaged in a combination and conspiracy to monopolize said trade and commerce of the United States with foreign nations, contrary to said Act of Congress.

V.

15437 That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that said defendants have obtained a virtual monopoly of said trade and commerce of the United States with foreign nations in the business of carrying steerage passengers, contrary to said Act of Congress.

VI.

That said Court erred in failing to enjoin said defendants from combining and conspiring to restrain and monopolize, and the actual restraint and monopoly obtained by the defendants, of the aforesaid trade and commerce of the United States 15438 with foreign nations.

VII.

That said Court erred in failing to enjoin, restrain and cancel the general pool agreement denominated "AA," entered into by the defendants on February 5, 1908 (Pet. Ex. 3), and other similar pool and rate agreements prior thereto, amendatory thereof, supplemental thereto, or in any way relating thereto, all of which are now in effect, and in failing to enjoin and cancel the terms thereof, which provide for the arbitrary apportionment of passengers, the allotment of shares among the various steamship lines, the pooling of earnings, the fixing of rates, the confining of the trade to various designated channels, the limiting of the number of sailings, the providing for action against outside competition either in existence or to come into existence, and the fixing of penalties to be paid from a guarantee deposit for any infraction of or withdrawal therefrom, as being contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

15439

15440

VIII.

That said Court erred in failing to declare void the aforesaid agreement "AA" and other agreements heretofore mentioned as being in restraint of trade and in restraint of said trade and commerce of the United States with foreign nations and as tending to monopolize said trade, contrary to the aforesaid Act of Congress.

IX.

That said Court erred in failing to decree and hold that the pooling of shares of steerage passengers under agreement "AA" and said other agreements by said defendants aforesaid is illegal and contrary to the aforesaid Act of Congress.

X.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the system provided for in said agreements of the defendants' paying into the pool £4 for each passenger carried in excess of the percental share of the defendants in said pool, and the drawing out of said sum of money for each passenger carried short of their proportion, for the purpose of deterring the defendant steamship lines from exceeding their proportionate share, is contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

15442 Petitioner's Assignments of Error.

XI.

15443 That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the system provided for in said pooling agreements whereby seventy-five per cent. of the lines members thereof had the power to compel a line which was plus or minus in the pool, as aforesaid, to raise its rates so as to deter passengers from traveling by that line if plus in the pool, and to lower its rates so as to attract passengers to said line if minus in the pool, with the object of compelling said line to carry its exact proportion in the pool and no more, is contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

XII.

15444 That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the system provided for in said agreements, of fixing certain minimum and relative second and third-class rates, is contrary to the said Act of Congress.

XIII.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the system provided for in said agreements, of the defendants refusing to give advertisements to, or boycotting any newspaper which attacked systematically any of the defendant lines, is contrary to the said Act of Congress.

15445

XIV.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the system of compelling each of the defendant lines to deposit security to the amount of £1,000 for each percental proportion of said lines in the pool to be forfeited as a penalty and as liquidated damages if one of the lines

15446

1. Unduly withdraws from the agreement;

2. Resorts to actions which render the continuance of the contract impossible; as, for instance, if a line

3. Refuses to pay the compensation money;

4. Fails to replenish the deposit in due time;

5. Assists directly, or indirectly, a new opposition line;

15447

6. Starts, or assists in starting, a line whereby the steerage traffic of the defendant lines would be seriously interefered with;

and of dividing up the amount of the penalty among the other lines in case the agreement is not lived up to, is contrary to the aforesaid Act of Congress.

15448 Petitioner's Assignments of Error.

XV.

That the said Court erred in failing to enjoin, restrain and prohibit the defendant steamship lines, and each of them, from continuing to put into effect, and to act under, the aforesaid agreement requiring a pledge or guaranty of £1,000 for each percental share of the defendant lines in the pool, for the purposes aforesaid, and from forfeiting the same as a penalty upon a breach thereof, as being contrary to the Act of Congress afore-15449 said.

XVI.

That said Court erred in failing to enjoin, restrain, prohibit and cancel said agreement for a deposit guaranty and for the forfeiture thereof as a penalty in case of a breach thereof as being contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

XVII.

That said Court erred in not holding and decreeing that the system of penalties provided for 15450 in agreement "AA" and other agreements, for the punishment of agents of the combined lines who represent steamship lines competing with pool lines, is illegal under the aforesaid Act of Congress.

XVIII.

That said Court erred in not enjoining, restraining and prohibiting the system of penalties provided for in agreement "AA" and other similar agreements in evidence for the punishment of agents of the combined lines who represent steamship lines competing with the pool lines as being illegal under the aforesaid Act of Congress.

 15451

XIX.

That said Court erred in not holding, decreeing and declaring that the conferences or voluntary associations of all the defendant lines which had signed the pooling and rate agreements; namely, Nordatlantischer Dampfer Linien Verband, or 15452
North Atlantic Steamship Lines Combine, the Mediterranean Conference, the Atlantic Conference, the Continental Conference, with a common secretary and office at Jena, Germany; the Atlantic Conference, with a secretary and office at Liverpool, England; the North Atlantic Conference, Continental Conference, Mediterranean Conference, and American Atlantic Conference, with a common secretary and office at New York; the American Atlantic Conference, with a secretary and office at Chicago; and the American Atlantic Conference, with a secretary and office at San Francisco, were, and now are, in the exercise of their duties under said agreements, the effective 15453 instruments of the pool lines in crushing out competition of new lines, in fixing the rates, in controlling the actions of the lines in accordance with the pool agreements, in restricting the carrying of the lines, in directing the traffic in certain arbitrarily designated channels, in controlling the railroads of the United States in relation to steerage traffic through agreements therewith, and, in general, monopolizing the steerage traffic of the North Atlantic, and are illegal under the aforesaid Act of Congress.

15454 Petitioner's Assignments of Error.

XX.

The said Court erred in not enjoining and decreeing the dissolution of the aforesaid conferences as being a combination illegal under the Act of Congress aforesaid.

XXI.

The said Court erred in not enjoining, restraining and prohibiting the said conferences or voluntary associations from carrying out, or taking any 15455 part in the carrying out of, said illegal agreements heretofore mentioned.

XXII.

That said Court erred in not holding and decreeing that the said conferences or voluntary associations, by the acts and conduct of the defendants, and their agents, members thereof, in restraining and monopolizing the aforesaid trade and commerce of the United States with foreign nations, were, and are now, illegal under the Act of Congress aforesaid.

15456

XXIII.

That said Court erred in holding and decreeing, in section one of said decree, that, on account of The Allan Line, Byrce J. Allan and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company having retired from the agreement among the several defendants which provided for "fighting steamers" to be put on by the pool lines against the competition of outside lines, the petition against them should be dismissed.

Petitioner's Assignments of Error. 15457

XXIV.

That said Court erred in the first section of its decree in dismissing the petition as against the defendants The Allan Line, Bryce J. Allan and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

XXV.

That said Court erred in failing to find, hold, and decree that "Minute 22," "Minute 104" and "Minute 22, Revised," which were adopted by the 15458 defendants at a meeting of the Atlantic Conference and which provided for the operation of "fighting steamers" against vessels in competition with the defendant conference or combined lines, were, and are now, a part of the General Pool Agreement "AA;" and in failing to cancel and declare void said minutes as being illegal under the Act of Congress aforementioned.

XXVI.

That said Court erred in failing to enjoin, restrain and prohibit the enforcement by the defendants of "Minute 22," "Minute 104" and "Min- 15459 ute 22, Revised," as part of the pooling agreement "AA" and other similar pooling agreements in evidence, which provided for a system of operating "fighting steamers," so-called, against the steamers of competing lines for the purpose of putting such lines out of business or so lessening or weakening their competition that they would voluntarily go out of business and of deterring other proposed lines from coming into said business, as being illegal under the Act of Congress aforesaid.

15460 Petitioner's Assignments of Error.

XXVII.

That said Court erred in section two of its decree in failing to enjoin the system of operating "fighting steamers" as typified in "Minute 22," "Minute 104" and "Minute 22, Revised," and as shown to exist in the evidence herein.

XXVIII.

That said Court erred in section two of its de-15461 cree in failing to enjoin, restrain and prohibit the defendants from combining and conspiring to put into effect, and the actual putting into effect of, as being contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid, a system of operating "fighting steamers," so-called, against the steamers of existing competing lines which happened to be running at certain times, for the purpose of depriving said existing competing lines of the carriage of their passengers who, but for the employment by said defendants of said "fighting ships," would naturally have traveled by said competing lines, and of the gains and profits accruing thereby, and of so injuring and depleting the resources of said com-
15462 peting lines that their competition would be lessened and ultimately utterly destroyed, and for the further purpose of hindering and deterring other lines from coming into existence in competition with said combined lines in view of the severe and disastrous losses which the then existing lines outside of the defendant combination had suffered from the use by said combination of said system of "fighting steamers," which system was as follows: that whenever a ship of a line not a member of the combination was designated by its owner to sail on a certain day, the combination or pool would designate a ship of the combination to be scheduled to sail on the same day; that if the so-called "fighting steamer" of the combined lines had booked passengers in excess of its capacity, the combined lines would thereupon designate one or more of their other steamers to sail on the same day to carry said excess passengers; that the expense or cost of operating said "fighting steamer" or steamers, which at times ran at rates the same, more, or less than those of the competing steamer, would be borne, in the last analysis, within certain limits, by the combined lines.

XXIX.

That said Court erred in not holding and decreeing that the defendants be enjoined, restrained and prohibited from providing, operating and maintaining competing or "fighting steamers," so-called, as aforesaid, for the purposes aforesaid, against a vessel of a line not a member of the combination, the cost or expense of procuring and operating which "fighting steamer" or steamers is contributed to in any way, in whole or in part, by the pool or combined lines, or where any other method used by said combined lines has the effect of in any way assisting or aiding the operation or maintenance of said vessels.

15465

XXX.

That the said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the defendants, and each of them, be enjoined, restrained and prohibited from in any way or by any method jointly providing, operating and maintaining any steamer or steamers against steamers of lines not members of the combined defendant lines for the purpose of in any way, to any degree, lessening, destroying or eliminating the competition of any existing lines or the potential competition of those not in existence.

XXXI.

15467 That said Court erred in failing to enjoin the above-named conferences or voluntary associations of steamship lines, of which the defendants are members, from combining and conspiring to operate, and from operating or assisting in operating, the aforesaid competing or "fighting steamers," and in failing to hold that the said conferences or associations of steamship lines should be dissolved for having assisted or taken part in the operation of said "fighting steamers" and in said combination and conspiracy to operate them, contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

XXXII.

15468 That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the defendants have been, and now are, engaged in a combination and conspiracy in restraint of the aforesaid trade by jointly enforcing by heavy penalties a rule of the conferences or combined defendant steamship lines for the purpose of injuring and destroying the competition of outside lines, which provides that no agent of a conference line shall represent any line not a member of the said conference or combined lines, and by jointly maintaining a so-called "eligible list" of those agents who are required to represent only conference lines, which is an effectual black list of those agents who represent any but conference lines, contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

XXXIII.

That said Court erred in failing to cancel said rule for agents and in failing to enjoin, restrain and prohibit the enforcement thereof by penalties imposed on said agents who transgress it by the combined defendant steamship companies as having had the purpose and effect of restraining the trade of those lines not members of the conference and as being contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

15470

XXXIV.

That said Court erred in failing to enjoin, restrain and prohibit the combination and conspiracy of the defendants to maintain, and the actual maintenance of, said "eligible list," and the consequent disqualification or blacklisting of said persons not on said list, as being contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

15471

XXXV.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the combined defendants, by having been united under agreement "AA" and other similar agreements, by their being carried out within the United States, and by the unfair methods of said lines in putting into effect against 15472 Petitioner's Assignments of Error.

the competition of outside lines "Minute 22," "Minute 104" and "Minute 22, Revised," the rules for agents of the conference, and by other unlawful acts, the said combined defendant lines have been successful in carrying out measures which they have devised for destroying existing competition and preventing potential competiton to the extent that the New York and Continental Line and the Northwest Transport Line have been forced, by a constant series of losses due to the action of the defendants, to go out of the business
15473 of operating their steamers and to reorganize with new capital into what has been termed the "Uranium Line;" and that the Uranium Line has suffered such serious losses that, had it not been backed by some unseen and unknown force, it would not have been able to survive until the present time; and that said successful and unfair methods used by the conference lines against the Russian Volunteer Fleet and the Russian East Asiatic Line have caused the result that the Uranium Line is now the only non-conference line in the North Atlantic trade, and that thereby the combined defendant lines have obtained a virtual monopoly of said entire foreign trade of the United 15474 States in the carriage of steerage passengers.

XXXVI.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the defendant combined lines, by a series of agreements with the various railroad associations throughout the United States, have so controlled and monopolized the routing of steerage passengers arriving in the United States, that they have exacted from said railroad associations a virtual rebate of ten per cent, of the amount of the passage money paid by said steerage passengers for their transportation throughout the territory of said railroad associations within the United States, and thus have supplemented their monopoly obtained on the sea over said passengers by an effectual control, admitted by said defendants, of the railroad business, as regards said passengers, on land.

15475

XXXVII.

That said Court erred in failing to enjoin said combined defendant lines from combining and conspiring with said railroad associations and the members thereof to enforce, and from enforcing, the terms of said agreements, as being contrary to the aforesaid Act of Congress.

XXXVIII.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the said agreements with said railroad associations be declared void and canceled as contrary to the aforesaid Act of Congress.

15477

XXXIX.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the defendant combined lines be enjoined from accepting or receiving or exacting from said railroad associations the so-called "ten per cent. commercial allowance," or rebate, as aforesaid, as being contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid and as assisting in maintaining the control and monopoly of the business aforesaid.

15478 Petitioner's Assignments of Error.

XL.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the agreements for the granting of said "commercial allowances" or rebates to said combined steamship lines, while withholding the same from competing lines not members of the combination, have had the effect of restraining the trade of said outside or competing lines and are contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

XLI.

15479 That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the defendant combined steamship lines had fixed among themselves arbitrary rates for third-class passengers carried by them and have used said rates for the purpose of diverting the said trade from its usual and natural channels and turning it into channels designated by themselves, for the purpose of carrying out their pooling agreements, contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

XLII.

15480 That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the defendant conference or combined lines have entered into a combination and conspiracy to fix, and have fixed, arbitrary rates for the purpose of controlling and diverting the trade aforesaid, contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

XLIII.

That said Court erred in not enjoining, restraining and prohibiting the combination and conspiracy among said defendant combined lines to fix and control, and the actual fixing and controlling of, said arbitrary rates, for the purpose of diverting trade from its usual and natural channels into channels designated by themselves, as being contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

15481

XLIV.

That said Court erred in failing to enjoin and cancel the agreements of said combined lines for the fixing of said arbitrary rates for the purpose of diverting said trade contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

XLV.

That the Court erred in failing to hold and decree that the defendant combined lines have been, and now are, engaged in a combination and conspiracy to fix excessive rates for the transportation of passengers in the business aforesaid, contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

XLVI.

That said Court erred in failing to enjoin, restrain and prohibit said combination and conspiracy of said defendants for the fixing and controlling of said excessive rates as being contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

XVLII.

That said Court erred in failing to hold and decree that said rates fixed by said combination of steamship lines were arbitrary and excessive and contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

15484 Petitioner's Assignments of Error.

XLVIII.

That said Court erred in failing to enjoin, restrain and prohibit the defendants from continuing to put into effect said excessive and arbitrary rates in the business aforesaid as being contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

15485

XLIX.

That said Court erred in failing to enjoin and cancel the provisions for the fixing of arbitrary and excessive rates contained in pooling agreement "AA" and other similar pooling and rate agreements in evidence as being contrary to the Act of Congress aforesaid.

That said Court erred in section three of its decree in dismissing all other prayers of the petition for relief, without costs to the petitioner.

Petitioner's Assignments of Error. 15487

Wherefore, in order that the foregoing assignments of error may be and appear of record, said petitioner presents the same to the Court and prays that such disposition be made thereof as is in accordance with law and the statutes of the United States in such cases made and provided; and said petitioner prays a reversal of said decree so as to bring it within the laws of the United States in such cases made and provided, and that an order may be entered granting said petition and the prayers thereof as to each and every one of said defendants and such other and further relief to the petitioner as to the Court may seem meet or justice may require. 15488

I.

That the above-named defendants are engaged in foreign trade and commerce as common carriers of passengers and freight, and more particularly of third-class or steerage passengers, between ports and inland points in the United States and ports and inland points in Europe, Asia and Africa, and, in respect thereto, are violating the provisions of the Act of Congress passed July 2, 1890, entitled "An Act to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies" and the Acts amendatory thereof and

6 supplemental thereto, as will hereinafter more fully appear; and this proceeding is instituted to prevent and restrain the hereinafter particularly described agreement, contract, combination and conspiracy in restraint of trade and commerce in the carriage of such steerage passengers between the United States and foreign countries, and the attempts to monopolize, and the contract, combination and conspiracy to monopolize, and the existing monopoly of such trade and commerce as hereinafter described.

II.

DESCRIPTION OF DEFENDANTS AND THE TRADE AND COMMERCE WHICH THEY CONDUCT.

1. At all the times herein mentioned, defendant, The Allan Line Steamship Company, Limited, hereinafter referred to as the "Allan Line," was and now is a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the Kingdom of Great Britain, and, as such, engaged in trade and commerce between the United States of America and foreign nations, 8 to wit, operating regular lines of steamships from ports in England and Scotland, in the Kingdom of Great Britain, to wit, London, Liverpool and Glasgow, to ports in the United States, to wit, Portland, Maine, Boston, Massachusetts, and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and transporting between, and to, and from said ports upon its steamships, freight and passengers for hire, and, particularly, that class of passengers ordinarily known and described in the steamship trade as third-class or steerage passengers; and at all such times the Allan Line has maintained agencies in divers cities in Europe and in the United States at which it has sold contracts for the transportation of freight and passengers on and by its steamships to and from 9
the United States and from and to Europe, and has maintained agents in charge of such agencies who have been and now are engaged in soliciting persons to travel to and from Europe upon its said steamships; and in the case of all such passengers transported to the United States from Europe, it has docked its steamships and landed said passengers at one or the other of said ports of Portland, Boston and Philadelphia, and in the case of such passengers transported to Europe, they have embarked at one or the other of said ports.

10 Petition

2. Defendant Bryce J. Allan is a resident of the State of Massachusetts, and is and for many years has been engaged in business under the firm name and style of H. & A. Allan, with an office and place of business at the City of Boston, in the State of Massachusetts; and at all such times has been and now is employed by and acting for the Allan Line in the capacity of general agent and manager of its business in the United States, and, as such general agent, has had and now has charge of the affairs in the United States of the Allan Line in connection with its business aforesaid, and represents himself and his said
11 office, respectively, to be the person with whom and the place at which business may be transacted with the Allan Line.

3. At all the times herein mentioned, defendant International Mercantile Marine Company was and now is a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of New Jersey, with an office and place of business in the City, County, State and Southern District of New York, where its principal business and affairs are transacted. It holds and votes a majority of the issued and outstanding capital stock respectively of the defendants Interna-
12 tional Navigation Company, Limited, British and North Atlantic Steam Navigation Company, Limited, Societe Anonyme de Navigation Belge Americaine and Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, Limited.

4. At all the times herein mentioned, defendant International Navigation Company, Limited, was and now is a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the Kingdom of Great Britain, with an office and place of business in the City, County, State and Southern District of New York, where its principal business and affairs in the United States are transacted.

Petition

5. At all the times herein mentioned, defendant International Mercantile Marine Company has owned certain steam vessels which it has been engaged in operating between the Port of New York, in the State of New York, and the port of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, and the ports of Southampton and Liverpool, in England; and at all such times defendant International Navigation Company, Limited, has owned certain steamships which it has been engaged in operating between said ports of New York and Philadelphia and said ports of Southampton and Liverpool; and at all such times such steamships so operated by said International Mercantile Marine Company and said International Navigation Company, Limited, between said ports, have been and are known as the American Line; and at all such times said companies have been engaged in transporting between and to, and from said ports, upon their said steamships, freight and passengers for hire, and particularly that class of passengers ordinarily known and described in the steamship trade as third-class or steerage passengers; and at all such times said companies have maintained agencies in divers cities in Europe and in the United States, at which they have sold contracts for the transportation of freight and passengers on and by their steamships to and from the United States and from and to Europe, and have maintained agents in charge of such agencies, who have been and are engaged in soliciting persons to travel to and from Europe upon their steamships; and in the case of all such passengers transported to the United States from Europe, they have docked their steamships and landed said passengers at either the ports of New York or Philadelphia, and in the case of passengers transported by them to Europe, such passengers have embarked upon their steamships at one or the other of said ports.

16 Petition

6. Defendants Phillip A. S. Franklin and John Lee for some time have been and now are officers of said International Mercantile Marine Company and said International Navigation Company, Limited, to wit, vice presidents thereof; and have been and now are in charge of the office of each of said corporations in the City, County, State and Southern District of New York and of their business and affairs.

7. At all the times herein mentioned, defendant The Anchor Line (Henderson Brothers), Limited, hereinafter referred to as the "Anchor Line" was and 17 now is a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the Kingdom of Great Britain, and, as such, engaged in trade and commerce between the United States of America and foreign nations, to wit, operating regular lines of steamships from the port of Glasgow, in Scotland, to the port of New York, in the State and Southern District of New York, and transporting between, and to, and from said ports, upon its steamships, freight and passengers for hire, and particularly that class of passengers ordinarily known and described in the steamship trade as third-class or steerage passengers; and at all such times the Anchor Line has maintained

23. The corporations hereinbefore described will hereinafter be referred to collectively as "defendant steamship lines."

52 Petition

24. The defendant steamship lines, by virtue of their separate corporate organization and the ports between which their lines or steamships are run, as hereinbefore set forth, are and should be natural competitors in the business of furnishing facilities for the aforesaid steerage passenger traffic and but for the existence of the unlawful combination, contract and conspiracy, hereinafter more fully described, and the enforcement and fulfillment of the terms and purposes thereof, said defendant steamship lines, and each of them, would be actively competing with all of the 53 others in the said business.

III.

DESCRIPTION OF THE TRADE AND COMMERCE WHICH THE DEFENDANTS ARE MONOPOLIZING AND ATTEMPTING AND CONSPIRING TO MONOPOLIZE.

The public lands of the United States have been since the day the Government was formed, the one possession more coveted than any other in the world by the peasant and artisan of Europe seeking a proprietorship and personal importance here which they could not hope for in their native countries. The resulting 54 annual influx of population from all parts of Europe to the United States has steadily increased until the traffic back and forth is very large and very lucrative. The return travel results from the desire of immigrants to return to their European homes, either to bring over members of their families to this country or merely to revisit them. With the increase of this traffic, the steamship companies have extended their facilities for handling it until the income from the third-class or steerage rates between Europe and North America is one of the most important parts of their revenue.

55

The average number of immigrants coming to this country annually from Europe, at third-class or steerage rates, for the five years last past, has been 1,200,000, and the average of emigrants returning annually to Europe during the same period has been approximately 500,000. The resultant revenue to the steamship companies handling this traffic has been approximately $55,000,000 per annum, and during this period an increasingly large amount has been expended in the United States by immigrants in the purchase of tickets for relatives in Europe to enable them to come to America.

56

IV.

THE COMBINATION AND CONSPIRACY IN WHICH DEFENDANTS ARE ENGAGED.

The defendants for some time past have been and now are engaged in the United States, and particularly in the Southern District of New York, in an unlawful combination and conspiracy to restrain a part of the trade and commerce of the United States with foreign nations, and to monopolize the same, that is to say, they are and for some time have been engaged [in the said Southern District of New York], 57 in a combination and conspiracy to destroy all competition among and between themselves in the business of transporting third-class or steerage passengers, by steamships, between ports in the United States of America and ports in Europe, and in and by eliminating, suppressing and destroying all competition in such traffic by any and all persons and corporations other than themselves, the objects of which said combination and conspiracy they are seeking and have sought to accomplish in the manner and by the means hereinafter set forth.

58 Petition

V.

THE MANNER AND MEANS OF ACCOMPLISHING THE UNLAWFUL COMBINATION AND CONSPIRACY.

A

Terms of Agreement upon formation of the unlawful combination and conspiracy, and the amendments thereto:

1. February 5, 1908, at the City of London, in England, defendant the Allan Line, the Anchor Line, the 59 Cunard Line, the Hamburg-American Line, the Holland-America Line, North German Lloyd, the Red Star Line, International Mercantile Marine Company, White Star Line, the International Navigation Company, Limited, the Dominion Line and the Canadian Pacific Line entered into said unlawful combination and conspiracy in and by the execution of an unlawful contract, a copy of which is hereto annexed, and marked Exhibit A, and prayed to be considered as a part hereof, as if here set forth in full, wherein and whereby each of them became a member of a voluntary association under the name and style of the "Atlantic Conference," which said association was to 60 maintain an office with a person in charge thereof who should be and is designated and described as "Secretary."

2. Under the terms of this contract, these lines agreed to divide and share in the entire steerage traffic forwarded by all of them between all European ports and the United States and Canada with the exception of traffic consisting of Italian and Orienal (i. e., passengers to and from Greece, Africa and Asia), steerage passengers, forwarded by direct steamers through the Straits of Gibraltar according to the following percentages:

West Bound.	Per cent.
Allan Line	.62
Anchor Line	3.40
Cunard Line	13.75
Hamburg-American Line	19.61
Holland-America Line	6.63
North German Lloyd	26.53
Red Star Line	9.71
International Mercantile Marine Co.
White Star Line	8.60
American Line	6.68
Dominion Line	4.47 62
Total	100.00
East Bound.
Allan Line	4.95
Anchor Line	3.93
Cunard Line	12.77
Fiume Trieste Service	2.35
Hamburg-American Line	12.35
Holland-America Line	6.10
North German Lloyd	18.79
Red Star Line	8.56
International Mercantile Marine Co.	63
White Star Line	15.49
American Line	8.72
Dominion Line	1.50
Canadian Pacific Line	4.49

3. By the terms of this contract they further agreed, that each of them which in any year should carry steerage passengers in excess of the aforesaid agreed percentage should pay a compensation price of four pounds Sterling for each excess steerage passenger so carried by it, and that the total of the compensation money so paid should be divided among the lines, parties to the agreement, which had failed to carry their agreed percentage of such steerage passengers in proportion to the number of steerage passengers which each such line should be short; that a provisional settlement of such compensation money should be made between the lines each month and a final settlement at the end of each year on the basis of periodic accounts kept and rendered to the lines by the Secretary of the association.

64 Petition

4. By the terms of this contract it was further 65 agreed that a majority of the lines entitled thereunder to at least seventy-five per cent of the total agreed shares in said steerage traffic should have the right, from time to time, to raise or lower the above described compensation price of four pounds Sterling, the expressed intention of the contracting parties being that such compensation price should be raised as the average steerage rate was raised, and should be lowered if the average steerage rate should be lowered, so that such compensation price would, at all times, be sufficient to deter each and any of the contracting parties from attempting to carry more than its agreed percentage of such steerage traffic and at 66 the same time it should not be sufficiently high to offer an inducement to any of them to refrain from carrying its agreed share.

5. By the terms of this contract it was further agreed that whenever said monthly accounts showed that any of the lines had exceeded or remained below its agreed percentage of said traffic, such line should at once either raise or lower its steerage rate so that the number of steerage passengers carried by it should again amount to its agreed percentage of the total steerage traffic covered by the contract, and that in the event that in the opinion of a majority of the lines, parties to the agreement, controlling thereunder at least seventy-five per cent of said steerage traffic, if the measures so adopted were not sufficiently drastic to accomplish said intended result, such majority should have the right to direct such line to take more drastic measures to bring the number of steerage passengers carried by it into accordance with its agreed percentage; and it was further agreed to be the sense of the contracting parties that such adjustment should be secured, whenever practicable, by raising the steerage rates of one or several of said defendant steamship lines rather than by lowering such rates by any of them. 67 68

6. By the terms of this contract each of said lines further agreed to and each of them thereafter did deposit with the Secretary of the association, as a guarantee of the performance of the provisions of the contract, a negotiable promissory note in the sum of One thousand pounds Sterling for each one per cent of its agreed proportion in the traffic covered by the contract, and by said contract each line agreed that the entire sum so deposited by it should be forfeited upon its unauthorized withdrawal from the association before its termination, or upon its refusal to pay compensation money, or its failure to replenish its deposit in case it should become impaired by payment of penalties, as hereinafter described, or its starting or assisting any new line in competition with all or any of the contracting lines in such traffic. 69

7. By the terms of this contract it was further agreed that all disputes arising thereunder, between any of the parties thereto, should be settled by an arbitrator or arbitrators; that such arbitrator or arbitrators should have power to impose upon any of the lines, for violation of any of the provisions of this contract, penalties in amounts not less than two hundred and fifty pounds Sterling for each such violation and not less than two thousand five hundred pounds Sterling for each wilful or intentional violation, and that in case the amount of such penalty should not be paid within eight days after its imposition, the above described deposit of the line against which such penalty was imposed should be drawn upon for the amount of such penalty.

8. By the terms of this contract, it was further agreed that new lines might thereafter be admitted to the contract and association and the terms of the 71 contract altered, from time to time, by the unanimous vote of all the parties thereto.

9. By the terms of this contract the lines further agreed that for the discussion of questions arising under the terms of the contract, for the discussion of proposed amendments thereto and of the proposed admission of other lines to the terms thereof, meetings of the contracting parties should be held from time to time at various places in Europe.

B.

Defendant The Russian-American Line becomes a 72 party to the illegal contract.

Pursuant to the provisions of the aforesaid unlawful contract and in furtherance of the aforesaid unlawful combination and conspiracy, on or about September 1st, 1909, at a meeting held by all the other defendant steamship lines at the City of Cologne, Germany, defendant, the Russian-American Line, was duly admitted to membership in the Atlantic Conference and to all the provisions of said contract. Petitioner is unable to state what percentage of the said steerage traffic, it was thereupon agreed that the said Russian-American Line should be entitled to, but your petitioner is informed and believes that the shares of all the lines, parties to said contract, were in some respects altered so as to provide a percentage of such traffic for the Russian-American Line.

By the terms of said unlawful contract of February 5, 1908, and the amendment thereto whereby the Russian-American Line was admitted to the Atlantic Conference and to the terms and provisions of said contract, the provisions thereof are extended to remain effective and binding upon the contracting parties up to and including February 28th, 1911; and thereafter, to remain effective and binding upon said parties from year to year unless notice of intention to withdraw from the terms thereof at the end of any year shall be given by one or more of the parties thereto on or before the first day of December of the year in which such notice is given.

C.

Acts pursuant to the unlawful agreement, and to effect the purpose of the unlawful combination and conspiracy.

1. Ever since the adoption of the aforesaid unlawful contract the business of all and every of said defendant steamship lines, in so far as it consists in the carriage of the steerage traffic referred to therein, has been and at the date of filing this petition is carried on by each and every of them in all respects in accordance with the terms and provisions thereof and in accordance with the terms and provisions of resolutions adopted by said contracting parties at meetings held in pursuance thereof, and all free and natural competition between said lines in the establishment of rates and the furnishing of facilities for such steerage traffic, has been and is thereby wholly eliminated.

2. The successful accomplishment of the objects of said unlawful agreement, and said unlawful combination and conspiracy thereby entered into, necessarily involved the execution of the terms, scope and intent of said agreement throughout the United States, and more particularly in the Southern District of New York. And ever since February 5th, 1908, for the effective accomplishment of the objects aforesaid, each of the individual defendants herein has been and is designated and established by his respective line at his respective office in the United States, as agent for such line, to carry out and make effective the terms, objects 77 and intent of said unlawful agreement, combination and conspiracy, in the United States. And said individual defendants, at their respective offices and agencies throughout the United States, and more particularly in the Southern District of New York, at all times herein mentioned, down to the time of the filing of this petition, have almost daily carried out and executed acts necessary for the successful accomplishment of said unlawful combination and conspiracy.

3. And at all such times all of said individual defendants, at the Southern District of New York, have received orders and instructions from their respective principals, in respect to the accomplishment of the 78 objects and purposes of said unlawful combination and conspiracy, and each and all of them have within said Southern District of New York, complied with and carried out such instructions.

Agreement to destroy competition of independent lines.

In and for the execution of said unlawful combination and conspiracy, and in furtherance thereof, all of the defendant steamship lines, at a meeting held March 25th, 1908, agreed that they should act together to eliminate and destroy the competition of any and all persons and corporations that might then or thereafter operate lines of steamships and carry steerage passengers between Europe and the United States in competition with all or any of defendant steamship lines in the traffic covered by the terms of the aforesaid unlawful agreement.

Arrangement to use so-called "fighting-steamers" to destroy competition.

In and for the execution of the aforesaid resolution and for the purpose of effecting the objects of said unlawful combination and conspiracy, said defendant steamship lines at said meeting appointed three of 80 their representatives at New York City to act as a committee for and on behalf of all of them at the City of New York, for the selection from among the steamships belonging to said defendants of so-called "fighting steamers" to sail eastbound from the Port of New York, to European ports whenever steamships operated by competing lines should be scheduled to sail, and said committee was authorized, empowered and directed to fix and change, from time to time on short notice, the advertised rates at which third-class or steerage passengers should and would be carried on such "fighting steamers," which was to be done in order effectually to meet and under-cut any rate and any decrease in rate adopted by such competitor or 81 competitors. And said committee was further authorized, empowered and directed to select from among the steamships belonging to the defendant steamship lines and scheduled to sail on or about the same date or dates as such "fighting steamers," to carry the persons who might be booked for passage as steerage passengers on such "fighting steamers" in excess of their carrying capacity; and it was provided that such excess passengers should be carried by such steamships so selected at the advertised steerage rate of such "fighting steamers." It was further agreed by the defendant steamship lines under the terms of said resolution that the line or lines carrying such excess steerage passengers at such reduced rates should be compensated by the other defendant steamship lines by payments, amounting for each passenger so carried to the difference between the regular advertised steerage rate of such line and such reduced rate.

Competitors are crushed.

Upon the adoption of said resolution the above described method of competition was at once employed 83 by the defendant steamship lines, then parties to said unlawful contract combination and conspiracy, to meet and suppress competition in said steerage traffic by a line of steamships then operating and carrying third-class or steerage passengers between the Port of New York and the Port Libau in Russia, under the name and style of the Russian Volunteer Fleet and by defendant, the Russian-American Line which was not at that time a party to said unlawful contract, combination and conspiracy.

The Russian Volunteer Fleet is driven out of business.

From the month of March until the month of June, 84 1908, said Russian Volunteer Fleet frequently advertised its steamships to sail from the Port of New York to the Port of Libau in Russia and advertised for and solicited persons to sail as third-class or steerage passengers upon such ships, which ships were thoroughly equipped for handling such traffic; and as regularly as such ships were so advertised to sail the aforesaid committee of three representatives, in the City of New York, of defendant steamship lines, selected a so-called "fighting steamer" and advertised the same to sail from the Port of New York to said Port of Libau on or about the day that the ship of the Russian Volunteer Fleet was so advertised to sail, and advertised the rate for steerage or third-class passengers at a sum less than that advertised by the Russian Volunteer Fleet, and such rate was in each such instance so low that said Russian Volunteer Fleet could not profitably compete therewith. 85

Owing to such unfair and unlawful competition said Russian Volunteer Fleet incurred serious financial loss in the conduct of its third-class or steerage traffic, and in the month of July, 1908, to the great detriment and loss to the public and to persons desiring to procure third-class or steerage transportation between New York and Russia, said Russian Volunteer Fleet withdrew its steamships from said service between the Ports of New York and Libau and has ever since ceased to operate said line. 86

The Russian-American Line is driven out of competition and forced into the unlawful combination and conspiracy.
